11 But now I will not be unto the residue of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 For the seed shall be prosperous; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

13 And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing; fear not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts; As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not:

15 So again have I thought in these days to do well unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: fear ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates:

17 And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath; for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

18 And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying,

¹ The "remnant" in verses 6, 11, 12 refers to the remnant of Judah which returned from Babylon, and among whom Zechariah was prophesying. See Rom. 11. 5, note.

² Repentance (O.T.), Summary: In the O.T., repentance is the English word used to translate the Heb. nacham, to be "eased" or "comforted." It is used of both God and man. Notwithstanding the literal meaning of nacham, it is evident, from a study of all the passages, that the sacred writers use it in the sense of metanoia in the N.T.—a change of mind. See Mt. 3. 2; Acts 17. 30, note. As in the N.T., such change of mind is often accompanied by contrition and self-judgment. When applied to God the word is used phenomenally according to O.T. custom. God seems to change His mind. The phenomena are such as, in the case of a man, would indicate a change of mind.

Part III. (Zech. 9. 1-14. 21.) Burden upon cities surrounding Palestine. (See v. 8, note.)

THE ^aburden of the word of the LORD in the land of Hadrach, and Damascus shall be the rest thereof: when the eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel, shall be toward the LORD.

2 And Hamath also shall border thereby; Tyrus, and Zidon, though it be very wise.

3 And Tyrus did build herself a strong hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, ^bthe Lord will cast her out, and he will smite her power in the sea; and she shall be devoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also shall see it, and be very sorrowful, and Ekron; for her expectation shall be ashamed; and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And a bastard shall dwell ^cin Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: but he that remaineth, even he, shall be for our God, and he shall be as a governor in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite.

8 And I will encamp about mine house because of the army, ¹because of him that passeth by, and because of him that returneth: and no oppressor shall pass through them any more: for now have I seen with mine eyes.

11 As for thee also, by the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy ⁸prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turn you to the ^hstrong hold, ye prisoners of hope: even to day do I declare that I will render double unto thee;

Verse 23 explains: the Jew (see "Remnant," Isa. 1. 9; Rom. 11. 5) will then be the missionary, and to the very "nations" now called "Christian"!

16 And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people: for they shall be as the stones of a crown, lifted up as an ensign upon his land.

17 For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! corn shall make the young men cheerful, and new wine the maids.

CHAPTER 10.

The future strengthening of Judah and Ephraim.

ASK ye of the LORD rain in the time of the latter rain; so the LORD shall make bright clouds, and give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.

2 For the idols have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they comfort in vain: therefore they went their way as a flock, they were troubled, because there was no shepherd.

3 Mine anger was kindled against the shepherds, and I punished the goats: for the LORD of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and hath made them as his goodly horse in the "battle.

4 Out of him ²came forth the corner, out of him the nail, out of him the battle bow, out of him every oppressor together.

5 And they shall be as mighty men, which tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle: and they shall fight, because the LORD is with them, and the riders on horses shall be confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them again to place them; for I have mercy upon them: and ²they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD their God, and will hear them.

B.C. 487.

7 And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad; their heart shall rejoice in the LORD.

8 I will hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: and they shall increase as they have increased.

The dispersion and regathering of Israel in one view.

9 And I will sow them among the people: and they shall remember me in far countries; and they shall live with their children, and turn again.

10 I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and place shall not be found for them.

11 And he shall pass through the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the deeps of the river shall dry up: and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the LORD; and they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

¹ Cf. Hos. 6. 3; Joel 2. 23-32; Zech. 12. 10. There is both a physical and spiritual meaning: Rain as of old will be restored to Palestine, but, also, there will be a mighty effusion of the Spirit upon restored Israel.

³ The "poor of the flock": i.e. the "remnant according to the election of grace" (Rom. 11. 5); those Jews who did not wait for the manifestation of Christ in glory, but believed on Him at His first coming, and since. Of them it is said that they "waited upon Me," and "knew." Neither the Gentiles nor the Gentile church, corporately, are in view: only the believers out of Israel during this age. The church, corporately, is not in O.T. prophecy (Eph. 3. 8-10).

² Kingdom in O.T., Summary:

I. Dominion over the earth before the call of Abraham.

(1) Dominion over creation was given to the first man and woman (Gen. 1, 26, 28). Through the fall this dominion was lost, Satan becoming "prince of this world" (Mt. 4. 8-10; John 14. 30).

(2) After the flood, the principle of human government was established under the covenant with Noah (Gen. 9. 1, note). Biblically this is still the charter of all Gentile government.

II. The Theocracy in Israel. The call of Abraham involved, with much else, the creation of a distinctive people through whom great purposes of God toward the race might be worked out (see "Israel" Gen. 12. 1-3; Rom. 11. 26, summary). Among these purposes is the establishment of a universal kingdom. The order of the development of the Divine rule in Israel is:

(1) The mediatorship of Moses (Ex. 3. 1-10; 19. 9; 24. 12).

(2) The leadership of Joshua (Josh. 1. 1-5).

(3) The institution of Judges (Jud. 2. 16-18).

(4) The popular rejection of the Theocracy, and choice of a king—Saul (1 Sam.

8. 1-7; 9. 12-17).

III. The Davidic kingdom.

(1) The divine choice of David (1 Sam. 16. 1-13).

(2) The giving of the Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7. 8-16; Psa. 89. 3, 4, 20, 21, 28-37).

all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the "spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me ^bwhom they have "pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn.

The repentance of the remnant.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart;

(3) The exposition of the Davidic Covenant by the prophets (Isa. 1. 25, 26 to Zech. 12. 6-8. See marg. Isa. 1. 26, "Kingdom" and refs.). The kingdom as described by the prophets is:

(a) Davidic, to be established under an heir of David, who is to be born of a virgin, therefore truly man, but also "Immanuel," "the mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace" (Isa. 7. 13, 14; 9. 6, 7; 11. 1; Jer. 23. 5; Ezk. 34. 23; 37. 24; Hos. 3. 4, 5).

(b) A kingdom heavenly in origin, principle, and authority (Dan. 2. 34, 35, 44, 45), but set up on the earth, with Jerusalem as the capital (Isa. 2. 2-4; 4. 3, 5; 24. 23; 33. 20; 62. 1-7; Jer. 23. 5; 31. 38-40; Joel 3. 1, 16, 17).

(c) The kingdom is to be established first over regathered, restored, and converted Israel, and is then to become universal (Psa. 2. 6-8; 24.; 22.; Isa. 1. 2, 3; 11. 1, 10-13; 60. 12; Jer. 23. 5-8; 30. 7-11; Ezk. 20. 33-40; 37. 21-25; Zech. 9. 10; 14. 16-19).

(d) The moral characteristics of the kingdom are to be righteousness and peace. The meek, not the proud, will inherit the earth; longevity will be greatly increased; the knowledge of the LORD will be universal; beast ferocity will be removed; absolute equity will be enforced; and outbreking sin visited with instant judgment; while the enormous majority of earth's inhabitants will be saved (Isa. 11. 4, 6-9; 65. 20; Psa. 2. 9; Isa. 26. 9; Zech. 14. 16-21). The N.T. (Rev. 20. 1-5) adds a detail of immense significance—the removal of Satan from the scene. It is impossible to conceive to what heights of spiritual, intellectual, and physical perfection humanity will attain in this, its coming age of righteousness and peace (Isa. 11. 4-9; Psa. 72. 1-10).

(e) The kingdom is to be established by power, not persuasion, and is to follow divine judgment upon the Gentile world-powers (Psa. 2. 4-9; Isa. 9. 7; Dan. 2. 35, 44, 45; 7. 26, 27; Zech. 14. 1-19). See Zech. 6. 11, note.

(f) The restoration of Israel and the establishment of the kingdom are connected with an advent of the Lord, yet future (Deut. 30. 3-5; Psa. 2. 1-9; Zech. 14. 4).

(g) The chastisement reserved for disobedience in the house of David (2 Sam. 7. 14; Psa. 89. 30-33) fell in the captivities and world-wide dispersion, since which time, though a remnant returned under prince Zerubbabel, Jerusalem has been under the overlordship of Gentiles. But the Davidic Covenant has not been abrogated (Psa. 89. 33-37), but is yet to be fulfilled (Acts 15. 14-17).

his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied; neither shall they wear a rough garment to deceive:

5 But he shall say, I am no prophet, I am an husbandman; for man taught me to keep cattle from my youth.

6 And one shall say unto ^ahim, What are these ^bwounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.

7 Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: ^dsmite the ^eshepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones.

Résumé: Result of the Gentile invasion under the Beast.

8 ¹And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

CHAPTER 14.

Summary of events at the return of the LORD in glory: (1) Armageddon.

BEHOOLD, the day of the LORD cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

(2) The visible return in glory: physical changes in Palestine (vs. 4, 10).

4 And his ^hfeet ⁱshall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, ²and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the ³earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah; and the LORD my God shall come, and all the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the light shall not be clear, nor dark:

7 But it shall be one day which shall be known to the LORD, not day, nor night: but it shall come

8 And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

(4) The kingdom set up on the earth.

9 And the LORD shall be king over all the ¹earth: in that day shall there be one LORD, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be turned as a plain from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem: and it shall be lifted up, and inhabited in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananeel unto the king's winepresses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more utter destruction; but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the people that have fought against Jerusalem; Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Judah also shall fight at 15 And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this plague.

(5) The worship and spirituality of the kingdom.

16 And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall even go up from year to year to worship the ^bKing, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles.

17 And it shall be, that whoso will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, that have no rain; there shall be the plague, wherewith the LORD will smite the heathen that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there be upon the ^cbells of the horses, ^dHOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the LORD'S house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness unto the LORD of hosts: and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and see the therein: and in that day there shall be no more the ^eCanaanite in ^fthe house of the LORD of hosts.

MALACHI, "my messenger," the last of the prophets to the restored remnant after the 70 years' captivity, probably prophesied in the time of confusion during Nehemiah's absence (Neh. 13. 6). The burden of his message is, the love of Jehovah, the sins of the priests and of the people, and the day of the LORD. Malachi, like Zechariah, sees both advents, and predicts two forerunners (Mal. 3. 1 and 4. 5, 6). As a whole, Malachi gives the moral judgment of God on the remnant restored by His grace under Ezra and Nehemiah. He had established His house among them, but their worship was formal and insincere.

The book is in four natural divisions: I. The love of God for Israel, 1. 1-5. II. The sins of the priests rebuked, 1. 6-2. 9. III. The sins of the people rebuked, 2. 10-3. 18. IV. The day of the LORD, 4. 1-6.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The love of God for Israel (vs. 1-5).

THE burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi.

2 I have ^aloved you, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet I loved ^bJacob,

3 And I hated Esau, and laid his mountains and his heritage waste for the dragons of the wilderness.

4 Whereas ^cEdom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places; thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them, The border of wickedness, and, The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, ^dThe LORD will be magnified from the border of Israel.

Part II. The sins of the restoration priests (Mal. 1. 6-2. 9).

6 A son ^ehonoureth his father, and a servant his master: ^fif then I be a ^gfather, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name?

7 Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible.

8 And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts.

9 And now, I pray you, beseech God that he will be gracious unto us: this hath been by your means: will he regard your persons? saith the LORD of hosts.

10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for nought? neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for nought. I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 ^hFor from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering; for my name shall be great among the ⁱheathen, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 But ye have profaned it, in that ye say, The table of the LORD is polluted; and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible.

13 Ye said also, Behold, what a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye brought an offering; should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD.

14 But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a ^ccorrupt thing: for I am a great King, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen.

AND now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you.

2 If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will ^ccurse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

3 Behold, I will corrupt your seed, and spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your solemn feasts; and one shall take you away with it.

4 And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

5 My ^ccovenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before my name.

6 The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.

7 For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are departed out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble at the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

B.C. 397.

9 Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have been partial in the law.

Part III. (Mal. 2. 10-3. 18.) The sins of the people: (1) sins against brotherhood.

10 ^dHave we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

(2) Sins against God in the family.

11 Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this, the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he make one? Yet had he the residue of the ¹/₃ spirit. And where one? That he might seek a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

f Holy Spirit. (Gen.1.2.)

¹ Summary of the O.T. doctrine of the Holy Spirit: (1) The personality and Deity of the Holy Spirit appear from the attributes ascribed to Him, and from His works. (2) He is revealed as sharing the work of creation and therefore omnipotent (Gen. 1. 2; Job 26. 13; 33. 4; Psa. 104. 30); as omnipresent (Psa. 139. 7); as striving with men (Gen. 6. 3); as enlightening (Job 32. 8); enduing with constructive skill (Ex. 28. 3; 31. 3); giving physical strength (Jud. 14. 6, 19); executive ability and wisdom (Jud. 3. 10; 6. 34; 11. 29; 13. 25); enabling men to receive and utter divine revelations (Num. 11. 25; 2 Sam. 23. 2); and, generally, as empowering the servants of God (Psa. 51. 12; Joel 2. 28; Mic. 3. 8; Zech. 4. 6). (3) He is called holy (Psa. 51. 11); good (Psa. 143. 10); the Spirit of judgment and burning (Isa. 4. 4); of Jehovah, of wisdom, understanding, counsel, might, good, knowledge, the fear of the LORD (Isa. 11. 2), and of grace and supplications (Zech. 12. 10). (4) In the O.T. the Spirit acts in free sovereignty, coming upon men and even upon a dumb beast as He will, nor are conditions set forth (as in the rael, saith that he hateth putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

N.T.) by complying with which any one may receive the Spirit. The indwelling of every believer by the abiding Spirit is a N.T. blessing consequent upon the death and resurrection of Christ (John 7. 39; 16. 7; Acts 2. 33; Gal. 3. 1-6). (5) The O.T. contains predictions of a future pouring out of the Spirit upon Israel (Ezk. 37. 14; 39. 29), and upon "all flesh" (Joel 2. 28, 29). The expectation of Israel, therefore, was twofold—of the coming of Messiah-Immanuel, and of such an effusion of the Spirit as the prophets described. See Mt. 1. 18, refs.

¹The f.c. of verse 1 is quoted of John the Baptist (Mt. 11. 10; Mk. 1. 2; Lk. 7. 27), but the second clause, "the Lord whom ye seek," etc., is nowhere quoted in the N.T. The reason is obvious: in everything save the fact of Christ's first advent, the latter clause awaits fulfilment (Hab. 2. 20). Verses 2-5 speak of judgment, not of grace. Malachi, in common with other O.T. prophets, saw both advents of Messiah blended in one horizon, but did not see the separating interval described in Mt. 13. consequent upon the rejection of the King (Mt. 13. 16, 17). Still less was the Church-age in his vision (Eph. 3. 3-6; Col. 1. 25-27). "My messenger" (v. 1) is John the Baptist; the "messenger of the covenant" is Christ in both of His advents, but with especial reference to the events which are to follow His return.

14 Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts?

CLASS.	ENGLISH FORM.	HEBREW EQUIVALENT.
Primary	{ God LORD Lord	El, Elah, or Elohim (Gen. 1. 1, note) Jehovah (Gen. 2. 4, note) Adon or Adonai (Gen. 15. 2, note)
Compound (with El = God)	{ Almighty God Most High, or } most high God } everlasting God	El Shaddai (Gen. 17. 1, note) El Elyon (Gen. 14. 18, note) El Olam (Gen. 21. 33, note)
Compound (with Jehovah = LORD)	{ LORD God LORD GOD LORD of hosts	Jehovah Elohim (Gen. 2. 4, note) Adonai Jehovah (Gen. 15. 2, note) Jehovah Sabaoth (1 Sam. 1. 3, note)

The Trinity is suggested by the three times repeated groups of threes. This is not an arbitrary arrangement, but inheres in the O.T. itself.

This revelation of God by His names is invariably made in connection with some particular need of His people, and there can be no need of man to which these names do not answer as showing that man's true resource is in God. Even human failure and sin but evoke new and fuller revelations of the divine fulness.

(2) The O.T. Scriptures reveal the existence of a Supreme Being, the Creator of the universe and of man, the Source of all life and of all intelligence, who is to be worshipped and served by men and angels. This Supreme Being is One, but, in some sense not fully revealed in the O.T., is a unity in plurality. This is shown by the plural name, Elohim, by the use of the plural pronoun in the interrelation of Deity as evidenced in Gen. 1. 26; 3. 22; Psa. 110. 1; and Isa. 6. 8. That this plurality is really a Trinity is intimated in the three primary names of Deity, and in the threefold ascription of the Seraphim in Isa. 6. 3. That the interrelation of Deity is that of Father and Son is directly asserted in Psa. 2. 7 (with Heb. 1. 5); and the Spirit is distinctly recognized in His personality, and to Him are ascribed all the divine attributes (e.g. Gen. 1. 2; Num. 11. 25; 24. 2; Jud. 3. 10; 6. 34; 11. 29; 13. 25; 14. 6, 19; 15. 14; 2 Sam. 23. 2; Job 26. 13; 33. 4; Psa. 106. 33; 139. 7; Isa. 40. 7; 59. 19; 63. 10. See Mal. 2. 15, note). (3) The future incarnation is intimated in the theophanies, or appearances of God in human form (e.g. Gen. 18. 1, 13, 17-22; 32. 24-30), and distinctly predicted in the promises connected with redemption (e.g. Gen. 3. 15) and with the Davidic Covenant (e.g. Isa. 7. 13, 14; 9. 6, 7; Jer. 23. 5, 6).

ness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgments.

B.C. 397.

Elijah to come again before the day of the LORD. (Cf. Rev. 11. 3-6.)

5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the LORD:

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

The revelation of Deity in the N.T. so illuminates that of the O.T. that the latter is seen to be, from Genesis to Malachi, the foreshadowing of the coming incarnation of God in Jesus the Christ. In promise, covenant, type, and prophecy, the O.T. points forward to Him. (4) The revelation of God to man is one of authority and of redemption. He requires righteousness from man, but saves the unrighteous through sacrifice; and in His redemptive dealings with man all the divine persons and attributes are brought into manifestation. The O.T. reveals the justice of God equally with His mercy, but never in opposition to His mercy. The flood, e.g., was an unspeakable mercy to unborn generations. From Genesis to Malachi He is revealed as the seeking God who has no pleasure in the death of the wicked, and who heaps up before the sinner every possible motive to persuade to faith and obedience. (5) In the experience of the O.T. men of faith their God inspires reverence but never slavish fear; and they exhaust the resources of language to express their love and adoration in view of His loving-kindness and tender mercy. This adoring love of His saints is the triumphant answer to those who pretend to find the O.T. revelation of God cruel and repellent. It is in harmony, not contrast, with the N.T. revelation of God in Christ. (6) Those passages which attribute to God bodily parts and human emotions (e.g. Ex. 33. 11, 20; Deut. 29. 20; 2 Chr. 16. 9; Gen. 6. 6, 7; Jer. 15. 6) are metaphorical and mean that in the infinite being of God exists that which answers to these things—eyes, a hand, feet, etc.; and the jealousy and anger attributed to Him are the emotions of perfect Love in view of the havoc of sin. (7) In the O.T. revelation there is a true sense in which, wholly apart from sin or infirmity, God is like His creature man (Gen. 1. 27), and the supreme and perfect revelation of God, toward which the O.T. points, is a revelation in and through a perfect Man.

FROM MALACHI TO MATTHEW.

THE close of the Old Testament canon left Israel in two great divisions. The mass of the nation were dispersed throughout the Persian Empire, more as colonists than captives. A remnant, chiefly of the tribe of Judah, with Zerubbabel, a prince of the Davidic family, and the survivors of the priests and Levites, had returned to the land under the permissive decrees of Cyrus and his successors (Dan. 5. 31, note; 9. 25, note), and had established again the temple worship. Upon this remnant the interest of the student of Scripture centres; and this interest concerns both their political and religious history.

I. Politically, the fortunes of the Palestinian Jews followed, with one exception—the Maccabean revolt—the history of the Gentile world-empires foretold by Daniel (Dan. 2., 7.).

(1) The Persian rule continued about one hundred years after the close of the O.T. canon, and seems to have been mild and tolerant, allowing to the high priest, along with his religious functions, a measure of civil power, but under the overlordship of the governors of Syria. The sources of the history of the Jewish remnant during the Persian period were purely legendary when Josephus wrote. During this period the rival worship of Samaria (John 4. 19, 20) was established.

Palestine suffered much from the constant wars between Persia and Egypt, lying as it did “between the anvil and the hammer.”

(2) In 333 B.C. Syria fell under the power of the third of the world-empires, the Græco-Macedonian of Alexander. That conqueror, as Josephus relates, was induced to treat the Jews with much favour; but, upon the breaking up of his empire, Judæa again fell between the hammer and the anvil of Syria and Egypt, falling first under the power of Syria, but later under Egypt as ruled by the Ptolemaic kings. During this period (B.C. 320–198) great numbers of Jews were established in Egypt, and the Septuagint translation of the O.T. was made (B.C. 285).

(3) In B.C. 198 Judæa was conquered by Antiochus the Great, and annexed to Syria. At this time the division of the land into the five provinces familiar to readers of the Gospels, Galilee, Samaria, Judæa (often collectively called Judæa), Trachonitis and Peræa, was made. The Jews at first were permitted to live under their own laws under the high priest and a council. About B.C. 180 the land became the dowry of Cleopatra, a Syrian princess married to Ptolemy Philometor, king of Egypt, but on the death of Cleopatra was reclaimed by Antiochus Epiphanes (the “little horn” of Dan. 8. 9, note), after a bloody battle. In 170 B.C., Antiochus, after repeated interferences with the temple and priesthood, plundered Jerusalem, profaned the temple, and enslaved great numbers of the inhabitants. December 25, B.C. 168, Antiochus offered a sow upon the great altar, and erected an altar to Jupiter. This is the “desolation” of Dan. 8. 13, type of the final “abomination of desolation” of Mt. 24. 15. The temple worship was forbidden, and the people compelled to eat swine’s flesh.

(4) The excesses of Antiochus provoked the revolt of the Maccabees, one of the most heroic pages of history. Mattathias, the first of the Maccabees, a priest of great sanctity and energy of character, began the revolt. He did little more than to gather a band of godly and determined Jews pledged to free the nation and restore the ancient worship, and was succeeded by his son Judas, known in history as Maccabæus, from the Hebrew word for hammer. He was assisted by four brothers of whom Simon is best known.

In B.C. 165 Judas regained possession of Jerusalem, purified and rededicated the temple, an event celebrated in the Jewish Feast of the Dedication. The struggle with Antiochus and his successor continued. Judas was slain in battle, his brother Jonathan succeeding. In him the civil and priestly authority were united (B.C. 143). Under Jonathan, his brother Simon, and his nephew John Hyrcanus, the Hasmonean line of priest-rulers was established, under sufferance of other powers. They possessed none of the Maccabean virtues.

(5) A civil war followed, which was terminated by the Roman conquest of Judæa and Jerusalem by Pompey (B.C. 63), who left Hyrcanus, the last of the Hasmoneans, a nominal sovereignty, Antipater, an Idumean, wielding the actual power. B.C. 47 Antipater was made procurator of Judæa by Julius Cæsar, and appointed his son, Herod, governor of Galilee. After the murder of Cæsar disorder ensued in Judæa, and Herod fled to Rome. There he was appointed (B.C. 40) king of the Jews, and returning, he conciliated the people by his marriage (B.C. 38) with Mariamne, the beautiful grand-daughter of Hyrcanus, and appointed her brother, the Maccabean Aristobulus III., high priest. Herod was king when Jesus Christ was born.

II. The religious history of the Jews during the long period from Malachi (B.C. 397) to Christ followed, as to outer ceremonial, the high-priestly office, and the temple worship, the course of the troublous political history, and is of scant interest.

Of greater moment are the efforts and means by which the real faith of Israel was kept alive and nurtured.

(1) The tendency to idolatry seems to have been destroyed by the Jews' experience and observation of it during the captivity. Deprived of temple and priest, and of the possibility of continuing a ceremonial worship, the Jewish people were thrown back upon that which was fundamental in their faith, the revelation of God as One, the Creator, to be conceived of as having made man in His own image, and therefore as having such analogies to the nature and life of man as to be comprehensible by man, while remaining the Eternal Spirit, God. This conception of God, enforced by the mighty ministries of the pre-exilic and exilic prophets, finally prevailed over all idolatrous conceptions, and this ministry was continued amongst the returned remnant by Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi. The high ethics of the older prophets, their stern rebuke of mere formalism, and their glowing prophecies of the ultimate restoration of Israel in national and religious supremacy under Messiah, were all repeated by the three prophets of the restoration.

The problem was to keep alive this exalted ideal in the midst of outward persecutions and sordid and disgraceful divisions within.

(2) The organic means to this end was the synagogue, an institution which formed no part of the biblical order of the national life. Its origin is obscure. Probably, during the captivity, the Jews, deprived of the temple and its rites, met on the Sabbath day for prayer. This would give opportunity for the reading of the Scriptures. Such meetings would require some order of procedure, and some authority for the restraint of disorder. The synagogue doubtless grew out of the necessities of the situation in which the Jews were placed, but it served the purpose of maintaining familiarity with the inspired writings, and upon these the spiritual life of the true Israel (see Rom. 9. 6, note) was nourished.

(3) But during this period, also, was created that mass of tradition, comment and interpretation, known as Mishna, Gemara (forming the Talmud), Halachoth, Midrashim and Kabbala, so superposed upon the Law that obedience was transferred from the Law itself to the traditional interpretation.

(4) During this period also rose the two great sects known to the Gospel narratives as Pharisees and Sadducees. (See Mt. 3. 7, notes 2, 3.) The Herodians were a party rather than a sect.

Amongst such a people, governed, under the suzerainty of Rome, by an Idumean usurper, rent by bitter and unspiritual religious controversies, and maintaining an elaborate religious ritual, appeared Jesus, the Son and Christ of God.

THE FOUR GOSPELS.

THE four Gospels record the eternal being, human ancestry, birth, death, resurrection, and ascension of Jesus the Christ, Son of God, and Son of Man. They record also a selection from the incidents of His life, and from His words and works. Taken together, they set forth, not a biography but a Personality.

These two facts, that we have in the four Gospels a complete Personality, but not a complete biography, indicate the spirit and intent in which we should approach them. What is important is that through these narratives we should come to see and know Him whom they reveal. It is of relatively small importance that we should be able to piece together out of these confessedly incomplete records (John 21. 25) a connected story of His life. For some adequate reason—perhaps lest we should be too much occupied with “Christ after the flesh”—it did not please God to cause to be written a biography of His Son. The twenty-nine formative years are passed over in a silence which is broken but once, and that in but twelve brief verses of Luke’s Gospel. It may be well to respect the divine reticencies.

But the four Gospels, though designedly incomplete as a story, are divinely perfect as a revelation. We may not through them know everything that He did, but we may know the Doer. In four great characters, each of which completes the other three, we have Jesus Christ Himself. The Evangelists never describe Christ—they set Him forth. They tell us almost nothing of what they thought about Him, they let Him speak and act for Himself.

This is the essential respect in which these narratives differ from mere biography or portraiture. “The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.” The student in whom dwells an ungrieved Spirit finds here the living Christ.

The distinctive part which each Evangelist bears in this presentation of the living Christ is briefly noted in separate Introductions, but it may be profitable to add certain general suggestions.

I. The Old Testament is a divinely provided Introduction to the New; and whoever comes to the study of the four Gospels with a mind saturated with the Old Testament foreview of the Christ, His person, work, and kingdom, will find them open books.

For the Gospels are woven of Old Testament quotation, allusion, and type. The very first verse of the New Testament drives the thoughtful reader back to the Old; and the risen Christ sent His disciples to the ancient oracles for an explanation of His sufferings and glory (Lk. 24. 27, 44, 45). One of His last ministries was the opening of their understandings to understand the Old Testament.

Therefore, in approaching the study of the Gospels the mind should be freed, so far as possible, from mere theological concepts and presuppositions. Especially is it necessary to exclude the notion—a legacy in Protestant thought from post-apostolic and Roman Catholic theology—that the Church is the true Israel, and that the Old Testament foreview of the kingdom is fulfilled in the Church.

Do not, therefore, assume interpretations to be true because familiar. Do not assume that “the throne of David” (Lk. 1. 32) is synonymous with “My Father’s throne” (Rev. 3. 21), or that “the house of Jacob” (Lk. 1. 33) is the Church composed both of Jew and Gentile.

II. The mission of Jesus was, primarily, to the Jews (Mt. 10. 5, 6; 15. 23-25; John 1. 11). He was “made under the law” (Gal. 4. 4), and was “a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers” (Rom. 15. 8), and to fulfil the law that grace might flow out.

Expect, therefore, a strong legal and Jewish colouring up to the cross (e.g. Mt. 5. 17-19; 6. 12; cf. Eph. 4. 32; Mt. 10. 5, 6; 15. 22-28; Mk. 1. 44; Mt. 23. 2, etc.). The Sermon on the Mount is law, not grace, for it demands as the condition of blessing (Mt. 5. 3-9) that perfect character which grace, through divine power, creates (Gal. 5. 22, 23).

III. The doctrines of grace are to be sought in the Epistles, not in the Gospels; but those doctrines rest back upon the death and resurrection of Christ, and upon the great germ-truths to which He gave utterance, and of which the Epistles are the unfolding. Furthermore, the only perfect example of perfect grace is the Christ of the Gospels.

IV. The Gospels do not unfold the doctrine of the Church. The word occurs in Matthew only. After His rejection as King and Saviour by the Jews, our Lord, announcing a mystery until that moment "hid in God" (Eph. 3. 3-10), said, "I will build my church" (Mt. 16. 16, 18). It was, therefore, yet future; but His personal ministry had gathered out the believers who were, on the day of Pentecost, by the baptism with the Spirit, made the first members of "the church which is his body" (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13; Eph. 1. 23).

The Gospels present a group of Jewish disciples, associated on earth with a Messiah in humiliation; the Epistles a Church which is the body of Christ in glory, associated with Him in the heavenlies, co-heirs with Him of the Father, co-rulers with Him over the coming kingdom, and, as to the earth, pilgrims and strangers (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13; Eph. 1. 3-14, 20-23; 2. 4-6; 1 Pet. 2. 11).

V. The Gospels present Christ in His three offices of Prophet, Priest, and King.

As Prophet His ministry does not differ in kind from that of the Old Testament prophets. It is the dignity of His Person which makes Him the unique Prophet. Of old, God spoke through the prophets; now He speaks in the Son (Heb. 1. 1, 2). The old prophet was a voice from God; the Son is God Himself (Deut. 18. 18, 19).

The prophet in any dispensation is God's messenger to His people, first to establish truth, and, secondly, when they are in declension and apostasy to call them back to truth. His message, therefore, is, usually, one of rebuke and appeal. Only when these fall on deaf ears does he become a foreteller of things to come. In this, too, Christ is at one with the other prophets. His predictive ministry follows His rejection as King.

The sphere and character of Christ's Kingly office are defined in the Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7. 8-16, and refs.), as interpreted by the prophets, and confirmed by the New Testament. The latter in no way abrogates or modifies either the Davidic Covenant or its prophetic interpretation. It adds details which were not in the prophet's vision. The Sermon on the Mount is an elaboration of the idea of "righteousness" as the predominant characteristic of the Messianic kingdom (Isa. 11. 2-5; Jer. 23. 5, 6; 33. 14-16). The Old Testament prophet was perplexed by seeing in one horizon, so to speak, the suffering and the glory of Messiah (1 Pet. 1. 10, 11). The New Testament shows that these are separated by the present church-age, and points forward to the Lord's return as the time when the Davidic Covenant of blessing through power will be fulfilled (Lk. 1. 30-33; Acts 2. 29-36; 15. 14-17); just as the Abrahamic Covenant of blessing through suffering was fulfilled at His first coming (Acts 3. 25; Gal. 3. 6-14).

Christ is never called King of the Church. "The King" is indeed one of the divine titles, and the Church in her worship joins Israel in exalting "the king, eternal, immortal, invisible" (Psa. 10. 16; 1 Tim. 1. 17). But the Church is to reign with Him. The Holy Spirit is now calling out, not the subjects, but the co-heirs and co-rulers of the kingdom (2 Tim. 2. 11, 12; Rev. 1. 6; 3. 21; 5. 10; Rom. 8. 15-18; 1 Cor. 6. 2, 3).

Christ's Priestly office is the complement of His prophetic office. The prophet is God's representative with the people; the priest is the people's representative with God. Because they are sinful he must be a sacrificer; because they are needy he must be a compassionate intercessor (Heb. 5. 1, 2; 8. 1-3). So Christ, on the cross, entered upon His high-priestly work, offering Himself without spot unto God (Heb. 9. 14), as now He compassionates His people in an ever-living intercession (Heb. 7. 25). Of that intercession John 17. is the pattern.

VI. Distinguish in the Gospels, interpretation from moral application. Much in the Gospels which belongs in strictness of interpretation to the Jew or the kingdom, is yet such a revelation of the mind of God, and so based on eternal principles, as to have a moral application to the people of God whatever their position dispensationally. It is always true that the "pure in heart" are happy because they "see God," and that "woe" is the portion of religious formalists whether under law or grace.

VII. Especial emphasis rests upon that to which all four Gospels bear a united testimony. That united testimony is sevenfold:

1. In all alike is revealed the one unique Personality. The one Jesus is King in Matthew, Servant in Mark, Man in Luke, and God in John. But not only so: for Matthew's King is also Servant, Man, and God; and Mark's Servant is also King, and Man, and God; Luke's Man is also King, and Servant, and God; and John's eternal Son is also King, and Servant, and Man.

The pen is a different pen; the incidents in which He is seen are sometimes different incidents; the distinctive character in which He is presented is a different character; but He is always the same Christ. That fact alone would mark these books as inspired.

2. All the Evangelists record the ministry of John the Baptist.
3. All record the feeding of the five thousand.
4. All record Christ's offer of Himself as King, according to Micah.
5. All record the betrayal by Judas; the denial by Peter; the trial, crucifixion, and literal resurrection of Christ. And this record is so made as to testify that the death of Christ was the supreme business which brought Him into the world; that all which precedes that death is but preparation for it; and that from it flow all the blessings which God ever has or ever will bestow upon man.
6. All record the resurrection ministry of Christ; a ministry which reveals Him as unchanged by the tremendous event of His passion, but a ministry keyed to a new note of universality, and of power.
7. All point forward to His second coming.

HOW TO USE THE SUBJECT REFERENCES.

THE subject references lead the reader from the first clear mention of a great truth to the last. The first and last references (in parenthesis) are repeated each time, so that wherever a reader comes upon a subject he may recur to the first reference and follow the subject, or turn at once to the Summary at the last reference.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MATTHEW.

WRITER. The writer of the first Gospel, as all agree, was Matthew, called also Levi, a Jew of Galilee who had taken service as a tax-gatherer under the Roman oppressor. He was, therefore, one of the hated and ill-reputed publicans.

The date of Matthew has been much discussed, but no convincing reason has been given for discrediting the traditional date of A.D. 37.

Theme. The scope and purpose of the book are indicated in the first verse. Matthew is the "book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the Son of David, the Son of Abraham" (Mt. 1. 1). This connects Him at once with two of the most important of the Old Testament covenants: the Davidic Covenant of kingship, and the Abrahamic Covenant of promise (2 Sam. 7. 8-16; Gen. 15. 18).

Of Jesus Christ in that twofold character, then, Matthew writes. Following the order indicated in the first verse, he writes first of the King, the Son of David; then of the Son of Abraham, obedient unto death, according to the Isaac type (Gen. 22. 1-18; Heb. 11. 17-19).

But the prominent character of Christ in Matthew is that of the covenanted King, David's "righteous Branch" (Jer. 23. 5; 33. 15). Matthew records His genealogy; His birth in Bethlehem the city of David, according to Micah (5. 2); the ministry of His forerunner according to Malachi (3. 1); the ministry of the King Himself; His rejection by Israel; and His predictions of His second coming in power and great glory.

Only then (Mt. 26.-28.) does Matthew turn to the earlier covenant, and record the sacrificial death of the Son of Abraham.

This determines the purpose and structure of Matthew. It is peculiarly the Gospel for Israel; and, as flowing from the death of Christ, a Gospel for the whole world.

Matthew falls into three principal divisions:

I. The manifestation to Israel and rejection of Jesus Christ the Son of David, born King of the Jews, 1. 1-25. 46. The subdivisions of this part are: (1) The official genealogy and birth of the King, 1. 1-25; (2) the infancy and obscurity of the King, 2. 1-23; (3) the kingdom "at hand," 3. 1-12. 50 (the order of events of this subdivision is indicated in the text); (4) the mysteries of the kingdom, 13. 1-52; (5) the ministry of the rejected King, 13. 53-23. 39; (6) the promise of the King to return in power and glory, 24. 1-25. 46.

II. The sacrifice and resurrection of Jesus Christ, the Son of Abraham, 26. 1-28. 8.

III. The risen Lord in ministry to His own, 28. 9-20.

The events recorded in Matthew cover a period of 38 years (Ussher).

CHAPTER 2.

Visit of the Magi.

NOW when Jesus was ^hborn in Bethlehem of Judæa in the days of ⁴Herod the king, behold, there

¹ Six Marys are to be distinguished in the N.T.: (1) Mary the mother of Jesus; always clearly identified by the context. (2) Mary Magdalene, a woman of Magdala, "out of whom went seven demons" (Lk. 8. 2). She is never mentioned apart from the identifying word "Magdalene." (3) The mother of James (called "the less," Mk. 15. 40) and Josès, the apostles. A comparison of John 19. 25, Mt. 27. 56, and Mk. 15. 40 establishes the inference that this Mary, the mother of James the less, and of Josès, was the wife of Alphaeus (called also Cleophas, John 19. 25), and a sister of Mary the mother of Jesus. Except in Mt. 27. 61, and 28. 1, where she is called "the other Mary" (i.e. "other" than her sister, Mary the Virgin); and John 19. 25, where she is called "of Cleophas," she is mentioned only in connection with one or both of her sons. (4) Mary of Bethany, sister of Martha and Lazarus, mentioned by name only in Lk. 10. 39, 42; John 11. 1, 2, 19, 20, 28, 31, 32, 45; 12. 3, but referred to in Mt. 26. 7; Mk. 14. 3-9. (5) The mother of John Mark, and sister of Barnabas (Acts 12. 12). (6) A helper of Paul in Rome (Rom. 16. 6).

² The changed expression here is important. It is no longer, "who begat," but, "Mary, of whom was born Jesus."

³ Christ (Christos = anointed), the Greek form of the Hebrew "Messiah" (Dan. 9. 25, 26), is the official name of our Lord, as Jesus is His human name (Lk. 1. 31; 2. 21). The name, or title, "Christ," connects Him with the entire O.T. foreview (Zech. 12. 8, note) of a coming Prophet (Deut. 18. 15-19), Priest (Psa. 110. 4), and King (2 Sam. 7. 7-10). As these were typically anointed with oil (1 Ki. 19. 16; Ex. 29. 7; 1 Sam. 16. 13), so Jesus was anointed with the Holy Spirit (Mt. 3. 16; Mk. 1. 10, 11; Lk. 3. 21, 22; John 1. 32, 33), thus becoming officially "the Christ."

7 Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the ^estar appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

¹ "The King" is one of the divine titles (Psa. 10. 16), and so used in the worship of the Church (1 Tim 1. 17), but Christ is never called "King of the Church." He is "King of the Jews" (Mt. 2. 2) and Lord and "Head of the Church" (Eph. 1. 22, 23). See "Church" (Mt. 16. 18; Heb. 12. 23).

³ The words quoted are in Hos. 11. 1, and the passage illustrates the truth that prophetic utterances often have a latent and deeper meaning than at first appears. Israel, nationally, was a "son" (Ex. 4. 22), but Christ was the greater "Son." See Rom. 9. 4, 5; Isa. 41. 8, with Isa. 42. 1-4; 52. 13, 14, where the servant-nation and the Servant-Son are both in view.

Ministry of John the Baptist (Mk. 1. 3-8; Lk. 3. 2-17; John 1. 6-8, 19-28).

IN those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judæa,

2 And saying, "Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 And the same John had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was locusts and wild honey.

5 Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judæa, and all the region round about Jordan,

6 And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to

1 (1) The phrase, kingdom of heaven (lit. of the heavens), is peculiar to Matthew and signifies the Messianic earth rule of Jesus Christ, the Son of David. It is called the kingdom of the heavens because it is the rule of the heavens over the earth (Mt. 6. 10). The phrase is derived from Daniel, where it is defined (Dan. 2. 34-36, 44; 7. 23-27) as the kingdom which "the God of heaven" will set up after the destruction by "the stone cut out without hands" of the Gentile world-system. It is the kingdom covenanted to David's seed (2 Sam. 7. 7-10, refs.); described in the prophets (Zech. 12. 8, note); and confirmed to Jesus the Christ, the Son of Mary, through the angel Gabriel (Lk. 1. 32, 33).

(2) The kingdom of heaven has three aspects in Matthew: (a) "at hand" from the beginning of the ministry of John the Baptist (Mt. 3. 2) to the virtual rejection of the King, and the announcement of the new brotherhood (Mt. 12. 46-50); (b) in seven "mysteries of the kingdom of heaven," to be fulfilled during the present age (Mt. 13. 1-52), to which are to be added the parables of the kingdom of heaven which were spoken after those of Mt. 13., and which have to do with the sphere of Christian profession during this age; (c) the prophetic aspect—the kingdom to be set up after the return of the King in glory (Mt. 24. 29-25. 46; Lk. 19. 12-19; Acts 15. 14-17). See "Kingdom (N. T.)" (Lk. 1. 33; 1 Cor. 15. 28). Cf. "Kingdom of God," Mt. 6. 33, note.

2 So called from a Heb. word meaning "separate." After the ministry of the post-exilic prophets ceased, godly men called "Chasidim" (saints) arose who sought to keep alive reverence for the law amongst the descendants of the Jews who returned from the Babylonian captivity. This movement degenerated into the Pharisaism of our Lord's day—a letter-strictness which overlaid the law with traditional interpretations held to have been communicated by Jehovah to Moses as oral explanations of equal authority with the law itself (cf. Mt. 15. 2, 3; Mk. 7. 8-13; Gal. 1. 14).

The Pharisees were strictly a sect. A member was "chaber" (i.e. "knit together," Jud. 20. 11), and took an obligation to remain true to the principles of Pharisaism. They were correct, moral, zealous, and self-denying, but self-righteous (Lk. 18. 9), and destitute of the sense of sin and need (Lk. 7. 39). They were the foremost persecutors of Jesus Christ and the objects of His unsparing denunciation (e.g. Mt. 23. 13-29; Lk. 11. 42, 43).

3 Not strictly a sect, but rather those amongst the Jews who denied the existence of angels or other spirits, and all miracles, especially the resurrection. They were

10 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

11 I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire:

CHAPTER 4.

The temptation of Jesus (Mk. 1. 12, 13; Lk. 4. 1-13; cf. Gen. 3. 6).

³THEN was Jesus led up of the spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.

2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

the religious rationalists of the time (Mk. 12. 18-23; Acts 5. 15-17; 23. 8), and strongly entrenched in the Sanhedrin and priesthood (Acts 4. 1; 5. 17). They are identified with no affirmative doctrine, but were mere deniers of the supernatural.

² For the first time the Trinity, foreshadowed in many ways in the O.T., is fully manifested. The Spirit descends upon the Son, and at the same moment the Father's voice is heard from heaven.

5 Then the devil taketh him up into the ¹holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his ^bangels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the ²Lord thy God.

8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the ²world, and the glory of them;

9 And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the ²Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, ^bangels came and ministered unto him.

from the god of this world to prove Himself indeed the Son of God (vs. 3, 6). The third was the offer of the usurping prince of this world to divest himself of that which rightfully belonged to Christ as Son of man and Son of David, on the condition that He accept the sceptre on Satan's world-principles (cf. John 18. 36; Rev. 13. 8, note). Christ defeated Satan by a means open to His humblest follower, the intelligent use of the word of God (vs. 4, 7). In his second temptation Satan also used Scripture, but a promise available only to one in the path of obedience. The scene gives emphasis to the vital importance of "rightly dividing the word of truth" (2 Tim. 2. 15).

² The Greek word kosmos means "order," "arrangement," and so, with the Greeks, "beauty"; for order and arrangement in the sense of system are at the bottom of the Greek conception of beauty.

When used in the N.T. of humanity, the "world" of men, it is organized humanity—humanity in families, tribes, nations—which is meant. The word for chaotic, unorganized humanity—the mere mass of men—is thalassa, the "sea" of men (e.g. Rev. 13. 1). For "world" (kosmos) in the bad ethical sense, see John 7. 7, refs.

³ "At hand" is never a positive affirmation that the person or thing said to be "at hand" will immediately appear, but only that no known or predicted event must intervene. When Christ appeared to the Jewish people, the next thing, in the order of revelation as it then stood, should have been the setting up of the Davidic kingdom. In the knowledge of God, not yet disclosed, lay the rejection of the kingdom (and King), the long period of the mystery-form of the kingdom, the world-wide preaching of the cross, and the out-calling of the Church. But this was as yet locked up in the secret counsels of God (Mt. 13. 11, 17; Eph. 3. 3-10).

² Having announced the kingdom of heaven as "at hand," the King, in Mt. 5.-7., declares the principles of the kingdom. The sermon on the Mount has a twofold application: (1) Literally to the kingdom. In this sense it gives the divine constitution for the righteous government of the earth. Whenever the Relation of Christ to the law.

17 Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the ^drighteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment:

22 But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of ²hell fire.

23 Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee;

24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be rec-kingdom of heaven is established on earth it will be according to that constitution, which may be regarded as an explanation of the word "righteousness" as used by the prophets in describing the kingdom (e. g. Isa. 11. 4, 5; 32. 1; Dan. 9. 24). In this sense the Sermon on the Mount is pure law, and transfers the offence from the overt act to the motive (Mt. 5. 21, 22, 27, 28). Here lies the deeper reason why the Jews rejected the kingdom. They had reduced "righteousness" to mere ceremonialism, and the Old Testament idea of the kingdom to a mere affair of outward splendour and power. They were never rebuked for expecting a visible and powerful kingdom, but the words of the prophets should have prepared them to expect also that only the poor in spirit and the meek could share in it (e.g. Isa. 11. 4). The seventy-second Psalm, which was universally received by them as a description of the kingdom, was full of this. For these reasons the Sermon on the Mount in its primary application gives neither the privilege nor the duty of the Church. These are found in the Epistles. Under the law of the kingdom, for example, no one may hope for forgiveness who has not first forgiven (Mt. 6. 12, 14, 15). Under grace the Christian is exhorted to forgive because he is already forgiven (Eph. 4. 30-32).

(2) But there is a beautiful moral application to the Christian. It always remains true that the poor in spirit, rather than the proud, are blessed, and those who mourn because of their sins, and who are meek in the consciousness of them, will hunger and thirst after righteousness, and hungering will be filled. The merciful are "blessed," the pure in heart do "see God." These principles fundamentally reappear in the teaching of the Epistles.

¹ Christ's relation to the law of Moses may be thus summarized: (1) He was made under the law (Gal. 4. 4); (2) He lived in perfect obedience to the law (John 8. 46; Mt. 17. 5; 1 Pet. 2. 21-23); (3) He was a minister of the law to the Jews, clearing it from rabbinical sophistries, enforcing it in all its pitiless severity upon those who professed to obey it (e.g. Lk. 10. 25-37), but confirming the promises made to the fathers under the Mosaic Covenant (Rom. 15. 8); (4) He fulfilled the types of the law by His holy life and sacrificial death (Heb. 9. 11-26); (5) He bore, vicariously, the curse of the law that the Abrahamic Covenant might avail all who believe (Gal. 3. 13, 14); (6) He brought out by His redemption all who believe from the place of servants under the law into the place of sons (Gal. 4. 1-7); (7) He mediated by His blood the New Covenant of assurance and grace in which all believers stand (Rom. 5. 2; Heb. 8. 6-13), so establishing the "law of Christ" (Gal. 6. 2; refs.) with its precepts of higher exaltation made possible by the indwelling Spirit.

² Gr. Geenna = Gehenna, the place in the valley of Hinnom where, anciently, human sacrifices were offered (2 Chr. 33. 6; Jer. 7. 31). The word occurs, Mt. 5. 22, 29, 30; 10. 28; 18. 9; 23. 15, 33; Mk. 9. 43, 45, 47; Lk. 12. 5; Jas. 3. 6. In every instance except the last the word comes from the lips of Jesus Christ in most solemn warning of the consequences of sin. He describes it as the place where "their" worm never dies and of fire never to be quenched. The expression is identical in meaning with "lake of fire" (Rev. 19. 20; 20. 10, 14, 15). See "Death, the second" (John 8. 24; Rev. 21. 8); also Lk. 16. 23, note.

2 Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their ^areward.

4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy ^cFather which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their ^dreward.

6 But thou, when thou ^eprayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

¹ The kingdom of God is to be distinguished from the kingdom of heaven (Mt. 3. 2, note) in five respects: (1) The kingdom of God is universal, including all moral intelligences willingly subject to the will of God, whether angels, the Church, or saints of past or future dispensations (Lk. 13. 28, 29; Heb. 12. 22, 23); while the kingdom of heaven is Messianic, mediatorial, and Davidic, and has for its object the establishment of the kingdom of God in the earth (Mt. 3. 2, note; 1 Cor. 15. 24, 25). (2) The kingdom of God is entered only by the new birth (John 3. 3, 5-7); the kingdom of heaven, during this age, is the sphere of a profession which may be real or false (Mt. 13. 3, note; 25. 1, 11, 12). (3) Since the kingdom of heaven is the earthly sphere of the universal kingdom of God, the two have almost all things in common. For this reason many parables and other teachings are spoken of the kingdom of heaven in Matthew, and of the kingdom of God in Mark and Luke. It is the omissions which are significant. The parables of the wheat and tares, and of the net (Mt. 13. 24-30, 36-43, 47-50) are not spoken of the kingdom of God. In that kingdom there are neither tares nor bad fish. But the parable of the leaven (Mt. 13. 33) is spoken of the kingdom of God also, for, alas, even the true doctrines of the kingdom are leavened with the errors of which the Pharisees, Sadducees, and the Herodians were the representatives. (See Mt. 13. 33, note.) (4) The kingdom of God "comes not with outward show" (Lk. 17. 20), but is chiefly that which is inward and spiritual (Rom. 14. 17); while the kingdom of heaven is organic, and is to be manifested in glory on the earth. (See "Kingdom (O.T.)," Zech. 12. 8, note; (N.T.), Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24, note; Mt. 17. 2, note.) (5) The kingdom of heaven merges into the kingdom of God when Christ, having "put all enemies under His feet," "shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father" (1 Cor. 15. 24-28). Cf. Mt. 3. 2, note.

12 Therefore all things ^awhatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

13 Enter ye in at the ^bstrait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:

14 Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto ^clife, and few there be that find it.

Warning against false teachers: the test.

15 Beware of ^dfalse prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17 Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is ^ehewn down, and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

¹ Devils, lit. demons. To the reality and personality of demons the N.T. Scriptures bear abundant testimony. As to their origin nothing is clearly revealed, but they are not to be confounded with the angels mentioned in 2 Pet. 2. 4; Jude 6. Summary: Demons are spirits (Mt. 12. 43, 45); are Satan's emissaries (Mt. 12. 26, 27; 25. 41); and so numerous as to make Satan's power practically ubiquitous (Mk. 5. 9). They are capable of entering and controlling both men and beasts (Mk. 5. 8, 11-13), and earnestly seek embodiment, without which, apparently, they are powerless for evil (Mt. 12. 43, 44; Mk. 5. 10-12). Demon influence and demon possession are discriminated in the N.T. Instances of the latter are Mt. 4. 24; 8. 16, 28, 33; 9. 32; 12. 22; Mk. 1. 32; 5. 15, 16, 18; Lk. 8. 36; Acts 8. 7; 16. 16. They are unclean, sullen, violent, and malicious (Mt. 8. 28; 9. 33; 10. 1; 12. 43; Mk. 1. 23; 5. 3-5; 9. 17, 20; Lk. 6. 18; 9. 39). They know Jesus Christ as Most High God, and recognize His supreme authority (Mt. 8. 31, 32; Mk. 1. 24; Acts 19. 15; Jas. 2. 19). They know their eternal fate to be one of torment (Mt. 8. 29; Lk. 8. 31). They inflict physical maladies (Mt. 12. 22; 17. 15-18; Lk. 13. 16), but mental disease is to be distinguished from the disorder of mind due to demoniacal control. Demon influence may manifest itself in religious asceticism and formalism (1 Tim. 4. 1-3), degenerating into uncleanness (2 Pet. 2. 10-12). The sign of demon influence in religion is departing from the faith, i.e. the body of revealed truth in the Scriptures (1 Tim. 4. 1). The demons maintain especially a conflict with believers who would be spiritual (Eph. 6. 12; 1 Tim. 4. 1-3). All unbelievers are open to demon possession (Eph. 2. 2). The believer's resources are, prayer and bodily control (Mt. 17. 21), "the whole armour of God" (Eph. 6. 13-18). Exorcism in the name of Jesus Christ (Acts 16. 18) was practised for demon possession. One of the awful features of the apocalyptic judgments in which this age will end is an irruption of demons out of the abyss (Rev. 9. 1-11).

and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

28 And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were ^aastonished at his ^bdoctrine:

29 For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

CHAPTER 8.

Jesus heals a leper (Mk. 1. 40; Lk. 5. 12-14).

WHEN he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

2 And, ¹behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, ^asaying, "Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, "I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 And Jesus saith unto him, "See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

5 And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

7 And Jesus saith unto him, "I will come and heal him.

8 The centurion answered and said, "Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.

² Gr. kurios. The first occurrence of the word as applied to Jesus with His evident sanction. In itself the word means "master," and is so used of mere human relationships in, e.g., Mt. 6. 24; 15. 27; Mk. 13. 35; Eph. 6. 9. Both uses, divine and human, are brought together in Col. 4. 1. It is the Gr. equivalent of the Heb. Adonai (see Gen. 15. 2, note), and is so used by Jesus Christ in Mt. 22. 43-45. In the N.T. the distinctive uses of kurios (Lord) are: (1) As the N.T. translation of the Heb. Jehovah (LORD), e.g. Mt. 1. 20, 22; 2. 15; 3. 3; 4. 7, 10; 11. 25; 21. 9; Mk. 12. 29, 30; Lk. 1. 68; 2. 9. (2) Jesus Himself so uses kurios, e.g. Mt. 4. 7, 10; 11. 25; Mk. 12. 11, etc. (3) But the great use of kurios is as the divine title of Jesus, the Christ. In this sense it occurs in the N.T. 663 times. That the intent is to identify Jesus Christ with the O.T. Deity is evident from Mt. 3. 3; 12. 8; 21. 9 (Psa. 118. 26); 22. 43-45; Lk. 1. 43; John 8. 58; 14. 8-10; 20. 28; Acts 9. 5; 13. 33 (Psa. 2.). See John 20. 28, note.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

Jesus casts out demons at Gadara (Mk. 5. 1-21; Lk. 8. 26-40).

28 And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

29 And, behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

Jesus returns to Capernaum; heals the palsied man (Mk. 2. 3-12; Lk. 5. 18-26).

AND he entered into a ship, and passed over, and came into his own city.

2 And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed; and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.

3 And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth

¹ Cf. Ezk. 2. 1, note. Our Lord thus designates Himself about eighty times. It is His racial name as the representative Man, in the sense of 1 Cor. 15. 45-47; as Son of David is distinctively His Jewish name, and Son of God His divine name. Our Lord constantly uses this term as implying that His mission (e.g. Mt. 11. 19; Lk. 19. 10), His death and resurrection (e.g. Mt. 12. 40; 20. 18; 26. 2), and His second coming (e.g. Mt. 24. 37-44; Lk. 12. 40), transcended in scope and result all merely Jewish limitations. When Nathanael confesses Him as "King of Israel," our Lord's answer is, "Thou shalt see greater things . . . the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man." When His messengers are cast out by the Jews, His thought leaps forward to the time when the Son of man shall come, not then to Israel only but to the race (Mt. 10. 5, 6 with v. 23). It is in this name, also, that universal judgment is committed to Him (John 5. 22, 27). It is also a name indicating that in Him is fulfilled the O.T. foreview of blessing through a coming man (Gen. 1. 26, note; 3. 15; 12. 3; Psa. 8. 4; 80. 17; Isa. 7. 14; 9. 6, 7; 32. 2; Zech. 13. 7).

to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.

Jesus answers the Pharisees (Mk. 2. 15-20; Lk. 5. 29-35).

10 And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?

12 But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

13 But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

14 Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?

15 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

Parables of the garment and bottles (Mk. 2. 21, 22; Lk. 5. 36-39).

16 No man putteth a piece of new cloth unto an old garment, for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

17 Neither do men put new wine into old bottles: else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

Jesus heals the woman with an issue of blood, and raises the daughter of a ruler (Jairus) (Mk. 5. 22-43; Lk. 8. 41-56).

18 While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

19 And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.

20 And, behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment:

21 For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.

22 But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

23 And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise,

24 He said unto them, Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And the fame hereof went abroad into all that land.

Two blind men healed: a demon cast out.

27 And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou son of David, have mercy on us.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

30 And their eyes were opened; and Jesus straightly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that country.

32 As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil.

33 And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel.

34 But the Pharisees said, He casteth out ^adevils through the prince of the devils.

Jesus preaches and heals in Galilee (Mk. 6. 5, 6).

35 And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the ^bgospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

38 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.

2 Now the ^anames of the twelve ¹apostles are these; The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; ²James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;

3 Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alphaeus, and Lebbaeus, whose surname was Thaddæus;

4 Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the ^aGentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not:

6 But go rather to the ¹lost sheep of the house of Israel.

7 And as ye go, preach, saying, The ¹kingdom of heaven is at hand.

8 ¹Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, ²raise the dead, cast out ^adevils: freely ye have received, freely give.

9 ²Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses,

10 Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the ¹workman is worthy of his meat.

The "signs of an apostle" were: (1) They were chosen directly by the Lord Himself, or, as in the case of Barnabas, by the Holy Spirit (Mt. 10. 1, 2; Mk. 3. 13, 14; Lk. 6. 13; Acts 9. 6, 15; 13. 2; 22. 10, 14, 15; Rom. 1. 1). (2) They were endowed with sign gifts, miraculous powers which were the divine credentials of their office (Mt. 10. 1; Acts 5. 15, 16; 16. 16-18; 28. 8, 9). (3) Their relation to the kingdom was that of heralds, announcing, to Israel only (Mt. 10. 5, 6), the kingdom as at hand (Mt. 4. 17, note), and manifesting kingdom powers (Mt. 10. 7, 8). (4) To one of them, Peter, the keys of the kingdom of heaven, viewed as the sphere of Christian profession, as in Mt. 13, were given (Mt. 16. 19). (5) Their future relation to the kingdom will be that of judges over the twelve tribes (Mt. 19. 28). (6) Consequent upon the rejection of the kingdom, and the revelation of the mystery hid in God (Mt. 16. 18; Eph. 3. 1-12), the Church, the apostolic office was invested with a new endowment, the baptism with the Holy Spirit (Acts 2. 1-4); a new power, that of imparting the Spirit to Jewish-Christian believers; a new relation, that of foundation stones of the new temple (Eph. 2. 20-22); and a new function, that of preaching the glad tidings of salvation through a crucified and risen Lord to Jew and Gentile alike. (7) The indispensable qualification of an apostle was that he should have been an eye-witness of the resurrection (Acts 1. 22; 1 Cor. 9. 1).

² Cf. Mk. 6. 8, 9; Lk. 9. 3. The central thought here, urgency, must be kept in mind. The emphasis is upon "provide." Time is not to be taken to search for additional staves or shoes. The disciples were to go in their ordinary sandals, with such staff as they might have, or with none. Cf. Paul, Rom. 1. 15.

11 And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence.

12 And when ye come into an house, salute it.

14 And whosoever shall not receive you, ^anor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, ^bshake off the dust of your feet.

15 Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrhah ^din the day of judgment, than for that city.

16 Behold, I ^lsend you forth as ^csheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as ^rserpents, and harmless as ^sdoves.

17 But ^bbeware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues;

18 And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles.

19 But when they deliver you up, ^ttake no thought how or what ye shall speak: ^vfor it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.

20 For it is not ye that speak, but the ^hSpirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

21 And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child; and the children shall rise up against ^ttheir parents, and cause them to be put to death.

22 And ye shall be hated of all ^mmen for my name's sake: but he that ^uendureth to the end shall be saved.

² Cf. John 14. 27. Peace is spoken of in Scripture in three ways: (1) "Peace with God" (Rom. 5. 1); this is the work of Christ into which the individual enters by faith (Eph. 2. 14-17; Rom. 5. 1). (2) "The peace of God" (Phil. 4. 7); inward peace, the state of soul of that believer who, having entered into peace with God through faith in Christ, has also committed to God through prayer and supplication with thanksgiving all his anxieties (Lk. 7. 50; Phil. 4. 6). (3) Peace "on earth" (Lk. 2. 14; Psa. 72. 7; 85. 10; Isa. 9. 6, 7; 11. 1-12); the universal prevalency of peace in the earth under the kingdom. Mt. 10. 34 was Christ's warning that the truth which He was proclaiming would not bring in the kingdom-age of peace, but conflict rather. (Cf. John 14. 27.)

8 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft ^aclothing are in kings' houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet.

10 For this is he, of whom it is written, ^aBehold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding he that is ^aleast in the ^akingdom of heaven is ¹greater than he.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say; He hath a ^adevil.

19 The ^aSon of man came ^aeating and drinking, and they say, Behold

¹ Positionally greater, not morally. John Baptist was as great, morally, as any man "born of woman," but as to the kingdom he but announced it at hand. The kingdom did not then come, but was rejected, and John was martyred, and the King presently crucified. The least in the kingdom when it is set up in glory (see "Kingdom (N.T.)," Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24) will be in the fullness of power and glory. It is not heaven which is in question, but Messiah's kingdom. (See Mt. 3. 2, note; 6. 33, note.)

² It has been much disputed whether the "violence" here is external, as against the kingdom in the persons of John the Baptist and Jesus; or that, considering the opposition of the scribes and Pharisees, only the violently resolute would press into it. Both things are true. The King and His herald suffered violence, and this is the primary and greater meaning, but also, some were resolutely becoming disciples. (Cf. Lk. 16. 16.)

a man gluttonous, and a wine-bibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But wisdom is justified of her children.

Jesus, rejected, predicts judgment.

20 ¹Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they ^brepented not:

21 Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you.

23 And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day.

24 But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

The new message of Jesus: not the kingdom, but personal discipleship.

28 Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

CHAPTER 12.

Jesus declares himself Lord of the sabbath (Mk. 2. 23-28; Lk. 6. 1-5).

AT that time Jesus went on the sabbath day through the corn; and his disciples were an hungred, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.

³ (1) The sabbath ("cessation") appears in Scripture as the day of God's rest in the finished work of creation (Gen. 2. 2, 3). For 2500 years of human life absolutely no mention is made of it. Then the sabbath was revealed (Ex. 16. 23; Neh. 9. 13, 14); made a part of the law (Ex. 20. 8-11); and invested with the character of a "sign" between Jehovah and Israel, and a perpetual reminder to Israel of their separation to God (Ex. 31. 13-17). It was observed by complete rest (Ex. 35. 2, 3), and by Jehovah's express order a man was put to death for gathering sticks on the sabbath day (Num. 15. 32-36). Apart from maintaining the continued burnt-offering (Num. 28. 9), and its connection with the annual feasts (Ex. 12. 16; Lev. 23. 3, 8; Num. 28. 25), the seventh-day sabbath was never made a day of sacrifice, worship, or any manner of religious service. It was simply and only a day of complete rest for man and beast, a humane provision for man's needs. In Christ's words, "The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath" (Mk. 2. 27). (2) Our Lord found the observance of the day encrusted with rabbinical evasions (Mt. 12. 2) and restrictions, wholly unknown to the law, so that He was Himself held to be a sabbath-breaker by the religious authorities of the time. The sabbath will be again observed during the kingdom-age (Isa. 66. 23). (3) The Christian first day perpetuates in the dispensation of grace the principle that one-seventh of the time is especially sacred, but in all other respects is in contrast with the sabbath. One is the seventh day, the other the first. The sabbath commemorates God's creation rest, the first day Christ's resurrection. On the seventh day God rested, on the first day Christ

2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath day.

3 But he said unto them. Have ye not ^aread ¹what ^bDavid did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him;

4 How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the ^cshewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests?

5 Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath days the ^dpriests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

6 But I say unto you, That in this place is one ^egreater than the temple.

7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have ^fmercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

8 For the ^gSon of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

The healing of the withered hand on the sabbath (Mk. 3. 1-6; Lk. 6. 6-11).

9 And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue:

10 And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he

15 But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence; and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all;

16 And charged them that they should not make him known:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

18 Behold my ^jservant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my ^kspirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the ^lGentiles.

19 He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20 A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles ^mtrust.

A demoniac healed: the Pharisees blaspheme (Mk. 3. 22-30; Lk. 11. 14-23).

22 Then was brought unto him one ⁿpossessed with a devil, blind, and dumb; and he healed him, inasmuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this the ^oson of David?

24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out ^pdevils, but by ^qBeelzebub the prince of the devils.

25 And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom was ceaselessly active. The sabbath commemorates a finished creation, the first day a finished redemption. The sabbath was a day of legal obligation, the first day one of voluntary worship and service. The sabbath is mentioned in the Acts only in connection with the Jews, and in the rest of the N.T. but twice (Col. 2. 16; Heb. 4. 4). In these passages the seventh-day sabbath is explained to be to the Christian not a day to be observed, but a type of the present rest into which he enters when "he also ceases from his own works" and trusts Christ.

² This too is most significant. The rejected King of Israel will turn to the Gentiles (cf. Mt. 10. 5, 6). In fulfilment this awaited the official rejection, crucifixion, and resurrection of Christ, and the final rejection of the risen Christ (Lk. 24. 46, 47; Acts 9. 15; 13. 46; 28. 25-28; Rom. 11. 11).

divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 And if ^aSatan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your ^bchildren cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.

29 Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

The unpardonable sin: ascribing to Satan the works of the Spirit (Mk. 3, 29, 30).

31 Wherefore I say unto you. All manner of ^csin and blasphemy shall be ^dforgiven unto men: but the ^eblasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

32 And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be ^dforgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this ^fworld, neither in the world to come.

Destiny in words.

33 Either make the ^gtree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for ^hthe tree is known by his fruit.

34 O ⁱgeneration of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.

36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the ^jday of judgment.

¹ Again the rejected King announces judgment (cf. Mt. 10. 20-24). Israel, in the midst of the Pharisaic revival of outward religious strictness, was like a man out of whom a demon had "gone," i.e. of his own volition. He would come back and find an empty house, etc. The personal application is to a mere self-cleansed moralist.

CHAPTER 13.

The mysteries of the kingdom of heaven: (1) the sower (Mk. 4. 1-20; Lk. 8. 4-15).

THE same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side.

2 And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 And he ¹spake many things unto them in ^cparables, saying, Behold, a ²sower went forth to sow;

4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up:

5 Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:

6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:

8 But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.

9 Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

11 He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the ^{3d}mysteries of the ^ckingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables: ^fbecause they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

Lord intimates the formation of the new family of faith which, overstepping mere racial claims, receives "whosoever" will be His disciple (vs. 49, 50. Cf. John 6. 28, 29).

14 And in them is fulfilled the "prophecy of Esaias, which saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive:

15 For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.

17 For verily I say unto you, That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side.

20 But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it;

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.

23 But the that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

Second mystery, the tares among the wheat (vs. 24-30, 36-43).

24 Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, "The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said

¹ The O.T. prophets saw in one blended vision the rejection and crucifixion of the King (see "Christ, sacrifice," Gen. 4. 4; Heb. 10. 18, note), and also His glory as David's Son (Zech. 12. 8, note), but "what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ and the glory that should follow," was not revealed to them—only that the vision was not for themselves (1 Pet. 1. 10-12). That revelation Christ makes in these parables. A period of time is to intervene between His sufferings and His glory. That interval is occupied with the "mysteries of the kingdom of heaven" here described.

² This parable (vs. 24-30) is also interpreted by our Lord (vs. 36-43). Here the "good seed" is not the "word," as in the first parable (vs. 19, 23), but rather that which the word has produced (1 Pet. 1. 23), viz.: the children of the kingdom. These are, providentially (v. 37), "sown," i.e. scattered, here and there in the "field" of the "world" (v. 38). The "world" here is both geographical and ethnic—the earth-world, and also the world of men. The wheat of God at once becomes the scene of Satan's activity. Where children of the kingdom are gathered, there, "among the wheat" (vs. 25, 38, 39), Satan "sows" "children of the wicked one," who profess to be children of the kingdom, and in outward ways are so like the true children that only the angels may, in the end, be trusted to separate them (vs. 28-30, 40-43). So great is Satan's power of deception that the tares often really suppose themselves to be children of the kingdom (Mt. 7. 21-23). Many other parables and exhortations have this mingled condition in view (e.g. Mt. 22. 11-14; 25. 1-13, 14-30; Lk. 18. 10-14; Heb. 6. 4-9). Indeed, it characterizes Matthew from Chapter 13. to the end. The parable of the wheat and tares is not a description of the world, but of that which professes to be the kingdom. Mere unbelievers are never called children of the devil, but only religious unbelievers are so called (cf. v. 38; John 8. 38-44; Mt. 23. 15).

unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30 Let ^aboth grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

Third mystery, the grain of mustard seed (Mk. 4. 30-32).

31 ²Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The ^bkingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:

12 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a ⁴tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

Fourth mystery, the leaven (Lk. 13. 20, 21).

33 ³Another parable spake he unto them; The kingdom of heaven is like unto ⁴leaven, which a woman took, and hid in ⁵three measures of meal, till the ⁶whole was leavened.

34 All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them:

35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in

³ That interpretation of the parable of the Leaven (v. 33) which makes (with variation as to details) the leaven to be the Gospel, introduced into the world ("three measures of meal") by the church, and working subtly until the world is converted ("till the whole was leavened") is open to fatal objection: (1) It does violence to the unvarying symbolical meaning of leaven, and especially to the meaning fixed by our Lord Himself (Mt. 16. 6-12; Mk. 8. 15. See "Leaven," Gen. 19. 3; Mt. 13. 33, note). (2) The implication of a converted world in this age ("till the whole was leavened"), is explicitly contradicted by our Lord's interpretation of the parables of the Wheat and Tares, and of the Net. Our Lord presents a picture of a partly converted kingdom in an unconverted world; of good fish and bad in the very kingdom-net itself. (3) The method of the extension of the kingdom is given in the first parable. It is by sowing seed, not by mingling leaven. The symbols have, in Scripture, a meaning fixed by inspired usage. Leaven is the principle of corruption working subtly; is invariably used in a bad sense (see "Leaven," Gen. 19. 3, refs.), and is defined by our Lord as evil doctrine (Mt. 16. 11, 12; Mk. 8. 15). Meal, on the contrary, was used in one of the sweet-savour offerings (Lev. 2. 1-3), and was food for the priests (Lev. 6. 15-17). A woman, in the bad ethical sense, always symbolizes something out of place, religiously (see Zech. 5. 6, note). In Thyatira it was a woman teaching (cf. Rev. 2. 20 with Rev. 17. 1-6). Interpreting the parable by these familiar symbols, it constitutes a warning that the true doctrine, given for the nourishment of the children of the kingdom (Mt. 4. 4; 1 Tim. 4. 6; 1 Pet. 2. 2), would be mingled with corrupt and corrupting false doctrine, and that officially, by the apostate church itself (1 Tim. 4. 1-3; 2 Tim. 2. 17, 18; 4. 3, 4; 2 Pet. 2. 1-3).

parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the ^aworld.

The second mystery explained.

36 Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, ^bDeclare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

38 The field is the ^cworld; the good seed are the children of the ^dkingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one;

39 The enemy that sowed them is the ^edevil; the harvest is the ^fend of the world; and the reapers are the ^gangels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the ^hend of this world.

43 ^pThen shall the ^qrighteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. ^rWho hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Fifth mystery, the hid treasure.

44 Again, the ^skingdom of heaven is like unto ^ttreasure ^uhid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and ^vselleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

Sixth mystery, the pearl.

45 Again, the ^wkingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly ^xpearls:

46 Who, when he had found ^yone pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

Seventh mystery, the drag-net.

47 Again, ^zthe kingdom of ^{aa}heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind:

48 Which, when it was full, they

² The interpretation of the parable of the treasure, which makes the buyer of the field to be a sinner who is seeking Christ, has no warrant in the parable itself. The field is defined (v. 38) to be the world. The seeking sinner does not buy, but forsakes, the world to win Christ. Furthermore, the sinner has nothing to sell, nor is Christ for sale, nor is He hidden in a field, nor, having found Christ, does the sinner hide Him again (cf. Mk. 7. 24; Acts 4. 20). At every point the interpretation breaks down.

Our Lord is the buyer at the awful cost of His blood (1 Pet. 1. 18), and Israel, especially Ephraim (Jer. 31. 5-12, 18-20), the lost tribes hidden in "the field," the world (v. 38), is the treasure (Ex. 19. 5; Psa. 135. 4). Again, as in the separation of tares and wheat, the angels are used (Mt. 24. 31; Jer. 16. 16). The divine Merchantman buys the field (world) for the sake of the treasure (v. 44; Rom. 11. 28), beloved for the fathers' sakes, and yet to be restored and saved. The note of joy (v. 44) is also that of the prophets in view of Israel's restoration (Deut. 30. 9; Isa. 49. 13; 52. 1-3; 62. 4-7; 65. 18, 19). (See "Israel," Gen. 11. 10; Rom. 11. 26.)

³ The true Church, "one body" formed by the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13). As Israel is the hid treasure, so the Church is the pearl of great cost. Covering the same period of time as the mysteries of the kingdom, is the mystery of the Church (Rom. 16. 25, 26; Eph. 3. 3-10; 5. 32). Of the true Church a pearl is a perfect symbol: (1) A pearl is one, a perfect symbol of unity (1 Cor. 10. 17; 12. 12, 13; Eph. 4. 4-6). (2) A pearl is formed by accretion, and that not mechanically, but vitally, through a living one, as Christ adds to the Church (Acts 2. 41, 47; 5. 14; 11. 24; Eph. 2. 21; Col. 2. 19). (3) Christ, having given Himself for the pearl, is now preparing it for presentation to Himself (Eph. 5. 25-27). The kingdom is not the Church, but the true children of the kingdom during the fulfilment of these mysteries, baptized by one Spirit into one body (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13), compose the true Church, the pearl.

drew to shore, and sat down, and ^agathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the ^bend of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just,

50 And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of ^dteeth.

51 Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

Jesus returns to Nazareth: again rejected (Mk. 6. 1-6; cf. Lk. 4. 16-32).

53 And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they were ^aastonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55 Is not this the ^ccarpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, ^eJames, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things?

57 And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

CHAPTER 14.

Herod's troubled conscience. Murder of John the Baptist (Mk. 6. 14-29; Lk. 9. 7-9).

AT that time ^aHerod the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus, 2 And said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

3 For ^bHerod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for ^cHerodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife.

4 For John said unto him, It is not lawful for thee to have her.

5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.

6 But when Herod's birthday was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod.

7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask.

8 And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a charger.

9 And the king was sorry: nevertheless for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her.

10 And he sent, and beheaded John in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and wheat and tares of the mysteries of the kingdom as the sphere of profession, but with this difference: there Satan was the active agent; here the admixture is more the result of the tendency of a movement to gather to itself that which is not really of it. The kingdom of heaven is like a net which, cast into the sea of humanity, gathers of every kind, good and bad. And these remain together in the net (v. 49), and not merely in the sea, until the end of the age. It is not even a converted net, much less a converted sea. Infinite violence has been done to sound exegesis by the notion that the world is to be converted in this age. Against that notion stands our Lord's own interpretation of the parables of the Sower, the Wheat and Tares, and the Net.

Such, then, is the mystery form of the kingdom (see Mt. 3. 2, note; 6. 33, note). It is the sphere of Christian profession during this age. It is a mingled body of true and false, wheat and tares, good and bad. It is defiled by formalism, doubt, and worldliness. But within it Christ sees the true children of the true kingdom who, at the end, are to "shine forth as the sun." In the great field, the world, He sees the redeemed of all ages, but especially His hidden Israel, yet to be restored and blessed. Also, in this form of the kingdom, so unlike that which is to be, He sees the Church, His body and bride, and for joy He sells all that He has (2 Cor. 8. 9) and buys the field, the treasure, and the pearl.

took up the body, and buried it, and went and ^atold Jesus.

13 When Jesus heard of it, he ^bdeparted thence by ^cship into a desert place apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with ^dcompassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

The five thousand fed (Mk. 6. 30-44; Lk. 9. 10-17; John 6. 1-14).

15 And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16 But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart; ^egive ye them to eat.

17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 He said, ^fBring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the ^gfive loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he ^hblessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 ⁱAnd they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that ^jremained twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

22 And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.

23 And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a ^kmountain apart to pray: and when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, ^ltossed with waves: for the wind was contrary.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea.

him walking on the sea, they were ^mtroubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear.

27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, ⁿBe of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.

28 And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.

CHAPTER 15.

Jesus rebukes scribes and Pharisees (Mk. 7. 1-23).

THEN came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying,

2 Why do thy disciples transgress the ^ttradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the ^ucommandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, ^vHonour thy father and mother: and, ^wHe that curseth father or mother, let him ^xdie the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a ^ygift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me;

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites, well did ^aEsaias prophesy of you, saying,

8 This people draweth nigh unto me with their ^mmouth, and honour-eth me with ^ttheir lips; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they do worship me, teaching ^{for}doctrines the commandments of men.

10 And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand:

11 ^oNot that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which ^dcometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be ^rrooted up.

14 Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Jesus said, Are ye also ^yyet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the ^hheart; and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart proceed ^hevil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:

20 These are ^{the things} which defile a man: but to eat with un-washed hands defileth not a man.

The multitudes healed. (Cf. Mk. 7. 31-37.)

29 And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30 And great multitudes came unto him, having with them ^{those} that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and ^ccast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them:

31 Inasmuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they ^gglorified the God of Israel.

33 And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude?

34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And Jesus rebukes the blind Pharisees (Mk. 8. 10-12).

THE Pharisees also with the Sadducees came, and ¹tempting desired him that he would shew them ²a sign from heaven.

2 He answered and said unto them, When it is ¹evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the sky is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day: for the sky is red and lowring. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times?

4 A ⁶wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

5 And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

Peter's confession. (Cf. Mk. 8. 27-30; Lk. 9. 18-21; John 6. 68, 69.)

13 When Jesus came into the coasts of ¹Cæsarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I the ^mSon of man am?

14 And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist: some, Elias; and others, Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ⁿye that I am?

16 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the ^oChrist, the Son of the living God.

First mention of the church.

17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, ^pBlessed art thou, Simon ^qBar-jona: for ^rflesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18 And I say also unto thee, That thou art ¹Peter, and upon this rock I will build my ²church; and the gates of ¹hell shall not prevail against it.

¹ There is in the Greek a play upon the words, "thou art Peter [petros—literally, 'a little rock'], and upon this rock [Petra] I will build my church." He does not promise to build His church upon Peter, but upon Himself, as Peter himself is careful to tell us (1 Pet. 2. 4-9).

19 And I will give unto thee the ¹keys of the ^akingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

20 Then ²⁰charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was ^cJesus the Christ.

Christ foretells his death and resurrection (Mk. 8. 31-38; Lk. 9. 22-27).

21 From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and ^dsuffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 Then Peter took him, and began to ^erebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.

23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, ^fSatan: thou art an ^eoffence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his ^hcross, and follow me.

25 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.

26 For what is a man ⁱprofiteth, if he shall gain the whole ^jworld, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

28 Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in ^mhis ⁿkingdom.

CHAPTER 17.

AND ⁿafter six days Jesus taketh Peter, ^oJames, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart,

2 And ³was ^ptransfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And, behold, there appeared unto them ^qMoses and Elias talking with ^rhim.

4 Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved ^sSon, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.

6 And when the disciples heard ^tit, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

¹ Not the keys of the church, but of the kingdom of heaven in the sense of Mt. 13., i.e. the sphere of Christian profession. A key is a badge of power or authority (cf. Isa. 22. 22; Rev. 3. 7). The apostolic history explains and limits this trust, for it was Peter who opened the door of Christian opportunity to Israel on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2. 38-42), and to Gentiles in the house of Cornelius (Acts 10. 34-46). There was no assumption by Peter of any other authority (Acts 15. 7-11). In the council James, not Peter, seems to have presided (Acts 15. 19; cf. Gal. 2. 11-15). Peter claimed no more for himself than to be an apostle by gift (1 Pet. 1. 1), and an elder by office (1 Pet. 5. 1).

The power of binding and loosing was shared (Mt. 18. 18; John 20. 23) by the other disciples. That it did not involve the determination of the eternal destiny of souls is clear from Rev. 1. 18. The keys of death and the place of departed spirits are held by Christ alone.

² The disciples had been proclaiming Jesus as the Christ, i.e. the covenanted King of a kingdom promised to the Jews, and "at hand." The church, on the contrary, must be built upon testimony to Him as crucified, risen from the dead, ascended, and made "Head over all things to the church" (Eph. 1. 20-23). The former testimony was ended, the new testimony was not yet ready, because the blood of the new covenant had not yet been shed, but our Lord begins to speak of His death and resurrection (v. 21). It is a turning-point of immense significance.

³ The transfiguration scene contains, in miniature, all the elements of the future kingdom in manifestation: (1) The Lord, not in humiliation, but in glory (v. 2).

8 And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the "Son of man be risen again from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, "Why then say the scribes that Elias must first come?"

11 And Jesus answered and said unto them, "Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things.

12 But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

The powerless disciples: the mighty Christ (Mk. 9. 14-29; Lk. 9. 37-43).

15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is lunatick, and sore vexed: for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the "devil; and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then came the disciples to

(5) The multitude at the foot of the mountain (v. 14), representative of the nations who are to be brought into the kingdom after it is established over Israel (Isa. 11. 10-12, etc.).

¹ Cf. Mt. 11. 14; Mk. 9. 11, 12, 13; Lk. 1. 17; Mal. 3. 1; 4. 5, 6. All the passages must be construed together. (1) Christ confirms the specific and still unfulfilled prophecy of Mal. 4. 5, 6: "Elias shall truly first come and restore all things." Here, as in Malachi, the prediction fulfilled in John the Baptist, and that yet to be fulfilled in Elijah, are kept distinct. (2) But John the Baptist had come already, and with a ministry so completely in the spirit and power of Elijah's future ministry (Lk. 1. 17) that in an adumbrative and typical sense it could be said: "Elias is come already." Cf. Mt. 10. 40; Phm. 12, 17, where the same thought of identification, while yet preserving personal distinction, occurs (cf. John 1. 27).

CHAPTER 18.

The sermon on the child-text
(Mk. 9. 33-37; Lk. 9. 46-48).

AT the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, ^aWho is the greatest in the ^bkingdom of heaven?

2 And Jesus called a little ^cchild unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3 And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me.

6 But whoso shall ^doffend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 Woe unto the ^eworld because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh!

8 Wherefore ^fif thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into ^glife halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into ^heverlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into ⁱhell fire.

10 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their ^jangels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

Discipline in the future church.

15 Moreover if thy ^pbrother shall ^qtrespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.

17 And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the ^schurch: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an ^theathen man and a publican.

18 Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ^ubind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

The law of forgiveness (Lk. 17. 3, 4).

21 Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how ^xoft shall my brother ^ysin against me, and I ^zforgive him? till seven times?

22 Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until ^{aa}seventy times seven.

23 Therefore is the ^bkingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would ^{bb}take account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had ^{cc}not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying,

Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and ^bforgave him the debt.

28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him an hundred pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had pity on thee?

34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him.

35 So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

7 They say unto him, Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorce, and to put her away?

8 He saith unto them, Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.

10 His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

Jesus receives and blesses little children (Mk. 10. 13-16; Lk. 15-17).

13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

CHAPTER 20.

Parable of the labourers in the vineyard.

FOR the kingdom of heaven is ^olike unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his ^pvineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw ^qothers standing idle in the marketplace,

4 And said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, ^wWhy stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 So when ^seven was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they ^rreceived every man a penny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they had received it, they ^mmurmured against the goodman of the house,

12 Saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them ^eequal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.

13 But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny?

14 Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee.

15 Is it not lawful for me to do ^awhat I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good?

16 So the ^blast shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.

Jesus again foretells his death and resurrection (Mk. 10. 32-34; Lk. 18. 31-34. See Mt. 12. 38-42; 16. 21-28; 17. 22, 23).

17 And Jesus going up to Jerusalem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

18 Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the ^aSon of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,

19 And shall deliver him to the ^bGentiles to ^cmock, and to ^dscourge, and to ^ecrucify him; and the third day he shall ^frise again.

21 And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my ^btwo sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy ^ckingdom.

22 But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the ^acup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.

23 And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be

AND when they drew ^anigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of ¹ A discrepancy has been imagined between this account and those in Mk. 10. 46; Lk. 18. 35. Matthew and Mark obviously refer to a work of healing as Jesus departed from Jericho. Bartimæus, the active one of the two, the one who cried, "Jesus, thou Son of David," is specifically mentioned by Mark. Of the other one of the "two," we know nothing. The healing described by Luke (18. 35) occurred before Jesus entered Jericho. As to the form of appeal, "Son of David" (cf. Mt. 9. 27; 15. 22; 21. 9), Jesus must have been so addressed constantly. The narratives therefore supplement, but in no wise contradict each other.

Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples,

2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

3 And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

5 Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them,

7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.

8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.

Jesus' second purification of the temple (Mk. 11. 15-18; Lk. 19. 45-47. Cf. John 2. 13-16).

13 And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.

14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them.

15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were sore displeased,

17 And he left them, and went out of the city into Bethany; and he lodged there.

The barren fig tree cursed (Mk. 11. 12-14, 20-24).

18 Now in the morning as he returned into the city, he hungered.

19 And when he saw a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away.

20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away!

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done.

22 And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

Jesus' authority questioned (Mk. 11. 27-33; Lk. 20. 1-8).

23 And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

25 The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?

26 But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; for all hold John as a prophet.

27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said

35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all he sent unto them his ^mson, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the ⁿheir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

Parable of the marriage feast (Lk. 14. 16-24).

AND Jesus answered and spake unto them again by ^{am}parables, and said,

2 The ^{an}kingdom of heaven is ^{ao}like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son,

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and ^{ap}my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But they made light of ^{aq}it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

from the official representatives of the nation, He was soon to hear the multitude shout: "Crucify Him."

¹ Note that Matthew here as in verse 31 uses the larger word, kingdom of God. (Cf. Mt. 6. 33, note.) The kingdom of heaven (Mt. 3. 2, note; 1 Cor. 15. 24, summary) will yet be set up. Meantime the kingdom of God and His righteousness is taken from Israel nationally and given to the Gentiles (Rom. 9. 30-33).

² Christ as the "Stone" is revealed in a threefold way: (1) To Israel Christ,

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7 But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and ^aburned up their city.

8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

9 ^bGo ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, ^dboth bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend how comest thou in hither not having a ^cwedding garment? And he was ^espeechless.

13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into ^aouter darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Jesus answers the Sadducees (Mk. 12. 18-27; Lk. 20. 27-38).

23 The same day came to him the Sadducees, which say that there is no ^aresurrection, and asked him,

24 ^bSaving, Master, Moses said, ^cIf a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 ^dNow there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother:

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, ^eYe do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the ^fresurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are ^gas the angels of God in heaven.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read ^hthat which was spoken unto you by God, saying,

32 ⁱI am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

34 But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.

coming not as a splendid monarch but in the form of a servant, is a stumbling-stone and rock of offence (Isa. 8. 14, 15; Rom. 9. 32, 33; 1 Cor. 1. 23; 1 Pet. 2. 8); (2) to the church, Christ is the foundation-stone and the head of the corner (1 Cor. 3. 11; Eph. 2. 20-22; 1 Pet. 2. 4, 5); (3) to the Gentile world-powers (see "Gentiles," Lk. 21. 24; Rev. 16. 19) He is to be the smiting-stone of destruction (Dan. 2. 34). Israel stumbled over Christ; the church is built upon Christ; Gentile world-dominion will be broken by Christ. (See "Armageddon," Rev. 16. 14; 19. 19.)

35 Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

37 Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and great commandment.

39 And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

40 On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

Jesus questions the Pharisees (Mk. 12. 35-37; Lk. 20. 41-44).

41 While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them,

42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David.

43 He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying, 44 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?

46 And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

The marks of a Pharisee (Mk. 12. 38-40; Lk. 20. 45-47).

THEN spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2 Saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat:

3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not.

4 For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments, 14 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves.

18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is guilty.

19 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

20 Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

CHAPTER 24.

The Olivet discourse: (1) destruction of the temple foretold (Mk. 13. 1, 2; Lk. 21. 5, 6).

AND Jesus went out, and ^adeparted from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.

2 And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, ^bThere shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

The Olivet discourse: (2) the threefold question (Mk. 13. 3, 4; Lk. 21. 7).

3 And ^cwas he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, ^dTell us, ^ewhen shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy ^fcoming, and of the ^gend of the world?

The Olivet discourse: (3) the course of this age (Mk. 13. 5-13; Lk. 21. 8-19).

4 And Jesus answered and said

¹ The three "untils" of Israel's blessing: (1) Israel must say, "Blessed is He" (Mt. 23. 39; cf. Rom. 10. 3, 4). (2) Gentile world-power must run its course (Lk. 21. 24; Dan. 2. 34, 35). (3) The elect number of the Gentiles must be brought in. The "Deliverer shall come out of Zion," etc. (Rom. 11. 25-27).

² Mt. 24. with Lk. 21. 20-24 answers the threefold question. The order is as follows: "When shall these things be?"—i.e. destruction of the temple and city.

unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

7 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.

12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13 But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

15 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand):

16 Then let them which be in Judaea flee into the mountains:

17 Let him which is on the house-top not come down to take any thing out of his house:

18 Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes.

19 And woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day:

21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe if not.

Answer, Lk. 21. 20-24. Second and third questions: "And what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the age?" Answer, Mt. 24. 4-33. Verses 4 to 14 have a double interpretation: They give (1) the character of the age—wars, international conflicts, famines, pestilences, persecutions, and false Christs (cf. Dan. 9. 26). This is not the description of a converted world. (2) But the same answer (vs. 4-14) applies in a specific way to the end of the age, viz. Daniel's seventieth week (Dan. 9. 24-27, note 2). All that has characterized the age gathers into awful intensity at the end. Verse 14 has specific reference to the proclamation of the good news that the kingdom is again "at hand" by the Jewish remnant (Isa. 1. 9; Rev. 14. 6, 7; Rom. 11. 5, note). Verse 15 gives the sign of the abomination (Dan. 9. 27, note)—the "man of sin," or "Beast" (2 Thes. 2. 3-8; Dan. 9. 27; 12. 11; Rev. 13. 4-7).

This introduces the great tribulation (Psa. 2. 5; Rev. 7. 14, note), which runs its awful course of three and a half years, culminating in the battle of Rev. 19. 19-21, note, at which time Christ becomes the smiting Stone of Dan. 2. 34. The detail of this period (vs. 15-28) is: (1) The abomination in the holy place (v. 15); (2) the warning (vs. 16-20) to believing Jews who will then be in Jerusalem; (3) the great tribulation, with renewed warning as to false Christs (vs. 21-26); (4) the sudden smiting of the Gentile world-power (vs. 27, 28); (5) the glorious appearing of the Lord, visible to all nations, and the regathering of Israel (vs. 29-31); (6) the sign of the fig-tree (vs. 32, 33); (7) warnings, applicable to this present age over which these events are ever impending (vs. 34-51; Phil. 4. 5). Careful study of Dan. 2. 7., 9., and Rev. 13. will make the interpretation clear. See, also, "Remnant" (Isa. 1. 9; Rom. 11. 5).

¹ Cf. Lk. 21. 20-24. The passage in Luke refers in express terms to a destruction of Jerusalem which was fulfilled by Titus, A.D. 70; the passage in Matthew to a future crisis in Jerusalem after the manifestation of the "abomination." See "Beast" (Dan. 7. 8; Rev. 19. 20); and "Armageddon" (Rev. 16. 14; 19. 17). As the circumstances in both cases will be similar, so are the warnings. In the former case Jerusalem was destroyed; in the latter it will be delivered by divine interposition.

shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.

The Olivet discourse: (5) the return of the King in glory (Mk. 13. 24-37; Lk. 21. 25-36).

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 For whersoever the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:

30 And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31 And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

CHAPTER 25.

The Olivet discourse: (6) the Lord's return tests the real state of the kingdom in mystery.

THEN shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom.

2 And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them:

4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5 While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut.

11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not.

13 Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.

² The kingdom of heaven here is the sphere of profession, as in Mt. 13. All alike have lamps, but two facts fix the real status of the foolish virgins: They "took no oil," and the Lord said, "I know you not." Oil is the symbol of the Holy Spirit, and "If any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of his" (Rom. 8. 9). Nor could the Lord say to any believer, however unspiritual, "I know you not."

ful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 For unto ^eevery one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even ^bthat which he hath.

30 And ^ccast ye the unprofitable servant into ^douter darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 When the Son of man shall ^ccome in his glory, and all the ^fholy ^gangels with him, ^hthen shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 ¹And before him shall be ^ggathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the ^jsheep on his right hand, but the ^kgoats on the left.

CHAPTER 26.

The Jewish authorities consult to put Jesus to death (Mk. 14. 1, 2; Lk. 22. 1, 2).

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples,

2 Ye know that after two days is ¹the ²feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas,

¹ This judgment is to be distinguished from the judgment of the great white throne. Here there is no resurrection; the persons judged are living nations; no books are opened; three classes are present, sheep, goats, brethren; the time is at the return of Christ (v. 31); and the scene is on the earth. All these particulars are in contrast with Rev. 20. 11-15. The test in this judgment is the treatment accorded by the nations to those whom Christ here calls "my brethren." These "brethren" are the Jewish Remnant who will have preached the Gospel of the kingdom to all nations during the tribulation. See "Remnant" (Isa. 1. 9; Rom. 11. 5). The test in Rev. 20. 11-15, is the possession of eternal life. See, for the other six judgments, John 12. 31, note; 1 Cor. 11. 31, note; 2 Cor. 5. 10, note; Ezk. 20. 37, note; Jude 6, note; Rev. 20. 12, note.

7 There came unto him a ^ewoman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his ^fhead, as he sat at meat.

8 But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 For ye have the poor always with you; but ^gme ye have not always.

12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it ^hfor my ⁱburial.

13 Verily I say unto you, Where-soever this ^jgospel shall be preached in the whole ^kworld, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

17 Now the first ^qday of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

¹ No contradiction of John 12. 3 is implied. The ordinary anointing of hospitality and honour was of the feet (Lk. 7. 38) and head (Lk. 7. 46). But Mary of Bethany, who alone of our Lord's disciples had comprehended His thrice repeated announcement of His coming death and resurrection, invested the anointing with the deeper meaning of the preparation of His body for burying. Mary of Bethany was not among the women who went to the sepulchre with intent to embalm the body of Jesus.

The second prayer (Mk. 14. 39; Lk. 22. 44).

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.

The third prayer (Mk. 14. 41).

44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, "Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of ^bsinners.

46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

The betrayal and arrest of Jesus (Mk. 14. 43-50; Lk. 22. 47-53; John 18. 3-11).

47 And ^cwhile he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall ^dkiss, that same is he: hold him fast.

49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, master; and ^ekissed him.

50 And Jesus said unto him, /Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.

51 And, behold, one of them which were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and ^fdrew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest's, and smote off his ear.

52 Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place:

¹ A comparison of the narratives gives the following order of events on the crucifixion day: (1) Early in the morning Jesus is brought before Caiaphas and the Sanhedrin. He is condemned and mocked (Mt. 26. 57-68; Mk. 14. 55-65; Lk. 22. 63-71; John 18. 19-24). (2) The Sanhedrin lead Jesus to Pilate (Mt. 27. 1, 2, 11-14; Mk. 15. 1-5; Lk. 23. 1-5; John 18. 28-38). (3) Pilate sends Jesus to Herod (Lk. 23. 6-12; John 19. 4). (4) Jesus is again brought before Pilate, who releases Barabbas and delivers Jesus to be crucified (Mt. 27. 15-26; Mk. 15. 6-15; Lk. 23. 13-25; John 18. 39, 40; 19. 4-16). (5) Jesus is crowned with thorns, and mocked (Mt. 27. 26-30; Mk. 15. 15-20; John 19. 1-3). (6) Suicide of Judas (Mt. 27. 3-10). (7) Led forth to be crucified, the cross is laid upon Simon: Jesus discourses to the women (Mt. 27. 31, 32; Mk. 15. 20-23; Lk. 23. 26-33; John 19. 16, 17). 65 Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his ^cblasphemy.

66 What think ye? They answered and said, He is guilty of death.

67 Then did they ^dspit in his face, and buffeted him; and others ^esmote him with the palms of their hands,

70 But he denied before ^gthem all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.

71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another ^hmaid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This ⁱfellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

72 And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.

73 And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art ^jone of them; for thy ^kspeech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to ^lcurse and to swear, ^msaying, I know not the man. And immediately he ⁿcock crew.

3 Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the ^vthirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

4 Saying, I have ^wsinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that.

¹ Cf. v. 69; Mk. 14. 69; Lk. 22. 58; John 18. 25. A discrepancy has been imagined in these accounts. Let it be remembered that an excited crowd had gathered, and that Peter was interrogated in two places: "With the servants" (Mt. 26. 58) where the first charge was made (v. 69); "the porch" where a great number of people would be gathered, and where the second and third interrogations were made by "another maid" and by the crowd, i.e. "they" (vs. 71, 73; John 18. 25).

Jesus or Barabbas? (Mk. 15. 6-15; Lk. 23. 13-25; cf. John 18. 38-40).

15 Now at that feast the governor was ^wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?

18 For he knew that ^{or} *b*envy they had delivered him.

19 When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a ^dream because of him.

20 But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, ^eBarabbas.

22 Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be ^crucified.

23 And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

The King crowned with thorns, and led away to crucifixion (Mk. 15. 16-23; Lk. 23. 26-32; John 19. 16, 17).

27 Then the soldiers of the governor ^took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.

28 And they ^stripped him, and put on him a ^kscarlet robe.

29 And when they had platted a crown of ^thorns, they put it upon his head, and a ^mreed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!

30 And they ^spit upon him, and took the reed, and ^smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him.

32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to ^bear his cross.

⁴ That these bodies returned to their graves is not said and may not be inferred. The wave-sheaf (Lev. 23. 10-12) typifies the resurrection of Christ, but a sheaf implies plurality. It was a single "corn of wheat" that fell into the ground in the crucifixion and entombment of Christ (John 12. 24); it was a sheaf which came forth in resurrection. The inference is that these saints, with the spirits of "just men made perfect" (Heb. 12. 23) from Paradise, went with Jesus (Eph. 4. 8-10) into heaven.

feared greatly, saying, "Truly this was the Son of God.

55 And many women were there beholding afar off, which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him:

56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedee's children.

The entombment of Christ (Mk. 15. 42-47; Lk. 23. 50-56; John 19. 38-42).

57 When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple:

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.

59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 And laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

The sepulchre sealed and guarded.

62 Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, "After three days I will rise again.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse than the first.

CHAPTER 28.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ, and events of that day (Mk. 16. 1-14; Lk. 24. 1-49; John 20. 1-23.)

IN the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, "Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

6 He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, "All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be

¹ The order of events, combining the four narratives, is as follows: Three women, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, start for the sepulchre, followed by other women bearing spices. The three find the stone rolled away, and Mary Magdalene goes to tell the disciples (Lk. 23. 55-24. 9; John 20. 1, 2). Mary, the mother of James and Joses, draws nearer the tomb and sees the angel of the Lord (Mt. 28. 2). She goes back to meet the other women following with the spices. Meanwhile Peter and John, warned by Mary Magdalene, arrive, look in, and go away (John 20. 3-10). Mary Magdalene returns weeping, sees the two angels and then Jesus (John 20. 11-18), and goes as He bade her to tell the disciples. Mary (mother of James and Joses), meanwhile, has met the women with the spices and, returning with them, they see the two angels (Lk. 24. 4, 5; Mk. 16. 5). They also receive the angelic message, and, going to seek the disciples, are met by Jesus (Mt. 28. 8-10).

² The order of our Lord's appearances would seem to be: On the day of His resurrection: (1) To Mary Magdalene (John 20. 14-18). (2) To the women returning not afraid: go tell my ^abrethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large ^bmoney unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this come to the governor's ears, we will ^cpersuade him, and secure you.

15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

(2) In the temple (Acts 22. 17-21; 23. 11). To Stephen, outside Jerusalem (Acts 7. 55). To John on Patmos (Rev. 1. 10-19).

¹ With the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ begins the "dispensation of the grace of God" (Eph. 3. 2), which is defined as "his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus"; and, "the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2. 7-9). Under grace God freely gives to the believing sinner eternal life (Rom. 6. 23); accounts to him a perfect righteousness (Rom. 3. 21, 22; 4. 4, 5); and accords to him a perfect position (Eph. 1. 6). The predicted results of this sixth testing of man are: (1) The salvation of all who believe (Acts 16. 31); (2) judgment upon an unbelieving world and an apostate church (Mt. 25. 31-46; 2 Thes. 1. 7-10; 1 Pet. 4. 17, 18; Rev. 3. 15, 16).

(1) Man's state at the beginning of the dispensation of grace (Rom. 3. 19; Gal. 3. 22; Eph. 2. 11, 12). (2) Man's responsibility under grace (John 1. 11, 12; 3. 36; 6. 28, 29). (3) His predicted failure (Mt. 24. 37-39; Lk. 18. 8; 19. 12-14). (4) The judgment (2 Thes. 2. 7-12).

² The word is in the singular, the "name," not names. Father, Son, and Holy Spirit is the final name of the one true God. It affirms: (1) That God is one. (2) That He subsists in a personality which is threefold, indicated by relationship as Father and Son; by a mode of being as Spirit; and by the different parts taken by the Godhead in manifestation and in the work of redemption, e.g. John 3. 5, 6 (Spirit), 16, 17 (Father and Son). In Mt. 3. 16, 17; Mk. 1. 10, 11; Lk. 3. 21, 22, the three persons are in manifestation together. (3) The conjunction in one name of the Three affirms equality and oneness of substance. See O.T. WRITER. The writer of the second Gospel, Mark, called also John, was the son of one of the New Testament Marys, and nephew of Barnabas. He was an associate of the apostles, and is mentioned in the writings of Paul and of Luke (Acts 12. 12, 25; 15. 37, 39; Col. 4. 10; 2 Tim. 4. 11; Phm. 24).

The date of Mark has been variously placed between A.D. 57 and 63.

Theme. The scope and purpose of the book are evident from its contents. In it Jesus is seen as the mighty Worker, rather than as the unique Teacher. It is the Gospel of Jehovah's "Servant the Branch" (Zech. 3. 8), as Matthew is the Gospel of the "Branch . . . unto David" (Jer. 33. 15).

Everywhere the servant character of the incarnate Son is manifest. The key-verse is 10. 45, "For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister." The characteristic word is "straightway," a servant's word. There is no genealogy, for who gives the genealogy of a servant? The distinctive character of Christ in Mark is that set forth in Phil. 2. 6-8.

But this lowly Servant, who emptied Himself of the "form of God," "and was found in fashion as a man," was, nevertheless, "the mighty God" (Isa. 9. 6), as Mark distinctly declares (1. 1), and therefore mighty works accompanied and authenticated His ministry. As befits a Servant-Gospel, Mark is characteristically a Gospel of deeds, rather than of words.

The best preparation of heart for the study of Mark is the prayerful reading of Isa. 42. 1-21; 50. 4-11; 52. 13-53. 12; Zech. 3. 8; Phil. 2. 5-8.

Mark is in five principal divisions: I. The manifestation of the Servant-Son, 1. 1-11. II. The Servant-Son tested as to His fidelity, 1. 12, 13. III. The Servant-Son at work, 1. 14-13. 37. IV. The Servant-Son "obedient unto death," 14. 1-15. 47. V. The ministry of the risen Servant-Son, now exalted to all authority, 16. 1-20.

The events recorded in this book cover a period of 7 years.

(Mt. 4. 18-22; Lk. 5. 10, 11. Cf. John 1. 35-42).

16 Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become ^bfishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.

19 And when he had gone a little farther thence, he saw ^cJames the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ^dship mending their nets.

20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

Jesus casts out demons in Capernaum (Lk. 4. 31-37).

21 And they went into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the ^esynagogue, and taught.

22 And they were ^fastonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.

23 And there was in their synagogue a man with an ^gunclean spirit; and he cried out,

24 Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, ^hthou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I ⁱknow thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, ^jhe came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, inasmuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.

Simon's wife's mother healed of a fever (Mt. 8. 14, 15; Lk. 4. 38, 39).

29 And ^kforthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 But Simon's wife's ^lmother lay sick of a fever, and anon they tell him of her.

32 And at ⁿeven, when the sun did set, they brought unto him ^oall that were diseased, and them that were possessed with ^pdevils.

34 And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many ^pdevils; and ^qsuffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.

Jesus prays: a preaching tour in Galilee (Lk. 4. 42-44).

35 And in the morning, ^rrising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon and they that were with him followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All ^smen seek for thee.

38 And he said unto them, Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for ^ttherefore came I forth.

39 And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out ^udevils.

40 And there came a ^vleper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41 And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth ^whis hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, ^uI will; be thou clean.

42 And as soon as he had spoken, ^kimmediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And he straightly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;

45 But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in ^ddesert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAPTER 2.

The palsied man healed (Mt. 9. 1-8; Lk. 5. 18-26).

AND again he entered into Capernaum after some days; and it was noised that he was in the house.

2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them.

4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had ^bbroken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.

5 When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy ^csins be ^dforgiven thee.

6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sins but ^eGod only?

8 And ^fimmediately when Jesus ^gperceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

13 And he went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.

14 And as he ^hpassed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphæus sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.

15 And it came to pass, that, as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and ⁱsinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.

16 And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and ^jsinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?

17 When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are ^kwhole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to ^lrepentance.

18 And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees ^mused to fast: and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber fast, while the ⁿbridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be ^otaken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

(Mt. 12. 1-8; Lk. 6. 1-5).

23 And it came to pass, that he went through the corn fields on the sabbath day; and his disciples began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day that which is not lawful?

25 And he said unto them, Have ye never read what ^bDavid did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him?

26 How he went into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the ^cshewbread, which is not lawful to eat but for the ^apriests, and gave also to them which were with him?

27 And he said unto them, The ^csabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath:

AND he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a ^ewithered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they might accuse him.

3 And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth.

4 And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do ^hgood on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

5 And when he had looked round about on them with ⁱanger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, ^jStretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was ^krestored whole as the other.

9 And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many; inso-much that they pressed upon him for to ^otouch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.

13 And he goeth up into a mountain, and ^qcalleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him.

14 And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach,

15 And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils:

16 And Simon he surnamed Peter; 17 And ^rJames the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James; and he surnamed them Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder:

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus, and Simon the Canaanite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went into an house.

20 And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

21 And when his ^sfriends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He is beside himself.

The unpardonable sin (Mt. 12. 24-29; Lk. 11. 14-20).

22 And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, He hath ^tBeelzebub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.

23 And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, ^uHow can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

26 And if ^aSatan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

27 No man can enter into a ^bstrong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first ^cbind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.

28 Verily I say unto you, All ^dsins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewithsoever they shall blaspheme:

29 But he that shall ^eblaspheme against the ^fHoly Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is ^gin danger of eternal damnation:

30 ^hBecause they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

The new relationships (Mt. 12. 46-50; Lk. 8. 19-21).

31 There came then his ⁱbrethren and his mother, and, standing without, sent unto him, calling him.

32 And the multitude sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

35 For whosoever shall do the ^jwill of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAPTER 4.

The parable of the sower (Mt. 13. 1-23; Lk. 8. 4-15)

AND he began again to teach by the ^ksea side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea; and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, and said unto them in his doctrine,

3 Harken; Behold, there went out a ^lsower to sow:

4 And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the ^mfowls of the air came and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and 7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

8 And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased; and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some an hundred.

9 And he said unto them, He that hath ^wears to hear, let him hear.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable.

11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the ^xmystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all ^ythese things are done in parables:

12 That ^zseeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should ^{aa}be converted, and ^{ab}their ^{ac}sins should be forgiven them.

The parable of the sower explained (Mt. 13. 18-23; Lk. 8. 11-15).

13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?

14 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, ^{ad}Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;

17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when ^{ae}affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word,

19 And the ^{af}cares of this ^{ag}world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

20 And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and ^{ah}receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some an hundred.

Parable of the candle. (Cf. Mt. 5. 15, 16; Lk. 8. 16; 11. 33.)

21 And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a ^abushel, or under a ^bbed? and not to be set on a candlestick?

22 ^cFor there is nothing hid, which shall not be ^dmanifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

23 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

24 And he said unto them, Take ^eheed what ye hear: with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear shall more be given.

25 For he that hath, to him shall be given; and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

The unconscious growth.

26 And he said, So is the ^fkingdom of God, as if a man should cast ^gseed into the ground;

27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

28 For the ^hearth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.

29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the ⁱharvest is come.

Parable of the mustard seed (Mt. 13. 31, 32, note; Lk. 13. 18, 19).

30 And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a grain of ^jmustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth:

32 But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the ^kfowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

33 And with ^lmany such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it.

34 But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, ^hWhat manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

CHAPTER 5.

The maniac of Gadara (Mt. 8. 28-34; Lk. 8. 26-37).

AND they ^acame over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an ^bunclean spirit,

3 Who had ^chis dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

4 Because that he had been ^doften bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any ^eman tame him.

5 And always, night and day, he was in the ^fmountains, and in the ^gtombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, ^hWhat have I to do with thee, Jesus, ⁱthou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 For he said unto him, Come out of the man, ^jthou unclean spirit.

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. ^bAnd the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand;) and were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, ^dsitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and ^htell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

Jesus heals the woman with an issue of blood, and raises the daughter of Jairus (Mt. 9. 18-26; Lk. 8. 41-56).

21 And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him: and he was nigh unto the sea.

22 And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, ⁱJairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,

23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.

24 And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.

25 And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood ^htwelve years,

26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse,

27 When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and ^mtouched his garment.

28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

30 And Jesus, immediately ⁿknowing in himself that ^ovirtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude ^pthronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and ^qfell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he said unto her, Daughter, thy ^rfaith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further?

36 ^sAs soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, ^tBe not afraid, only believe.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and ^uJames, and John the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but ^vsleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had ^wput them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.

41 And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise.

42 And straightway the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.

43 And he charged them straitly that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

CHAPTER 6.

Jesus again at Nazareth (Mt. 13. 54-58. See Lk. 4. 16, note).

AND he went out from thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him.

2 And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?

3 Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and Joses, and of Juda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him.

4 But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.

5 And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.

6 And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages, teaching.

The twelve sent out to preach and heal (Mt. 10. 1-42; Lk. 9. 1-6).

8 And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse;

9 But be shod with sandals; and not put on two coats.

10 And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into an house, there abide till ye depart from that place.

11 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust

Herod's troubled conscience: murder of John the Baptist (Mt. 14. 1-14; Lk. 9. 7-9).

14 And king Herod heard of him; (for his name was spread abroad;) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

15 Others said, That it is Elias. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.

16 But when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

17 For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her.

18 For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.

19 Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could not:

20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and an holy, and observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birthday made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Galilee;

22 And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23 And he swore unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom.

24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.

25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me ^aby and by in a charger the head of John the Baptist.

26 And the king was exceeding ^bsorry; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her.

27 And immediately the king sent ^can executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison,

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel: and the damsel gave it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples ^dheard of it, ^ethey came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30 And the apostles ^fgathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

The five thousand fed (Mt. 14. 13-21; Lk. 9. 10-17; John 6. 5-13).

32 And they departed into a desert place ^hby ship privately.

33 And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.

34 And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with ⁱcompassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to ^jteach them many things.

35 And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time ^kis far passed:

36 ^lSend them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat.

37 He answered and said unto them, ^mGive ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?

38 He saith unto them, ⁿHow many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes.

46 And when he had sent them away, he ⁷departed into a mountain to pray.

47 And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them ⁸toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, ⁹walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they ¹⁰supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out:

50 For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, ¹¹Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them into the ship; and the ¹²wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might ^atouch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole.

CHAPTER 7.

The Pharisees rebuked (Mt. 15. 1-20).

THEN came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jerusalem.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples ^beat bread with defiled, that is to say, with unwashen hands, they found fault.

3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands oft, eat not, holding the ^ctradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, brasen vessels, and of tables.

5 Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the ^dtradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands?

6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath ^eEsaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching ^ffor doctrines the commandments of men.

loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

6 And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before ^bthem; and they did set ^cthem before the people.

7 And they had a ^dfew small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before ^ethem.

8 So they did eat, and ^fwere filled; and they took up of the broken ^gmeat that was left seven baskets.

9 And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

The Pharisees ask a sign: the meaning of leaven explained
(Mt. 16. 1-12).

10 And straightway he ^hentered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a ⁱsign from heaven, tempting him.

12 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall ^jno sign be given unto this generation.

13 And he left them, and entering into the ship again departed to the other side.

14 Now ^kthe disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.

15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the ^lleaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of ^mHerod.

16 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, ⁿIt is because we have no bread.

17 And when Jesus knew ^oit, he saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet ^phardened?

18 Having ^qeyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?

19 When I brake the ^rfive loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

20 And when the ^sseven among four thousand, how many baskets

21 And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand?

The blind man healed outside Bethsaida.

22 And he cometh to Bethsaida; and they bring a ^ablind man unto him, and besought him to touch him.

23 ¹And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him ^bout of the town; and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought.

24 And he looked up, and said, I see men as ^ctrees, walking.

25 After that he put ^{his} hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man ^dclearly.

26 And he sent him away to his house, saying, ^eNeither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.

Peter's confession of faith (Mt. 16. 13-16; Lk. 9. 18-20).

27 And Jesus ^fwent out, and his disciples, into the towns of Cæsarea Philippi; and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, ^gWhom do men say that I am?

28 And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias; and others, One of the prophets.

29 And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answereth and saith unto him, ^hThou art the Christ.

30 And he charged them that they should tell no man of him.

31 And he began to teach them, that the ⁱSon of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.

32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to ^jrebuke him.

33 But when he had turned about and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, ^kGet thee behind me, ^lSatan: for ^mthou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.

CHAPTER 9.

The transfiguration (Mt. 17. 1-8; Lk. 9. 28-36).

AND he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have ^wseen the ^xkingdom of God come with power.

2 And after six days Jesus taketh ^{with} him Peter, and ^yJames, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves: and he was ^ztransfigured before them.

3 And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them.

4 And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.

5 And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make ^{aa}three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he ^{ab}wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid.

7 And there was a ^{ac}cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, "This is my beloved Son: hear him.

¹ Our Lord's action here is most significant. Having abandoned Bethsaida to judgment (Mt. 11. 21-24), He would neither heal in that village, nor permit further testimony to be borne there (v. 26). The probation of Bethsaida as a community was ended, but He would still show mercy to individuals. Cf. Rev. 3. 20. Christ is outside the door of that church, but "If any man hear My voice," etc.

8 And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw ^{no} man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, he ^{charged} them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were ^{risen} from the dead.

10 And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.

11 And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes that ^{Elias} must first come?

12 And he answered and told them, ^{Elias} verily cometh first, and restoreth all things; and how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and be set at nought.

13 But I say unto you, ^{That} ^{Elias} is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.

The impotent disciples: the mighty Christ (Mt. 17. 14-21; Lk. 9. 37-42).

14 And when he came to ^{his} disciples, he saw a ^{great} multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly ^{amazed}, and running to him saluted him.

16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye with them?

17 And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a ^{dumb} spirit;

18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he teareth him: and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they ^{could} not.

19 He answereth him, and saith, O ^{faithless} generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me.

20 And they brought him unto him: and ^{when} he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child.

CHAPTER 10.

Jesus' law of divorce. (Cf. Mt. 5. 31, 32; 19. 1-9; Lk. 16. 18; 1 Cor. 7. 10-15.)

AND he arose from thence, and cometh into the ^bcoasts of Judæa by the farther side of Jordan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

3 And he answered and said unto them, What did ^cMoses command you?

4 And they said, Moses ^dsuffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart ^ehe wrote you this precept.

6 But from the beginning of the creation ^fGod made them male and female.

7 For this cause shall a man ^gleave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife;

8 And ^hthey twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.

9 What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter.

11 And he saith unto them, ⁱWhosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

Jesus blesses little children (Mt. 19. 13-15; Lk. 18. 15-17).

13 And they brought ^jyoung children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Jesus saw it, he was ^kmuch displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children ^lto come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

15 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

16 ^mAnd he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and ^b blessed them.

The rich young ruler (Mt. 19. 16-30; Lk. 18. 18-30. Cf. Lk. 10. 25).

17 ^aAnd when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good ^bMaster, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?

18 And Jesus said unto him, ^cWhy callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.

19 Thou knowest the ^dcommandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.

21 Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have ^etreasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

The warning against riches.

23 ^fAnd Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

24 And the disciples were ^gastonished at his words. But Jesus answered again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that ^htrust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the ⁱeye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved?

27 And Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 ^jThen Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.

29 And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, they began to be much displeased with James and John.

43 But so shall it not be among you: ^abut whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister;

48 And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me.

49 ^eAnd Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, ^fBe of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee.

50 And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, ^gLord, that I might receive my sight.

5 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt?

6 And they said unto them even as Jesus had commanded: and they let them go.

CHAPTER 12.

Parable of the householder demanding fruit from his vineyard (Mt. 21. 33-46; Lk. 20. 9-19. Cf. Isa. 5. 1-7).

AND he began to speak unto them by parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set an hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some.

6 Having yet therefore one son, his wellbeloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.

7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be our's.

8 And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

10 And have ye not read this scripture; "The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:

11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?

13 And they ^asend unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words.

14 And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: ^bIs it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar, ^cor not?

15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a ^dpenny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cæsar's.

Jesus answers the Sadducees (Mt. 22. 23-33; Lk. 20. 27-38).

18 Then come unto him the ^gSadducees, which say there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying,

19 Master, ^hMoses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, that his ⁱbrother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

20 Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed.

21 And the second took her, and died, neither left he any seed: and the third likewise.

22 And the seven had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answering ^jsaid unto them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God?

The great commandments (Mt. 22. 34-40; cf. Lk. 10. 25-37).

28 And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?

29 And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one ^aLord:

30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

31 And the second is like, namely this, ^bThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

32 And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; and there is none other but he:

33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than all whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices.

Jesus questions the Pharisees (Mt. 22. 41-46; Lk. 20. 41-44).

35 And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the ^eson of David?

36 ^fFor David himself said by the ^gHoly Ghost, The ^hLORD said to my ⁱLord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

38 And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the market-places,

39 And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts:

40 Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

41 And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.

42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing.

43 And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury:

44 For all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

troubled: for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows.

9 But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.

10 And the gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.

12 Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.

17 But woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter.

19 For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be,

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh

The plot to put Jesus to death
(Mt. 26. 2-5; Lk. 22. 1, 2).

AFTER two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar of the people.

3 ^aAnd being in Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a ^bwoman having an alabaster box of ointment of spikenard very precious; and she brake the box, and poured it on his ^chead.

4 And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might have been sold for more than ^dthree hundred pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her.

6 And Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.

The preparation of the passover
(Mt. 26. 17-19; Lk. 22. 7-13).

12 And the ^afirst day of unleavened bread, when they ^bkilled the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayest eat the passover?

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and ^dfound as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

The last passover (Mt. 26. 20-24; Lk. 22. 14, 21-23; John 13. 18, 19).

17 And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.

18 And as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which ^eeateth with me shall betray me.

19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish.

21 The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! ^hgood were it for that man if he had never been born.

Jesus institutes the Lord's Supper (Mt. 26. 26-29; Lk. 22. 17-20; 1 Cor. 11. 23-26).

22 And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and ^bbrake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, ^eeat: this is my body.

23 And he took the cup, and ^kwhen he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the ^mnew ⁿtestament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until ^othat day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

Peter's denial foretold (Mt. 26. 31-35; Lk. 22. 31-34; John 13. 36-38).

26 And when they had sung an ^hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is ^owritten, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.

29 But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

30 And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, ^even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

The agony in the garden. (Cf. Mt. 26. 36-46; Lk. 22. 39-46; John 18. 1.)

32 And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane; and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

33 And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy;

34 And saith unto them, My ^ssoul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

The first prayer. (Cf. Mt. 26. 39; Lk. 22. 41, 42.)

35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.

36 And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this ^ucup from me: nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.

37 And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour?

38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the ^zflesh is weak.

The second prayer. (Cf. Mt. 26. 42; Lk. 22. 44.)

39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) neither wist they what to answer him.

The third prayer. (Cf. Mt. 26. 44.)

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the ^ohour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of ^bsinners.

42 Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh ^cJudas, one of the twelve, and with him a great ^dmultitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

44 And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely.

49 I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 And they ^gall forsook him, and fled.

assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.

54 And Peter followed him afar off, ^jeven into the ^kpalace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

55 And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none.

56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,

58 We heard him ^lsay, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.

59 But neither so did their witness agree together.

60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?

61 ^mBut he held his peace, and ⁿanswered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?

62 And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man ^ositting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

63 Then the high priest ^prent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses?

64 Ye have heard the ^qblasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

Peter denies his Lord (Mt. 26. 69-75; Lk. 22. 56-62; John 18. 16-18, 25-27).

67 And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch; and the cock crew.

69 And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilaean, and thy speech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

72 And the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. ^aAnd when he thought thereon, he wept.

Jesus sent before Pilate (Mt. 27. 1, 2, 11-15; Lk. 23, 1-7, 13-18; John 18. 28-40; 19. 1-16).

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. LUKE.

WRITER. The writer of the third Gospel is called by Paul "the beloved physician" (Col. 4. 14); and, as we learn from the Acts, was Paul's frequent companion. He was of Jewish ancestry, but his correct Greek marks him as a Jew of the dispersion. Tradition says that he was a Jew of Antioch, as Paul was of Tarsus.

Date. The date of Luke falls between A.D. 63 and 68.

Theme. Luke is the Gospel of the human-divine One, as John is of the divine-human One. The key-phrase is "Son of man," and the key-verse (19. 10), "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." In harmony with this intent, Luke relates those things concerning Jesus which demonstrate how entirely human He was. His genealogy is traced to Adam, and the most detailed account is given of His mother, and of His infancy and boyhood. The parallels peculiar to Luke have distinctively the human and the seeking note. But Luke is careful to guard the Deity and Kingship of Jesus Christ (Lk. 1. 32-35). Luke, then, is the Gospel of "the man whose name is The BRANCH" (Zech. 6. 12).

Luke has seven chief divisions: I. The Evangelist's Introduction, 1. 1-4. II. The human relationships of Jesus, 1. 5-2. 52. III. The baptism, ancestry, and testing of Jesus, 3. 1-4. 13. IV. The ministry of the Son of man as Prophet-King in Galilee, 4. 14-9. 50. V. The journey of the Son of man from Galilee to Jerusalem, 9. 51-19. 44. VI. The final offer of the Son of man as King to Israel, His rejection and sacrifice, 19. 45-23. 56. VII. The resurrection, resurrection ministry, and ascension of the Son of man, 24. 1-53.

The events recorded in this book cover a period of 39 years.

CHAPTER 1. Introduction.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us,

2 Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning ^awere eyewitnesses, and ministers of ^bthe word;

3 It seemed good to me also, ^chaving had perfect ^dunderstanding of all things ^efrom the very first, to write unto thee ^fin order, most excellent ^gTheophilus,

4 That thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed.

Birth of John the Baptist foretold.

THERE was in the days of ^hHerod, the king of Judæa, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia; and his ^kwife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.

6 And they were both ^lrighteous before God, walking in all the ^mcommandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7 And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were ⁿnow well stricken in years.

8 And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course,

9 According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him,

1 "From the very first": Gr. anōthen, "from above." So translated in John 3. 31; 19. 11; Jas. 1. 17; 3. 15, 17. In no other place is anōthen translated "from the very first." The use by Luke of anōthen is an affirmation that his knowledge of these things, derived from those who had been eye-witnesses from the beginning (Lk. 1. 2), was confirmed by revelation. In like manner Paul had doubtless heard from the eleven the story of the institution of the Lord's Supper, but he also had it by revelation from the Lord (cf. 1 Cor. 11. 23), and his writing, like Luke's "anōthen" knowledge, thus became first-hand, not traditional, merely.

he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the ^aangel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy ^bprayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth.

15 For he shall be ^cgreat in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the ^dHoly Ghost, ^eeven from his mother's womb.

16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.

17 And he ^fshall go before him in the ^gspirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a ^hpeople prepared for the Lord.

18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.

19 And the ^aangel answering said unto him, I am ^bGabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am ^csent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

20 And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple: for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.

23 And it came to pass, that, as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

24 And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to ^ktake away my reproach among men.

The annunciation.

26 And in the ^lsixth month the ^mangel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth,

27 To a ^mvirgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

28 And the ^aangel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art ⁿhighly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

30 And the ^aangel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God.

31 And, behold, ^othou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.

32 He shall be ^pgreat, and shall be called the ^qSon of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give unto him the ^rthrone of his ^sfather David;

33 And ^the shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and ^uof his ^vkingdom there shall be no end.

34 Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

35 And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, ^wand the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that ^xholy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the ^ySon of God.

36 And, behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her, who was called barren.

37 For ^zwith God nothing shall be impossible.

38 And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

Mary visits Elisabeth.

39 And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Juda;

40 And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth.

41 And it came to pass, that, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost:

42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my ^eLord should come to me?

44 For, lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

45 And blessed is she ^bthat believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

The magnificat. (Cf. 1 Sam. 2. 1-10.)

46 And Mary said, ^cMy soul doth magnify the Lord,

47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my ^dSaviour.

48 For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and ^eholy is his name.

50 And his ^fmercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation.

51 He hath shewed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

52 He hath put down the mighty from ^gtheir seats, and exalted them of low degree.

53 He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich he hath sent empty away.

54 He hath holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of ^hhis mercy;

55 As he ⁱspake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

Birth of John the Baptist.

57 Now Elisabeth's full time came that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son.

58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her; and they rejoiced with her.

59 And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to ^kcircumcise the child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answered and said, Not so; but he shall be called John.

64 And his ^umouth was opened immediately, and his tongue ^vloosed, and he spake, and praised God.

66 And all they that heard ^wthem laid ^xthem: up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be! And the hand of the Lord was with him.

69 And hath raised up an ^ahorn of salvation for us in the ^bhouse of his servant David;

74 That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might ^gserve him without fear,

75 In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.

76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways;

77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people by the remission of their ^hsins,

78 Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the ⁱdayspring from on high hath visited us,

79 To give light to them that sit in darkness and ^jin the shadow of ^kdeath, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

80 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

CHAPTER 2.

The birth of Jesus (Mt. 1. 10-25; 2. 1; cf. John 1. 14).

AND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Cæsar Augustus, that all the ^{1a}world should be taxed.

2 (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judæa, unto the city of David, which is called ^bBethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David:)

5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

7 And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

Adoration of the shepherds.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9 And, lo, the ^dangel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11 For unto you is born this day in the city of David a ^fSaviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the ^dangel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

15 And it came to pass, as the ^dangels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Circumcision of Jesus.

(Cf. Lk. 1. 59.)

21 And when eight days were accomplished ^ffor the circumcising of the child, his name was called ^jJESUS, which was so named of the ^dangel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when the ^hdays of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord;

24 And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A ⁿpair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

Adoration and prophecy of Simeon.

25 And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was ^{2o}just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the ^pHoly Ghost was upon him.

26 And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should

² The O.T. righteousness. Summary: In the O.T. "righteous" and "just" are not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,

29 Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart ^ain peace, according to thy word:

30 For mine eyes have seen thy ^bsalvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

32 A light to lighten the ^cGentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the ^dfall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against;

35 (Yea, a ^esword shall pierce through thy own soul also,) ^fthat the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

Adoration of Anna.

36 And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity;

37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and ^gprayers night and day.

38 And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for ^hredemption in Jerusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city ⁱNazareth.

Jesus and his parents at the passover.

41 Now his parents went to Jerusalem ^jevery year at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not ^kof it.

44 But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went ^la day's journey; and they sought him among ^mtheir kinsfolk and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him.

46 And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be ⁿabout my Father's business?

50 And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus increased in ^owisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

English words used to translate the Hebrew words yasher, "upright"; tsadik, "just"; tsidkiah, "righteous." In all of these words but one idea inheres: the righteous, or just, man is so called, because he is right with God; and he is right with God because he has walked "in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless" (Lk. 1. 6; Rom. 10. 5; Phil. 3. 6). The O.T. righteous man was not sinless (Eccl. 7. 20), but one who, for his sins, resorted to the ordinances, and offered in faith the required sacrifice (e.g. Lev. 4. 27-35). Cf. "Righteousness (N.T.)," Rom. 10. 10, note, and Paul's contrast, Phil. 3. 4-9.

CHAPTER 3.

The ministry of John the Baptist (Mt. 3. 1-12; Mk. 1. 1-8; John 1. 6-8, 15-36).

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judæa, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Ithuræa and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the tetrarch of Abilene,

2 ^bAnnas and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.

3 And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins;

4 As it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth;

6 And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7 Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and begin now to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

9 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

10 And the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then?

11 He answereth and saith unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

12 Then came also publicans to 14 And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your wages.

15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ, or not;

16 John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire:

17 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.

18 And many other things in his exhortation preached he unto the people.

19 But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, 20 Added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

The baptism of Jesus (Mt. 3. 13-17; Mk. 1. 9-11).

21 Now when all the people were baptized, it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened,

22 And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

The genealogy of Mary, mother of Jesus.

¹ In Matthew, where unquestionably we have the genealogy of Joseph, we are told (1. 16) that Joseph was the son of Jacob. In what sense, then, could he be called in Luke "the son of Heli"? He could not be by natural generation the son both of Jacob and of Heli. But in Luke it is not said that Heli begat Joseph, so that the natural explanation is that Joseph was the son-in-law of Heli, who was,

CHAPTER 4.

The temptation of Christ (Mt. 4. 1-11; Mk. 1. 12, 13).

AND Jesus being full of the ^bHoly Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness,

2 Being forty days ^ctempted of the devil. And in those days he did eat nothing; and when they were ended, he afterward hungered.

3 And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, ^dcommand this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of ^eGod.

5 And the devil, taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the ^fworld in a moment of time.

6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is ^gdelivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it.

7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine.

8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, ^hSatan: for it is written, ⁱThou shalt worship the ^jLord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

9 And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence:

10 For it is written, ^kHe shall give his ^langels charge over thee, ^mto keep thee:

11 And in their hands they shall like himself, a descendant of David. That he should in that case be called "son of Heli" ("son" is not in the Greek, but rightly supplied by the translators) would be in accord with Jewish usage (cf. 1 Sam. 24. 16). The conclusion is therefore inevitable that in Luke we have Mary's genealogy; and Joseph was "son of Heli" because espoused to Heli's daughter. The genealogy in Luke is Mary's, whose father, Heli, was descended from David.

bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, "Thou shalt not tempt the ^bLord thy God.

13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

Jesus returns to Galilee (Mt. 4. 12-16; Mk. 1. 14).

14 And Jesus returned in the 'power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a ^afame of him through all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

Jesus in the synagogue at Nazareth.

16 And he 'came to 'Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, ^fhe went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place ^gwhereto was written,

18 The Spirit of the ^hLord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the 'gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,

19 To preach the ⁱacceptable year of the ^jLord.

20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the ^kgracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, 'Is not this Joseph's son?

23 And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country.

¹ Our Lord visited Nazareth twice after beginning His public ministry. See Mt. 13. 54-58; Mk. 6. 1-6.

² A comparison with the passage quoted, Isa. 61. 1, 2, affords an instance of the exquisite accuracy of Scripture. Jesus stopped at, "the acceptable year of the Lord," which is connected with the first advent and the dispensation of grace (Gen. 3. 15; Acts 1. 11, note); "the day of vengeance of our God" belongs to the second advent (Deut. 30. 3; Acts 1. 11, note) and judgment.

Jesus heals Peter's wife's mother, and many others (Mt. 8. 14-17; Mk. 1. 29-38).

38 And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her.

39 And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her; and immediately she arose and ministered unto them.

40 Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.

41 And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. ^dAnd he rebuking them suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

42 And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them.

43 And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent.

The miraculous draught of fishes. (Cf. John 21. 6-8.)

AND it came to pass, that, as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Gennesaret,

2 And saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And he entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And he sat down, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.

5 And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing:

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake.

7 And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 And so was also James, and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

Jesus heals a leper (Mt. 8. 2-4; Mk. 1. 40-44).

12 And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

A paralytic healed (Mt. 9. 2-8; Mk. 2. 1-12).

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judæa, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in ^abecause of the multitude, they went upon the housetop, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst ^bbefore Jesus.

20 And when he saw ^ctheir faith, he said unto him, Man, thy ^dsins are forgiven thee.

21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh ^eblasphemies? ^fWho can forgive sins, but God alone?

22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may ^gknow that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) ^hI say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, ⁱglorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they ^jglorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.

CHAPTER 6.

Jesus and the sabbath (Mt. 12. 1-8; Mk. 2. 23-28).

AND it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not ^alawful to do on the sabbath days?

3 And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read so much as this, what ^bDavid did, when himself was an hungred, and they which were with him;

4 How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the ^cshewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat but for the priests alone?

5 And he said unto them, ^dThat the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

The withered hand healed (Mt. 12. 9-14; Mk. 3. 1-6).

6 And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he ^aentered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered.

7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; that they might find an ^baccusation against him.

8 But he ^cknew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.

9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; ^dIs it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?

10 And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: ^eand his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with ^fmadness; ^gand communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a ^hmountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, he called ⁱunto him his disciples: and of them he ^jchose twelve, whom also he named apostles;

14 Simon, (whom he also named Peter,) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,

15 Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelotes, 16 And Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitor.

17 And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and a great ^kmultitude of people out of all Judæa and Jerusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

(Mt. 5. 3-12.)

20 And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye poor: for your's is the kingdom of God.

21 Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.

22 Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.

23 Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for, behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

24 But woe unto you that are rich! for ^oye have received your consolation.

25 Woe unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.

CHAPTER 7.

The centurion's servant healed (Mt. 8. 5-13).

NOW when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain ^bcenturion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

4 And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was ^aworthy for whom he should do this:

5 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.

6 Then Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter under my roof:

7 Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but ^asay in a word, and my servant shall be healed.

8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

9 When Jesus heard these things, he ^bmarvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant ^awhole that had been sick.

The widow's son raised.

11 And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, ^aWeep not.

14 And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.

15 And ^bhe that was dead ^csat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

16 And there came a fear on all: and they ^dglorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, ^eThat God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judæa, and throughout all the region round about.

18 And the disciples of John ^fshewed him of all these things.

21 And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight.

22 Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and ^gtell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the ^hdead are raised, to the poor the ⁱgospel is preached.

28 For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but ^bhe that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.

Jesus exposes the unreason of unbelief (Mt. 11. 16-19).

30 But the ^dPharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him.

31 And the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

32 They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

33 For John the Baptist came ^eneither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a devil.

34 The Son of man is come ^feating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and ^gsinners!

Jesus in the Pharisee's house.

36 And one of the ⁱPharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat.

37 And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a ^jsinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an ^kalabaster box of ointment,

38 And stood at his ^lfeet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the ^mhairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, "This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on.

Parable of the creditor and two debtors.

41 ^bThere was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty.

42 And when they had nothing to pay, he ^frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most?

43 Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and said unto ¹Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased to kiss my feet.

46 ^dMy head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment.

47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are ^eforgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.

48 And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.

49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, ^fWho is this that forgiveth sins also?

Parable of the sower (Mt. 13. 1-23; Mk. 4. 1-20).

4 And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a ^hparable:

5 A ¹sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

6 And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundredfold. And when he had said these things, he cried, ^mHe that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be?

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the ⁿmysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that ^oseeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.

11 Now the parable is this: The seed is the ^pword of God.

12 Those by the way side are they that hear; then cometh the ^qdevil, and taketh away the word out of their ^rhearts, lest they should believe and be ^ssaved.

13 They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of ^ttemptation fall away.

¹ See Jas. 2. 14-26. When Jesus would justify the woman in the eyes of Simon, He points to her works, for only through her works could Simon see the proof of her faith; but when He would send the woman away in peace, He points to her faith, not her works. See Tit. 2. 14; 3. 4-8. His own works can never be to the believer his own ground of assurance, which must rest upon the work of Christ (cf. Mt. 7. 22, 23). See "Assurance" (Isa. 32. 17; Jude 1).

15 But that on the good ground are they, which in a ^bhonest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with ^dpatience.

Parable of the lighted candle (Mt. 5. 15, 16; Mk. 4. 21-23; Lk. 11. 33).

16 No man, when he hath lighted a ^ccandle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.

17 For ^snothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid, that shall not be known and come abroad.

18 ^hTake heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.

19 Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.

23 But as they sailed he ^lfell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ^mceased, and there was a calm.

to another, ^oWhat manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

Demons cast out of the maniac of Gadara (Mt. 8. 28-34; Mk. 5. 1-17).

26 And they arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city a certain man, which had ^pdevils long time, and ^qware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the ^rtombs.

28 When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, ^sWhat have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God ^tmost high? I beseech thee, torment me not.

29 (For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains and in fetters; and he ^ubrake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness.)

30 And Jesus asked him, saying, ^vWhat is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the ^wdeep.

32 And there was there an herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the ^xswine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.

35 Then they went out to see what was done; and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils were departed, ^ysitting at the feet of Jesus, ^zclothed, and ^ain his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about ^bbesought him to ^cdepart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

38 Now the man out of whom the devils were departed ^abesought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying,

39 ^bReturn to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him.

A woman healed: Jairus' daughter raised (Mt. 9. 18-26; Mk. 5. 22-43).

40 And it came to pass, that, when Jesus was returned, the people ^cgladly received him: for they were all waiting for him.

41 And, behold, there came a man named ^cJairus, and he was a ^druler of the synagogue: and he ^efell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him that he would come into his house: 42 For he had one only ^fdaughter, about twelve years of age, and she ^glay a dying. But as he went the people thronged him.

43 And a woman having an ^hissue of blood twelve years, which had ⁱspent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any,

44 Came behind ^jhim, and ^ktouched the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stanch'd.

45 And Jesus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter and they that were with him said, Master, the multitude ^lamong thee and press ^mthee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me: for I perceive that ⁿvirtue is gone out of me.

47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she ^odeclared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: ^pthy faith hath made thee whole; ^qgo in peace.

49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's ^rhouse, saying to him, Thy daughter is ^sdead; trouble not the Master.

50 But when Jesus heard ^tit, he answered him, saying, ^uFear not: ^vbelieve only, and she shall be made whole.

52 And all wept, and bewailed her: but he said, Weep not; she is not dead, but ^bsleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he put them all out, and took her by the ^chand, and called, saying, ^dMaid, ^earise.

55 And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to ^fgive her meat.

56 And her parents were astonished: but ^ghe charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAPTER 9.

The twelve sent forth to preach (Mt. 10. 1-42. Cf. Mk. 6. 7-13).

THEN he called his ^atwelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.

2 And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.

3 And he said unto them, ^bTake ^cnothing for ^dyour journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece.

4 And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And whosoever will not ^ereceive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.

6 And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the ^fgospel, and healing every where.

7 Now ^gHerod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead;

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared; and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again.

9 And Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear such things? ^hAnd he desired to see him.

The apostles return: the five thousand fed (Mt. 14. 13-21; Mk. 6. 30-44; John 6. 1-14).

10 And the apostles, when they were ⁱreturned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and ^awent aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Bethsaida.

11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and ^bspoke unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had ^cneed of healing.

12 And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, ^dSend the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but ^efive loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them ^fsit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.

16 Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he ^gblessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they did eat, and ^hwere all filled: and there was taken up of ⁱfragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

Peter's confession of Christ (Mt. 16. 13-20; Mk. 8. 27-30).

18 And it came to pass, as he was alone ^jpraying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, ^kWhom say the people that I am?

19 They answering said, John the Baptist; but some say, Elias; and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again.

20 He said unto them. But whom say ye that I am? ^lPeter answering said, The Christ of God.

21 And he straitly charged them, and commanded ^mthem to tell no man that thing:

Jesus foretells his death and resurrection (Mt. 16. 21; Mk. 8. 31).

any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

24 For whosoever will ^asave his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

25 For what is a man ^badvanced, if he gain the whole ^cworld, and lose himself, or be cast away?

26 For whosoever shall be ^dashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ^eashamed, when he shall ^fcome in his own glory, and in ^ghis Father's, and of the ^hholy ⁱangels.

The transfiguration (Mt. 17. 1-8; Mk. 9. 2-8).

27 But I tell you of a truth, there be ^asome standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.

28 ^bAnd it came to pass about an eight days after these sayings, he took Peter and John and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he ^cprayed, the ^dfashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistening.

30 And, behold, there talked with him ^etwo men, which were Moses and Elias:

31 Who appeared in glory, and spake of his ^fdecease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him were heavy with ^gsleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.

33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make ^hthree tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: ⁱnot knowing what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a ^jcloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, ^kThis is my beloved Son: hear him.

36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone. And they ^lkept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.

The powerless disciples. Demon cast out of a child (Mt. 17. 14-21; Mk. 9. 14-29).

37 And it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.

38 And, behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son: for he is mine only child.

39 And, lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him hardly departeth from him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out; and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.

42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

43 And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, Jesus again foretells his death (Mt. 17. 22, 23; Mk. 9. 30-32).

44 Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

The sermon on the child (Mt. 18. 1-5; Mk. 9. 33-37).

46 Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.

47 And Jesus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him,

48 And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

52 And sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him.

53 And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem.

54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did?

AFTER these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.

2 Therefore said he unto ^athem, The harvest truly is great, but ^bthe labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

10 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say,

CHAPTER 11.

Jesus' doctrine of prayer.

AND it came to pass, that, as he was ^kpraying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, ^lteach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 And he said unto them, When ye ^kpray, say, ^lOur Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. ^mThy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth.

3 Give us ⁿday by day our daily bread.

Christ's law of prayer may be thus summarized: (1) He grounds prayer upon relationship, and reveals God as freely charging Himself with all the responsibilities, as His heart glows with all the affections of a Father toward all who believe on Jesus Christ (Mt. 6. 25-32; 7. 9-11). Prayer, therefore, is a child's petition to an all-wise, all-loving, and all-powerful, Father-God. (2) In the so-called Lord's prayer Christ gives an incomparable model for all prayer. It teaches that right prayer begins with worship; puts the interest of the kingdom before merely personal interest; accepts beforehand the Father's will, whether to grant or withhold; and petitions for present need, leaving the future to the Father's care and love. Used as a form, the Lord's prayer is, dispensationally, upon legal, not church

4 And ^oforgive us our ^bsins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

5 And he said unto them, ^cWhich of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves;

6 For a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him?

7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee.

8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his ^dimportunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.

9 And I say unto you, ^eAsk, and it shall be given you; ^fseek, and ye shall find; ^gknock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

Parable of the fatherhood.

11 If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father ^hgive the ⁱHoly Spirit to them that ask him?

Jesus charged with casting out demons by Beelzebub (Mt. 12. 22-37).

14 And he was casting out a ^rdevil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb ^sspake; and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, He casteth out devils through ^tBeelzebub the chief of the devils.

16 And others, ^utempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven.

17 But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house ^vdivided against a house falleth.

18 If ^wSatan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub.

ground; it is not a prayer in the name of Christ (cf. John 14. 13, 14; 16. 24); and it makes human forgiveness, as under the law it must, the condition of divine forgiveness; an order which grace exactly reverses (cf. Eph. 4. 32). (3) Prayer is to be definite (vs. 5, 6); and, (4) importunate, that is, undiscouraged by delayed answers.

¹ It is evident that none of the disciples, with the possible exception of Mary of Bethany, asked for the Spirit in the faith of this promise. It was a new and staggering thing to a Jew that, in advance of the fulfilment of Joel 2. 28, 29, all might receive the Spirit. Mary alone of the disciples understood Christ's repeated declaration concerning His own death and resurrection (John 12. 3-7). Save Mary, not one of the disciples but Peter, and he only in the great confession (Mt. 16. 17), manifested a spark of spiritual intelligence till after the resurrection of Christ and the impartation of the Spirit (John 20. 22; Acts 2. 1-4). To go back to the promise of Lk. 11. 13, is to forget Pentecost, and to ignore the truth that now every believer has the indwelling Spirit (Rom. 8. 9, 15; 1 Cor. 6. 19; Gal. 4. 6; 1 John 2. 20, 27). See Acts 2. 4, note.

29 And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and ^ethere shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet.

30 For as ^fJonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also ^gthe Son of man be to this generation.

Parable of the lighted candle

33 No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.

34 The ^jlight of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when ^kthine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.

35 Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as Jesus denounces woes upon the Pharisees. (Cf. Mt. 23. 13-35.)

39 And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

40 Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without make that which is within also?

41 But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you.

42 But ⁿwoe unto you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and ^opass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43 Woe unto you, Pharisees! ^pfor ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as ^qgraves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

Jesus denounces woes upon the lawyers.

45 Then answered one of the ^rlawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou reproachest us also.

46 And he said, Woe unto you also, ye lawyers! for ye ^slade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Woe unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and ^tsome of them they shall slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the ^uworld, may be ^vrequired of this generation;

51 From the blood of ^aAbel unto the blood of ^bZacharias which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

52 Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ^dye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to ^eprove him to speak of many things:

54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER 12.

Jesus warns of the leaven of the Pharisees. (Cf. Mk. 8. 14-21.)

IN ^fthe mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, inasmuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the ^gleaven of the Pharisees, which is ^hhypocrisy.

2 For ⁱthere is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.

4 And I say unto ^jyou my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into ^khell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two ^lfarthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the ^mSon of man also confess before the ⁿangels of God:

9 But he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 And whosoever shall speak a word against the ^oSon of man, it

Parable of the rich fool.

16 And he spake a ^sparable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully:

17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?

18 And he said, This will ^tI do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soul, ^uSoul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, ^veat, drink, and be merry.

20 But God said unto him, ^wThou fool, this night ^wthy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which ^thou hast provided?

21 So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not ^xrich toward God.

22 ^yAnd he said unto his disciples, Therefore, I say unto you, ^zTake no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more than meat, and the ^abody is more than raiment.

24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls?

25 And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one ^bcubit?

26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind.

30 For all these things do the nations of the ^aworld seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these ^bthings.

31 But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you.

32 Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the ^dkingdom.

33 Sell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

Parable and warnings connected with the second coming (Mt. 24. 37-25. 30).

35 Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning;

36 And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and ^hmake them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

38 And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

39 And ⁱthis know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the ^jthief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 Be ye therefore ready also: for the ^kSon of man ^lcometh at an hour when ye think not.

Parable of the steward and his servants.

42 And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise ^msteward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

44 Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ⁿruler over all that he hath.

45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord ^odelayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken;

46 The lord of that servant will come in a ^pday when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will ^qcut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 And that servant, ^rwhich knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But ^she that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. ^tFor unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

Christ a divider of men.

49 I am come to send ^ufire on the earth; and what will I, if it be already kindled?

50 But I have a ^vbaptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!

51 ^wSuppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division:

52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The ^xfather shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 And he said also to the people, ^yWhen ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it is.

55 And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat; and it cometh to pass.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky and of the earth; ^abut how is it that ye do not discern this time?

57 Yea, and why even of yourselves judge ye not what is right?

58 ^bWhen thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, ^cas thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him; lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.

CHAPTER 13.

Men are not to judge, but repent.

THERE were present at that season some that told him of the ^aGalilæans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galilæans were ^bsinners above all the Galilæans, because they suffered such things?

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it ^ddown; why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and ^ding it:

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

11 And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up ^{herself}.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called ^{her} to ^{him}, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had ^{healed} on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, ^mThere are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day.

15 The Lord then answered him, and said, ^{Thou} hypocrite, ^{doth} not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or ^{his} ass from the stall, and lead ^{him} away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman, being a ^{daughter} of Abraham, whom ^{Satan} hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?

CHAPTER 14.

Jesus heals on the sabbath.

AND it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath day, that they watched him.

2 And, behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy.

3 And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day?

4 And they held their peace. And he took him, and ^xhealed him, and let him go;

5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day?

6 And they could not answer him again to these things.

Parable of the ambitious guest.

7 And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms; saying unto them,

8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room; lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him;

9 And he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room.

10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee.

11 For whosoever ^yexalteth himself shall be abased; and he that ^zhumbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor ^{aa}thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the ^{ab}poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind:

14 And ^{ac}thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be ^arecompensed at the ^bresurrection of the just.

15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the ^ckingdom of God.

Parable of the great supper.
(Cf. Mt. 22. 1-14.)

16 Then said he unto him, ^dA certain man made a great supper, and bade many:

17 And ^esent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready.

18 And they all with one ^fconsent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.

19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.

20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the ^gstreets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the ^hpoor, and the maimed, and the ⁱhalt, and the blind.

22 And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.

23 And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and ^jcompel them to come in, that my house may be filled.

24 For I say unto you, That ^knone of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

Discipleship again tested.
(Cf. Mt. 10. 37-39.)

25 And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them,

26 If any ^lman come to me, and ^mhate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.

¹ All terms which define the emotions or affections are comparative. Natural affection is to be, as compared with the believer's devotedness to Christ, as if it were hate. See Mt. 12. 47-50, where Christ illustrates this principle in His own person. But in the Lord the natural affections are sanctified and lifted to the level of the divine love (cf. John 19. 26, 27; Eph. 5. 25-28).

20 And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have ²²sinned against ²³heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22 But the father said to his servants, ²⁴Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

(The Pharisee.)

25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing.

26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed.

4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord?

6 And he said, An hundred *b*measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.

¹ Gr. hades, "the unseen world," is revealed as the place of departed human spirits between death and resurrection. The word occurs, Mt. 11: 23; 16: 18; Lk. 10: 15; Acts 2: 27, 31; Rev. 1: 18; 6: 8; 20: 13, 14, and is the equivalent of the O.T. sheol (Hab. 2: 5, note). The Septuagint invariably renders sheol by hades.

Summary: (1) Hades before the ascension of Christ. The passages in which the word occurs make it clear that hades was formerly in two divisions, the abodes respectively of the saved and of the lost. The former was called "paradise" send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivest thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things; but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:

5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

A parable of service.

7 But which of you, having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat?

8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink?

9 Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which was our duty to do.

Ten lepers healed.

11 And it came to pass, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

and "Abraham's bosom." Both designations were Talmudic, but adopted by Christ in Lk. 16. 22; 23. 43. The blessed dead were with Abraham, they were conscious and were "comforted" (Lk. 16. 25). The believing malefactor was to be, that day, with Christ in "paradise." The lost were separated from the saved by a "great gulf fixed" (Lk. 16. 26). The representative man of the lost who are now in hades is the rich man of Lk. 16. 19-31. He was alive, conscious, in the full exercise of his faculties, memory, etc., and in torment.

(2) Hades since the ascension of Christ. So far as the unsaved dead are concerned, no change of their place or condition is revealed in Scripture. At the judgment of the great white throne, hades will give them up, they will be judged, and will pass into the lake of fire (Rev. 20. 13, 14). But a change has taken place which affects paradise. Paul was "caught up to the third heaven . . . into paradise" (2 Cor. 12. 1-4). Paradise, therefore, is now in the immediate presence of God. It is believed that Eph. 4. 8-10 indicates the time of the change. "When he ascended up on high he led a multitude of captives." It is immediately added that He had previously "descended first into the lower parts of the earth," i.e. the paradise division of hades. During the present church-age the saved who died are "absent from the body, at home with the Lord." The wicked dead in hades, and the righteous dead "at home with the Lord," alike await the resurrection (Job 19. 25; 1 Cor. 15. 52). See Mt. 5. 22, note.

12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off:

13 And they lifted up their voices, and ^asaid, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.

15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God, 16 And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

17 And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

19 And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith ^bhath made thee whole.

CHAPTER 18.

Parable of the unjust judge.

AND he spake a ^wparable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint;

² See "Armageddon" (Rev. 16. 14; 19. 17, note).

2 Saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man:

3 And there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

4 And he would not for a while; but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man;

5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

7 And shall not God ^aavenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?

8 I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the ^bSon of man ^ccometh, shall he find ^dfaith on the earth?

Parable of the Pharisee and the publican.

9 And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were ^erighteous, and despised others:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

11 The Pharisee stood and ^fprayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men ^gare, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

13 And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as ^hhis eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, ⁱsaying, God be ^jmerciful to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man went down to his house ^kjustified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

23 And when he heard this, ^fhe was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, ^gHow hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

CHAPTER 19.

Conversion of Zacchæus.

AND Jesus entered and passed through Jericho.

2 And, behold, there was a man named Zacchæus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zacchæus, make haste, and come down; for to day I must ^a abide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, ^b That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.

8 And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the ^c poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I ^d restore him fourfold.

9 And Jesus said unto him, This day is ^e salvation come to this house, forso much as he also is a son of Abraham.

10 For the ^f Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

Parable of the ten pounds: the postponed kingdom. (See Lk. 17. 21, note; Acts 1. 6-8, note.)

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a ^g parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and ^h because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

12 He said therefore, ⁱ A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten ^j pounds, and said unto them, ^k Occupy till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the "money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 For I ^bfear'd thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou laydest not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 And he saith unto him, "Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knowest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow:

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?"

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

26 For I say unto you, ^dThat unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But those mine ^eenemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 And they brought him to Jesus: and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they ^hset Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen;

38 Saying, 'Blessed be the King that cometh in the name ^jof the Lord: peace in heaven, and ^kglory in the highest.

39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

Jesus weeps over Jerusalem.
(Cf. Lk. 13. 34, 35.)

41 And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and wept ^lover it,

42 Saying, ^mIf thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this ⁿthy day, the things which ^obelong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

43 For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side,

Second purification of the temple (Mt. 21. 12-16; Mk. 11. 15-18. Cf. John 2. 13-17).

45 And ^rhe went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought:

46 Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the "house of prayer: but ye have made it a ^bden of thieves.

47 And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes and the chief of the people sought to destroy him, 48 And could not find what they might do: for all the people ^cwere very attentive to hear him.

CHAPTER 20.

Jesus' authority questioned (Mt. 21. 23-27; Mk. 11. 27-33).

AND ^dit came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the ^egospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon ^fhim with the elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, ^gby what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me:

4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: for they ^hbe persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence ⁱit was.

8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

Parable of the vineyard (Mt. 21. 33-46; Mk. 12. 1-12. Cf. Isa. 5. 1-7).

9 Then began he to speak to the people this ^jparable; A ^kcertain man planted a ^lvineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season he ^msent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the ⁿfruit of the vineyard; but the husbandmen beat him, and sent ^ohim away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated ^phim shamefully, and sent ^qhim away empty.

12 And again he sent a third: and they wounded him also, and cast ^rhim out.

19 And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour ^{ak}sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 And they watched ^{al}him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor.

21 And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of ^{am}any, but teachest the way of God truly:

Jesus answers the Sadducees about the resurrection (Mt. 22. 23-33; Mk. 12. 18-27).

27 ^aThen came to him certain of the ^bSadducees, which deny that there is any resurrection; and they asked him,

28 Saying, Master, ^cMoses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29 There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children.

30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childless.

31 And the third took her; and in like manner the seven also; and they left no children, and died.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.

34 And Jesus answering said unto them, The children of this ^dworld marry, and are given in marriage:

35 But they which shall be accounted ^eworthy to obtain that ^dworld, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage:

36 Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the ^fangels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.

38 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him.

Jesus questions the scribes (Mt. 22. 41-46; Mk. 12. 35-37).

39 Then certain of the scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that they durst not ask him any question at all.

41 ⁱAnd he said unto them, How say they that Christ is David's son?

42 And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, ^jThe LORD said unto my ^kLord, Sit thou on my right hand,

The widow's mite: Jesus' estimate of giving (Mk. 12. 41-44).

AND he looked up, and saw the ^{am}rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.

2 And he saw also a certain poor ^{an}widow casting in thither two ^{ao}mites.

3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, that ^{ap}this poor widow hath cast in more than they all:

4 For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God; but she of her penury hath cast in ^{aq}all the living that she had.

8 ^{at}And he said, Take heed that ye be not ^{au}deceived: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and the time draweth near: go ye not therefore after them.

12 But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake.

13 And it shall turn to you for a testimony.

14 Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer:

15 For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist.

¹ Verses 20, 24 are not included in the report of the Olivet discourse as given by Matthew and Mark. Two sieges of Jerusalem are in view in that discourse. Luke 21. 20-24 refers to the siege by Titus, A.D. 70, when the city was taken, and verse 24 literally fulfilled. But that siege and its horrors but adumbrate the final siege at the end of this age, in which the "great tribulation" culminates. At that time the city will be taken, but delivered by the glorious appearing of the Lord (Rev. 19. 11-21). The references in Mt. 24. 15-28, Mk. 13. 14-26 are to the final tribulation siege; Lk. 21. 20-24 to the destruction of Jerusalem by Titus. In Luke the sign is the compassing of Jerusalem by armies (Lk. 21. 20); in Matthew (24. 15) and Mark (13. 14) the sign is the abomination in the holy place (2 Thes. 2. 4).

² The "times of the Gentiles" began with the captivity of Judah under Nebuchadnezzar (2 Chr. 36. 1-21), since which time Jerusalem has been under Gentile overlordship.

CHAPTER 23.

Jesus before Pilate (Mt. 27. 2, 11-14; Mk. 15. 1-5; John 18. 28-38).

AND the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this s fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give t tribute to Cæsar, saying that he himself is u Christ a v King.

3 And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest w it.

4 Then said Pilate to the chief priests and x to the people, y I find no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, z He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from a Galilee to this place.

Jesus sent before Herod.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilæan.

7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto b Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was c at Jerusalem at that time.

8 And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was d desirous to see him of a long season, because he had e heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him f nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 g And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.

12 And the same day h Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

Jesus again before Pilate: Barabbas released, Jesus condemned (Mt. 27. 15-26; Mk. 15. 6-15; John 18. 39, 40).

13 And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people,

14 Said unto them, "Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people; and, behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no ^bfault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him; and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

16 I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

17 (^dFor of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.)

18 And ^ethey cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas:

19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.)

20 Pilate therefore, ^fwilling to release Jesus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, ^gCrucify him, crucify him.

22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the ^hvoices of them and of the chief priests prevailed.

24 And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 ⁱAnd he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he ^jdelivered Jesus to their will.

26 And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one ^kSimon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

said, Daughters of Jerusalem, ^mweep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29 For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, ⁿ"Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, ^o"Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

31 For if they do these things in a ^pgreen tree, what shall be done in the ^qdry?

32 And there were also two other, ^rmalefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 ¹And when they were come to the place, which is called ^sCalvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar,

38 And a ^{2y}superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

The repentant thief. (Cf. Mt. 27. 44; Mk. 15. 32.)

39 And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us.

40 But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost thou not fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed ^ajustly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man ^bhath done nothing amiss.

¹ For order of events at the crucifixion, see Mt. 27. 33, note.

² Jesus crucified is the true touchstone revealing what the world is: "The people stood beholding" in stolid indifference; the rulers, who wanted religion, but without a divine Christ crucified for their sins, "reviled"; the brutal amongst them mocked or railed; the conscious sinner prayed; the covetous sat down before the cross and played their sordid game. The cross is the judgment of this world (John 12. 31).

42 And he "said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy "kingdom.

43 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and the "veil of the temple was rent in the midst.

Jesus dismisses his spirit (Mt. 27. 50; Mk. 15. 37; John 19. 30).

46 And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, "he said, Father, finto thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he "gave up the ghost.

47 Now when the "centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a "righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, "smote their breasts, and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

The entombment (Mt. 27. 57-61; Mk. 15. 42-47; John 19. 38-42).

50 And, behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counsellor; and he was a good man, and a just:

51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them; he was of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews: "who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52 This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and "laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.

54 And that day was the "preparation, and the sabbath drew on.

55 And the "women also, which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned, and "prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath day "according to the commandment.

CHAPTER 24.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ (Mt. 28. 1-6; Mk. 16. 1-8; John 20. 1-17).

NOW upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, "bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2 And they found the "stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they entered in, and "found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4 And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, "two men stood by them in shining garments:

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the "living among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: remember "how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee.

7 Saying, The "Son of man must be delivered into the hands of "sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day "rise again.

8 And they "remembered his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Mary Magdalene, and "Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 And ^btheir words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12 Then arose "Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

soned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 But their ^aeyes were holden that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

18 And the one of them, whose name was ^bCleopas, answering said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a ^cprophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:

20 ^dAnd how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

21 But we ^etrusted that it had been he which should have ^fredeemed Israel: and beside all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yea, and ^gcertain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre;

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of ^hangels, which said he was alive.

24 And ⁱcertain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found ^jit even so as the women had said: but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe ^kall that the ^lprophets have spoken:

26 ^mOught not Christ to have suffered these things, and to ⁿenter into his glory?

27 And ^obeginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning ^phimself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and he made as though he would have gone further.

29 But they ^qconstrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he ^rtook bread, and blessed ^sit, and brake, and gave to them.

² The Scriptures distinguish three heavens: first, the lower heavens, or the region of the clouds; secondly, the second or planetary heavens; and, thirdly, the heaven of heavens, the abode of God.

WRITER. The fourth Gospel was written by the Apostle John (John 21. 24). This has been questioned on critical grounds, but on the same grounds and with equal scholarship, the early date and Johanean authorship have been maintained.

Date. The date of John's Gospel falls between A.D. 85 and 90. Probably the latter.

Theme. This is indicated both in the Prologue (1. 1-14), and in the last verse of the Gospel proper (20. 31), and is: The incarnation of the eternal Word, and Son of God, Himself God, in Jesus the Christ, (1) to reveal God in the terms of a human life; (2) that as many as believe on Him as "the Christ, the Son of God" (20. 31) may have eternal life. The prominent words are, "believed" and "life."

The book is in seven natural divisions: I. Prologue: The eternal Word incarnate in Jesus the Christ, 1. 1-14. II. The witness of John the Baptist, 1. 15-34. III. The public ministry of Christ, 1. 35-12. 50. IV. The private ministry of Christ to His own, 13. 1-17. 26. V. The sacrifice of Christ, 18. 1-19. 42. VI. The manifestation of Christ in resurrection, 20. 1-31. VII. Epilogue: Christ the Master of life and service, 21. 1-25.

The events recorded in this book cover a period of 7 years.

¹ Gr. Logos (Aram. Memra, used in the Targums, or Heb. paraphrases, for God). The Greek term means, (1) a thought or concept; (2) the expression or utterance of that thought. As a designation of Christ, therefore, Logos is peculiarly felicitous because, (1) in Him are embodied all the treasures of the divine wisdom, the collective "thought" of God (1 Cor. 1. 24; Eph. 3. 11; Col. 2. 2, 3); and, (2) He is, from eternity, but especially in His incarnation, the utterance or expression of the Person, and "thought" of Deity (John 1. 3-5, 9, 14-18; 14. 9-11; Col. 2. 9). In the Being, Person, and work of Christ, Deity is told out.

The witness of John Baptist.
(Cf. Mt. 3. 1-17; Mk. 1. 1-11; Lk. 3. 1-18.)

15 John bare ^awitness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me.

16 And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For the ^blaw was given by Moses, but ^cgrace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 No man hath ^dseen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath ^ddeclared him.

19 And ^ethis is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that ^fprophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?

23 ^gHe said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the ^hLord, as said the ^hprophet Esaias.

24 And they which were sent were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said

26 John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not;

30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

¹ Grace. Summary: (1) Grace is "the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man . . . not by works of righteousness which we have done" (Tit. 3. 4, 5). It is, therefore, constantly set in contrast to law, under which God demands righteousness from man, as, under grace, he gives righteousness to man (Rom. 3. 21, 22; 8. 4; Phil. 3. 9). Law is connected with Moses and works; grace with Christ and faith (John 1. 17; Rom. 10. 4-10). Law blesses the good; grace saves the bad (Ex. 19. 5; Eph. 2. 1-9). Law demands that blessings be earned; grace is a free gift (Deut. 28. 1-6; Eph. 2. 8; Rom. 4. 4, 5).

(2) As a dispensation, grace begins with the death and resurrection of Christ (Rom. 3. 24-26; 4. 24, 25). The point of testing is no longer legal obedience as the condition of salvation, but acceptance or rejection of Christ, with good works as a fruit of salvation (John 1. 12, 13; 3. 36; Mt. 21. 37; 22. 42; John 15. 22, 25; Heb. 1. 2; 1 John 5. 10-12). The immediate result of this testing was the rejection of Christ by the Jews, and His crucifixion by Jew and Gentile (Acts 4. 27). The predicted end of the testing of man under grace is the apostasy of the professing church (see "Apostasy," 2 Tim. 3. 1-8, note), and the resultant apocalyptic judgments.

(3) Grace has a twofold manifestation: in salvation (Rom. 3. 24, refs.), and in the walk and service of the saved (Rom. 6. 15, refs.). See, for the other six dispensations: Innocence, Gen. 1. 28; Conscience, Gen. 3. 23; Human Government, Gen. 8. 21; Promise, Gen. 12. 1; Law, Ex. 19. 8; Kingdom, Eph. 1. 10.

² Cf. Gen. 32. 30; Ex. 24. 10; 33. 18; Jud. 6. 22; 13. 22; Rev. 22. 4. The divine essence, God, in His own true Person, no human being in the flesh has seen. But God, veiled in angelic form, and especially as incarnate in Jesus Christ, has been seen of men (Gen. 18. 2, 22; John 14. 8, 9).

The public ministry of Jesus Christ (John 1. 35-12. 50).

35 Again the next day after John stood, and two of his disciples;

36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God!

37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.

38 Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where dwellest thou?

39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.

40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother.

41 He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah, which is, being interpreted, the Christ.

42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, A stone.

43 The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.

46 And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.

47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile!

48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel.

50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believ-

51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

CHAPTER 2.

The marriage at Cana: the first miracle.

AND the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there;

2 And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.

4 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

6 And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: (but the servants which drew the water knew); the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and they continued there not many days.

at hand, and ^aJesus went up to Jerusalem,

14 And ^bfound in the temple those that sold ^coxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of ^emoney sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables;

16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house an house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

18 Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What ^fsign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, ^hDestroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?

21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was ⁱrisen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24 But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he ^kknew all men, 25 And needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man.

night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except ^mGod be with him.

3 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, ⁿExcept a man be ^bborn ^aagain, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of ^pwater and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh is ^qflesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

8 The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou ^aa master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

12 If I have told you ^rearthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of ^sheavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, ^teven the ^uSon of man which is in heaven.

14 And ^vas Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up:

15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

¹ Regeneration: (1) The necessity of the new birth grows out of the incapacity of the natural man to "see" or "enter into" the kingdom of God. However gifted, moral, or refined, the natural man is absolutely blind to spiritual truth, and impotent to enter the kingdom; for he can neither obey, understand, nor please God (John 3. 3, 5, 6; Psa. 51. 5; Jer. 17. 9; Mk. 7. 21-23; 1 Cor. 2. 14; Rom. 8. 7, 8; Eph. 2. 3. See Mt. 6. 33, note). (2) The new birth is not a reformation of him should not ¹perish, but have everlasting life.

17 For God sent not his Son into the ^aworld to ^bcondemn the world; but that the world through him might be ^csaved.

18 ^dHe that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the ^eworld, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

20 For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be ^freproved.

21 But he that ^gdoeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are ^hwrought in God.

Last testimony of John Baptist.

22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judæa; and there he tarried with them, and ⁱbaptized.

23 And John also was baptizing in Ænon near to Salim, because there was much water there: and they ^jcame, and were baptized.

24 For John ^kwas not yet cast into prison.

25 Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about ^lpurifying.

26 And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 John answered and said, A ^mman can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven.

28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that ⁿI am sent before him.

Jesus departs into Galilee.

(3) The condition of the new birth is faith in Christ crucified (John 3. 14, 15; 1. 12, 13; Gal. 3. 24). (4) Through the new birth the believer becomes a partaker of the divine nature and of the life of Christ Himself (Gal. 2. 20; Eph. 2. 10; 4. 24; Col. 1. 27; 1 Pet. 1. 23-25; 2 Pet. 1. 4; 1 John 5. 10-12).

7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8 (For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.)

9 Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans.

10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?

13 Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:

The indwelling Spirit.
(Cf. John 7. 37-39.)

14 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

15 The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.

19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.

22 Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things.

26 Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he.

27 And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men,

29 Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31 In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of.

33 Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat?

34 Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest.

36 And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.

37 And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

39 And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did.

Jesus and the Samaritans.

40 So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days.

41 And many more believed because of his own word;

42 And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the ^aSaviour of the ^bworld.

43 Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee.

44 For Jesus himself testified, ^cthat a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galilæans received him, having ^dseen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: ^efor they also went unto the feast.

The nobleman's son healed.

46 So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, where he ^fmade the water wine. And there was a certain ^gnobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judæa into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

48 Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.

49 The nobleman ^hsaith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

50 Jesus saith unto him, ⁱGo thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told ^jhim, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 Then enquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the ^kfever left him.

53 So the father knew that ^lit was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house.

54 This is again the second miracle ^mthat Jesus did, when he was come out of Judæa into Galilee.

the sheep ^xmarket a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches.

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, ^ywaiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an ^zangel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, ^{aa}and knew that he had been now a long time ^{ab}in that case, he saith unto him, ^{ac}Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made ^{ad}whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.

10 The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the ^{ae}sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to carry ^{af}thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had ^{ag}conveyed himself away, a multitude being in ^{ah}that place.

14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: ^{ai}sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to ^{aj}slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day.

17 But Jesus answered them. My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews sought the more to ^{ak}kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was ^{al}his Father, ^{am}making himself equal with God.

19 Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father ^{do}: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.

20 ^bFor the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

21 For ^{as} the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; ^{even} so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all ^{judgment} unto the Son:

23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, ^hhath everlasting life, and shall not come into ^kcondemnation; but is passed from ^hdeath unto life.

25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the ^{dead} shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.

26 For ^{as} the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have ^hlife in himself;

27 And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.

The two resurrections.

(See v. 29, marg.)

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,

29 And shall come forth: they that have done good, unto the ^hresurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of ^mdamnation.

30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I ^{judge}: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

34 But I receive not testimony from man; but these things I say, that ye might be ^osaved.

35 He was a burning and a shining ^llight: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

(2) The works.

36 But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to ^ofinish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

(3) The Father (Mt. 3. 17).

37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor ^oseen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have ^hlife.

41 I receive not honour from men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if ^oanother shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?

45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye ^otrust.

46 For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: ^ofor he wrote ^wof me.

¹ Cf. John 8. 14. In John 5, 31 our Lord, defending His Messianic claims before Jews who denied those claims, accepts the biblical rule of evidence, which required "two witnesses" (John 8. 17; Num. 35. 30; Deut. 17. 6). A paraphrase of verse 31 would be: "If I bear witness of myself [ye will say] my witness is not true." Cf. John 8. 14.

47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

CHAPTER 6.

Feeding the five thousand (Mt. 14. 13-21; Mk. 6. 32-44; Lk. 9. 10-17).

AFTER these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him,

9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world.

Jesus walks upon the sea (Mt. 14. 22-36; Mk. 6. 45-56).

15 When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea,

17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

The great discourse on the bread of life.

22 The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save that one wherinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone;

23 (Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks:)

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

30 They said therefore unto him, What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36 But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

46 Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48 I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

54 Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58 This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.

59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

Discipleship tested by doctrine. (Cf. Mt. 8. 19-22; 10. 36.)

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying; who can hear it?

61 When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62 What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?

63 It is the ^aspirit that quickeneth; the ^bflesh profiteth nothing; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.

64 But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

66 From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

Peter's confession of faith. (Cf. Mt. 16. 13-20; Mk. 8. 27-30; Lk. 9. 18-21.)

67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.

69 And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.

70 Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?

71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon; for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER 7.

Jesus urged to go to the feast of tabernacles. (Cf. Lk. 9. 51-62.)

AFTER these things Jesus walked in Galilee; for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him.

2 Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.

3 His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judæa, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world.

5 For neither did his brethren believe in him.

6 Then Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come; but your time is always ready.

7 The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; for my time is not yet full come.

9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

Final departure from Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.

Jesus at the feast of tabernacles.

14 Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?

16 Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

18 He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

19 Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.

22 Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision; (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers;) and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, that the law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day?

24 Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

25 Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he, whom they seek to kill?

26 But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. ^aDo the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

27 ^bHowbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31 And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32 The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

34 Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the ^ddispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?

36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

The great prophecy concerning the Holy Spirit for power (Acts 2. 2-4. Cf. John 4. 14).

37 In the ^elast day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38 He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39 (But this spake he of the ^hSpirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)

The people divided in opinion.

40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the ^jProphet.

41 Others said, This is ^kthe Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?

42 Hath not the scripture said, ^mThat Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of ⁿBethlehem, where David was?

43 So there was a division among the people because of him.

44 And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, ^oNever man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?

48 Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him?

51 Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth?

52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 And every man went unto his own house.

CHAPTER 8.

The woman taken in adultery.

JESUS went unto the mount of Olives.

2 ¹And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Pharisees

¹ John 8. 1-11 is not found in some of the most ancient manuscripts. Augustine declares that it was stricken from many copies of the sacred story because of a prudish fear that it might teach immorality! But the immediate context (vs. 12-46), beginning with Christ's declaration, "I am the light of the world," seems clearly to have its occasion in the conviction wrought in the hearts of the Pharisees as recorded in verse 9; as, also, it explains the peculiar virulence of the Pharisees' words (v. 41).

brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst,

4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 Now ^aMoses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?

6 This they said, tempting him, that they ^bmight have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without ^csin among you, ^dlet him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man ^econdemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and ^fsin no more.

Discourse after the feast: Jesus the light of the world. (Cf. John 1. 9.)

12 Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, ^gI am the light of the ^hworld: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of ⁱlife.

13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true.

14 Jesus answered and said unto them, ^jThough I bear record of myself, ^kyet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye judge after the ^lflesh; I judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17 It is also ^mwritten in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

18 I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.

19 Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, ^vYe neither know me, nor my Father: ^wif ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20 These words spake Jesus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him; for his hour was not yet come.

21 Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your ^xsins: whither I go, ye cannot come.

22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.

23 And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this ^yworld.

24 I said therefore unto you, that ye shall ^zdie in your ^{aa}sins: for if ye ^{ab}believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.

26 I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true; and I speak to the ^{ac}world those things which I have heard of him.

27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the ^{ad}Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.

29 And he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him.

30 As he spake these words, many believed on him.

31 Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed;

32 And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33 They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?

34 Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth ^{ae}sin is the servant of sin.

35 And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son ^{af}abideth ever.

36 If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 I know that ye are ¹Abraham's seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 ¹I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39 They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

40 But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, ^hwhich I have heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; we have one Father, even God.

42 Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of myself, but ^hhe sent me.

43 ⁴Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word.

44 Ye are of your father ^{the}devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and ^{abode}not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a ^{liar}liar, and the father of it.

48 Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a ^{Samaritan}Samaritan, and ^{hast}ast a ^{devil}devil?

49 Jesus answered, I have not a ^{devil}devil; ^{but}but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man ^{sinned}sinned, nor his parents: but ^{that}that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

¹ Cf. v. 39. The contrast, "I know that ye are Abraham's seed"—"If ye were Abraham's children," is that between the natural and the spiritual posterity of Abraham. The Israelitish people and Ishmaelites are the former; all who are "of like precious faith with Abraham," whether Jews or Gentiles, are the latter (Rom. 9. 6-8; Gal. 3. 6-14. See "Abrahamic Covenant," Gen. 15. 18. note).

7 And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) ^bHe went his way therefore, and washed, and ^ccame seeing.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, ^dHow were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the ^esabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, ^fHow can a man that is a ^gsinner do such miracles? And there was a ^hdivision among them.

17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, ⁱHe is a prophet.

18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself.

37 And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and ^wit is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he ^xworshipped him.

39 And Jesus said, For judgment I am come into this ^yworld, ^zthat they which see not might see; and that they which see might be made blind.

40 And ^asome of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, ^aAre we blind also?

CHAPTER 10.

Discourse on the Good Shepherd. (Cf. Psa. 23.; Heb. 13. 20; 1 Pet. 5. 4.)

VERILY, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him ^athe porter openeth; and the sheep ^bhear his voice; and he calleth his own sheep by ^cname, and ^dleadeth them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth ^bbefore them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5 And a ^astranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they ^aunderstood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.

8 All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.

9 I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be ^ksaved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.

10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have ^llife, and that they might have it more ^mabundantly.

11 I am the ⁿgood shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

12 But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.

15 As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and ^qI lay down my life for the sheep.

16 And ^rother sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one ^sfold, and ^tone shepherd.

17 Therefore doth my ^uFather love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take it again.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of ^vmyself. I have ^wpower to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. ^xThis commandment have I received of my Father.

19 There was a ^ydivision therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, He hath a ^zdevil, and is mad; why hear ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the words of him that ^ahath a devil. Can a ^bdevil open the eyes of the blind?

22 And it was at Jerusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch.

24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us ^cplainly.

25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.

26 But ye ^dbelieve not, ^ebecause ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

27 My sheep hear my voice, and ^fI know them, and they ^gfollow me:

¹ The shepherd work of our Lord has three aspects: (1) As the "Good" Shepherd He gives His life for the sheep (John 10, 11), and is, therefore, "the door" by which "if any man enter in he shall be saved" (John 10. 9). This answers to Psa. 22. (2) He is the "Great" Shepherd, "brought again from the dead" (Heb. 13. 20), to care for and make perfect the sheep. This answers to Psa. 23. (3) He is the "Chief" Shepherd who is coming in glory to give crowns of reward to the faithful shepherds (1 Pet. 5. 4). This answers to Psa. 24.

29 My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them ^bout of my Father's hand.

30 I and my Father ^care one.

31 Then the Jews took up stones again to ^dstone him.

32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me?

33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for ^eblasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God.

34 Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, ^fYe are gods?

35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture ^gcannot be broken;

36 Say ye of him, whom the Father hath ^hsanctified, and sent into the ⁱworld, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God?

him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.

4 When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is ^anot unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he ^babode two days still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judæa again.

8 His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to ^cstone thee; and goest thou thither again?

9 Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, ^dbecause he seeth the light of this world.

10 But ^eif a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus ^fsleepeth; but I go, that I may ^gawake him out of sleep.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.

13 Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.

14 Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is ^hdead.

15 And I am ⁱwglad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Then said ^jThomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellowdisciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Jesus came, he found that he had ^klain in the grave four days already.

18 Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen ^lfurlongs off:

19 And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to ^mcomfort them concerning their brother.

20 Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat ⁿstill in the house.

21 Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22 But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou ^owilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Jesus said unto her, ^bI am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:

26 And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believeth thou this?

27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

30 Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him.

31 The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

32 Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, ^kLord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled.

34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They said unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 Jesus wept.

36 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him!

37 And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?

38 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God?

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

The friends of Mary of Bethany are converted. (Cf. Lk. 10. 38-42; John 12. 1-7.)

45 Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him.

46 But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

The Pharisees plot to put Jesus to death.

47 Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them, named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all,

50 Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation;

52 And not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked more openly among the Jews; but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 And the Jews' ^apassover was nigh at hand; and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to ^bpurify themselves.

56 Then ^csought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that ^dthey might take him.

3 ^dThen took ^eMary a pound of ointment of ^fspikenard, very costly, and anointed the ^gfeet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, ^hJudas Iscariot, Simon's son, which should betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a ⁱthief, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein.

7 Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For the poor always ye have with you; but ^jme ye have not always.

9 ^kMuch people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

23 And Jesus ^{az}answered them, saying, ^{ba}The hour is come, that the ^{bb}Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you,

¹ He does not receive these Gentiles. A Christ in the flesh, King of the Jews, could be no proper object of faith to the Gentiles, though the Jews should have believed on Him as such. For Gentiles the corn of wheat must fall into the ground and die; Christ must be lifted up on the cross and believed in as a sacrifice for sin, as Seed of Abraham, not David (vs. 24, 32; Gal. 3. 7-14; Eph. 2. 11-13).

¹Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it ^die, it bringeth forth ^bmuch fruit.

25 ^cHe that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this ^dworld shall keep it unto life eternal.

26 If any man serve me, let him ^ffollow me; and ^gwhere I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will ^hmy Father ⁱhonour.

27 Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? ^jFather, save me from this hour: ^kbut for this cause came I unto this hour.

28 Father, ^lglorify thy name. ^mThen came there a voice from heaven, ⁿsaying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The people therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An ^oangel spake to him.

30 Jesus answered and said, ^pThus voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the ^qjudgment of this ^rworld: now shall the ^sprince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, if I be ^tlifted up from the earth, will draw all ^umen unto me.

33 This he said, signifying what death he should die.

34 The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that ^vChrist abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man?

35 Then Jesus said unto them, ^wYet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for ^xhe that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be ^athe children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and ^bdid hide himself from them.

37 But ^cthough he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:

38 That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, ^dLord, ^ewho hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because that ^fEsaias said again,

40 He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with ^gtheir eyes, nor understand with ^htheir heart, and ⁱbe converted, and I should heal them.

41 ^jThese things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess ^khim, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:

43 For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

44 Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on ^lhim that sent me.

45 And ^mhe that seeth me seeth him that sent me.

46 ⁿI am come a light into ^othe world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.

47 And if any man hear my words, and believe not, ^pI judge him not: for ^qI came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: ^rthe word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

¹ Chapters 12.-17. are a progression according to the order of approach to God in the tabernacle types: Chapter 12., in which Christ speaks of His death, answers to the brazen altar of burnt-offering, type of the cross. Passing from the altar toward the holy of holies, the laver is next reached (Ex. 30. 17-21), answering to Chapter 13. With His associate priests, now purified, the High Priest approaches and enters the holy place, in the high communion of Chapters 14.-16. Entering alone the holy of holies (17. 1), the High Priest intercedes. (Cf. Heb. 7. 24-28.) That intercession is not for the salvation, but the keeping and blessing of those for whom He prays. His death (assumed as accomplished, 17. 4) has saved them.

² The Seven Judgments. (1) Of Jesus Christ as bearing the believer's sins. The sins of believers have been judged in the person of Jesus Christ "lifted up" on the cross. The result was death for Christ, and justification for the believer, who can never again be put in jeopardy (John 5. 24; Rom. 5. 9; 8. 1; 2 Cor. 5. 21; Gal. 3. 13; Heb. 9. 26-28; 10. 10, 14-17; 1 Pet. 2. 24; 3. 18). See other judgments, 1 Cor. 11. 31, note; 2 Cor. 5. 10, note; Mt. 25. 32, note; Ezk. 20. 37, note; Jude 6, note; Rev. 20. 12, note.

49 For ⁴I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his commandment is ⁵life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAPTER 13.

The last passover. (Cf. Mt. 26. 7-30; Mk. 14. 17-26; Lk. 22. 14-39.)

NOW ¹before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that his ²hour was come that he should depart out of this ³world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he ⁴loved them ⁵unto the end.

Jesus washes the disciples' feet.

2 And ³supper being ended, the ⁴devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him;

3 Jesus knowing that the Father had ¹given all things into his hands, and that he was ²come from God, ³and went to God;

4 He riseth from supper, and ¹laid aside his garments; and took a towel, and girded himself.

5 After that he poureth ¹water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe ²them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and Peter saith unto him, Lord, ¹dost thou wash my feet?

7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou ¹knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I ¹wash thee not, thou hast ²no part with me.

9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also ¹my hands and ²my head.

11 For ¹he knew who should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?

13 "Ye call me Master and Lord; and ye say well; for so I am.

14 If I then, ¹your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ²ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

15 For I ¹have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.

16 Verily, verily, I say unto you, ¹The servant is not greater than his lord; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him.

17 ¹If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the ²scripture may be fulfilled, ³"He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me.

19 Now I tell you ¹before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am ²he.

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and ¹he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

Jesus foretells his betrayal (Mt. 26. 20-25; Mk. 14. 17-21; Lk. 22. 21, 22).

21 ¹When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ²one of you shall betray me.

22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now there was leaning on

¹ For order of events during the night of the last passover, see Mt. 26. 20, note.

² The underlying imagery is of an oriental returning from the public baths to his house. His feet would contract defilement and require cleansing, but not his body. So the believer is cleansed as before the law from all sin "once for all" (Heb. 10. 1-12), but needs ever to bring his daily sins to the Father in confession, that he may abide in unbroken fellowship with the Father and with the Son (1 John 1. 1-10). The blood of Christ answers forever to all the law could say as to the believer's guilt, but he needs constant cleansing from the defilement of sin. See Eph. 5. 25-27; 1 John 5. 6. Typically, the order of approach to the presence of God was, first, the brazen altar of sacrifice, and then the laver of cleansing (Ex. 40. 6, 7). See, also, the order in Ex. 30. 17-21. Christ cannot have communion with a defiled saint, but He can and will cleanse him.

Jesus' bosom ^aone of his disciples, whom Jesus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then lying on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jesus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.

27 And after the sop ^bSatan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then having received the sop went immediately out: and it was night.

31 Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the ^cSon of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him.

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and ^das I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you.

34 A ^enew commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

Jesus foretells Peter's denial (Mt. 26. 33-35; Mk. 14. 29-31; Lk. 22. 33, 34).

36 Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; ^fbut thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will ^glay down my life for thy sake.

38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAPTER 14.

Spoken in the passover chamber: Jesus foretells his coming for his own. (Cf. 1 Thes. 4. 14-17.)

LET not your heart be troubled; ye ^hbelieve in God, believe also in me.

2 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, ⁱI will come again, and receive ^jyou unto myself; that where I am, ^kthere ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

Jesus and the Father are one.

7 If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? ^mHe that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that ⁿI am in the Father, and the Father in me? the ^owords that I speak unto you ^pI speak not of myself; but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the ^qvery works' sake.

12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

¹ This promise of a second advent of Christ is to be distinguished from His return in glory to the earth; it is the first intimation in Scripture of "the day of Christ" (1 Cor. 1. 8, note). Here He comes for His saints (1 Thes. 4. 14-17), there (e.g. Mt. 24. 29, 30) He comes to judge the nations, etc.

24 He that ⁴loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the ⁵word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth

¹ Gr. Parakletos, "one called alongside to help." Translated "advocate," 1 John 2. 1. Christ is the believer's Paraclete with the Father when he sins; the Holy Spirit the believer's indwelling Paraclete to help his ignorance and infirmity, and to make intercession (Rom. 8. 26, 27). The disciples warned of persecutions. (Cf. Mt. 24. 9, 10; Lk. 21. 16-19.)

THese things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.

2 They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh,

On the other hand, the abiding one takes all burdens to Him, and draws all wisdom, life and strength from Him. It is not unceasing consciousness of these things, and of Him, but that nothing is allowed in the life which separates from Him. See "Fellowship," 1 John 1. 3; "Communion," 1 Cor. 10. 16.

¹Three degrees in fruit-bearing: "Fruit," v. 2; "more fruit," v. 2; "much fruit," vs. 5, 8. As we bear "much fruit" the Father is glorified in us. The minor moralities and graces of Christianity are often imitated, but never the ninefold "fruit" of Gal. 5. 22, 23. Where such fruit is the Father is glorified. The Pharisees were moral and intensely "religious," but not one of them could say with Christ, "I have glorified thee on the earth" (John 17. 4).

5 But now I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

Threefold work of the Spirit toward the world:

7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, ^athe Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.

8 And when he is come, he will reprove the ^bworld of ^csin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

9 Of sin, because they ^dbelieve not on me;

10 Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more;

11 Of judgment, because the prince of this ^eworld is judged.

New truth to be revealed by the Spirit.

12 ^fI have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.

13 Howbeit when he, the ^gSpirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak ^hof himself; ⁱbut whatsoever he shall hear, ^jthat shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew ^kit unto you.

15 All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew ^lit unto you.

A.D. 33.

Jesus speaks of his death, resurrection, and second advent.

16 A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves. What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye enquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ^mye shall weep and lament, but the ⁿworld shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the ^oworld.

22 And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and ^pyour heart shall rejoice, and your ^qjoy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give ^rit you.

24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ^sask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you:

¹ Christ's pre-authentication of the New Testament: (1) He expressly declared that He would leave "many things" unrevealed (v. 12). (2) He promised that this revelation should be completed ("all things") after the Spirit should come, and that such additional revelation should include new prophecies (v. 13). (3) He chose certain persons to receive such additional revelations, and to be His witnesses to them (Mt. 28. 19; John 15. 27; 16. 13; Acts 1. 8; 9. 15-17). 29 His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb.

glory which ^hI had with thee before the ⁱworld was.

6 I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the ^jworld: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee.

8 For I have given unto them the ^kwords which thou gavest me; and they have received ^lthem, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that ^mthou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for the ⁿworld, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

11 And now I am no more in the ^oworld, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, ^pkeep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are.

12 While I was with them in the ^qworld, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition; that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the ^rworld, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I have given them ^sthy word; and the ^tworld hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the ^uworld, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil.

16 They are ^vnot of the ^wworld, even as I am not of the world.

17 Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth.

¹ Seven petitions: (1) That Jesus may be glorified as the Son who has glorified the Father (v. 1; Phil. 2. 9-11); (2) for restoration to the eternal glory (v. 5); (3) for the safety of believers from (a) the world (v. 11), (b) the evil one (v. 15); (4) for the sanctification of believers (v. 17); (5) for the spiritual unity of believers (v. 21); (6) that the world may believe (v. 21); (7) that believers may be with Him in heaven to behold and share His glory (v. 24).

³ Seven times Jesus speaks of believers as given to Him by the Father (vs. 2, 6 [twice], 9, 11, 12, 24). Jesus Christ is God's love-gift to the world (John 3. 16), and believers are the Father's love-gift to Jesus Christ. It is Christ who commits the believer to the Father for safe-keeping, so that the believer's security rests upon the Father's faithfulness to His Son Jesus Christ.

18 As thou hast sent me into the ^aworld, even so have I also sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes I ^bsanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

20 Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word:

21 That they all may be one; ^cas thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the ^aworld may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 And the ^aglory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one:

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made ^aperfect in one; and that the ^aworld may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

24 Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, ^bbe with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the ^aworld.

25 O righteous Father, the ^aworld hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 And I have declared unto them thy ^aname, and will declare it: ^athat the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER 18.

Jesus arrives at Gethsemane.
(Cf. Mt. 26. 36-46; Mk. 14. 32-42; Lk. 22. 39-46.)

WHEN Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

The betrayal and arrest (Mt. 26. 47-56; Mk. 14. 43-50; Lk. 22. 47-53).

2 And ^jJudas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus oft-times resorted thither with his disciples.

3 Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

4 Jesus therefore, ^kknowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

A.D. 33.

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which ^bbetrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.

8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye ^mseek me, let these go their way:

9 That the saying might be fulfilled, which he ⁿspake, Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none.

10 Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.

11 Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

Jesus brought before the high priest (Mt. 26. 57-68; Mk. 14. 53-65; Lk. 22. 66-71).

12 Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him,

13 And led him away to ^aAnnas first; for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the high priest that same year.

14 Now Caiaphas was he, which gave ^pcounsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

Peter's denial (also vs. 25-27)
(Mt. 26. 69-75; Mk. 14. 66-72; Lk. 22. 54-62).

15 And ^qSimon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest.

16 But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.

17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am ^rnot.

18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals; for it was cold: and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.

19 ^aThe high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the ^bworld; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?

23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

25 And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied again: and ^dimmediately the cock crew.

Jesus brought before Pilate (Mt. 27. 1-14; Mk. 15. 1-5; Lk. 23. 1-7, 13, 16).

28 ^eThen led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the hall of judgment: and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover.

29 Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.

31 Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:

32 That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he ^gspake, signifying what death he should die.

33 Then Pilate entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

36 ^hJesus answered, My kingdom is not ^jof this ^kworld: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I ^linto the world, that I should bear ^mwitness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.

39 But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

4 Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know ^wthat I find no fault in him.

5 Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, ^xBehold the man!

6 When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.

Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Jews answered him, ^aWe have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.

8 When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid;

9 And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? ^bBut Jesus gave him no answer.

10 Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

11 Jesus answered, ^cThou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: ^dtherefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater ^esin.

12 And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cæsar's friend: ^fwhosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cæsar.

ing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 This title then read many of the Jews; for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.

21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.

22 Pilate answered, What I have written I have written.

23 Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, ⁿtook his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.

24 They said therefore among themselves, ^oLet us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, ^pThey parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

25 ^qNow there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the ^rdisciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, ^sbehold thy son!

27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

28 After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, ^tthat the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

29 Now there was set a vessel full of ^uvinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.

30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, ^vIt is finished: and he bowed his head, ^wand ^xgave up the ghost.

"Not a bone of him broken."

31 The Jews therefore, because it was the ^ypreparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was an ^zhigh day,) besought Pilate that ^atheir legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32 Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was ^adead already, they brake not his legs:

34 But one of the soldiers with a spear ^bpierced his side, and forthwith ^ccame there out ^dblood and water.

35 And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

36 For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, ^e'A bone of him shall not be broken.'

37 And again another scripture saith, ^f'They shall look on him whom they pierced.'

The entombment (Mt. 27. 57-60; Mk. 15. 43-47; Lk. 23. 50-56).

38 And after this Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but ^gsecretly for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus.

39 And there came also ^hNicodemus, which at the first came to Jesus by night, and brought a mixture of ⁱ'myrrh and aloes, about an hundred ^jpound weight.

40 Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in ^klinen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, where-in was ^l'never man yet laid.'

42 There laid they Jesus therefore because of the ^m'Jews' preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

CHAPTER 20.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ (Mt. 28. 1-10; Mk. 16. 1-14; Lk. 24. 1-43).

THE first day of the week cometh ⁿ'Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

2 Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the ^oother disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have ^ptaken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together: and the ^oother disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in.

6 Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and ^q'went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie,

7 And the ^r'napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

8 Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.

9 ^s'For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.'

10 Then the disciples ^t'went away again unto their own home.

Jesus appears to Mary Magdalene.

11 But Mary stood without at the sepulchre ^u'weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre,

12 And seeth ^v'two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

13 And they say unto her, ^w'Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14 And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and ^x'knew not that it was Jesus.

15 Jesus saith unto her, ^y'Woman, why weepest thou? ^z'whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Jesus saith unto her, ^a'Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, ^bRabboni; which is to say, ^cMaster.

17 Jesus saith unto her, ^d'Touch

¹ Cf. Mt. 28. 9, "and they came and held him by the feet." A contradiction has been supposed. Three views are held: (1) That Jesus speaks to Mary as the High Priest fulfilling the day of atonement (Lev. 16). Having accomplished the sacrifice, He was on His way to present the sacred blood in heaven, and that, between the meeting with Mary in the garden and the meeting of Mt. 28. 9, He had me not; for I am not yet ^aascended to my Father: but go to my ^bbrethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto ^cmy Father, and ^dyour Father; and to my God, and your God.

18 ^eMary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

Jesus appears to the disciples: Thomas not present (Lk. 24. 36-49).

19 Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for ^ffear of the Jews, came Jesus and ^gstood in the midst, and saith unto them, ^hPeace be unto you.

20 And when he had so said, he ⁱshewed unto them his hands and his side. ^jThen were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord.

21 Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: ^kas my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

22 And when he had said this, he ^lbreathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the ^mHoly Ghost:

23 Whose soever ⁿsins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever ^osins ye retain, they are retained.

Jesus appears to the disciples: Thomas present.

24 But Thomas, one of the twelve, called ^pDidymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, ^qExcept I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas

CHAPTER 21.

Epilogue: "If I will." The risen Christ is Master of our service.

A*FTER* these things Jesus ^{af}shewed himself again to the disciples at the ^{ag}sea of Tiberias; and on this wise ^{ah}shewed he himself.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and ^{ai}Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the ^{aj}sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

so ascended and returned: a view in harmony with types. (2) That Mary Magdalene, knowing as yet only Christ after the flesh (2 Cor. 5. 15-17), and having found her Beloved, sought only to hold Him so; while He, about to assume a new relation to His disciples in ascension, gently teaches Mary that now she must not seek to hold Him to the earth, but rather become His messenger of the new joy. (3) That He merely meant: "Do not detain me now; I am not yet ascended; you will see me again; run rather to my brethren," etc.

¹ The deity of Jesus Christ is declared in Scripture: (1) In the intimations and explicit predictions of the O.T. (a) The theophanies intimate the appearance of God in human form, and His ministry thus to man (Gen. 16. 7-13; 18. 2-23, especially v. 17; 32. 28 with Hos. 12. 3-5; Ex. 3. 2-14). (b) The Messiah is expressly declared to be the Son of God (Psa. 2. 2-9), and God (Psa. 45. 6, 7 with Heb. 1. 8, 9; Psa. 110. 1 with Mt. 22. 44; Acts 2. 34 and Heb. 1. 13; Psa. 110. 4 with Heb. 5. 6; 6. 20; 7. 17-21;

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples ^aknew not that it was Jesus.

(2) Service in self-will tested: the barren result.

5 Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

(3) Christ-directed service, and the result.

6 And he said unto them, ^bCast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now ^cthey were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the ^dLord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt ^ehis fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did ^fcast himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred ^gcubits,) ^hdragging the net with fishes.

and Zech. 6. 13). (c) His virgin birth was foretold as the means through which God could be "Immanuel," God with us (Isa. 7. 13, 14 with Mt. 1. 22, 23). (d) The Messiah is expressly invested with the divine names (Isa. 9. 6, 7). (e) In a prophecy of His death He is called Jehovah's "fellow" (Zech. 13. 7 with Mt. 26. 31). (f) His eternal being is declared (Mic. 5. 2 with Mt. 2. 6; John 7. 42).

(2) Christ Himself affirmed His deity. (a) He applied to Himself the Jehovistic I AM. (The pronoun "he" is not in the Greek; cf. John 8. 24; John 8. 56-58. The Jews correctly understood this to be our Lord's claim to full deity [v. 59]. See, also, John 10. 33; 18. 4-6, where, also, "he" is not in the original.) (b) He claimed to be the Adonai of the O.T. (Mt. 22. 42-45. See Gen. 15. 2, note). (c) He asserted His identity with the Father (Mt. 28. 19; Mk. 14. 62; John 10. 30; that the Jews so understood Him is shown by vs. 31, 32; John 14. 8, 9; 17. 5). (d) He exercised the chief prerogative of God (Mk. 2. 5-7; Lk. 7. 48-50). (e) He asserted omnipresence (Mt. 18. 20; John 3. 13); omniscience (John 11. 11-14, when Jesus was fifty miles away; Mk. 11. 6-8); omnipotence (Mt. 28. 18; Lk. 7. 14; John 5. 21-23; 6. 19); mastery over nature, and creative power (Lk. 9. 16, 17; John 2. 9; 10. 28). (f) He received and approved human worship (Mt. 14. 33; 28. 9; John 20. 28, 29).

(3) The N.T. writers ascribe divine titles to Christ (John 1. 1; 20. 28; Acts 20. 28; Rom. 1. 4; 9. 5; 2 Thes. 1. 12; 1 Tim. 3. 16; Tit. 2. 13; Heb. 1. 8; 1 John 5. 20).

(4) The N.T. writers ascribe divine perfections and attributes to Christ (e.g. Mt. 11. 28; 18. 20; 28. 20; John 1. 2; 2. 23-25; 3. 13; 5. 17; 21. 17; Heb. 1. 3, 11, 12 with Heb. 13. 8; Rev. 1. 8, 17, 18; 2. 23; 11. 17; 22. 13).

(5) The N.T. writers ascribe divine works to Christ (John 1. 3, 10; Col. 1. 16, 17; Heb. 1. 3).

(6) The N.T. writers teach that supreme worship should be paid to Christ (Acts 7. 59, 60; 1 Cor. 1. 2; 2 Cor. 13. 14; Phil. 2. 9, 10; Heb. 1. 6; Rev. 1. 5, 6; 5. 12, 13).

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

WRITER. In the Acts of the Apostles Luke continues the account of Christianity begun in the Gospel which bears his name. In the "former treatise" he tells what Jesus "began both to do and teach"; in the Acts, what Jesus continued to do and teach through His Holy Spirit sent down.

Date. The Acts concludes with the account of Paul's earliest ministry in Rome, A.D. 65, and appears to have been written at or near that time.

Theme. This book records the ascension and promised return of the Lord Jesus, the descent of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost, Peter's use of the keys, opening the kingdom (considered as the sphere of profession, as in Mt. 13.) to the Jews at Pentecost, and to the Gentiles in the house of Cornelius; the beginning of the Christian church and the conversion and ministry of Paul.

The Holy Spirit fills the scene. As the presence of the Son, exalting and revealing the Father, is the great fact of the Gospels, so the presence of the Spirit, exalting and revealing the Son, is the great fact of the Acts.

Acts is in two chief parts: In the first section, i. 1-9. 43, Peter is the prominent personage, Jerusalem is the centre, and the ministry is to Jews. Already in covenant relations with Jehovah, they had sinned in rejecting Jesus as the Christ. The preaching, therefore, was directed to that point, and repentance (i.e. "a changed mind") was demanded. The apparent failure of the Old Testament promises concerning the Davidic kingdom was explained by the promise that the kingdom would be set up at the return of Christ (Acts 2. 25-31; 15. 14-16). This ministry to Israel fulfilled Lk. 19. 12-14. In the persecutions of the apostles and finally in the martyrdom of Stephen, the Jews sent after the king the message, "We will not have this man to reign over us." In the second division (10. 1-28. 31) Paul is prominent, a new centre is established at Antioch, and the ministry is chiefly to Gentiles who, as "strangers from the covenants of promise" (Eph. 2. 12), had but to "believe on the Lord Jesus Christ" to be saved. Chapters 11., 12., and 15. of this section are transitional, establishing finally the distinction, doctrinally, between law and grace. Galatians should be read in this connection.

The events recorded in The Acts cover a period of 32 years.

CHAPTER 1.

Introduction (vs. 1, 2).

THE former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach, 2 Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:

The resurrection-ministry of Christ.

3 To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

4 And, being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me.

5 For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?

7 And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.

¹ Forty days the risen Lord had been instructing the apostles "of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God," doubtless, according to His custom (Lk. 24. 27, 32, 44, 45), teaching them out of the Scriptures. One point was left untouched, viz., the time when He would restore the kingdom to Israel; hence the apostles' question. The answer was according to His repeated teaching; the time was God's secret (Mt. 24. 36, 42, 44; 25. 13; cf. 1 Thes. 5. 1).

The apostolic commission. (Cf. Mt. 28. 18-20; Mk. 16. 15-18; Lk. 24. 47, 48; John 20. 21-23.)

8 But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judæa, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

9 And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.

The promise of the return of Jesus to the earth.

10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel;

11 Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

13 And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James.

14 These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

The choice of Matthias.

15 And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number of names together were about an hundred and twenty,)

16 Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, which was guide to them that took Jesus.

17 For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.

¹ The two Advents—Summary: (1) The O.T. foreview of the coming Messiah is in two aspects—that of rejection and suffering (as, e.g. in Isa. 53), and that of earthly glory and power (as, e.g. in Isa. 11; Jer. 23; Ezk. 37). Often these two aspects blend in one passage (e.g. Psa. 2). The prophets themselves were perplexed by this seeming contradiction (1 Pet. 1. 10, 11). It was solved by partial fulfilment. In due time the Messiah, born of a virgin according to Isaiah, appeared among men and began His ministry by announcing the predicted kingdom as “at hand” (Mt. 4. 17, note). The rejection of King and kingdom followed. (2) Thereupon the rejected King announced His approaching crucifixion, resurrection, departure, and return (Mt. 12. 38-40; 16. 1-4, 27; Lk. 12. 35-46; 17. 20-36; 18. 31-34; 19. 12-27; Mt. 24., 25.). (3) He uttered predictions concerning the course of events between His departure and return (Mt. 13. 1-50; 16. 18; 24. 4-26). (4) This promised return of Christ becomes a prominent theme in the Acts, Epistles, and Revelation.

Taken together, the N.T. teachings concerning the return of Jesus Christ may be summarized as follows: (1) That return is an event, not a process, and is personal and corporeal (Mt. 23. 39; 24. 30; 25. 31; Mk. 14. 62; Lk. 17. 24; John 14. 3; Acts 1. 11; Phil. 3. 20, 21; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17). (2) His coming has a threefold relation: to the church, to Israel, to the nations.

(a) To the church the descent of the Lord into the air to raise the sleeping and change the living saints is set forth as a constant expectation and hope (Mt. 24. 36, 44, 48-51; 25. 13; 1 Cor. 15. 51, 52; Phil. 3. 20; 1 Thes. 1. 10; 4. 14-17; 1 Tim. 6. 14; Tit. 2. 13; Rev. 22. 20).

(b) To Israel, the return of the Lord is predicted to accomplish the yet unfulfilled prophecies of her national regathering, conversion, and establishment in peace and power under the Davidic Covenant (Acts 15. 14-17 with Zech. 14. 1-9). See “Kingdom (O.T.),” 2 Sam. 7. 8-17; Zech. 13. 8, note; Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24, note.

(c) To the Gentile nations the return of Christ is predicted to bring the destruction of the present political world-system (Dan. 2. 34, 35; Rev. 19. 11, note); the judgment of Mt. 25. 31-46, followed by world-wide Gentile conversion and participation in the blessings of the kingdom (Isa. 2. 2-4; 11. 10; 60. 3; Zech. 8. 3, 20, 23; 14. 16-21).

18 Now this man purchased a field with the ^areward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, ^bLet his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and his ^cbishoprick let another ^dtake.

21 Wherefore of these men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us,

22 Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that he was ^etaken up from us, must one ^fbe ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they ^gappointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24 And they ^hprayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen,

CHAPTER 2.

Pentecost: Peter's first use of the keys (Mt. 16. 18, 19); the Gospel given to the Jews. (Cf. Acts 10. 1-48.)

AND when ^kthe day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared unto them ^lcloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

4 And they were all filled with the ^mHoly Ghost, and began to speak with ⁿother tongues, as the ^oSpirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

6 Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.

7 And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak Galilaëans?

¹ The Holy Spirit, N.T. Summary (see Mal. 2. 15, note):

(1) The Holy Spirit is revealed as a divine Person. This is expressly declared (e.g. John 14. 16, 17, 26; 15. 26; 16. 7-15; Mt. 28. 19), and everywhere implied.

(2) The revelation concerning Him is progressive: (a) In the O.T. (see Mal. 2. 15, note), He comes upon whom He will, apparently without reference to conditions in them. (b) During His earth-life, Christ taught His disciples (Lk. 11. 13) that they might receive the Spirit through prayer to the Father. (c) At the close of His ministry He promised that He would Himself pray the Father, and that in answer to His prayer the Comforter would come to abide (John 14. 16, 17). (d) On the evening of His resurrection He came to the disciples in the upper room, and breathed on them saying, "Receive ye the Holy Ghost" (John 20. 22), but instructed them to wait before beginning their ministry till the Spirit should come upon them (Lk. 24. 49; Acts 1. 8). (e) On the day of Pentecost the Spirit came upon the whole body of believers (Acts 2. 1-4). (f) After Pentecost, so long as the Gospel was preached to Jews only, the Spirit was imparted to such as believed by the laying on of hands (Acts 8. 17; 9. 17, etc.). (g) When Peter opened the door of the kingdom to the Gentiles (Acts 10.), the Holy Spirit, without delay, or other condition than faith, was given to those who believed (Acts 10. 44; 11. 15-18). This is the permanent fact for the entire church-age. Every believer is born of the Spirit (John 3. 3, 6; 1 John 5. 1), indwelt by the Spirit, whose presence makes the believer's body a temple (1 Cor. 6. 19; Rom. 8. 9-15; 1 John 2. 27; Gal. 4. 6), and baptized by the Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13; 1 John 2. 20, 27), thus sealing him for God (Eph. 1. 13; 4. 30).

(3) The N.T. distinguishes between having the Spirit, which is true of all believers, and being filled with the Spirit, which is the believer's privilege and duty (cf. Acts 2. 4 with 4. 29-31; Eph. 1. 13, 14 with 5. 18)—"One baptism, many fillings."

8 And how hear we every man in our own ^ctongue, wherein we were born?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judæa, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and strangers ^bof Rome, Jews and proselytes, 11 Cretes and Arabians, we do hear them speak in our ^ctongues the wonderful works of God.

12 And they were all amazed, and were ^din doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Others mocking said, These men are full of new wine.

Peter's sermon. Theme: Jesus is Lord and Christ (v. 36).

14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and ¹said unto them, Ye men of Judæa, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:

(1) Introductory. Joel's prophecy fulfilled.

16 But this is that which was spoken ^eby the prophet Joel;

17 And it shall come to pass in the a language.b from.c languages.d perplexed.e through.

(4) The Holy Spirit is related to Christ in His conception (Mt. 1. 18-20; Lk. 1. 35), baptism (Mt. 3. 16; Mk. 1. 10; Lk. 3. 22; John 1. 32, 33), walk and service (Lk. 4. 1, 14), resurrection (Rom. 8. 11), and as His witness throughout this age (John 15. 26; 16. 8-11, 13, 14).

(5) The Spirit forms the church (Mt. 16. 18; Heb. 12. 23, note) by baptizing all believers into the body of Christ (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13), imparts gifts for service to every member of that body (1 Cor. 12. 7-11, 27, 30), guides the members in their service (Lk. 2. 27; 4. 1; Acts 16. 6, 7), and is Himself the power of that service (Acts 1. 8; 2. 4; 1 Cor. 2. 4).

(6) The Spirit abides in the company of believers who constitute a local church, making of them, corporately, a temple (1 Cor. 3. 16, 17).

(7) Christ indicates a threefold personal relationship of the Spirit to the believer: "With," "in," "upon" (John 14. 17; Lk. 24. 49; Acts 1. 8). "With" indicates the approach of God to the soul, convicting of sin (John 16. 9), presenting Christ as the object of faith (John 16. 14), imparting faith (Eph. 2. 8), and regenerating (John 3. 3-16). "In" describes the abiding presence of the Spirit in the believer's body (1 Cor. 6. 19) to give victory over the flesh (Rom. 8. 2-4; Gal. 5. 16, 17), to create the Christian character (Gal. 5. 22, 23), to help infirmities (Rom. 8. 26), to inspire prayer (Eph. 6. 18), to give conscious access to God (Eph. 2. 18), to actualize to the believer his sonship (Gal. 4. 6), to apply the Scriptures in cleansing and sanctification (Eph. 5. 26; 2 Thes. 2. 13; 1 Pet. 1. 2), to comfort and intercede (Acts 9. 31; Rom. 8. 26), and to reveal Christ (John 16. 14).

(8) Sins against the Spirit committed by unbelievers are: To blaspheme (Mt. 12. 31), resist (Acts 7. 51), insult (Heb. 10. 29, "despite," lit. insult). Believers' sins against the Spirit are: To grieve Him by allowing evil in heart or life (Eph. 4. 30, 31), and to quench Him by disobedience (1 Thes. 5. 19). The right attitude toward the Spirit is yieldedness to His sway in walk and service, and in constant willingness that He shall "put away" whatever grieves Him or hinders His power (Eph. 4. 31).

(9) The symbols of the Spirit are: (a) oil (John 3. 34; Heb. 1. 9); (b) water (John 7. 38, 39); (c) wind (Acts 2. 2; John 3. 8); (d) fire (Acts 2. 3); (e) a dove (Mt. 3. 16); (f) a seal (Eph. 1. 13; 4. 30); (g) an earnest or pledge (Eph. 1. 14).

¹The theme of Peter's sermon at Pentecost is stated in verse 36. It is, that Jesus is the Messiah. No message could have been more unwelcome to the Jews who had rejected His Messianic claims, and crucified Him. Peter, therefore, does not announce his theme until he has covered every possible Jewish objection. The point of difficulty with the Jews was the apparent failure of the clear and repeated prophetic promise of a regathered Israel established in their own land under their covenant King (e.g. Isa. 11. 10-12; Jer. 23. 5-8; Ezk. 37. 21-28). Instead of explaining, as Rome first taught, followed by some Protestant commentators, that the covenant and promises were to be fulfilled in the church in a so-called "spiritual" sense, Peter shows (vs. 25-32) from Psa. 16. that David himself understood that the dead and risen Christ would fulfil the covenant and sit on his throne (Lk. 1. 32, 33). In precisely the same way James (Acts 15. 14-17) met the same difficulty. See "Kingdom (O.T.)," Zech. 12. 8; (N.T.), Lk. 1. 33; 1 Cor. 15. 24.

last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:

18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy:

19 And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:

20 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come:

21 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

(2) The works of Jesus prove that he is Lord and Christ.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:

23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

(3) David foretold Messiah's kingship after resurrection.

25 For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30 Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne;

31 He seeing this before spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

(4) His resurrection proves that he is Lord and Christ.

32 This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34 For David is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

(5) What Israel must do.

37 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

38 Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

¹ A distinction must be observed between "the last days" when the prediction relates to Israel, and the "last days" when the prediction relates to the church (1 Tim. 4. 1-3; 2 Tim. 3. 1-8; Heb. 1. 1, 2; 1 Pet. 1. 4, 5; 2 Pet. 3. 1-9; 1 John 2. 18, 19; Jude 17-19). Also distinguish the expression the "last days" (plural) from "the last day" (singular); the latter expression referring to the resurrections and last judgment (John 6. 39, 40, 44, 54; 11. 24; 12. 48). The "last days" as related to the church began with the advent of Christ (Heb. 1. 2), but have especial reference to the time of declension and apostasy at the end of this age (2 Tim. 3. 1; 4. 4). The "last days" as related to Israel are the days of Israel's exaltation and blessing, and are synonymous with the kingdom-age (Isa. 2. 2-4; Mic. 4. 1-7). They are "last" not with reference to this dispensation, but with reference to the whole of Israel's history.

39 For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the ^aLord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation.

41 Then they ^bthat gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were ^cadded unto them about three thousand souls.

The first church. (Cf. Acts 4. 32-37.)

42 And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' ^ddoctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done ^eby the apostles.

44 And all that believed were together, and had all things common;

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.

46 And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did ^feat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, 47 Praising God, and having favour with all the people. ^gAnd the Lord added to the ^hchurch daily such as should be ⁱsaved.

8 Then ³Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that ⁴by the ⁵name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, ⁶whom God raised from the dead, even ⁷by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 This is the ⁸stone which was set ⁹at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there ¹⁰salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, ¹¹“whereby we must be saved.

Preaching in the name of Jesus forbidden.

13 Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were ¹²unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; kingdom, there shall occur blessed rest and refreshment for the people of God.” —Heinrich A. W. Meyer.

¹The appeal here is national to the Jewish people as such, not individual as in Peter's first sermon (Acts 2. 38, 39). There those who were pricked in heart were exhorted to save themselves from (among) the untoward nation; here the whole people is addressed, and the promise to national repentance is national deliverance: “and he shall send Jesus Christ” to bring in the times which the prophets had foretold (see Acts 2. 14, note). The official answer was the imprisonment of the apostles, and the inhibition to preach, so fulfilling Lk. 19. 14.

²Gr. apokatastaseos = restoration, occurring here and Acts 1. 6 only. The meaning is limited by the words: “Which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets.” The prophets speak of the restoration of Israel to the land (see “Israel,” Gen 12. 2, 3; Rom. 11. 26; also “Palestinian Covenant,” Deut. 30. 1-9, note); and of the restoration of the theocracy under David's Son. (See “Davidic Covenant,” 2 Sam. 7. 8-17, note; “Kingdom,” Gen. 1. 26-28; Zech. 12. 8, note.) No prediction of the conversion and restoration of the wicked dead is found in the prophets, or elsewhere. Cf. Rev. 20. 11-15.

and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves,

16 Saying, "What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

18 And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.

19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

20 For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.

21 So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God for that which was done.

22 For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

The Christians again filled with the Spirit. (Cf. Acts 2. 1-4.)

23 And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is:

25 Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together, and thy counsel determined before to be done.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word,

30 By stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus.

31 And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

State of the church at Jerusalem. (Cf. Acts 2. 42-47.)

32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 And laid them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

36 And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus, 37 Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

CHAPTER 5.

The sin and death of Ananias and Sapphira.

BUT a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,

2 And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3 But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, ^abut unto God.

5 And Ananias ^bhearing these words fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the ^cyoung men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to ^dtempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

The power of a holy church.
(See 1 Thes. 1. 1-10.)

12 And by the hands of the apostles were ^emany signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

13 And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.

14 And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women.)

15 Inasmuch that they brought forth the sick ^finto the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, ^gbringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

The second persecution.

17 Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the ^hsect of the Sadducees,) and were filled with ⁱindignation,

A.D. 33.

18 And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But ^kthe ^langel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said,

20 Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this ^mlife.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,

28 Saying, Did not we straitly command you that ye should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your ⁿdoctrine, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us.

The answer of the apostles.

29 Then Peter and the ^oother apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a ^pSaviour, for to give ^qrepentance to Israel, and ^rforgiveness of ^ssins.

32 And we are his witnesses of these things; and so ^tis also the ^uHoly Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

The warning of Gamaliel.

34 Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.

36 For before these days rose up Theudas, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as ^bobeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee ^cin the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: ^dhe also perished; and all, ^eeven as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: ^ffor if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But ^gif it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.

The apostles beaten.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and ^hbeaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

41 And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer ⁱshame for his name.

42 And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 6.

The first deacons.

AND in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the ^jGrecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples ^kunto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3 Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4 But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they ^lchose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and ^mPhilip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch:

6 Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid ⁿtheir hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

The third persecution: Stephen brought before the council.

8 And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and ^omiracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called ^pthe synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.

10 And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the ^qspirit by which he spake.

11 ^rThen they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and ^sagainst God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon ^thim, and caught him, and brought ^uhim to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this ^vholy place, and the law:

14 ^wFor we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking stedfastly on him, ^xsaw his face as it had been the face of an ^yangel.

17 But when the ^{time} of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the ^{people} grew and multiplied in Egypt,

18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 In which time Moses was born, and was ^{exceeding} fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And when he was cast out, ^{Pharaoh's} daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was ^{mighty} in words and in deeds.

23 And ^{when} he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.

24 And seeing one ^{of them} suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:

25 For he supposed his brethren would have ^{understood} how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not.

26 And the ^{next} day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, ^{Who} made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 ^{Then} fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.

30 And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an ^{angel} of the Lord in a ^{flame} of fire in a bush.

31 When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him,

¹ Cf. Gen. 46. 26, note. There is no real contradiction. The "house of Jacob" numbered seventy, but the "kindred" would include the wives of Jacob's sons.

32 Saying, I am the "God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.

34 "I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, ^dI will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer by the hand of the "angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

50 Hath not my hand "made all these things?

51 Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52 Which of the "prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of the "Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53 Who have received the law by the disposition of "angels, and have not kept it.

56 And said, Behold, I see the "heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord, laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

59 And they stoned Stephen, calling upon ^bGod, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.

60 And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this ^dsin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

CHAPTER 8.

The fourth persecution: Saul chief persecutor.

^fAND Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all ^gscattered abroad throughout the regions of Judæa and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, he made havock of the ^hchurch, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

The ministry of Philip. (See Acts 6. 5; 21. 8.)

5 Then ⁱPhilip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the ^jpeople with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the ^kmiracles which he did.

7 For ^lunclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

(The case of Simon the sorcerer.)

9 But there was a certain man, called Simon, which beforetime in the same city ^mused sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they ^hbelieved Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the ^hHoly Ghost:

16 (For as yet ^hhe was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.)

17 Then ⁱlaid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money,

19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this ^jmatter: for thy ^kheart is not right in the sight of God.

22 ^lRepent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray ^mGod, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, ^othat none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the ^pgospel in many ^qvillages of the Samaritans.

Philip and the Ethiopian.

26 And the ^rangel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is ^sdesert.

27 And he arose and went: and behold, a man of ^tEthiopia, an eunuch of great authority under

Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to "Jerusalem for to worship, 28 Was returning, and sitting in his chariot read Esaias the prophet.

29 Then the ^bSpirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, "Understandest thou what thou redest?"

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he ^cdesired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.

32 The place of the scripture which he read was this, "He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, ^fof whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and ^gbegan at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, Sec, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 ^hAnd Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he ⁱbaptized him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, the ^jSpirit of the ^kLord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more; and he went on his way ^lrejoicing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached ^min all the cities, till he came to Caesarea.

CHAPTER 9.

The conversion of Saul. (Cf. Acts 22. 1-16; 26. 9-18.)

AND Saul, "yet breathing out against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 And desired of him ^aletters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any ^bof this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.

3 And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a ^clight from heaven:

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, ^dwhy persecutest thou ^eme?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am ^fJesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

6 And he trembling and astonished ^gsaid, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord ^hsaid unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing ⁱa ^jvoice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw ^kno man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named ^lAnanias; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 And the Lord ^msaid unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judas for ⁿone called Saul, of Tarsus: for, behold, he ^oprayeth, 12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting ^phis hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord,

¹ Cf. Acts 22. 9; 26. 14. A contradiction has been imagined. The three statements should be taken together. The men heard the "voice" as a sound (Gr. phone), but did not hear the "voice" as articulating the words, "Saul, Saul," etc.

I have ^aheard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy name.

15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: ^bfor he is a ^cchosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the ^dGentiles, and ^e kings, and the ^fchildren of Israel:

16 For ^gI will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

Paul filled with the Spirit.

17 And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the ^hHoly Ghost.

Paul baptized.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received ⁱsight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

Paul preaches.

20 ^jAnd straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, ^kthat he is the Son of God.

21 But all that heard ^lhim were amazed, and said; Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

23 And after that many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him:

Paul visits Jerusalem.

26 And when Saul was ³come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all ^mafraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27 But ⁿBarnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached ^oboldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

28 And he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem.

29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the ^pGrecians: but they went about to slay him.

Paul returns to Tarsus.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cæsarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the ^qchurches rest throughout all Judæa and Galilee and Samaria, and were ^redified; and walking in the ^sfear of the Lord, and in the ^tcomfort of the Holy Ghost, were ^umultiplied.

¹ Cf. Acts 2. 36. Peter, while maintaining the deity of Jesus—"God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ"—gives especial prominence to His Messiahship. Paul, fresh from the vision of the glory, puts the emphasis on His Deity. Peter's charge was that the Jews had crucified the Son of David (Acts 2. 25-30); Paul's that they had crucified the Lord of glory (1 Cor. 2. 8). In the A.V. the sense is largely lost. The point was, not that the Christ was God, a truth plainly taught by Isaiah (7. 14; 9. 6, 7), but that Jesus, the crucified Nazarene, was the Christ and therefore God the Son.

² It seems probable that verses 22-25 refer to Paul's labours in Damascus after his return from Arabia (Gal. 1. 17). The "many days" of verse 23 may represent the "three years" of Gal. 1. 18, which intervened between Paul's return to Damascus and his visit to Peter.

³ The Acts records four visits of Paul to Jerusalem after his conversion: (1) Acts 9. 23-30. This seems identical with the visit of Gal. 1. 18, 19. The "apostles" of verse 27 were Peter, and James, the Lord's brother. (2) Acts 11. 30. Paul may have been in Jerusalem during the events of Acts 12. 1-24. (See v. 25.) (3) Acts 15. 1-30; Gal. 2. 2-10. (4) Acts 21. 17-23. 35.

The healing of Æneas.

32 And it came to pass, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he found a certain man named Æneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Peter said unto him, Æneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron saw him, and turned to the Lord.

Tabitha raised from the dead.

36 Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Joppa; and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Joppa with one Simon a tanner.

11 And saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill, and eat.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

17 Now while Peter ^adoubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made enquiry for Simon's house, and stood before the gate.

18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

31 And said, Cornelius, thy ⁿprayer is heard, and ^othine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call hither Simon, whose surname is Peter; he is lodged in the house of one Simon a tanner by the sea side: who, when he cometh, shall speak unto thee.

33 Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are ^pwe all here ^qpresent before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of ^rGod.

Peter's sermon to Gentiles in the house of Cornelius.
Theme: Salvation through faith. (Cf. Acts 2. 14-41.)

34 Then Peter opened ^shis mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no ^trespecter of persons:

35 But in ^uevery nation he that feareth him, and worketh ^vrighteousness, is accepted with him.

36 The word which ^wGod sent unto the children of Israel, preaching ^xpeace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all:)

37 That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Judæa, and began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached;

38 How ^yGod anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the ^zHoly Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the ^adevil; for ^bGod was with him.

39 And we are ^cwitnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they ^dslew and hanged on a tree:

40 Him God ^eraised up the third day, and shewed him openly;

41 Not to all the people, but unto witnesses ^fchosen before of God, even to us, who did ^geat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to ^hbe the Judge of quick and dead.

43 To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth ⁱin him shall receive remission of ^jsins.

The Holy Spirit given to Gentile believers.

44 ¹While Peter yet spake these words, the ²Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speak with ^btongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we?

48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of ^cthe Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

CHAPTER 11.

Peter vindicates his ministry to Gentiles.

AND the apostles and brethren that were in Judæa heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it ^dby order unto them, saying,

5 I was in the city of ^eJoppa praying; and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me;

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the ^fair.

7 And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Peter; slay and eat.

8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times;

11 And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Cæsarea unto me.

12 And the ¹Spirit bade me go with them, ²nothing doubting. Moreover these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house:

13 And he shewed us how he had seen an ¹angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter;

The church at Antioch: the new name.

19 Now they which were scattered abroad upon the ¹persecution that arose about Stephen travelled as far as ²Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.

20 And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the ¹Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them; and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.

22 Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go as far as Antioch.

¹ Verse 44 is one of the pivotal points of Scripture. Heretofore the Gospel has been offered to Jews only, and the Holy Spirit bestowed upon believing Jews through apostolic mediation. But now the normal order for this age is reached: the Holy Spirit is given without delay, mediation, or other condition than simple faith in Jesus Christ. Cf. Acts 2. 4, note; 1 Cor. 6. 19.

23 Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added unto the Lord.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul:

26 And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

The church at Antioch sends relief to Jerusalem.

27 And in these days came prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch.

28 And there stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world: which came to pass in the days of Claudius Cæsar.

29 Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judæa:

30 Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAPTER 12.

The fifth persecution: arrest of Peter.

NOW about that time Herod the king stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church.

2 And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. (Then were the days of unleavened bread.)

4 And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, and followed him; and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

21 And upon a set day Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And ^cimmediately ^dthe angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 But the word of God grew and multiplied.

7 Which was with the ^sdeputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8 But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul, (who also is called Paul,) filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And said, O full of all subtily and all mischief, thou ^tchild of the ^udevil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

11 And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there ^vfell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the ^wdeputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the ^xdoctrine of the Lord.

15 And after the reading of the law and the prophets the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand said, Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give audience.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye ¹⁷put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of ever-

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, ^aI have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

The work in Iconium.

AND it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, ^hJupiter; and Paul, ⁱMercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out, the conversion of the Gentiles; and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.

The questions at issue.

5 But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command ^rthem to keep ^sthe law of Moses.

6 And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

Peter's argument for Christian liberty: why put under law those to whom God has given the Spirit?

7 And when there had been much ^tdisputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made ^uchoice among us, that the Gentiles by ^vmy mouth should hear the word of the ^wgospel, and believe.

8 And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as ^xhe did unto us;

9 And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why ^ytempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.

Paul and Barnabas testify.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

James declares the result: (1) the outcalling of the Gentiles agrees with the promises to Israel.

13 And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, ^zMen and brethren, hearken unto me:

14 Simeon hath declared how God

¹ Dispensationally, this is the most important passage in the N.T. It gives the divine purpose for this age, and for the beginning of the next. (1) The taking out from among the Gentiles of a people for His name, the distinctive work of the pres-

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of ^bDavid, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:

17 That the residue of men might seek after the ^cLord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, ^dwho doeth all these things.

18 Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the ^eworld.

are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia:

24 Forasmuch as we have heard, that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, ^hsubverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment:

25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul,

26 ⁱMen that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27 We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

But Gentile believers must not give offence to godly Jews.

28 For it seemed good to the ^kHoly Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;

29 That ye abstain from ^lmeats offered to ^midols, and from blood, and from ⁿthings strangled, and from ^ofornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ^pye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle:

ent, or church-age. The church is the ecclesia—the “called-out assembly.” Precisely this has been in progress since Pentecost. The Gospel has never anywhere converted all, but everywhere has called out some. (2) “After this [viz. the out-calling] I will return.” James quotes from Amos 9. 11, 12. The verses which follow in Amos describe the final regathering of Israel, which the other prophets invariably connect with the fulfilment of the Davidic Covenant (e.g. Isa. 11. 1, 10-12; Jer. 23. 5-8). (3) “And will build again the tabernacle of David,” i.e. re-establish the Davidic rule over Israel (2 Sam. 7. 8-17; Lk. 1. 31-33). (4) “That the residue of men [Israelites] may seek after the Lord” (cf. Zech. 12. 7, 8; 13. 1, 2). (5) “And all the Gentiles,” etc. (cf. Mic. 4. 2; Zech. 8. 21, 22). This is also the order of Rom. 11. 24-27.

¹ The scope of the decision goes far beyond the mere question of circumcision. The whole question of the relation of the law to Gentile believers had been put in issue (v. 5), and their exemption is declared in the decision (vs. 19, 24). The decision might be otherwise stated in the terms of Rom. 6. 14: “Ye are not under the law, but under grace.” Gentile believers were to show grace by abstaining from the practices offensive to godly Jews (vs. 20, 21, 28, 29; cf. Rom. 14. 12-17; 1 Cor. 8. 1-13).

37 And Barnabas ^cdetermined to take with them ^dJohn, whose surname was Mark.

38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who ^edeparted from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

39 And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so ^fBarnabas took Mark, and sailed unto ^gCyprus;

3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and took and ^mcircumcised him because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greek.

4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, that were ordained of the apostles and ⁿelders which were at Jerusalem.

The Spirit guides: the Macedonian vision.

6 Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the ¹Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia,

7 After they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia; but the Spirit ²suffered them not.

8 And they passing by Mysia came down to Troas.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man of Macedonia, and ³prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.

10 And after he had seen the vision, immediately ⁴we endeavoured to go ⁴into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the ⁵gospel unto them.

11 Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next ⁶day to Neapolis;

12 And from thence to ⁷Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a ⁸colony: and we were in that city abiding certain days.

13 And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer ⁹was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted ¹⁰thither.

14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us: whose ¹¹heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken ¹²of Paul.

15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be ¹³faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide ¹⁴there. And ¹⁵she constrained us.

16 And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a ¹⁶spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters ¹⁷much gain by soothsaying:

18 And this did she many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, ^cI command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And he ^dcame out the same hour.

19 And when her masters ^esaw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and ^fdrew them into the marketplace unto the rulers,

22 And the multitude rose up together against them; and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and ⁱcommanded to beat them.

23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into ^jprison, charging the jailor to keep them safely:

24 Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

Founding of the church at Thessalonica. (Cf. 1 and 2 Thes.)

NOW when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews:

2 And Paul, ^aas his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the scriptures,

3 Opening and alleging, that ^bChrist must ^cneeds have suffered, and ^drisen again from the dead; and that this ^eJesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ.

4 And some of them ^fbelieved, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout Greeks a great

5 But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying. These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also;

7 Whom Jason hath received: and these all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is another king, one Jesus.

8 And they troubled the people and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security of Jason, and of the other, they let them go.

Paul and Silas at Berea.

10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who coming thither went into the synagogue of the Jews.

11 These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them believed; also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

18 Then certain philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoicks, encountered him. And some said, What will this babblersay? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection.

19 And they took him, and brought him unto Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.

21 (For all the Athenians and strangers which were there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to hear some new thing.)

The sermon from Mars' hill. Theme: God will judge the world by Jesus Christ.

22 Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

24 God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands;

25 Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation;

27 That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us:

28 For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the ¹⁰offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto ^bgold or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.

30 And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to ²⁰repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a ^eday, in the which he will ^fjudge the ^gworld in righteousness by ^hthat man whom he hath ordained; ⁱwhereof he hath given ^jassurance unto all ^kmen, in that he hath ^lraised him from the dead.

32 And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some ^mmocked; and others said, We will hear thee ⁿagain of this ^omatter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was ^boppressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews ^cthat Jesus was Christ.

6 And ^dwhen they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, he shook ^ehis raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean: from ^fhenceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7 And he departed thence, and entered into a certain ^gman's house, named ^hJustus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8 And ⁱCrispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have ^jmuch people in this city.

11 And he continued ^kthere a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

The careless Gallio.

12 And when Gallio was the ^ldeputy of Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment seat,

13 Saying, This ^m fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open ⁿhis mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong or ^owicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

15 But if it be a question of ^pwords and names, and of your law,

² Repentance is the trans. of a Gr. word (metanoia—metaneo) meaning, "to have another mind," "to change the mind," and is used in the N.T. to indicate a change of mind in respect of sin, of God, and of self. This change of mind may, especially in the case of Christians who have fallen into sin, be preceded by sorrow (2 Cor. 7. 8-11), but sorrow for sin, though it may "work" repentance, is not repentance. The son in Mt. 21. 28, 29 illustrates true repentance. Saving faith (Heb. 11. 39, note) includes and implies that change of mind which is called repentance.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not;

CHAPTER 19.

Paul at Ephesus: the disciples of John become Christians.

AND it came to pass, that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to Ephesus: and finding certain disciples,

2 He said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.

3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, Unto John's baptism.

4 Then said Paul, John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6 And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

Paul in the synagogue at Ephesus; and in the school of Tyrannus.

8 And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

¹ Not as in A.V., "since ye believed," but as in R.V. and marg.: "Did ye receive the Holy Spirit when ye believed?" Paul was evidently impressed by the absence of spirituality and power in these so-called disciples. Their answer brought out the fact that they were Jewish proselytes, disciples of John the Baptist, looking forward to a coming King, not Christians looking backward to an accomplished redemption. See Rom. 8. 9; 1 Cor. 6. 19; Eph. 1. 13, marg.

10 And this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwell in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

Miracles by Paul.

11 And God wrought special "miracles by the hands of Paul:

12 So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13 Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, ^bJesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and "overcame them, and ^dprevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and "fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 And many that believed came, and "confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19 Many of them also which used "curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 So ^hmightily grew the word of God and prevailed.

21 After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the "spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see ^jRome.

22 So he sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, ^kTimotheus and ^lErastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.

silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain unto the craftsmen;

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this "craft we have our wealth.

26 Moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they be "no gods, which are made with hands:

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the "world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is "Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught "Gaius and "Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew "Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the townclerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the "city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are "neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10 And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man ^aalive, and were not a little comforted.

(3) From Troas to Miletus.

13 And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.

14 And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios; and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogylium; and the next day we came to Miletus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost.

(4) Paul and the Ephesian elders.

17 And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the ^aelders of the church.

18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and ^btemptations, which befell me by the lying in wait of the Jews:

20 And how I ^ckept back nothing that was profitable ^dunto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house,

21 Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, ^erepentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 And now, behold, I go bound in the ¹spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 Save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me.

24 But none of these things move me, ^aneither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the ^bgospel of the grace of God.

25 And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am ^cpure from the blood of all men.

27 ^dFor I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

28 ^eTake heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the ^fflock, over the which the ^gHoly Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath ^hpurchased with his own blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous ⁱwolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30 Also ^jof your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.

32 And now, brethren, ^kI commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are ^lsanctified.

33 I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.

34 Yea, ye yourselves know, that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 ^mI have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, ⁿ"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

A.D. 60.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him,

38 Sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

(5) From Miletus to Tyre.

AND it came to pass, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto ^oCoos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara:

2 And finding a ship sailing over unto Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth.

3 Now when we had ^pdiscovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

(6) The Holy Spirit forbids Paul to go to Jerusalem.

4 And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not ^qgo up to Jerusalem.

5 And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Caesarea: and we entered into the house of ^rPhilip the evangelist, which was one of the seven; and abode with him.

¹ Cf. Acts 21. 4. In Acts 20. 22 Paul's own spirit (1 Thes. 5. 23, note) is meant; in Acts 21. 4 the Holy Spirit. Paul's motive in going to Jerusalem seems to have been his great affection for the Jews (Rom. 9. 1-5), and his hope that the gifts of the Gentile churches, sent by him to poor saints at Jerusalem (Rom. 15. 25-28), would open the hearts of the law-bound Jewish believers to the "gospel of the grace of God" (Acts 20. 24).

(7) The Holy Spirit again warns Paul.

10 And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judæa a certain prophet, named Agabus.

11 And ^awhen he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the ^bHoly Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

(8) Paul at Jerusalem.

14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The ^dwill of the Lord be done.

15 And after those days we took up our ^ecarriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Cæsarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the ^gelders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, he ^hdeclared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many ⁱthousands of Jews there are which believe; and ^jthey are all zealous of the law:

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a ^kvow on them;

24 Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at ^{ch}arges with them, that they may shave their heads: and all may know that those things, whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also ^wwalkest orderly, and keepest the law.

26 Then ⁿPaul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an ^ooffering should be offered for every one of them.

Paul seized in the temple by the Jews.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him,

28 Crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and further brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this ^oholy place.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul, and ^pdrew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went ^qabout to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this ^gfreedom. And Paul said, But I ^hwas free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have ⁱexamined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

Paul appeals to the Pharisees.

6 But when Paul perceived that the one part were ^tSadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees: and the multitude was divided.

8 For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.

9 And there arose a great ^ucry: and the ^vscribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, let us not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

The Lord's grace to Paul.

11 And the night following the Lord ^wstood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

The conspiracy to kill Paul.

12 And when it was day, ^xcertain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

15 Now therefore ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to-morrow, as though ye would enquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ^aready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 ^bThen Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner ^ccalled me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.

19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to-morrow into the council, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.

Paul sent to Felix at Cæsarea.

23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cæsarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night;

24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

A.D. 60.

26 Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix sendeth greeting.

27 This man was ^dtaken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then ^ecame I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Roman.

28 ^fAnd when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council:

29 Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have ^gnothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

30 And when it was told me how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:

33 Who, when they came to Cæsarea, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of ^hCilicia;

CHAPTER 25.

Paul before Festus.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Cæsarea to Jerusalem.

2 Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, *v*laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cæsarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them ^amore than ten days, he went down unto Cæsarea; and the next day sitting on the judgment seat commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, ^bwhich they could not prove.

8 While he answered for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor ^cyet against Cæsar, have I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus, willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me?

Paul appeals to Cæsar.

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cæsar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. ^dI appeal unto Cæsar.

12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Cæsar? unto Cæsar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days king Agrippa and Bernice came unto Cæsarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had been there many days, Festus declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix:

15 About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

A.D. 62.

17 Therefore, when they were come hither, without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certain questions against him of their *J*own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be ^ereserved unto the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cæsar.

22 Then Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment ^fPaul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and *a*lso here, crying that he ought not to live any longer.

25 But when I found that he had committed ^gnothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before ^hthee, O king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not *w*ithal to signify the crimes laid against him.

forth the hand, and answered for himself:

2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews:

3 Especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews;

5 Which ^aknew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a ^bPharisee.

6 And now ^cI stand and am judged for the hope of the ^dpromise made of God unto our fathers:

7 Unto which ^epromise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Why ^fshould it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?

9 I ^gverily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 Which thing I also did ^hin Jerusalem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received ⁱauthority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my ^jvoice against them.

11 And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 Whereupon as I ^kwent to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests,

13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I ^lheard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the ^mpricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee;

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee,

18 To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of ^ySatan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of ^zsins, and inheritance among them which are ^{aa}sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision:

20 But shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judæa, and then to the Gentiles, that they should ^{ab}repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance.

21 For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come:

23 That ^{ac}Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art ^{ad}beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus; but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou ^{ae}believest.

28 Then Agrippa said unto Paul, ^{af}Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.

29 And Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were ^{ag}both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them:

31 And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

32 Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cæsar.

CHAPTER 27.

Paul is sent to Rome.

AND when it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered ^bPaul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.

2 And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia; one ^dAristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And ^eJulius courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under ^jCrete, over against Salmone;

8 And, hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called The fair havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because the ^kfast was now already past, Paul admonished them,

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I ^hperceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more

The storm.

14 But not long after there ^aarose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Clauda, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should ^bfall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

19 And the third day we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

The moral ascendancy of Paul.

21 But after long abstinence Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have ^chearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.

22 And now ^mI exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

23 For there stood by me this night ⁿthe angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, 24 Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cæsar: and, lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 Wherefore, sir, be of good cheer: for I ^obelieve God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 Howbeit we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country;

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship,

31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34 Wherefore I pray you to take some meat: for this is for your health: for there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.

37 And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.

41 And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.

The landing on Melita: miracle of the viper's bite. (Cf. Mk. 16. 18.)

AND when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita.

2 And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness; for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

4 And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

5 And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm.

6 Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly; but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

Miracle of the healing of Publius' father.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius; who received us, and lodged us three days courteously.

8 And it came to pass, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flux: to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laid hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

10 Who also honoured us with many honours; and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three months we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Castor and Pollux.

12 And landing at Syracuse, we tarried there three days.

13 And from thence we fetched a compass, and came to Rhegium: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli:

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when ^athe brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as ^bAppii forum, and The three taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took ^ccourage.

Paul in Rome: his ministry there to the Jews.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days Paul called the chief of the Jews together: and when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, though I have committed nothing against the people, or customs of our fathers, yet was I ^cdelivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans.

18 Who, ^fwhen they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to ^gappeal unto Cæsar; not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore ^hhave I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you: because that for the ⁱhope of Israel I am bound with this ^jchain.

Paul turns to the Gentiles.

25 And ^mwhen they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the ⁿHoly Ghost ^oby Esaias the prophet unto our fathers,

26 Saying, Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and ^pshall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive:

27 For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with ^qtheir eyes, and hear with ^rtheir ears, and understand with ^stheir heart, and should be ^tconverted, and I should heal them.

28 Be it known therefore unto you, that the ^usalvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles, and that they will hear it.

29 And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two whole years in ^vhis own hired house, and received all that came in unto him,

31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, ^wwith all confidence, no man forbidding him.

¹ It has been much disputed whether Paul endured two Roman imprisonments, from A.D. 62 to 68, or one. The tradition from Clement to Eusebius favours two imprisonments with a year of liberty between. Erdman (W.J.) has pointed out that the leaving of Trophimus sick at Miletus, mentioned in 2 Tim. 4. 20, could not have been an occurrence of Paul's last journey to Jerusalem, for then Trophimus was not left (Acts 20. 4; 21. 29), nor of the journey to Rome to appear before Cæsar, for then he did not touch at Miletus. To make this incident possible there must have been a release from the first imprisonment, and an interval of ministry and travel.

THE EPISTLES OF PAUL.

THE Epistles of the Apostle Paul have a very distinctive character. All Scripture, up to the Gospel accounts of the crucifixion, looks forward to the cross, and has primarily in view Israel, and the blessing of the earth through the Messianic kingdom. But "hid in God" (Eph. 3. 9) was an unrevealed fact—the interval of time between the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ and His return in glory; and an unrevealed purpose—the outcalling of the ecclesia, the church which is Christ's body. In Mt. 16. our Lord announced that purpose, but wholly without explanation as to how, when, or of what materials, that church should be built, or what should be its position, relationships, privileges, or duties.

All this constitutes precisely the scope of the Epistles of Paul. They develop the doctrine of the church. In his letters to seven Gentile churches (in Rome, Corinth, Galatia, Ephesus, Philippi, Colosse, and Thessalonica), the church, the "mystery which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God" (Eph. 3. 9), is fully revealed, and fully instructed as to her unique place in the counsels and purposes of God.

Through Paul alone we know that the church is not an organization, but an organism, the body of Christ; instinct with His life, and heavenly in calling, promise, and destiny. Through him alone we know the nature, purpose, and form of organization of local churches, and the right conduct of such gatherings. Through him alone do we know that "we shall not all sleep," that "the dead in Christ shall rise first," and that living saints shall be "changed" and caught up to meet the Lord in the air at His return.

But to Paul was also committed the unfolding of the doctrines of grace which were latent in the teachings of Jesus Christ. Paul originates nothing, but unfolds everything, concerning the nature and purpose of the law; the ground and means of the believer's justification, sanctification, and glory; the meanings of the death of Christ, and the position, walk, expectation, and service of the Christian.

Paul, converted by the personal ministry of the Lord in glory, is distinctively the witness to a glorified Christ, Head over all things to the church which is His body, as the Eleven were to Christ in the flesh, the Son of Abraham and of David.

The chronological order of Paul's Epistles is believed to be as follows: 1 and 2 Thessalonians, 1 and 2 Corinthians, Galatians, Romans, Philemon, Colossians, Ephesians, Philippians, 1 Timothy, Titus, 2 Timothy. Hebrews has a distinctive place, nor can the order of that book amongst the writings of Paul be definitely fixed.

THE TWO SILENCES

TWO periods in the life of Paul after his conversion are passed over in a silence which is itself significant—the journey into Arabia, from which the Apostle returned in full possession of the Gospel explanation as set forth in Galatians and Romans; and the two silent years in prison in Cæsarea, between his arrest in the temple at Jerusalem and his deportation to Rome.

It was inevitable that a trained intellect like that of Paul, a convinced believer in Mosaism and, until his conversion on the Damascus road, an eager opposer of Christianity, must seek the underlying principles of the Gospel. Immediately after his conversion he preached Jesus as the Messiah; but the relation of the Gospel to the Law, and, in a lesser degree, to the great Jewish promises, needed clear adjustment if Christianity was to be a reasonable faith, and not a mere dogma. In Arabia Paul sought and found that adjustment through revelation by the Spirit. Out of it came the doctrinal explanation of salvation by grace through faith, wholly apart from the law, embodied in Galatians and Romans.

But the Gospel brings the believer into great relationships—to the Father, to other believers, to Christ, and to the future purposes of God. It is not only a salvation from sin and the consequences of sin, but into an amazing place in the Divine counsels. Furthermore, the new thing, the church in its various aspects and functions, demanded clear revelation. And these are the chief themes of the Epistles written by Paul from Rome, and commonly called the Prison Epistles—Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians. It is contrary to the method of inspiration, as explained by Paul himself, to suppose that these crowning revelations were made apart from deep meditation, demanding quietness, and earnest seeking. It seems most congruous with the events of Paul's life to suppose that these great revelations came during the silent years at Cæsarea—often spoken of as wasted.

HOW TO USE THE SUBJECT REFERENCES.

THE subject references lead the reader from the first clear mention of a great truth to the last. The first and last references (in parenthesis) are repeated each time, so that wherever a reader comes upon a subject he may recur to the first reference and follow the subject, or turn at once to the Summary at the last reference.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS.

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1). Date. Romans, the sixth in chronological order of Paul's Epistles, was written from Corinth during the apostle's third visit to that city (2 Cor. 13. 1), in A.D. 60. The Epistle has its occasion in the intention of the apostle soon to visit Rome. Naturally, he would wish to announce before his coming the distinctive truths which had been revealed to and through him. He would desire the Christians in Rome to have his own statement of the great doctrines of grace so bitterly assailed everywhere by legalistic teachers.

Theme. The theme of Romans is "the Gospel of God" (1. 1), the very widest possible designation of the whole body of redemption truth, for it is He with whom is "no respect of persons"; and who is not "the God of the Jews only," but "of the Gentiles also" (2. 11; 3. 29). Accordingly, "all the world" is found guilty (3. 19), and a redemption is revealed as wide as the need, upon the alone condition of faith. Not only does Romans embody in the fullest way the doctrines of grace in relation to salvation, but in three remarkable chapters (9.-11.) the great promises to Israel are reconciled with the promises concerning the Gentiles, and the fulfillment of the former shown to await the completion of the church and coming of the Deliverer out of Zion (11. 25-27). The key-phrase is "the righteousness of God" (1. 17; 3. 21, 22).

The Epistle, exclusive of the introduction (1. 1-17), is in seven parts: I. The whole world guilty before God, 1. 18-3. 20. II. Justification through the righteousness of God by faith, the Gospel remedy for guilt, 3. 21-5. 11. III. Crucifixion with Christ, the resurrection life of Christ, and the walk in the Spirit, the Gospel provision for inherent sin, 5. 12-8. 13. IV. The full result in blessing of the Gospel, 8. 14-39. V. Parenthesis: the Gospel does not abolish the covenant promises to Israel, 9. 1-11. 36. VI. Christian life and service, 12. 1-15. 33. VII. The outflow of Christian love, 16. 1-27.

⁸ First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, ^kthat your faith is spoken of throughout the whole ^lworld.

⁹ For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers;

¹⁰ Making request, if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey ^mby the will of God to come unto you.

¹¹ For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established;

¹² That is, that I may be comforted together with you by the mutual faith both of you and me.

¹³ Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but was ⁿlet hitherto,) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

¹⁴ I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise.

¹⁵ So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the ^agospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto ^lsalvation to every one that ^bbelieveth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17 For therein is ^cthe righteousness of God revealed from faith to ^dfaith: as it is written, ^eThe just shall live by faith.

Part I. The guilty world.

(1) The wrath of God revealed.

18 For ^fthe wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who ^ghold the ^htruth in unrighteousness;

(2) The universe a revelation of the power and deity of God.

19 Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shewed it unto them.

20 For the invisible things of him ⁱfrom the creation of the ^jworld are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, ^keven his eternal power and ^lGodhead; so that they are ^mwithout excuse:

(3) The seven stages of Gentile world apostasy.

21 Because that, when they knew God, they glorified ⁿhim not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their ^oimaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

22 Professing themselves to be ^pwise, they became fools,

23 And changed the glory of the ^quncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

(4) The result of the Gentile world apostasy.

¹ The Heb. and Gr. words for salvation imply the ideas of deliverance, safety, preservation, healing, and soundness. Salvation is the great inclusive word of the Gospel, gathering into itself all the redemptive acts and processes: as justification, redemption, grace, propitiation, imputation, forgiveness, sanctification, and glorification. Salvation is in three senses: (1) The believer has been saved from the guilt and penalty of sin (Lk. 7. 50; 1 Cor. 1. 18; 2 Cor. 2. 15; Eph. 2. 5, 8; 2 Tim. 1. 9) and is safe. (2) The believer is being saved from the habit and dominion of sin (Rom. 6. 14; Phil. 1. 19; 2. 12, 13; 2 Thes. 2. 13; Rom. 8. 2; Gal. 2. 19, 20; 2 Cor. 3. 18). (3) The believer is to be saved in the sense of entire conformity to Christ (Rom. 13. 11; Heb. 10. 36; 1 Pet. 1. 5; 1 John 3. 2). Salvation is by grace through faith, is a free gift, and wholly without works (Rom. 3. 27, 28; 4. 1-8; 6. 23; Eph. 2. 8). The divine order is: first salvation, then works (Eph. 2. 9, 10; Tit. 3. 5-8).

judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things.

2 But we are sure that the ^ajudgment of God is according to truth against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

4 Or despisest thou the ^briches of his goodness and ^cforbearance and ^dlongsuffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to ^erepentance?

5 But after thy hardness and impatient heart treasur'ed up unto thyself wrath ^fagainst the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God;

6 Who will ^grender to every man according to his deeds:

7 To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and ^himmortality, ⁱeternal life:

8 But unto them that are ^jcontentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath,

9 Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the ^kGentile;

10 But glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the ^kGentile:

11 For ^lthere is no respect of persons with God.

12 For as many as have ^msinned without ⁿlaw shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned ^oin the law shall be judged by the law;

13 (For not the hearers of ^pthe law are just before God, but the doers of ^pthe law shall be justified.

14 For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves:

15 ^qWhich shew the ^rwork of the law written in their hearts, their ^sconscience also bearing witness, and ^ttheir ^uthoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another.)

(6) The Jew, knowing the law, is condemned by the law.

17 Behold, thou art called a Jew, and ^arestest in the law, and makest thy boast of God,

18 And ^bknowest ^chis will, and approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law;

19 And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,

20 An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law.

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preaches a man should not steal, dost thou steal?

22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou ^xcommit sacrilege?

23 Thou that makest thy boast of the law, through ^ybreaking the law dishonourest thou God?

24 For ^zthe name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles ^athrough you, as it is ^bwritten.

25 For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a ^ybreaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.

26 Therefore if the uncircumcision keep the ^crighteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not ^duncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost ^ytransgress the law?

28 ^fFor he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is ^gthat circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is ^hthat of the heart, ⁱin the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER 3.

(7) The advantage of the Jew works his greater condemnation.

WHAT advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?

2 Much every way: chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God.

3 For what if some did not believe? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, "That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged."

5 But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man)

6 God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?

7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

8 And not rather, (as we are slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say.) Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

(8) The final verdict: the whole world guilty before God.

9 What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin;

10 As it is written, "There is none righteous, no, not one:"

11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

13 Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips:

14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 Their feet are swift to shed blood:

20 Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight; for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

Part II. Justification by faith in Christ crucified, the alone remedy for sins (Rom. 3. 21-5. 11).

(1) Justification defined.

21 But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets;

22 Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference:

23 For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;

24 Being justified freely by his

1 The righteousness of God is neither an attribute of God, nor the changed character of the believer, but Christ Himself, who fully met in our stead and behalf every demand of the law, and who is, by the act of God called imputation (Lev. 25. 50; Jas. 2. 23), "made unto us . . . righteousness" (1 Cor. 1. 30). "The believer in Christ is now, by grace, shrouded under so complete and blessed a righteousness that the law from Mt. Sinai can find neither fault nor diminution therein. This is that which is called the righteousness of God by faith."—Bunyan. See 2 Cor. 5. 21; Rom. 4. 6; 10. 4; Phil. 3. 9. See Rom. 3. 26.

2 Sin, Summary: The literal meanings of the Heb. and Gr. words variously rendered "sin," "sinner," etc., disclose the true nature of sin in its manifold manifestations. Sin is transgression, an overstepping of the law, the divine boundary between good and evil (Psa. 51. 1; Lk. 15. 29); iniquity, an act inherently wrong, whether expressly forbidden or not; error, a departure from right (Psa. 51. 9; Rom. 3. 23); missing the mark, a failure to meet the divine standard; trespass, the intrusion of self-will into the sphere of divine authority (Eph. 2. 1); lawlessness, or spiritual anarchy (1 Tim. 1. 9); unbelief, or an insult to the divine veracity (John 16. 9). Sin originated with Satan (Isa. 14. 12-14); entered the world through Adam (Rom. 5. 12); was, and is, universal, Christ alone excepted (Rom. 3. 23; 1 Pet. 2. 22); incurs the penalties of spiritual and physical death (Gen. 2. 17; 3. 19; Ezk. 18. 4, 20; Rom. 6. 23); and has no remedy but in the sacrificial death of Christ (Heb. 9. 26; Acts 4. 12) availed of by faith (Acts 13. 38, 39). Sin may be summarized as threefold: An act, the violation of, or want of obedience to the revealed will of God; a state, absence of righteousness; a nature, enmity toward God.

grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

25 Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;

26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

27 Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay: but by the law of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

(2) Justification a universal remedy.

29 Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:

30 Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

(3) Justification by faith honours the law.

31 Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

¹ Redemption, "to deliver by paying a price." The N.T. doctrine. The N.T. records the fulfilment of the O.T. types and prophecies of redemption through the sacrifice of Christ. The completed truth is set forth in the three words which are translated redemption: (1) agorazo, "to purchase in the market." The underlying thought is of a slave-market. The subjects of redemption are "sold under sin" (Rom. 7. 14), but are, moreover, under sentence of death (Ezk. 18. 4; John 3. 18, 19; Rom. 3. 19; Gal. 3. 10), and the purchase price is the blood of the Redeemer who dies in their stead (Gal. 3. 13; 2 Cor. 5. 21; Mt. 20. 28; Mk. 10. 45; 1 Tim. 2. 6; 1 Pet. 1. 18); (2) exagorazo, "to buy out of the market." The redeemed are never again to be exposed to sale; (3) lutroo, "to loose," "to set free by paying a price" (John 8. 32; Gal. 4. 4, 5, 31; 5. 13; Rom. 8. 21). Redemption is by sacrifice and by power (Ex. 14. 30, note); Christ paid the price, the Holy Spirit makes deliverance actual in experience (Rom. 8. 2). See also Ex. 14. 30, note; Isa. 59. 20, note; Rom. 1. 16, note.

² Lit. a propitiatory [sacrifice], through faith by his blood; Gr. hilasterion, "a place of propitiation." The word occurs, 1 John 2. 2; 4. 10, as the trans. of hilasterion, "that which propitiates," "a propitiatory sacrifice." Hilasterion is used by the Septuagint, and in Heb. 9. 5 for "mercy-seat." The mercy-seat was sprinkled with atoning blood on the day of atonement (Lev. 16. 14), in token that the righteous sentence of the law had been (typically) carried out, so that what must else have been a judgment-seat could righteously be a mercy-seat (Heb. 9. 11-15; 4. 14-16), a place of communion (Ex. 25. 21, 22). In fulfilment of the type, Christ is Himself the hilasmos, "that which propitiates," and the hilasterion, "the place of propitiation"—the mercy-seat sprinkled with His own blood—the token that in our stead He so honoured the law by enduring its righteous sentence that God, who ever foresaw the cross, is vindicated in having "passed over" sins from Adam to Moses (Rom. 5. 13) and the sins of believers under the old covenant (Ex. 29. 33, note), and just in justifying sinners under the new covenant. There is no thought in propitiation of placating a vengeful God, but of doing right by His holy law and so making it possible for Him righteously to show mercy.

⁵ The sinner establishes the law in its right use and honour by confessing his guilt, and acknowledging that by it he is justly condemned. Christ, on the sinner's behalf, establishes the law by enduring its penalty, death. Cf. Mt. 5. 17, 18.

CHAPTER 4.

(4) Justification by faith illustrated.

WHAT shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?

2 For if Abraham were ^ajustified by ¹works, he hath ^whereof to glory; but not before God.

3 For what saith the scripture? Abraham ^bbelieved ^cGod, and it was ^dcounted unto him for ^erighteousness.

4 Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of ^fgrace, but of debt.

(5) Justifying faith defined. (See also vs. 18-21.)

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his ^gfaith is ^dcounted for righteousness.

6 Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God ⁱimputeth righteousness without works,

7 Saying, Blessed are they whose ^hiniquities are ^fforgiven, and whose ^hsins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the ^lLord will not ^dimpute sin.

(6) Justification is apart from ordinances.

9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11 And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be ^dimputed unto them also:

12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in

(7) Justification is apart from the law.

13 For the promise, that he should be the heir of the ^kworld, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no ^htransgression.

16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the ^llaw, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all;

17 (As it is written, ^mI have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.

18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations; according to that which was spoken, ⁿSo shall thy seed be.

19 And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarah's womb:

20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21 And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was ^dimputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was ^dimputed to him;

24 But for us also, to whom it shall be ^dimputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead;

25 Who was delivered for our

offences, and was raised again for our justification.

CHAPTER 5.

The seven results of justification.

THEREFORE being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

2 By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

3 And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also: knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

4 And patience, experience; and experience, hope:

5 And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.

6 For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly.

7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8 But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9 Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10 For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the Part III. Sanctification: indwelling sin, and the Gospel remedy (to 8. 13).

(1) Through Adam, sin and death.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned:

13 (For until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law.

14 Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.

(2) Through Christ, righteousness and life.

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation,

1 Christ died under our sins (1 Pet. 2. 24; 2 Cor. 5. 21); that He was raised and exalted to God's right hand, "now to appear in the presence of God for us" (Heb. 9. 24), is the token that our sins are gone, that His work for us has the divine approbation and that we, for whom He suffered, are completely justified.

2 The "wherefore" relates back to Rom. 3. 19-23, and may be regarded as a continuation of the discussion of the universality of sin, interrupted (Rom. 3. 24-5. 11) by the passage on justification and its results.

3 The first sin wrought the moral ruin of the race. The demonstration is simple. (1) Death is universal (vs. 12, 14), all die: sinless infants, moral people, religious people, equally with the depraved. For a universal effect there must be a universal cause; that cause is a state of universal sin (v. 12). (2) But this universal state must have had a cause. It did. The consequence of Adam's sin was that "the many were made sinners" (v. 19)—"By the offence of one judgment came upon all men unto condemnation" (v. 18). (3) Personal sins are not meant here. From Adam to Moses death reigned (v. 14), although, there being no law, personal guilt was not imputed (v. 13). Accordingly, from Gen. 4. 7 to Ex. 29. 14 the sin-offering is not once mentioned. Then, since physical death from Adam to Moses was not due to the sinful acts of those who die (v. 13), it follows that it was due to a universal sinful state, or nature, and that state is declared to be our inheritance from Adam. (4) The moral state of fallen man is described in Scripture (Gen. 6. 5; 1 Ki. 8. 46; Psa. 14. 1-3; 39. 5; Jer. 17. 9; Mt. 18. 11; Mk. 7. 20, 23; Rom. 1. 21; 2. 3. 9-19; 7. 24; 8. 7; John 3. 6; 1 Cor. 2. 14; 2 Cor. 3. 14; 4. 4; Gal. 5. 19-21; Eph. 2. 1-3, 11, 12; 4. 18-22; Col. 1. 21; Heb. 3. 13; Jas. 4. 14). See 1 Cor. 15. 22.

4 Broadly, the contrast is: Adam: sin, death; Christ: righteousness, life. Adam drew down into his ruin the old creation (Rom. 8. 19-22) of which he was lord and but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.

17 For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.)

18 Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life.

19 For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

20 Moreover the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound:

21 That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER 6.

(3) Deliverance from the power of indwelling sin.

(a) By union with Christ in death and resurrection.

WHAT shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2 God forbid. How shall we that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?

3 Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death?

4 Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

head. Christ brings into moral unity with God, and into eternal life, the new creation of which He is Lord and Head (Eph. 1. 22, 23). Even the animal and material creation, cursed for man's sake (Gen. 3. 17), will be delivered by Christ (Isa. 11. 6-9; Rom. 8. 19-22).

¹ "Sin" in Rom. 6., 7. is the nature in distinction from "sins," which are manifestations of that nature. Cf. 1 John 1. 8 with 1 John 1. 10, where this distinction also appears.

² The expression occurs elsewhere, in Eph. 4. 22 and Col. 3. 9, and always means the man of old, corrupt human nature, the inborn tendency to evil in all men. In Rom. 6. 6 it is the natural man himself; in Eph. 4. 22; Col. 3. 9 his ways. Positionally, in the reckoning of God, the old man is crucified, and the believer is exhorted to make this good in experience, reckoning it to be so by definitely "putting off" the old man and "putting on" the new (Col. 3. 8-14. See Eph. 4. 24, note 3).

5 For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

7 For he that is dead is freed from sin.

8 Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:

9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

10 For in that he died, he died unto sin once; but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

(b) By counting the old life to be dead, and by yielding the new life to God.

11 Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13 Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin; but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

(c) By deliverance from the law through death, and by the Spirit (i.e. as in Rom. 8. 2).

14 For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16 Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his ^aservants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of ^bsin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of ^bsin, but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you.

18 Being then made free from ^bsin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to ^ciniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto ^dholiness.

20 For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.

22 But now being made free from ^bsin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto ^dholiness, and the end everlasting life.

23 For the wages of ^bsin is death; but the gift of God is ^eeternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of ^hher husband.

3 So then if, while ^hher husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if ^hher husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also ^hare become dead to the law ⁱby the body of Christ; that ye should be ^jmarried to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members to bring forth fruit unto death.

6 But now we ^hare delivered from the law, ⁱthat being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in ^lnewness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

(d) The believer is not made holy by the law.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law ^bsin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known ^mlust, except the law had said, ⁿ"Thou shalt not covet."

8 But ^osin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law sin was dead.

9 For I was alive without the law once: but ^owhen the commandment came, ^osin revived, and I died.

10 And the commandment, which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

illustrated by the effect of death upon servitude (6. 16-23), and marriage (7. 1-6). (1) The old servitude was nominally to the law, but, since the law had no delivering power, the real master continued to be sin in the nature. The end was death. The law could not give life, and "sin" (here personified as the old self) is in itself deathful. But death in another form, i.e. crucifixion with Christ, has intervened (v. 6) to free the servant from his double bondage to sin (v. 6, 7), and to the law (7. 4, 6). (2) This effect of death is further illustrated by widowhood. Death dissolves the marriage relation (7. 1-3). As natural death frees a wife from the law of her husband, so crucifixion with Christ sets the believer free from the law. See Gal. 3. 24, note.

¹ Cf. Rom. 2. 29; 2 Cor. 3. 6. "The letter" is a Paulinism for the law, as "spirit" in these passages is his word for the relationships and powers of new life in Christ Jesus. In 2 Cor. 3. a series is presented of contrasts of law with "spirit," of the old covenant and the new. The contrast is not between two methods of interpretation, literal and spiritual, but between two methods of divine dealing: one through the law, the other through the Holy Spirit.

² The passage (vs. 7-25) is autobiographical. Paul's religious experience was in three strongly marked phases: (1) He was a godly Jew under the law. That the passage does not refer to that period is clear from his own explicit statements elsewhere. At that time he held himself to be "blameless" as concerned the law (Phil.

11 For ^asin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

15 For that which ^{2I} do I allow not: for what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I.

18 For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.

19 For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but ^asin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a ³law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I delight in the law of God after the inward man:

23 But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of ^asin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me ^cfrom the body of this death?

25 I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God; but with the ^aflesh the law of ^asin.

3. 6). He had "lived in all good conscience" (Acts 23. 1). (2) With his conversion came new light upon the law itself. He now perceived it to be "spiritual" (v. 14). He now saw that, so far from having kept it, he was condemned by it. He had supposed himself to be "alive," but now the commandment really "came" (v. 9) and he "died." Just when the apostle passed through the experience of Rom. 7. 7-25 we are not told. Perhaps during the days of physical blindness at Damascus (Acts 9. 9); perhaps in Arabia (Gal. 1. 17). It is the experience of a renewed man, under the law, and still ignorant of the delivering power of the Holy Spirit (cf. Rom. 8. 2). (3) With the great revelations afterward embodied in Galatians and Romans, the apostle's experience entered its third phase. He now knew himself to be "dead to the law by the body of Christ," and, in the power of the indwelling Spirit, "free from the law of sin and death" (8. 2); while "the righteousness of the law" was wrought in him (not by him) while he walked after the Spirit (8. 4). Romans 7. is the record of past conflicts and defeats experienced as a renewed man under law.

³ Six "laws" are to be distinguished in Romans: The law of Moses, which condemns (3. 19); "law" as a principle (3. 21); the law of faith, which excludes self-righteousness (3. 27); the law of sin in the members, which is victorious over the law of the mind (7. 21, 23, 25); the law of the mind, which consents to the law of Moses but cannot do it because of the law of sin in the members (7. 16, 23); and the "law of the Spirit," having power to deliver the believer from the law of sin which is in his members, and his conscience from condemnation by the Mosaic law. Moreover the Spirit works in the yielded believer the very righteousness which Moses' law requires (8. 2, 4).

CHAPTER 8.

THERE is therefore now no ^ccondemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, ^bwho walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

(f) The new law of the Spirit delivers (v. 2), makes righteous (v. 4).

2 For the law of the ¹Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of ^hsin and death.

3 For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and ^dfor ^csin, condemned sin in the flesh:

4 That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

(g) Conflict of the Spirit with the flesh. (Cf. Gal. 5. 16-18.)

5 For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit.

6 For to be ^ccarinally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace.

7 Because the ^ccarinal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the ^hlaw of God, neither indeed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10 And if Christ ^bbe in you, the body is dead because of ^csin; but the Spirit is ^hlife because of righteousness.

11 But if the Spirit of him that ^hraised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies ^bby his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 For if ye live after the ^hflesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Part IV. Full result of the Gospel.

(1) The believer a son and heir. (Cf. Gal. 4. 4.)

14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

15 For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of ^hadoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

16 The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the ^hchildren of God:

17 And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with ^hhim, that we may be also glorified together.

(2) The creation, delivered from suffering and death, kept for the sons of God. (Cf. Gen. 3. 18, 19.)

18 For I ^mreckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19 For the earnest expectation of the ^hcreature waiteth for the ^hmanifestation of the sons of God.

20 For the ^hcreature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected ^hthe same in hope.

21 Because the ^hcreature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

23 And not only ^hthey, but ourselves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the ^hadoption, to wit, the ^hredemption of our body.

24 For ^hwe are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, ^hthen do we with patience wait for it.

² Gr. teknon, "one born," a child (and so in vs. 17, 21); not, as in verse 14, "sons" (Gr. huios). See Gal. 4. 1, 7, where babyhood and sonhood are contrasted. Also "Adoption" (Rom. 8. 15, 23; Eph. 1. 5).

(3) The Spirit an indwelling Intercessor. (Cf. Heb. 7. 25.)

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

27 And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God.

(4) The unfailing purpose of God through the Gospel.

28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.

29 For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brethren.

30 Moreover whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?

32 He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

33 Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth.

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

(5) The believer secure.

35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

36 As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 Nay, in all these things we are

CHAPTER 9.

Part V. Parenthetic (Rom. 9.-11). The Gospel does not set aside the covenants with Israel.

(1) The apostolic solicitude for Israel.

I SAY the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost,

2 That I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart.

3 For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh:

(2) The sevenfold privilege of Israel.

4 Who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises;

5 Whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

(3) The distinction between Jews who are mere natural descendants from Abraham, and Jews who are also of his spiritual seed.

6 Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israel, which are of Israel:

7 Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, In Isaac shall thy seed be called.

(The distinction illustrated.)

8 That is, They which are the

¹ The distinction is between Israel after the flesh, the mere natural posterity of Abraham, and Israelites who, through faith, are also Abraham's spiritual children. Gentiles who believe are also of Abraham's spiritual seed; but here the apostle is not considering them, but only the two kinds of Israelites, the natural and the spiritual Israel (Rom. 4. 1-3; Gal. 3. 6, 7. Cf. John 8, 37-39). See Rom. 11. 1, note.

children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed.

9 For this is the word of promise, ^aAt this time will I come, and Sarah shall have a son.

10 And not only this; but when Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac;

11 (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to ^belection might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth;)

12 It was said unto her, ^cThe elder shall serve the younger.

13 As it is written, ^dJacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.

(4) God's mercy is under his sovereign will.

14 What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.

15 For he saith to Moses, ^eI will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

17 For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, ^fEven for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? For whom hath resisted his will?

20 Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it. Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

22 What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction;

23 And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory,

26 And it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, ^jYe are not my people; there shall they be called the ^kchildren of the living God.

27 Esaias also crieth concerning Israel, ^mThough the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be ⁿsaved:

28 For he will finish the work, and cut it short in righteousness: because a short work will the ^oLord make upon the earth.

29 And as Esaias said before, Except the ^pLord of Sabaoth had left us a ^qseed, we had been as Sodoma, and been made like unto Gomorrhah.

30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after ^rrighteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith.

31 But Israel, which followed after the law of ^srighteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For they stumbled at that ^tstumblingstone;

33 As it is written, ^uBehold, I lay in Sion a ^vstumblingstone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

CHAPTER 10.

(6) The apparent failure of the promises to Israel explained by their unbelief.

BRETHREN, my heart's desire and prayer to God ^wfor Israel is, that they might be ^xsaved.

2 For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own ^yrighteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.

¹ The word "righteousness" here, and in the passages having marginal references to this, means legal, or self-righteousness; the futile effort of man to work out under law a character which God can approve (Rev. 19. 8, note).

4 For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

5 For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth those things shall live by them.

6 But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above:)

7 Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.)

8 But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach;

9 That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10 For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

11 For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

12 For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him.

13 For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16 But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, who hath believed our report?

17 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

18 But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.

19 But I say, Did not Israel know? First Moses saith, I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

20 But Esaias is very bold, and saith, I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.

21 But to Israel he saith, All day long have I stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAPTER 11.

(7) But spiritual Israel is finding salvation.

I SAY then, Hath God cast away this people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying,

3 Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.

² That Israel has not been forever set aside is the theme of this chapter. (1) The salvation of Paul proves that there is still a remnant (v. 1). (2) The doctrine of the remnant proves it (vs. 2-6). (3) The present national unbelief was foreseen (vs. 7-10). (4) Israel's unbelief is the Gentile opportunity (vs. 11-25). (5) Israel is judicially broken off from the good olive tree, Christ (vs. 17-22). (6) They are to be grafted in again (vs. 23, 24). (7) The promised Deliverer will come out of Zion and the nation will be saved (vs. 25-29). That the Christian now inherits the distinctive Jewish promises is not taught in Scripture. The Christian is of the heavenly seed of Abraham (Gen. 15, 5, 6; Gal. 3, 29), and partakes of the spiritual blessings of the Abrahamic Covenant (Gen. 15, 18, note); but Israel as a nation always has its own place, and is yet to have its greatest exaltation as the earthly people of God. See "Israel" (Gen. 12, 2; Rom. 11, 26); "Kingdom" (Gen. 1, 26-28; Zech. 12, 8).

5 Even so then at this present time also there is a ¹remnant according to the ^belection of grace.

6 And if ^cby grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.

(8) National Israel is judicially blinded.

7 What then? ^dIsrael hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the ^eelection hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded

8 (According as it is written, ^fGod hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.

9 And David saith, ^gLet their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back away.

11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the ^hGentiles, for to provoke them to ⁱjealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the ^jworld, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles; ^khow much more their fulness?

(9) The Gentiles warned.

13 For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office:

14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and inight ^lsave some of them.

16 For if the firstfruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou, being a wild olive tree, wert grafted in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree;

18 Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20 Well; because of ⁿunbelief they were broken off, and thou ^ostandest by faith. Be not ^thighminded, but fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, if they ^qabide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this ^rmystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the ^sfulness of the Gentiles be come in.

¹ Remnant, Summary: In the history of Israel a "remnant" may be discerned, a spiritual Israel within the national Israel. In Elijah's time 7,000 had not bowed the knee to Baal (1 Ki. 19. 18). In Isaiah's time it was the "very small remnant" for whose sake God still forbore to destroy the nation (Isa. 1. 9). During the captivities the remnant appears in Jews like Ezekiel, Daniel, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, Esther and Mordecai. At the end of the 70 years of Babylonian captivity it was the remnant which returned under Ezra and Nehemiah. At the advent of our Lord, John the Baptist, Simeon, Anna, and "them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem" (Lk. 2. 38), were the remnant. During the church-age the remnant is composed of believing Jews (Rom. 11. 4, 5). But the chief interest in the remnant is prophetic. During the great tribulation a remnant out of all Israel will turn to Jesus as Messiah, and will become His witnesses after the removal of the church (Rev. 7. 3-8). Some of these will undergo martyrdom (Rev. 6. 9-11), some will be spared to enter the millennial kingdom (Zech. 12. 6-13. 9). Many of the Psalms express, prophetically, the joys and sorrows of the tribulation remnant.

² The "fulness of the Gentiles" is the completion of the purpose of God in this

(10) Israel is yet to be saved nationally.

26 And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, ^aThere shall come out of Zion the ^bDeliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from ¹Jacob:

27 For this is my ^ccovenant unto ^dthem, when I shall take away their ^esins.

28 As concerning the ^fgospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathes' sakes.

29 For the gifts and calling of God are without ^grepentance.

30 For as ye in times past have not ^hbelieved God, yet have now obtained mercy through their ⁱunbelief:

31 Even so have these also now not ^jbelieved, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

32 For God hath concluded them ^kall in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

34 For who hath known the ^lmind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?

35 Or ^mwho hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

36 For ⁿof him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

age, viz. the outcalling from among the Gentiles of a people for Christ's name, "the church which is His body" (Eph. 1. 22, 23). Cf. Acts 15. 14; Eph. 4. 11-13; 1 Cor. 12. 12, 13. It must be distinguished from "the times of the Gentiles" (Lk. 21. 24).

¹ Summary: Israel, so named from the grandson of Abraham, was chosen for a fourfold mission: (1) To witness to the unity of God in the midst of universal idolatry (Deut. 6. 4, with Isa. 43. 10, 12); (2) to illustrate to the nations the blessedness of serving the true God (Deut. 33. 26-29; 1 Chr. 17. 20, 21; Psa. 144. 15); (3) to receive, preserve, and transmit the Scriptures (Deut. 4. 5-8; Rom. 3. 1, 2); (4) to produce, as to His humanity, the Messiah (Gen. 3. 15; 12. 3; 22. 18; 28. 10-14; 49. 10; 2 Sam. 7. 12-16; Isa. 7. 14; 9. 6; Mt. 1. 1; Rom. 1. 3). According to the prophets, Israel, regathered from all nations, restored to her own land and converted, is yet to have her greatest earthly exaltation and glory. See "Kingdom (O.T.);" (Gen. 1. 26; Zech. 12. 8; N.T., Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24); "Davidic Covenant" (2 Sam. 7. 8-17, note).

13 ^aDistributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality.

14 ^bBless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not.

15 Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.

16 Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits.

(4) The Christian and those without.

17 Recompense to no man evil for evil. ^aProvide things honest in the sight of all men.

18 If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.

19 Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

20 Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.

21 Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER 13.

LET every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, ^bresisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a ^brevenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

5 Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake.

6 For for this cause pay ye ^btribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7 Render therefore to ^aall their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear

(5) The law of love toward the neighbour. (Cf. Lk. 10. 29-37.)

8 ^aOwe no man any thing, but to ^alove one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9 For this, ^aThou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

11 And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12 The night is far spent, the day is at hand: ^alet us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and ^alet us put on the armour of light.

13 Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying.

14 But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

CHAPTER 14.

(6) The law of love concerning doubtful things. (Cf. ¹ Cor. 8. 1-10. 33.)

HIM that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations.

2 For one believeth that he may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

3 Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4 Who art thou that judgest an other man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

5 One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. ^aLet every man be fully persuaded in his own mind.

6 He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

7 For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

9 For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.

10 But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12 So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more; but judge this rather, that no man put a stumblingblock or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.

14 I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.

16 Let not then your good be evil spoken of:

17 For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serveth Christ is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19 Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.

20 For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure; but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21 It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22 Hast thou faith? have it to 23 And he that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER 15.

WE then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. 2 Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification.

3 For even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.

(7) Jewish and Gentile believers are one in salvation.

4 For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

5 Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be like-minded one toward another according to Christ Jesus:

6 That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7 Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us to the glory of God.

8 Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers:

9 And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all ye people.

12 And again, Esaias saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

(8) The apostle speaks of his ministry and coming journey.

14 And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15 Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of ^athe grace that is given to me of God,

16 That I should be the ^bminister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the ^coffering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being ^dsanctified by the Holy Ghost.

17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ in those things which pertain to God.

18 For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed,

19 Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

20 Yea, ^eso have I strived to preach the ^fgospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should ^gbuild upon another man's foundation:

21 But as it is written, ^hTo whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.

22 For which cause also I have been much hindered from coming to you.

23 But now having no more place in these parts, and having a ⁱgreat desire these many years to come unto you;

24 Whosoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I ^jtrust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your ^kcompany.

25 But now I go unto Jerusalem to ^lminister unto the saints.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.

27 It hath pleased them verily; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things,

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

1]

WRITER. The Apostle Paul. His relation to the church at Corinth is set forth in Acts 18. 1-18, and in the Epistles to the Corinthians.

Date. First Corinthians was written in A.D. 59, at the close of Paul's three years' residence in Ephesus (Acts 20. 31; 1 Cor. 16. 5-8).

Theme. The subjects treated are various, but may all be classified under the general theme, Christian conduct. Even the tremendous revelation of the truth concerning resurrection is made to bear upon that theme (1 Cor. 15. 58). The occasion of the Epistle was a letter of inquiry from Corinth concerning marriage, and the use of meats offered to idols (1 Cor. 7. 1; 8. 1-13), but the apostle was much more exercised by reports of the deepening divisions and increasing contentions in the church, and of a case of incest which had not been judged (1. 10-12; 5. 1).

The factions were not due to heresies, but to the carnality of the restless Corinthians, and to their Greek admiration of "wisdom" and eloquence. The abomination of human leadership in the things of God is here rebuked. Minor disorders were due to vanity, yielding to a childish delight in tongues and the sign gifts, rather than to sober instruction (1 Cor. 14. 1-28). Paul defends his apostleship because it involved the authority of the doctrine revealed through him.

A rigid analysis of First Corinthians is not possible. The Epistle is not a treatise, but came from the Spirit through the apostle's grief, solicitude, and holy indignation. The following analysis may, however, be helpful. I. Introduction: The believer's standing in grace, 1. 1-9. II. The contrast of their present factious state, 1. 10-4. 21. III. Immorality rebuked; discipline enjoined, 5. 1-6. 8. IV. The sanctity of the body, and Christian marriage, 6. 9-7. 40. V. Meats, and the limitations of Christian liberty, 8. 1-11. 1. VI. Christian order and the Lord's Supper, 11. 2-34. VII. Spiritual gifts in relation to the body, the church, and Christian ministry, 12. 1-14. 40. VIII. The resurrection of the dead, 15. 1-58. IX. Special directions and greetings, 16. 1-24.

¹ Verses 2-9, in contrast with vs. 10-13, illustrate a distinction constantly made in the Epistles between the believer's position in Christ Jesus, in the family of God, and his walk, or actual state. Christian position in grace is the result of the work of Christ, and is fully entered the moment that Christ is received by faith (John 1. 12, 13; Rom. 8. 1, 15-17; 1 Cor. 1. 2, 30; 12. 12, 13; Gal. 3. 26; Eph. 1. 3-14; 2. 4-9; 1 Pet. 2. 9; Rev. 1. 6; 5. 9, 10). The weakest, most ignorant, and fallible believer has precisely the same relationships in grace as the most illustrious saint. All the after work of God in his behalf, the application of the word to walk and conscience (John 17. 17; Eph. 5. 26), the divine chastenings (1 Cor. 11. 32; Heb. 12. 10), the ministry of the Spirit (Eph. 4. 11, 12), the difficulties and trials of the path (1 Pet. 4. 12, 13), and the final transformation at the appearing of Christ (1 John 3. 2), have for their object to make the believer's character conform to his exalted position in Christ. He goes in grace, not into grace.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no ^ddivisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

(1) They were following human leaders, thus dividing the body of Christ.

11 For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of ^eApollos; and I of ^fCephas; and I of Christ.

13 ^gIs Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gaius; 15 Lest any should say that ^hI had baptized in mine own name.

16 And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the ⁱgospel: not

(2) They were exulting in human wisdom, which is foolishness in the things of God.

18 For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are ^ssaved it is the power of God.

19 For it is written, ^kI will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this ^mworld?

21 For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of ^tpreaching to ^ssave them that believe.

22 For the Jews require a sign, and the ^oGreeks seek after wisdom: 23 But we preach ^pChrist crucified, unto the Jews a ^tstumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness;

¹ Three words are used in connection with the return of the Lord: (1) Parousia. "personal presence," also used by Paul of the "coming" of Stephanas (1 Cor. 16, 17), of Titus (2 Cor. 7, 6, 7), and of his own "coming" to Philippi (Phil. 1, 26). The word means simply personal presence, and is used of the return of the Lord as that event relates to the blessing of saints (1 Cor. 15, 23; 1 Thes. 4, 14, 17), and to the destruction of the man of sin (2 Thes. 2, 8). (2) Apokalupsis, "unveiling," "revelation." The use of this word emphasizes the visibility of the Lord's return. It is used of the Lord (2 Thes. 1, 7; 1 Pet. 1, 7, 13; 4, 13), of the sons of God in connection with the Lord's return (Rom. 8, 19), and of the man of sin (2 Thes. 2, 3, 6, 8), and always implies visibility. (3) Epiphaneia, "appearing," trans. "brightness" (2 Thes. 2, 8, A.V.; "manifestation," R.V.), and means simply an appearing. It is used of both advents (2 Tim. 1, 10; 2 Thes. 2, 8; 1 Tim. 6, 14; 2 Tim. 4, 1, 8; Tit. 2, 13).

² The expression, "day of Christ," occurs in the following passages: 1 Cor. 1, 8; 5, 5; 2 Cor. 1, 14; Phil. 1, 6, 10; 2, 16. A.V. has "day of Christ." 2 Thes. 2, 2, incorrectly, for "day of the LORD" (Isa. 2, 12; Rev. 19, 11-21). The "day of Christ" relates wholly to the reward and blessing of saints at His coming, as "day of the LORD" is connected with judgment.

(b) Spiritual verities are not discoverable by human wisdom.

9 But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

(c) But God has revealed them to prepared men.

10 But God hath revealed them
unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the ^qSpirit of God.

12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the ^rworld, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

(d) The revealed things are taught in words given by the Spirit.

13 Which things also we speak, not in the ^swords which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

(e) The revealed things are spiritually discerned.

14 But the ^tnatural man receiveth not the things of the ^uSpirit of God;
for they are foolishness unto him:
neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

¹ (1) The writers of Scripture invariably affirm, where the subject is mentioned by them at all, that the words of their writings are divinely taught. This, of necessity, refers to the original documents, not to translations and versions; but the labours of competent scholars have brought our English versions to a degree of perfection so remarkable that we may confidently rest upon them as authoritative.

(2) 1 Cor. 2. 9-14 gives the process by which a truth passes from the mind of God to the minds of His people. (a) The unseen things of God are undiscoverable by the natural man (v. 9). (b) These unseen things God has revealed to chosen men (vs. 10-12). (c) The revealed things are communicated in Spirit-taught words (v. 13). This implies neither mechanical dictation nor the effacement of the writer's personality, but only that the Spirit infallibly guides in the choice of words from the writer's own vocabulary (v. 13). (d) These Spirit-taught words, in which the revelation has been expressed, are discerned, as to their true spiritual content, only by the spiritual among believers (1 Cor. 2. 15, 16). See also Rev. 22. 19, note.

² Paul divides men into three classes: psuchikos, "of the senses" (Jas. 3. 15; Jude 19), or "natural," i.e. the Adamic man, unrenewed through the new birth (John 3. 3, s); pneumatikos, "spiritual," i.e. the renewed man as Spirit-filled and walk-

15 But he that is spiritual ^ajudgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man.

16 For whc hath known the ^bmind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAPTER 3.

(5) A carnal state prevents spiritual growth.

AND I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto ^ccarnal, even as unto babes in Christ.

2 I have fed you with milk, and not with meat; for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet ^dcarnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk ^eas men?

4 For while one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; are ye not ^fcarnal?

(6) God only is any thing in Christian service. (Cf. vs. 7.)

5 Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers ^gby whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man?

6 I have planted, Apollos watered; but ^hGod gave the increase.

7 So then ⁱneither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase.

8 Now he that planteth and he that watereth are ^jone; and every man shall receive his own ^kreward according to his own labour.

with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.

10 According to the ^vgrace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

(a) The only foundation.

11 For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

(b) Two kinds of ministry and their result.

12 Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;

13 Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

14 If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a ^wreward.

15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be ^xsaved; yet ^yso as ^zby fire.

16 Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the ^{aa}Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is ^{ab}holy, which temple ye are.

18 Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this ^{ac}world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19 For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, ^{ad}He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

20 And again, ^{ae}The Lord knoweth the ^{af}thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

ing in the Spirit in full communion with God (Eph. 5. 18-20); and sarkikos, "carnal," "fleshly," i.e. the renewed man who, walking "after the flesh," remains a babe in Christ (1 Cor. 3. 1-4). The natural man may be learned, gentle, eloquent, fascinating, but the spiritual content of Scripture is absolutely hidden from him; and the fleshly, or carnal Christian is able to comprehend only its simplest truths, "milk" (1 Cor. 3. 2).

¹ Paul refutes the notion that he and Cephas and Apollos are at variance, mere theologians and rival founders of sects: they are "one." See v. 22, and 1 Cor. 16. 12.

² God, in the N.T. Scriptures, offers to the lost, salvation, and, for the faithful service of the saved, rewards. The passages are easily distinguished by remembering that salvation is invariably spoken of as a free gift (e.g. John 4. 10; Rom. 6. 23; Eph. 2. 8, 9); while rewards are earned by works (Mt. 10. 42; Lk. 19. 17; 1 Cor. 9. 24, 25; 2 Tim. 4. 7, 8; Rev. 2. 10; 22. 12). A further distinction is that salvation is a present possession (Lk. 7. 50; John 3. 36; 5. 24; 6. 47), while rewards are a future attainment, to be given at the coming of the Lord (Mt. 16. 27; 2 Tim. 4. 8; Rev. 22. 12).

21 Therefore let no man glory in men. For all things are your's;

22 Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the ^aworld, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are your's;

23 And ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

CHAPTER 4.

(c) Judgment of Christ's servants is not committed to men.

LET a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God.

2 Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self.

4 For I know nothing ^bby myself; yet am I not hereby ^cjustified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5 Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and ^dwill make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God.

6 And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes; that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.

7 For who maketh thee to differ from another? and ^ewhat hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?

8 ^fNow ye are full, now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and I would to God ye did reign, ^gthat we also might reign with you.

(8) The apostolic example of humility and patience.

9 For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as it were appointed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the ^hworld, and to angels, and to men.

7 Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us:

8 Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in an epistle not to company with fornicators:

10 Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world.

11 But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one no not to eat.

10 Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11 And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body.

14 And God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power.

15 Iles ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What? know ye not that he which is joined to an harlot is one body? for ^atwo, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17 But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.

18 Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body.

(3) Because the body is a temple.

19 What? know ye not that your body is ^bthe temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have ^dof God, and ye are not your own?

20 For ye ^eare bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, ^fand in your spirit, which are God's.

(4) Because God has established marriage.

NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: It is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3 Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4 The wife hath not ^gpower of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5 Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that ^hSatan ⁱtempt you not ^jfor your incontinency.

The regulation of marriage among Gentile believers.

10 And unto the married I command, ^yet not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband ^zput away his wife.

12 But to the rest ¹speak I, not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not ²put her away.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is ³sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your ⁴children unclean; but now are they holy.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt ⁵save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to ⁶every man, as the Lord hath called ⁷every one, so let him walk. And so ordain I ⁸in all ⁹churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man ¹⁰abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the

¹ So far from disclaiming inspiration, the apostle associates his teaching with the Lord's. Cases had arisen (e.g. vs. 12-16), as the Gospel overflowed Jewish limitations, not comprehended in the words of Jesus (Mt. 5. 31, 32; 19. 5-9) which were an instruction, primarily, to Israel. These new conditions demanded authoritative settlement, and only the inspired words of an apostle could give that. See v. 40.

Lord, being a servant, ^ais the Lord's ^bfreeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is Christ's servant.

23 Ye are ^cbought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with ^dGod.

25 Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present distress, I say, that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not ^esinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: ^fbut I spare you.

29 But this I say, brethren, the ^gtime is short: it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none;

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

31 And they that use this ^hworld, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world passeth away.

32 But I would have you ⁱwithout carefulness. He that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that is married careth for the things that are of the ^jworld, how he may please ^khis wife.

34 There is difference ^lalso between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the ^mworld, how she may please ⁿher husband.

35 And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may ^ocast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of ^pher age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he ^qsinneth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless he that standeth

CHAPTER 8.

Part V. Meats, and the limitations of Christian liberty (1 Cor. 8. 1-11. 1).

NOW ^aas touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but ^bcharity edifieth.

2 And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man love God, the same is known of him.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the ^cworld, and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,)

6 But ^dto us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by ^ewhom are all things, and ^fwe by him.

7 Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge: for some with conscience of the idol unto this hour eat it as a thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak is defiled.

8 But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither, if we eat, are we the better; neither, if we eat not, are we the worse.

9 But take heed lest by any means this ^gliberty of your's become a stumblingblock to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple, ^hshall not the conscience of him which is weak be emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols;

11 And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for ^awhom Christ died?

12 But when ye ^bsin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13 Wherefore, if meat make my brother to ^coffend, I will eat no flesh while the ^dworld standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAPTER 9.

Paul vindicates his apostleship.
(Cf. Gal. 1. 11-2. 14.)

AM I not an apostle? am I not free? have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? are not ye my work in the Lord?

2 If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.

3 Mine answer to them that do examine me is this,

4 Have we ^fnot power to eat and to drink?

5 Have we ^fnot power to lead about a ^gsister, a wife, as well as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

6 Or I only and Barnabas, have not we ^hpower to forbear working?

They who preach the Gospel are to live of the Gospel.

7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?

8 Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also?

9 For ⁱit is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 Or saith he ^jit altogether for our sakes? ^jFor our sakes, no doubt, ^kthis is written: that he that ploweth should plow in hope; and that he that thresheth ^kin hope should be partaker of his hope.

itual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your ^lcarnal things?

12 If others be partakers of ^mthis power over you, are not we rather? ^mNevertheless we have not used this power; but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.

13 Do ye not know that they which minister about ⁿholy things ⁿlive of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar?

14 Even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.

15 But I have used none of these things: neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for ^oit were better for me to die, than that any man should make my glorying void.

16 For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!

17 For if I do this thing willingly, I have a ^preward: but if against my will, a dispensation of ^qthe gospel is committed unto me.

18 What is my reward then? Verily that, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not any power in the gospel.

The method and reward of true ministry.

19 For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more.

20 And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law;

21 To them that are without law, as without law, (being not ^rwithout law to God, but ^runder the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law.

22 To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means ^ssave some.

23 And this I do for the ^tgospel's sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

24 Know ye not that they which run in a ^trace run all, but one re-

¹ The expression is peculiar and might be literally rendered, "not lawless toward God, but inlawed to Christ." See "Law (of Christ)," Gal. 6. 2; 2 John 5. It is another way of saying, "not under the law, but under [the rule of] grace" (Rom. 6. 14).

ceiveth the prize? ^aSo run, that ye may obtain.

25 And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an ^bin-corruptible.

26 I therefore so run, ^cnot as uncertainly; so fight I, ^dnot as one that beateth the air:

27 But I ^ekeep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be ^fa ^gcastaway.

CHAPTER 10.

Israel in the wilderness a warning example.

MOREOVER, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea;

2 And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea;

3 And did all eat the same spiritual meat;

4 And did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of ^hthat spiritual ⁱRock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ.

5 But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness.

6 Now these things ^jwere our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as ^kwere some of them; as it is written, ^lThe people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8 Neither let us commit fornication, as ^msome of them committed, and ⁿfell in one day three and twenty thousand.

10 Neither murmur ye, as some of them also ^qmurmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

11 Now all these things happened unto them ^rfor ensamples; and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the ^sworld are come.

12 Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

13 There hath no ^ttemptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation ^ualso make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

14 Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry.

Fellowship at the Lord's table demands separation.

16 The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

17 For we ^vbeing many are one ^wbread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18 Behold Israel after the flesh: are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? that the ^xidol is any thing, or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing?

20 But ^yI say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to ^zdevils, and not to ^{aa}God: and I would not that ye should have ^{ab}fellowship with devils.

¹ Gr. adokimos, "disapproved." Dokimos, without the privative a, is translated "approved" in Rom. 14. 18; 16. 10; 1 Cor. 11. 19; 2 Cor. 10. 18; 2 Tim. 2. 15, and in Jas. 1. 12 by the word "tried." The prefix simply changes the word to a negative, i.e. not approved, or, disapproved. The apostle is writing of service, not of salvation. He is not expressing fear that he may fail of salvation but of his crown. See "Rewards" (Dan. 12. 3; 1 Cor. 3. 14).

7 For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the ^vimage and glory of ^wGod: but the woman is the glory of the man.

25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new ^btestament ^cin my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye ^ddo shew the Lord's death till he come.

27 Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, ^eunworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

CHAPTER 12.

Part VII. Spiritual gifts in the body of Christ for ministry and worship (1 Cor. 12. 1-14. 40).

NOW concerning ²spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2 Ye know that ^mye were Gentiles, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking ⁿby the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed: and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but ^oby the Holy Ghost.

True ministry is the exercise of spiritual gift (Cf. Eph. 4. 7-16.)

4 Now there are diversities of ^ogifts, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diversities of ^poperations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all.

7 But ^qthe manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

8 For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another the

² The word pneumatika, lit. "spirituals," i.e. matters of or from the Holy Spirit, gives the key to Chapters 12., 13., 14. Chapter 12. concerns the Spirit in relation to the body of Christ. This relation is twofold: (1) The baptism with the Spirit forms the body by uniting believers to Christ the risen and glorified Head, and to each other (vs. 12, 13). The symbol of the body thus formed is the natural, human body (v. 12), and all the analogies are freely used (vs. 14-25).

(2) To each believer is given a spiritual enablement and capacity for specific service. No believer is destitute of such gift (vs. 7, 11, 27), but in their distribution the Spirit acts in free sovereignty (v. 11). There is no room for self-choosing, and Christian service is simply the ministry of such gift as the individual may have received (cf. Rom. 12. 4-8). (3) The gifts are diverse (vs. 6, 8-10, 28-30), but all are equally honourable because bestowed by the same Spirit, administered under the same Lord, and energized by the same God.

word of knowledge by the same Spirit;

9 To another ^afaith by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit;

10 To another the working of miracles; to another ¹prophecy; to another ^bdiscerning of spirits; to another ^cdivers kinds of ^ctongues; to another the interpretation of tongues:

11 But all these worketh that one and the selfsame Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.

Every believer is a member of Christ's body and as such has a definite ministry.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ.

13 For by one ^dSpirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or ^eGentiles, whether we be bond or free; ^fand have been all ^gmade to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God set the members every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are ^hthey many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee; nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

22 Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary:

23 And those ^hmembers of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we ^hbestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely ^hparts have more abundant comeliness.

24 For our comely ^hparts have no need; but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that ^hpart which lacked:

25 That there should be no ^hschism in the body; but ^hthat the members should have the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

27 Now ye are the body of Christ, and ^hmembers in particular.

28 ^hAnd God hath ^hset some in ^mthe ^hchurch, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues.

29 ^hAre all apostles? ^hare all prophets? ^hare all teachers? ^hare all workers of miracles?

30 Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet shew I unto you a ^hmore excellent way.

CHAPTER 13.

The ministry gifts must be governed by love.

THOUGH I speak with the tongues of men and of ^oangels, and have not ^hcharity, I am become as sounding brass, or a ^htinkling cymbal.

2 And though I have ^hthe gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not ^hcharity, I am nothing.

3 And though I bestow all my goods to feed ^hthe poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not ^hcharity, it profiteth me nothing.

¹ The N.T. prophet is not ordinarily a foreteller, but rather a forth-teller, one whose gift enabled him to speak "to edification, and exhortation, and comfort" (1 Cor. 14. 3).

² Chapter 13. continues the pneumatika begun in Chapter 12. Gifts are good, but only if ministered in love (13. 1, 2). Benevolence is good, but not apart from love (13. 3). Love is described (13. 4-7). Love is better than our present incomplete knowledge (13. 8-12), and greater than even faith and hope (v. 13).

4 ^aCharity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up.

5 Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;

6 Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth ^bin the truth;

7 Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 ^aCharity ^cnever faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 For we know ^din part, and we prophesy in part.

10 ^eBut when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 For now we see ^fthrough a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, ^gcharity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

CHAPTER 14.

Prophecy is the greatest of the gifts.

FOLLOW after ^hcharity, and desire spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy.

2 For he that speaketh in ⁱan unknown tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man understandeth him; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

A.D. 59.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the ^kchurch may receive edifying.

6 Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?

9 So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the ^lworld, and none of them is without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me.

12 Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the ^medifying of the church.

13 Wherefore let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray ⁿwith the understanding also: I will ^osing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.

¹ The subject is still the pneumatika. Chapter 12. described the gifts and the Body; Chapter 13. the love which alone gives ministry of gift any value; Chapter 14. regulates the ministry of gift in the primitive, apostolic assembly of saints. (1) The important gift is that of prophecy (v. 1). The N.T. prophet was not merely a preacher, but an inspired preacher, through whom, until the N.T. was written, new revelations suited to the new dispensation were given (1 Cor. 14. 29, 30). (2) Tongues and the sign gifts are to cease, and meantime must be used with restraint, and only if an interpreter be present (vs. 1-19, 27, 28). (3) In the primitive church there was liberty for the ministry of all the gifts which might be present, but for prophecy more especially (vs. 23-26, 31, 39). (4) In such meetings, when "the whole church" came together "in one place," women were required to keep silence (vs. 34, 35; cf. 1 Cor. 11. 3-16; 1 Tim. 2. 11-14). (5) These injunctions are declared to be "the commandments of the Lord" (vs. 36, 37).

16 Else when thou shalt bless with the ^ospirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned say Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all:

19 Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20 Brethren, be not ^cchildren in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye ^dchildren, but in understanding be men.

21 In the law it is written, ^eWith men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a ^fsign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not; but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.

The order of the ministry of gift in the local church.

23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, will they not say that ^gye are mad?

24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all:

25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so falling down on his face he will worship ^hGod, and report that God is in you of a truth.

26 How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. ⁱLet all things be done unto edifying.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that ^jby course; and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

32 And the spirits of the prophets are ^lsubject to the prophets.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.

34 Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under ^mobedience, as also saith the law.

40 Let all things be done decently and in order.

CHAPTER 15.

Part VIII. The coming of the Lord and the first resurrection. (Cf. Rev. 20. 5, 11-15.)

(1) The fact of Christ's resurrection.

MOREOVER, brethren, I declare unto you the ^sgospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand;

2 By which also ye are ^tsaved, if ye ^ukeep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain.

3 For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our ^vsins according to the scriptures;

4 And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures;

5 And that he was seen of Cephas, ^wthen of the twelve:

6 After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once: of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

7 After that, he was seen of James; then of all the apostles.

8 And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one ^bborn out of due time.

9 For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the ^cchurch ^bof God.

10 But by the ^cgrace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was ^bbestowed upon me was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.

11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

(2) The importance of Christ's resurrection.

12 Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, ^dhow say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen:

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15 Yea, and we are found false

18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished.

19 If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most ^gmiserable.

(3) The order of the resurrections.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept.

21 For since by man ^hcame death, by man ^hcame also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in ²Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all ⁱbe made alive.

23 But every man in his own order: ^jChrist the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming.

24 ^kThen cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the

³ ^lkingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.

25 For he must reign, ^mtill he hath put all enemies under his feet.

¹ Gr. to ektromati, "before the due time." Paul thinks of himself here as an Israelite whose time to be born again had not come, nationally (cf. Mt. 23. 39), so that his conversion by the appearing of the Lord in glory (Acts 9. 3-6) was an illustration, or instance before the time, of the future national conversion of Israel. See Ezek. 20. 35-38; Hos. 2. 14-17; Zech. 12. 10-13. 6; Rom. 11. 25-27.

² Adam was a contrasting type of Christ (vs. 45-47; cf. Rom. 5. 14-19). (1) "The first man Adam was made a living soul" (Gen. 2. 7), i.e. he derived life from another, that is, God. "The last Adam was a life-giving spirit." So far from deriving life, He was Himself the fountain of life, and He gave that life to others (John 1. 4; 5. 21; 10. 10; 12. 24; 1 John 5. 12). (2) In origin the first man was of the earth, earthy; the Second Man is the Lord from heaven. (3) Each is the head of a creation, and these also are in contrast: in Adam all die; in Christ all will be made alive; the Adamic creation is "flesh"; the new creation, "spirit" (John 3. 6).

³ Kingdom (N.T.), Summary: See "Kingdom (O.T.," (Gen. 1. 26-28; Zech. 12. 8, note). Kingdom truth is developed in the N.T. in the following order: (1) The promise of the kingdom to David and his seed, and described in the prophets (2 Sam. 7. 8-17, refs.; Zech. 12. 8), enters the N.T. absolutely unchanged (Lk. 1. 31-33). The King was born in Bethlehem (Mt. 2. 1; Mic. 5. 2), of a virgin (Mt. 1. 18-25; Isa. 7. 14). (2) The kingdom announced as "at hand" (Mt. 4. 17, note) by John the Baptist, by the King, and by the Twelve, was rejected by the Jews, first morally (Mt. 11. 20, note), and afterward officially (Mt. 21. 42, 43), and the King, crowned with thorns, was crucified. (3) In anticipation of His official rejection and crucifixion, the King revealed the "mysteries" of the kingdom of heaven (Mt. 13. 11, note) to be fulfilled in the interval between His rejection and His return in glory (Mt. 13. 1-50). (4) Afterward He announced His purpose to "build" His church (Mt. 16. 18, refs.), another "mystery" revealed through Paul which is being fulfilled contemporaneously with the mysteries of the kingdom. The "mysteries of the kingdom of heaven" and 26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.

27 For he hath put ^aall things under his feet. But when he saith all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him.

28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, ^bthen shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the ^cdead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?

men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.

41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.

42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:

43 It is ^usown in dishonour; it is raised in glory; it is sown in weakness; ^vit is raised in power:

44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 And so it is written, ^wThe first man Adam ^xwas made a living soul; the last Adam ^ywas made a quickening spirit.

46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.

47 The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.

48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall ^zalso bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

(5) All believers will not die.
(Cf. 1 Thes. 4. 14-17.)

51 Behold, I ^{aa}shew you a ^{ab}mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,

52 In a moment, in the twinkling

the "mystery" of the church (Eph. 3, 9-11) occupy, historically, the same period, i.e. this present age. (5) The mysteries of the kingdom will be brought to an end by the "harvest" (Mt. 13. 39-43, 49, 50) at the return of the King in glory, the church having previously been caught up to meet Him in the air (1 Thes. 4. 14-17). (6) Upon His return the King will restore the Davidic monarchy in His own person, re-gather dispersed Israel, establish His power over all the earth, and reign one thousand years (Mt. 24. 27-30; Lk. 1. 31-33; Acts 15. 14-17; Rev. 20. 1-10). (7) The kingdom of heaven (Mt. 3. 2, note), thus established under David's divine Son, has for its object the restoration of the divine authority in the earth, which may be regarded as a revolted province of the great kingdom of God (Mt. 6. 33, note). When this is done (vs. 24, 25) the Son will deliver up the kingdom (of heaven, Mt. 3. 2) to "God, even the Father," that "God" (i.e. the true God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit) "may be all in all" (v. 28). The eternal throne is that "of God, and of the Lamb" (Rev. 22. 1). The kingdom-age constitutes the seventh Dispensation (Eph. 1. 10, note).

of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be ^{1a}raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on ^bincorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

(6) The final victory over death.

54 So when this corruptible shall have put on ^bincorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, ^cDeath is swallowed up in victory.

55 ^dO death, where is thy sting? ^eO grave, where is thy victory?

56 The sting of death is ^fsin; and the strength of sin is the ^glaw.

57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

(7) The ultimate victory a motive to service.

58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

¹ Resurrection, Summary: (1) The resurrection of the dead was believed by the patriarchs (Gen. 22. 5 with Heb. 11. 19; Job 19. 25-27), and revealed through the prophets (Isa. 26. 19; Dan. 12. 2, 13; Hos. 13. 14), and miracles of the dead restored to life are recorded in the O.T. (2 Ki. 4. 32-35; 13. 21). (2) Jesus Christ restored life to the dead (Mt. 9. 25; Lk. 7. 12-15; John 11. 43, 44), and predicted His own resurrection (John 10. 18; Lk. 24. 1-8). (3) A resurrection of bodies followed the resurrection of Christ (Mt. 27. 52, 53); and the apostles raised the dead (Acts 9. 36-41; 20. 9, 10). (4) Two resurrections are yet future, which are inclusive of "all that are in the graves" (John 5. 28). These are distinguished as "of life" (1 Cor. 15. 22, 23; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17; Rev. 20. 4), and "of judgment" (John 5. 28, 29; Rev. 20. 11-13). They are separated by a period of one thousand years (Rev. 20. 5). The "first resurrection," that "unto life," will occur at the second coming of Christ (1 Cor. 15. 23), the saints of the O.T. and church ages meeting Him in the air (1 Thes. 4. 16, 17); while the martyrs of the tribulation, who also have part in the first resurrection (Rev. 20. 4), are raised at the end of the great tribulation. (5) The mortal body will be related to the resurrection body as grain sown is related to the harvest (1 Cor. 15. 37, 38); that body will be incorruptible, glorious, powerful, and spiritual (1 Cor. 15. 42-44, 49). (6) The bodies of living believers will, at the same time, be instantaneously changed (1 Cor. 15. 50-53; Phil. 3. 20, 21). This "change" of the living, and resurrection of the dead in Christ, is called the "redemption of the body" (Rom. 8. 23; Eph. 1. 13, 14). (7) After the thousand years the "resurrection unto judgment" (John 5. 29) occurs. The resurrection-body of the wicked dead is not described. They are judged according to their works, and cast into the lake of fire (Rev. 20. 7-15).

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

1 1]

[1 15

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. A.D. 60; probably from Philippi, after the events of Acts 19. 23-20. 1-3.

Theme. The Epistle discloses the touching state of the great apostle at this time. It was one of physical weakness, weariness, and pain. But his spiritual burdens were greater. These were of two kinds—solicitude for the maintenance of the churches in grace as against the law-teachers, and anguish of heart over the distrust felt toward him by Jews and Jewish Christians. The chilling doctrines of the legalizers were accompanied by detraction, and by denial of his apostleship.

It is evident that the really dangerous sect in Corinth was that which said, "and I of Christ" (1 Cor. 1. 12). They rejected the new revelation through Paul of the doctrines of grace; grounding themselves, probably, on the kingdom teachings of our Lord as "a minister of the circumcision" (Rom. 15. 8); seemingly oblivious that a new dispensation had been introduced by Christ's death. This made necessary a defence of the origin and extent of Paul's apostolic authority.

The Epistle is in three parts: I. Paul's principles of action, 1. 1-7. 16. II. The collection for the poor saints at Jerusalem, 8. 1-9. 15. III. Paul's defence of his apostolic authority, 10. 1-13. 14.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Paul's principles of action (2 Cor. 1. 1-7. 16).

(1) The explanation.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia: 2 Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer; or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 And our hope of you is steadfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

v 1 Cor.1.8, note.

8 For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of your trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life:

9 But we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead:

10 Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us;

11 Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

12 For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward.

13 For we write none other things unto you, than what ye have read or acknowledged; and I trust ye shall acknowledge even to the end;

14 As also ye have acknowledged us in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are our's in the day of the Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have a second benefit;

16 And to pass by you into Macedonia, and to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought ^uon my way toward Judæa.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the ^bflesh, that with me there should be yea yea, and nay nay?

18 But as God is true, our word toward you was not yea and nay.

19 For the ^vSon of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea.

20 For all the promises of God ^din him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.

21 Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath ^{anointed} us, is God;

22 Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the ^fSpirit in our hearts.

23 Moreover I call God for a record upon my soul, that to spare you I came not as yet unto Corinth.

24 Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

CHAPTER 2.

The explanation, continued.

BUT I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in ^hheaviness.

2 For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part; that I may not overcharge you all.

6 Sufficient to such a man is this ^hpunishment, which was ⁱinflicted of many.

7 So that contrariwise ye ought rather to ^fforgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

8 Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him.

9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom ^kI forgave it, for your sakes for gave I it in the person of Christ;

11 Lest ^lSatan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's ^mgospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord,

13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia.

(2) The ministry (to 6. 10):

(a) triumphant.

14 Now thanks be unto God, which always ⁿcauseth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15 For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are ^osaved, and in them that ^pperish:

16 To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto ^qlife. And who is sufficient for these things?

17 For we are not as many, which ^rcorrupt the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we in Christ.

CHAPTER 3.

The ministry: (b) accredited.

DO we begin again to commend ourselves? or need we, as some ^sothers, epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2 Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men:

3 Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the ^tSpirit of the living God; not ^uin ^vtables of stone, but in ^wfleshy tables of the heart.

4 And such trust have we through Christ to God-ward:

5 Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God;

The ministry: (c) spiritual and glorious—not legal.

6 Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit; ^bfor the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.

7 But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, ^cwas glorious, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away:

8 How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of ^drighteousness exceed in glory.

10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the ^eglory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great ^fplainness of speech.

13 And not as ^gMoses, which put a veil over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to the end of that which is ^habolished:

14 But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same veil untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which ⁱveil is done away in Christ.

15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, ^jthe veil is upon their heart.

16 Nevertheless when ^kit shall turn to the ^lLord, the veil shall be taken away.

17 Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18 But we all, with ^mopen face beholding as in a glass the glory of the ⁿLord, are ^ochanged into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

(Because the truth taught is commended by the life.)

2 But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.

(Because not self but Christ Jesus as Lord is preached.)

3 But if our ^ggospel be ^hhid, it is hid to them that are lost:

4 In whom ⁱthe god of this ^jworld hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the ^klight of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

5 For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your ^lservants for Jesus' sake.

6 For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to ^mgive the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

(Because the power is of God alone. Cf. 1 Cor. 2. 1-5.)

7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

The ministry: (e) suffering.

8 We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair;

9 Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

10 Always bearing about in the body the ⁿdying of the Lord Jesus, that the ^olife also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.

11 For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12 So then death worketh in us, but life in you.

13 We having the same ^pspirit of faith, according as it is written, ^qI believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak;

14 Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

15 For all things are for your sakes, that the ^rabundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God.

16 For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory;

18 While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAPTER 5.

(Why death itself has no terrors for the servant of the Lord.)

FOR we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2 For in this we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:

3 If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

5 Now he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

6 Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord:

7 (For we walk by faith, not by sight:)

8 We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9 Wherefore we labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.

10 For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

13 For whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

The ministry: (f) motive and object.

14 For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead:

15 And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16 Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation:

19 To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21 For he hath made him to be

¹ The judgment of the believer's works, not sins, is in question here. These have been atoned for, and are "remembered no more forever" (Heb. 10. 17); but every work must come into judgment (Mt. 12. 36; Rom. 14. 10; Gal. 6. 7; Eph. 6. 8; Col. 3. 24, 25). The result is "reward" or "loss" (of the reward), "but he himself shall be saved" (1 Cor. 3. 11-15). This judgment occurs at the return of Christ (Mt. 16. 27; Lk. 14. 14; 1 Cor. 4. 5; 2 Tim. 4. 8; Rev. 22. 12). See other judgments, John 12. 31, note; 1 Cor. 11. 31, note; Mt. 25. 32, note; Ezk. 20. 37, note; Jude 6, note; Rev. 20. 12, note.

sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might ^bbe made the righteousness of God in him.

The ministry: (g) summary.

WE then as ^dworkers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the ^egrace of God in vain.

2 (For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of ^ssalvation.)

3 Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

4 But in all ^hthings ^aapproving ourselves as the ⁱministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

6 By pureness, by knowledge, by longsuffering, by kindness, by the ^jHoly Ghost, by love unfeigned,

7 By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of ^krighteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: ^las deceivers, and yet true;

9 As unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and, behold, we live; as chastened, and not killed;

10 As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet ^mpossessing all things.

13 Now for a recompence in the same, (I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.

14 Be ye not ⁿunequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath ^orighteousness with ^punrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

¹ Separation, Summary: (1) Separation in Scripture is twofold: "from" whatever is contrary to the mind of God; and "unto" God Himself. The underlying principle is that in a moral universe it is impossible for God to fully bless and use His children who are in compromise or complicity with evil. The unequal yoke is anything which unites a child of God and an unbeliever in a common purpose (Deut. 22. 10). (2) Separation from evil implies (a) separation in desire, motive, and act. from the world, in the ethically bad sense of this present world-system (see Rev. 13. 8, note); and (b) separation from believers, especially false teachers, who are "vessels unto dishonour" (2 Tim. 2. 20, 21; 2 John 9-11). (3) Separation is not from contact with evil in the world or the church, but from complicity with and conformity to it (John 17. 15; 2 Cor. 6. 14-18; Gal. 6. 1). (4) The reward of separation is the full manifestation of the divine fatherhood (2 Cor. 6. 17, 18); unhindered communion and worship (see Heb. 13. 13-15), and fruitful service (2 Tim. 2. 21), as world-conformity involves the loss of these, though not of salvation. Here, as in all else, Christ is the model. He was "holy, harmless, undefiled, and separate from sinners" (Heb. 7. 26), and yet in such contact with them for their salvation that the Pharisees, who illustrate the mechanical and ascetic conception of separation (Mt. 3. 7, note), judged Him as having lost His Nazarite character (Lk. 7. 39). Cf. 1 Cor. 9. 19-23; 10. 27.

no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.

3 I speak not this to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you: I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 For, when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side; without were fightings, within were fears.

6 Nevertheless God, that ^acomforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus;

7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not ^brepent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to ^crepentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.

10 For godly ^dsorrow worketh repentance to ^esalvation ^fnot to be repented of: but the sorrow of the ^gworld worketh death.

11 For behold this selfsame thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what ^hclearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before Titus, is found a truth.

15 And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 I rejoice therefore that I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAPTER 8.

Part II The collection for the poor (2 Cor. 8. 1-9. 15).

(1) The example of Macedonia.

¹ MOREOVER, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia;

2 How that in a great trial of affliction the ^aabundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality.

3 For to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves;

4 Praying us with much intreaty ^bthat we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, ^kbut first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God.

6 Inasmuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same ^lgrace also.

(2) The exhortation.

7 Therefore as ye abound in

¹ In 2 Cor. 8. 9., the apostle sums up the Christian doctrine of giving. It may be thus summarized: (1) It is a "grace," i.e. a disposition created by the Spirit (8. 7). (2) In contrast with the law, which imposed giving as a divine requirement, Christian giving is voluntary, and a test of sincerity and love (8. 8-12; 9. 1, 2, 5, 7). (3) The privilege is universal, belonging, according to ability, to rich and poor (8. 1-3, 12-15. Cf. 1 Cor. 16. 1, 2). (4) Giving is to be proportioned to income (8. 12-14. Cf. 1 Cor. 16. 2). The O.T. proportion was the tithe, a proportion which antedates the law (Gen. 14. 20). (5) The rewards of Christian giving are (a) joy (8. 2); (b) increased ability to give in proportion to that which has been already given (9. 7-11); (c) increased thankfulness to God (9. 12); (d) God and the Gospel glorified (9. 13, 14).

every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also.

8 I ^aspeak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 For ye know the ^bgrace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he became ^cpoor, that ye through his poverty might be ^drich.

10 And herein I give my advice: for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago.

11 Now therefore ^eperform the doing of it; that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a ^fperformance also out of that which ye have.

12 For if there be first a ^gwilling mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 For I mean not that other men be eased, and ye burdened:

14 But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a ^hsupply for their want, that their abundance also may be a ⁱsupply for your want: that there may be equality:

15 As it is written, ^jHe that had gathered much had nothing over; and he that had gathered little had no lack.

(3) The messengers.

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

17 For indeed he accepted the exhortation; but being ^kmore forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the ^lgospel throughout all the churches;

19 And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with ^mthis grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and ⁿdeclaration of your ready mind:

20 Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us:

21 ^oProviding for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many

23 Whether any do enquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellow-helper concerning you: or our brethren be enquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the ^achurches, the proof of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf.

CHAPTER 9.

FOR as touching the ^bministering to the saints, it is ^csuperfluous for me to write to you:

2 For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many.

3 Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf; that, as I said, ye may be ready:

4 Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your bounty, whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a ^dmatter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

(4) The encouragement: God loves a cheerful giver; if we give, he will give.

6 But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth ^ebountifully shall reap also bountifully.

7 Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a ^fcheerful giver.

8 And God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all ^gthings, may abound to every good work:

9 (As it is written, ^hHe hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor: his ⁱrighteousness remaineth for ever.

10 Now he that ministereth seed to the sower both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness;)

11 Being enriched in every thing to all bountifulness, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12 For the administration of this service not only supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God;

13 Whiles by the experiment of this ministration they glorify God for your professed subjection unto the ^agospel of Christ, and for your liberal distribution unto them, and unto all men;

14 And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding ^bgrace of God in you.

15 Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift.

CHAPTER 10.

Part III. The vindication of Paul's apostleship (2 Cor. 10. 1-13. 14.) (Cf. Gal. 1. 11-2. 14.)

(1) The divine authentication.

NOW I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who in ^dpresence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you:

2 But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, ^ewherewith I think to be bold against some, which think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the ^fflesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not ^gscarnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;)

5 ^hCasting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and ⁱbringing into captivity every thought ^jto the obedience of Christ; 6 And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Do ye look on things after the ^koutward appearance? If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Christ's, even so are we Christ's.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our ^lauthority, which the Lord hath given us for ^mmedification, and not for your ⁿdestruction, I should not be ashamed:

9 That I may not seem as if I would terrify you by letters.

10 For his letters, say they, are weighty and powerful; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible.

11 Let such an one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

12 For ^owe dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise.

13 But we will not boast of things without ^{our} measure, but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14 For we stretch not ourselves beyond ^{our} measure, as though we reached not unto you: for we are come as far as to you also in ^{preaching} the ^{gospel} of Christ:

15 Not boasting of things without ^{our} measure, that is, ^{of} other men's labours; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly,

16 To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's line of things made ready to our hand.

17 But he that glorieth, let him glory in the ^{Lord}.

18 For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAPTER 11.

(2) The godly jealousy.

WOULD to God ye could bear with me a little in my folly: and indeed bear with me.

2 For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have ^{espoused} you to one husband, that I may present you ^{as} a chaste virgin to Christ.

3 But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent ^{beguiled} Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

4 For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or ^{another} gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him.

5 For I suppose I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.

6 But though I be ^arude in speech, yet not in knowledge; but we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

7 Have I committed an ^boffence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the ^cgospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.

10 As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, ^dthat I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

(3) The warning against false teachers.

13 For such are ^efalse apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.

14 And no marvel; for ^fSatan himself ^gis transformed into an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also ^hbe transformed as the ministers of ⁱrighteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.

(4) The enforced boasting
(to 12. 18).

16 I say again, Let no man think me a fool; if otherwise, yet as a fool receive me, that I may boast myself a little.

17 That which I speak, I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, in this confidence of boasting.

18 Seeing that many glory after the ^jflesh, I will glory also.

19 For ye suffer fools gladly, seeing ye yourselves are wise.

20 For ye suffer, ^kif a man bring you into bondage, ^lif a man devour you, ^mif a man take of you, ⁿif a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face.

21 I speak as concerning ^oreproach, as though we had been weak. Howbeit whereinsoever any is bold, (I speak foolishly,) I am bold also.

22 Are they ^pHebrews? so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I.

23 Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool) I am more; in labours more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft.

24 Of the Jews five times received I forty ^qstripes save one.

25 Thrice was I ^rbeaten with rods, once was I ^sstoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a ^tnight and a day I have been in the deep;

26 In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in ^uperils of robbers, in perils by mine own countrymen, in perils by the ^vheathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren;

27 In weariness and painfulness, in ^wwatchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

28 Beside those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the ^xcare of all the ^ychurches.

29 Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burn not?

30 If I must needs glory, ^zI will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.

31 The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^awhich is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 In ^bDamascus the governor under Aretas the king kept the city of the Damascenes with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me:

33 And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAPTER 12.

IT is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.

2 I ^cknew a man in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;) such an one caught up to the ^dthird heaven.

3 And I knew such a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;)

4 How that he was caught up into ^aparadise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not ^blawful for a man to utter.

5 Of such an one will I glory: yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool: for I will say the truth: but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a ^{1d}thorn in the flesh, the messenger of ^cSatan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said unto me, ^fMy grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made ^gperfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my ^hinfirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

10 Therefore I take pleasure in ⁱinfirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in ^jdistresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become a fool in glorying; ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, ^kthough I be nothing.

12 Truly the ^lsigns of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other ^mchurches, except it be that I myself was not burdensome to you? forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you: ⁿfor I seek not your's, but you. for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

¹ It has been conjectured that Paul's "thorn in the flesh" was chronic ophthalmia, inducing bodily weakness, and a repulsive appearance (Gal. 4. 15; 1 Cor. 2. 3, 4; 2 Cor. 10. 10). This cannot be positively known, and the reserve of Scripture is as sure a mark of inspiration as its revelations. Paul's particular "thorn" is not described that his consolations may avail for all to whom any thorn is given.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

1 1]

GALATIANS.

[1 10

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Galatians was probably written A.D. 60, during Paul's third visit to Corinth. The occasion of the Epistle is evident. It had come to Paul's knowledge that the fickle Galatians, who were not Greeks, but Gauls, "a stream from the torrent of barbarians which poured into Greece in the third century before Christ," had become the prey of the legalizers, the Judaizing missionaries from Palestine.

Theme. The theme of Galatians is the vindication of the Gospel of the grace of God from any admixture of law-conditions, which qualify or destroy its character of pure grace.

The Galatian error had two forms, both of which are refuted. The first is the teaching that obedience to the law is mingled with faith as the ground of the sinner's justification; the second, that the justified believer is made perfect by keeping the law. Paul meets the first form of the error by a demonstration that justification is through the Abrahamic Covenant (Gen. 15, 18), and that the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after the confirmation of that covenant, and the true purpose of which was condemnation, not justification, cannot disannul a salvation which rests upon the earlier covenant. Paul meets the second and more subtle form by vindicating the office of the Holy Spirit as Sanctifier.

The book is in seven parts: I. Salutation, 1. 1-5. II. Theme, 1. 6-9. III. Paul's Gospel is a revelation, 1. 10-2. 14. IV. Justification is by faith without law, 2. 15-3. 24. V. The rule of the believer's life is gracious, not legal, 3. 25-5. 15. VI. Sanctification is through the Spirit, not the law, 5. 16-24. VII. Exhortations and conclusion, 5. 25-6. 18.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Salutation (vs. 1-5).

PAUL, an apostle, (not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead;)

2 And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia:

3 Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

moved from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel;

7 Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

Part III. Paul's gospel is a revelation, not a tradition from the other apostles (Gal. 1. 10-2. 14).

10 For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

² The demonstration is as follows: (1) The Galatians know Paul, that he is no seeker after popularity (v. 10). (2) He puts his known character back of the assertion that his Gospel of grace was a revelation from God (vs. 11, 12). (3) As for the 11 But I certify you, brethren, that the ^agospel which was preached of me is not after ^bman.

12 For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the ^crevelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the ^{1d}Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted ^ethe church of God, and wasted it:

14 And profited in the Jews' ²religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, who ^fseparated me from my mother's womb, and ^gcalled me by his grace,

16 To reveal his Son ⁴ⁱⁿ me, that I might preach him among the ^hheathen; immediately I ^jconferred not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me; but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

18 Then after three years I ^kwent up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19 But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's ^lbrother.

20 Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.

21 Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia;

22 And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judæa which were in Christ:

23 But they had ^mheard only, that he which persecuted us in times past now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they ⁿglorified God in me.

2 And I went up by ^{revelation}, and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but ^{privately} to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run, in ^{vain}.

3 But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of ^{false} brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our ^{liberty} which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage:

5 To whom we ^{gave} place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that the ^{truth} of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But of these who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God ^{accepteth} no man's person:) for they who seemed to be ^{somewhat} in conference added nothing to me:

7 But contrariwise, when they saw that the gospel of the ^{uncircumcision} was committed unto me, as ^{the gospel} of the ^{circumcision} was unto Peter;

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me toward the Gentiles:)

9 And when ^{James}, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the ^{grace} that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the ^{right} hands of fellowship; that we ^{should go} unto the ^{heathen}, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only ^{they would} that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do.

11 But when Peter was come to ^{Antioch}, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certain came from James, he did ^{eat} with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and ^{separated} him-

Judaizers, Paul himself had been a foremost Jew, and had forsaken Judaism for something better (vs. 13, 14). (4) He had preached grace years before he saw any of the other apostles (vs. 15-24). (5) When he did meet the other apostles they had nothing to add to his revelations (2. 1-6). (6) The other apostles fully recognized Paul's apostleship (2. 7-10). (7) If the legalizers pleaded Peter's authority, the answer was that he himself had claimed none when rebuked (2. 11-14).

¹ The new dispensation of grace having come in, the Mosaic system, if still persisted in, becomes a mere "Jews' religion."

² The word "religion," Gr. threskeia = "religious service," is used but five times in the N.T.: (1) In a bad sense, Acts 26. 5; Gal. 1. 14; Jas. 1. 26; Col. 2. 18 ("worshipping"); (2) in the sense of a believer's good works, Jas. 1. 27. It is never used as synonymous with salvation or spirituality.

self, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the ^ggospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

Part IV. Justification is by faith without law (Gal. 2. 15-3. 24).

(1) Even Jews must be so justified.

15 ¹We who are ^cJews by nature, and not ^dsinners of the Gentiles,

16 Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the ^ffaith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in ^gJesus Christ, that we might be ^hjustified by the faith of Christ, and ⁱnot by the works of the law; for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 But if, while ²we seek to be justified ^bby Christ, we ourselves also are found ^dsinners, is therefore Christ the ^kminister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I ^bbuild again the things which I destroyed, I make myself a ^dtransgressor.

(2) The law has already executed its sentence upon the believer.

19 For I through the law am ^mdead to the law, that I might live unto God.

(3) The Christian life is the out-living of the inliving Christ. (Cf. Gal. 5. 15-23.)

20 I am ⁿcrucified with Christ: nevertheless ^oI live; yet ^pnot I, but Christ liveth in me; and the ^qlife which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

(4) To mingle law-works with grace in justification frustrates grace.

21 I do not frustrate the ^rgrace of God: for if ^srighteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead ⁱⁿvain.

CHAPTER 3.

(5) The gift of the Spirit is by faith, not by law-works.

O FOOLISH Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2 This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the ^uhearing of faith?

3 Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made ^vperfect by the ^wflesh?

4 Have ye suffered so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.

5 He therefore that ^xministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

(6) The Abrahamic Covenant is a by-faith covenant. (Cf. Rom. 4. 1-22.)

6 Even as Abraham ^ybelieved ^zGod, and it was ^aaccounted to him for righteousness.

7 Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are ^bthe children of Abraham.

8 And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the ^cheathen through faith, preached before the ^dgospel unto Abraham, saying, ^eIn thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with ^ffaithful Abraham.

(7) The man under law-works is under the curse of the law.

10 For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, ^gCursed is every one that continueth not in all

² That is, "we" Jews. (See Rom. 3. 19-23.) The passage might be thus paraphrased: If we Jews, in seeking to be justified by faith in Christ, take our places as mere sinners, like the Gentiles, is it therefore Christ who makes us sinners? By no means. It is by putting ourselves again under law after seeking justification through Christ, that we act as if we were still unjustified sinners, seeking to become righteous through law-works. (Cf. Gal. 5. 1-4.)

things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

11 But that no man is ^ajustified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, ^bThe just shall live by faith.

12 And the law is ^cnot of faith: but, ^dThe man that doeth them shall live in them.

(8) Christ has borne our law-curse that we might have the faith-blessing.

13 Christ hath ^eredeemed us from the curse of the law, being ^fmade a ^gcurse for us: for it is written, ^hCursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

14 That the ⁱblessing of Abraham might come on the ^jGentiles through ^kJesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the ^lSpirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; Though it be but a man's covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto.

16 Now to ^mAbraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to ⁿseeds, as of many; but as of ^oone, And to thy seed, which is Christ.

(9) The law does not add a new condition to the Abrahamic covenant of faith.

17 And this I say, that the cove- nant, that was confirmed before of ¹God in Christ, the law, which was ²four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For ³if the inheritance ^{be} of the law, it is no more of promise: but God ⁴gave it to Abraham by promise.

(10) The true intent of the law is condemnation, and as a preparatory discipline.

19 ¹Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added ²because of transgressions, till the ³seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not a ⁴mediator of one, but God is one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily ⁵righteousness should have been by the law.

22 But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.

24 Wherefore the ⁶law was our schoolmaster ⁷to bring us ⁸unto

¹ The answer is sixfold: (1) The law was added because of transgressions, i. e. to give to sin the character of transgression. (a) Men had been sinning before Moses, but in the absence of law their sins were not put to their account (Rom. 5. 12); the law gave to sin the character of "transgression," i. e. of personal guilt. (b) Also, since men not only continued to transgress after the law was given, but were provoked to transgress by the very law which forbade it (Rom. 7. 8), the law conclusively proved the inveterate sinfulness of man's nature (Rom. 7. 11-13). (2) The law, therefore, "concluded all under sin" (cf. Rom. 3. 19, 20, 23). (3) The law was an ad interim dealing, "till the seed should come" (v. 19). (4) The law shut sinful man up to faith as the only avenue of escape (v. 23). (5) The law was to the Jews what the pedagogue was in a Greek household, a ruler of children in their minority, and it had this character "unto" (i. e. until) Christ (v. 24). (6) Christ having come, the believer is no longer under the pedagogue (v. 25).

² I. The law of Moses, Summary: (1) The Mosaic Covenant was given to Israel in three parts: the commandments, expressing the righteous will of God (Ex. 20. 1-26); the "judgments," governing the social life of Israel (Ex. 21. 1-24. 11), and the "ordinances," governing the religious life of Israel (Ex. 24. 12-31. 18). (2) The commandments and ordinances were one complete and inseparable whole. When an Israelite sinned, he was held "blameless" if he brought the required offering (Lk. 1. 6; Phil. 3. 6). (3) Law, as a method of the divine dealing with man, characterized the dispensation extending from the giving of the law to the death of Jesus Christ (Gal. 3. 13, 14, 23, 24). (4) The attempt of legalistic teachers (e. g. Acts 15. 1-31; Gal. 2. 1-5) to mingle law with grace as the divine method for this present dispensation of grace, brought out the true relation of the law to the Christian, viz.

II. The Christian doctrine of the law: (1) Law is in contrast with grace. Under Christ, that we might be ^ajustified by faith.

Part V. The rule of the believer's life is gracious, not legal (Gal. 3. 25-5. 15).

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a ¹school-master.

(1) The justified believer is a son in the family of God, not a servant under the law.

26 For ye are all ^bthe children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

27 For as many of you as have been ^cbaptized ^dinto Christ have put on Christ.

28 There is ^eneither Jew nor Greek, there is neither ^fbond nor free, there is neither ^gmale nor female: for ye are all ^hone in Christ Jesus.

29 And if ye ⁱbe Christ's, then are ye ^jAbraham's seed, and ^ktheirs according to the promise.

6 And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the ^tSpirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an ^uheir of God through Christ.

(4) To lapse into legality is to go back to an elementary religion.

8 Howbeit then, when ye knew not God, ye ^vdid service unto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the ^wweak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye ^xdesire again to be in bondage?

10 Ye ^yobserve days, and months, and times, and years.

the latter God bestows the righteousness which, under law, He demanded (Ex. 19. 5; John 1. 17; Rom. 3. 21, note; 10. 3-10; 1 Cor. 1. 30). (2) The law is, in itself, holy, just, good, and spiritual (Rom. 7. 12-14). (3) Before the law the whole world is guilty, and the law is therefore of necessity a ministry of condemnation, death, and the divine curse (Rom. 3. 19; 2 Cor. 3. 7-9; Gal. 3. 10). (4) Christ bore the curse of the law, and redeemed the believer both from the curse and from the dominion of the law (Gal. 3. 13; 4. 5-7). (5) Law neither justifies a sinner nor sanctifies a believer (Gal. 2. 16; 3. 2, 3, 11, 12). (6) The believer is both dead to the law and redeemed from it, so that he is "not under the law, but under grace" (Rom. 6. 14; 7. 4; Gal. 2. 19; 4. 4-7; 1 Tim. 1. 8, 9). (7) Under the new covenant of grace the principle of obedience to the divine will is inwrought (Heb. 10. 16). So far is the life of the believer from the anarchy of self-will that he is "inlawed to Christ" (1 Cor. 9. 21), and the new "law of Christ" (Gal. 6. 2; 2 John 5) is his delight; while, through the indwelling Spirit, the righteousness of the law is fulfilled in him (Rom. 8. 2-4; Gal. 5. 16-18). The commandments are used in the distinctively Christian Scriptures as an instruction in righteousness (2 Tim. 3. 16; Rom. 13. 8-10; Eph. 6. 1-3; 1 Cor. 9. 8, 9).

¹ Gr. paidagogos, "child-conductor." "Among the Greeks and Romans, persons, for the most part slaves, who had it in charge to educate and give constant attendance upon boys till they came of age."—H. A. W. Meyer. The argument does not turn upon the extent or nature of the pedagogue's authority, but upon the fact that it wholly ceased when the "child" (4. 1) became a "son" (4. 1-6), when the minor became an adult. The adult "son" does voluntarily that which formerly he did in fear of the pedagogue. But even if he does not, it is no longer a question between the son and the pedagogue (the law), but between the son and his Father—God. (Cf. Heb. 12. 5-10; 1 John 2. 1, 2.)

11 I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.
12 Brethren, I ^abeseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are: ye have not ^binjured me at all.

13 Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh I preached the ^cgospel unto you at the first.

14 And my ^dtemptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.

(5) In legality the Galatians have lost their blessing.

15 Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that, if it had been possible, ye would have ^eplucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your ^fenemy, because I tell you the truth?

17 They zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would ^gexclude you, that ye might affect them.

18 But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and ^hnot only when I am present with you.

(6) The two systems, law and grace, cannot co-exist.

19 My ⁱlittle children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you,

20 I desire to be ^jpresent with you now, and to change my voice; for I stand in ^kdoubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the ^llaw, do ye not ^mhear the law?

22 For it is written, ⁿthat Abraham had two sons, the one by a bondmaid, the other by a freewoman.

23 But he ^owho was of the bondwoman was born after the ^pflesh; but he of the freewoman was by ^qpromise.

24 Which things are an allegory: for these are the ^rtwo covenants; the one from the mount ^sSinai, which gendereth to ^tbondage, which is ^uAgar.

25 For this ^vAgar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in ^wbondage with her children.

29 But as then he that was born after the flesh ^epersecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now.

30 Nevertheless what saith the scripture? ^fCast out the bondwoman and her son: for the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the freewoman.

31 So then, brethren, we are ^gnot children of the bondwoman, but of the ^hfree.

CHAPTER 5.

Application of the allegory.

STAND fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the ^ayoke of bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that ^bif ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a ^cdebtor to do the whole law.

4 Christ is become of ^dno effect unto you, whosoever of you are ^ejustified by the law; ye are ^ffallen from ^ggrace.

5 For we through the Spirit ^hwait for the hope of righteousness ⁱby faith.

6 For in ^jJesus Christ neither ^kcircumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but ^lfaith which ^mworketh by love.

7 Ye ⁿdid run well; who did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth?

8 This persuasion ^ocometh not of him that calleth you.

9 A little ^pleaven leaveneth the whole lump.

10 I have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be.

¹ The allegory (vs. 22-31) is addressed to justified but immature believers (cf. 1 Cor. 3. 1, 2), who, under the influence of legalistic teachers, "desire to be under the law," and has, therefore, no application to a sinner seeking justification. It raises and answers, for the fifth time in this Epistle, the question, Is the believer under the law? (Gal. 2. 19-21; 3. 1-3; 3. 25, 26; 4. 4-6; 4. 9-31).

11 And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer ^apersecution? then is the ^boffence of the cross ceased.

12 I would they were even cut off which trouble you.

13 For, brethren, ye have been ^ccalled unto liberty; only use not liberty for an ^doccasion to the flesh, but by ^elove serve one another.

14 For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; ^fThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

15 But if ye ^gbite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not ^hconsumed one of another.

Part VI. Sanctification is through the Spirit, not the law (vs. 16-24).

16 This I say then, ⁱWalk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

(1) The Spirit gives victory over sin. (Cf. Rom. 8. 2. See Rom. 7. 15, note.)

17 For the flesh ^jlusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye ^kcannot do the things that ye would.

18 But if ye be ^lled of the Spirit, ye are not ^munder the law.

19 Now the ⁿworks of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,

21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall ^onot inherit the kingdom of God.

(2) Christian character is produced by the Holy Spirit, not by self-effort. (Cf. John 15. 1-5; Gal. 2. 20.)

22 ^pBut the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, ^qfaith,

23 Meekness, temperance: against ^rsuch there is no law.

Part VII. The outworking of the new life in Christ Jesus (Gal. 5. 25-6. 18).

25 If we live in the ^wSpirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26 Let us not be desirous of ^xvain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER 6.

(1) The new life as a brotherhood: (a) the case of a sinning brother.

BRETHREN, if a man be overtaken in a ^yfault, ye which are ^zspiritual, ^{aa}restore such an one in the spirit of ^{ab}meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be ^{ac}tempted.

(b) The case of a burdened brother.

2 ^{ad}Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the ^{ae}law of Christ.

3 For if a man ^{af}think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he ^{ag}deceiveth himself.

4 But let every man ^{ah}prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in ^{ai}himself alone, and not in another.

5 For every man shall ^{aj}bear his own burden.

(c) The case of a teaching brother.

6 Let him that is taught in the word ^{ak}communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.

(2) The new life as a husbandry.

7 ^{al}Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for ^{am}whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the ^{an}Spirit shall of the Spirit reap ^{ao}life everlasting.

9 And let us not be ^{ap}weary in well doing: for in due season we shall ^{aq}reap, if we faint not.

¹ Christian character is not mere moral or legal correctness, but the possession and manifestation of nine graces: love, joy, peace—character as an inward state; longsuffering, gentleness, goodness—character in expression toward man; faith, meekness, temperance—character in expression toward God. Taken together they present a moral portrait of Christ, and may be taken as the apostle's explanation of Gal. 2. 20, "Not I, but Christ," and as a definition of "fruit" in John 15. 1-8. This character is possible because of the believer's vital union to Christ (John 15. 5; 1 Cor. 12. 12, 13), and is wholly the fruit of the Spirit in those believers who are yielded to Him (Gal. 5. 22, 23).

(3) The new life as a beneficence.
(Cf. Acts 10. 38.)

10 As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

(4) The new life in sacrificial love.

11 Ye see how ¹large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Ephesians was written from Rome in A.D. 64. It is the first in order of the Prison Epistles (Acts 20.-27.; see Acts 28. 30, note), and was sent by Tychicus, concurrently with Colossians and Philemon. It is probable that the two greater letters had their occasion in the return of Onesimus to Philemon. Ephesians is the most impersonal of Paul's letters. Indeed the words, "to the Ephesians," are not in the best manuscripts. Colossians (4. 16) mentions an epistle to the Laodiceans. It has been conjectured that the letter known to us as Ephesians is really the Laodicean letter. Probably it was sent to Ephesus and Laodicea without being addressed to any church. The letter would then be "to the saints and the faithful in Christ Jesus" anywhere.

Theme. The doctrine of the Epistle confirms this view. It contains the highest church truth, but has nothing about church order. The church here is the true church, "His body," not the local church, as in Philippians, Corinthians, etc. Essentially, three lines of truth make up this Epistle: the believer's exalted position through grace; the truth concerning the body of Christ; and a walk in accordance with that position.

There is a close spiritual affinity between Ephesians and Joshua, the "heavenlies" answering in Christian position to Canaan in Israel's experience. In both there is conflict, often failure, but also victory, rest, and possession (Josh. 21. 43-45; Eph. 1. 3; 3. 14-19; 6. 16, 23). As befits a complete revelation, the number seven is conspicuous in the structure of Ephesians.

The divisions are, broadly, four: I. The apostolic greeting, 1. 1, 2. II. Positional; the believer's standing "in Christ" and "in the heavenlies" through pure grace, 1. 3-3. 21. III. Walk and service, 4. 1-5. 17. IV. The walk and warfare of the Spirit-filled believer, 5. 18-6. 24.

P AUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the "will of God, to the saints which are at ^b Ephesus, and to the ^c faithful ^h in Christ Jesus: 2 ^d Grace ^{be} to you, and peace, from God our Father, and ^{from} the Lord Jesus Christ.

¹ The believer's place as a member of the body of Christ, vitally united to Him by the baptism with the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13).

² Literally, the heavenlies. The same Greek word is used in John 3. 12, where "things" is added. In both places the word signifies that which is heavenly in contradistinction to that which is earthly. In Ephesians "places" is especially misleading. "The heavenlies" may be defined as the sphere of the believer's spiritual experience as identified with Christ in nature (2 Pet. 1. 4); life (Col. 3. 4; 1 John 5. 12); relationships (John 20. 17; Heb. 2. 11); service (John 17. 18; Mt. 28. 20); suffering (Phil. 1. 29; 3. 10; Col. 1. 24); inheritance (Rom. 8. 16, 17); and future glory in the kingdom (Rom. 8. 18-21; 1 Pet. 2. 9; Rev. 1. 6; 5. 10). The believer is a heavenly man, and a stranger and pilgrim on the earth (Heb. 3. 1; 1 Pet. 2. 11).

19 And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power,

20 Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead,

² Adoption (huiiothesia, "placing as a son") is not so much a word of relationship as of position. The believer's relation to God as a child results from the new birth (John 1. 12, 13), whereas adoption is the act of God whereby one already a child is, through redemption from the law, placed in the position of an adult son (Gal. 4. 1-5). The indwelling Spirit gives the realization of this in the believer's present experience (Gal. 4. 6); but the full manifestation of the believer's sonship awaits the resurrection, change, and translation of saints, which is called "the redemption of the body" (Rom. 8. 23; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17; Eph. 1. 14; 1 John 3. 2).

³ The Dispensation of the Fulness of Times. This, the seventh and last of the ordered ages which condition human life on the earth, is identical with the kingdom covenanted to David (2 Sam. 7. 8-17; Zech. 12. 8, Summary; Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24, Summary), and gathers into itself under Christ all past "times": (1) The time of oppression and misrule ends by Christ taking His kingdom (Isa. 11. 3, 4). (2) The time of testimony and divine forbearance ends in judgment (Mt. 25. 31-46; Acts 17. 30, 31; Rev. 20. 7-15). (3) The time of toil ends in rest and reward (2 Thes. 1. 6, 7). (4) The time of suffering ends in glory (Rom. 8. 17, 18). (5) The time of Israel's blindness and chastisement ends in restoration and conversion (Rom. 11. 25-27; Ezk. 39. 25-29). (6) The times of the Gentiles end in the smiting of the image and the setting up of the kingdom of the heavens (Dan. 2. 34, 35; Rev. 19. 15-21). (7) The time of creation's thralldom ends in deliverance at the manifestation of the sons of God (Gen. 3. 17; Isa. 11. 6-8; Rom. 8. 19-21).

⁴ The Holy Spirit is Himself the seal. In the symbolism of Scripture a seal signifies: (1) A finished transaction (Jer. 32. 9, 10; John 17. 4; 19. 30). (2) Ownership (Jer. 32. 11, 12; 2 Tim. 2. 19). (3) Security (Esth. 8. 8; Dan. 6. 17; Eph. 4. 30).

and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places,

21 Far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this ¹world, but also in that which is to come:

(3) Christ exalted to be the Head of his body, the church.

22 And hath ^bput all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church,

23 Which is his ^cbody, the ^dfulness of him that filleth all in all.

CHAPTER 2.

(4) The method of Gentile salvation.

AND you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins:

2 Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this ¹world, according to the ²prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the ³children of disobedience:

3 Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our ⁴flesh, fulfilling the desires of the ⁵flesh and of the ⁶mind; and were by nature the children of ⁷wrath, even as others.

4 But God, who is ⁸rich in mercy, for his ⁹great love wherewith he loved us,

5 Even when we were ¹⁰dead in sins, hath ¹¹quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are ¹²saved;)

6 And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus:

7 That in the ¹³ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in his ¹⁴kindness toward us through Christ Jesus.

8 For by ¹⁵grace are ye ¹⁶saved through ¹⁷faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the ¹⁸gift of God:

9 Not of ¹⁹works, lest any man should ²⁰boast.

¹ Death (spiritual), Summary: Spiritual death is the state of the natural or unregenerate man as still in his sins (Eph. 2. 1), alienated from the life of God (Eph. 4. 18, 19), and destitute of the Spirit. Prolonged beyond the death of the body, spiritual death is a state of eternal separation from God in conscious suffering. This is called "the second death" (Rev. 2. 11; 20. 6, 14; 21. 8).

² Here the "new man" is not the individual believer but the church, considered as the body of Christ in the sense of Eph. 1. 22, 23; 1 Cor. 12. 12, 13; Col. 3. 10, 11. (See Heb. 12. 23, note.)

CHAPTER 4.

Part III. The walk and service of the believer as in Christ, and as having the Spirit (Eph. 4. 1-5. 17).

(1) The walk to be worthy the position.

I THEREFORE, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,

2 With all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love;

3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

(2) The seven unities to be kept.

4 There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling;

¹ That the Gentiles were to be saved was no mystery (Rom. 9. 24-33; 10. 19-21). The mystery "hid in God" was the divine purpose to make of Jew and Gentile a wholly new thing—"the church, which is his [Christ's] body," formed by the baptism with the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13) and in which the earthly distinction of Jew and Gentile disappears (Eph. 2. 14, 15; Col. 3. 10, 11). The revelation of this mystery, which was foretold but not explained by Christ (Mt. 16. 18), was committed to Paul. In his writings alone we find the doctrine, position, walk, and destiny of the church.

5 ^aOne Lord, ^bone faith, ^cone baptism,

6 One ^dGod and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.

(3) The ministry gifts of Christ to his body.

7 But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, ^eWhen he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9 (Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?)

10 He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)

11 And he ¹gave ²some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;

(4) The purpose of the ministry gifts.

12 For the ¹perfecting of the saints, ²for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ:

13 Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a ^hperfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ:

14 That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every ⁱwind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive;

15 But ^jspeaking the truth in love, may grow up ^kinto him in all things, which is the ^lhead, even Christ:

16 From whom the whole body

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth ^pwalk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind,

18 Having the understanding darkened, being ^qalienated from the ^rlife of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart:

19 ^sWho being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

20 But ye have not so ^tlearned Christ;

21 If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus:

22 That ye ^uput off concerning the former conversation the ^vold man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts;

23 ^wAnd be renewed in the spirit of your mind;

24 And that ye ^xput on the ^ynew man, which after God is created in ^zrighteousness and true holiness.

25 Wherefore putting away lying, ^aspeak every man truth with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 ^bBe ye angry, and ^csin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath:

27 ^dNeither give place to the ^edevil.

28 Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour,

² The Lord, in bestowing the gifted men, determines, providentially (e.g. Acts 11. 22-26), or directly through the Spirit (e.g. Acts 13. 1, 2; 16. 6, 7), the places of their service. "Some" (churches or places) need one gift, as, e.g. evangelist; "some" (churches or places) need rather a pastor or teacher. Absolutely nothing in Christ's service is left to mere human judgment or self-choosing. Even an apostle was not permitted to choose his place of service (Acts 16. 7, 8).

³ The new man is the regenerate man as distinguished from the old man (Rom. 6. 6, note), and is a new man as having become a partaker of the divine nature and life (2 Pet. 1. 4; Col. 3. 3, 4), and in no sense the old man made over, or improved (2 Cor. 5. 17; Gal. 6. 15; Eph. 2. 10; Col. 3. 10). The new man is Christ, "formed" in the believer (Gal. 2. 20; 4. 19; Col. 1. 27; 1 John 4. 12).

working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to ^agive to him that needeth.

29 Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of ^bedifying, that it may minister ^cgrace unto the hearers.

(6) The walk of the believer as indwelt by the Spirit.

30 And grieve not the ^dholy Spirit of God, whereby ye ^eare sealed unto the day of redemption.

31 Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:

32 And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, ^fforgiving one another, even as God ^gfor Christ's sake hath ^hforgiven you.

CHAPTER 5.

(7) The walk of the believer as God's dear child.

BE ye therefore ⁱfollowers of God, as dear children;

2 And ^jwalk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a ^ksweet-smelling savour.

3 But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints;

4 Neither filthiness, nor ^lfoolish talking, nor jesting, which are not ^mconvenient: but rather ⁿgiving of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an ^oidolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

6 Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the ^pchildren of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore ^qpartakers with them.

8 For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye ^rlight in the Lord: walk as children of light:

9 (For the ^sfruit of the ^tSpirit is in all goodness and ^urighteousness and truth;)

11 And have ^pno fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove ^qthem.

12 For it is a ^rshame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But all things that are re-proved are ^smade manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.

14 Wherefore he saith, ^tAwake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

15 See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise,

16 ^uRedeeming the time, because the days are evil.

17 Wherefore be ye not unwise, ^vbut understanding what the will of the Lord is.

Part IV. The walk and warfare of the believer as filled with the Spirit (Eph. 5. 18-6. 24).

18 And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the ^wSpirit;

(1) The inner life of the Spirit-filled believer.

19 Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making ^xmelody in your heart to the Lord;

20 ^yGiving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ;

(2) The married life of Spirit-filled believers as illustrating Christ and the church.

21 ^zSubmitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.

22 Wives, ^asubmit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.

23 For the husband is ^bthe head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the ^cchurch; and he is the ^dsaviour of the body.

24 Therefore as the church is ^esubject unto Christ, so ^flet the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

25 ^gHusbands, love your wives, ^heven as Christ also loved the ⁱchurch, and gave himself for it;

¹ Christ's love-work for the church is threefold: past, present, future: (1) For love He gave Himself to redeem the church (v. 25); (2) in love he is sanctifying the church (v. 26); (3) for the reward of His sacrifice and labour of love He will present the church to Himself in flawless perfection, "one pearl of great price" (v. 27; Mt. 13. 46).

26 That he might ^asanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water ^bby the word, 27 That he might present it to himself a glorious church, ^cnot having in spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as ^dthe Lord the church:

30 For we are ^emembers of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 ^fFor this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great ^gmystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the ^hchurch.

33 Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she ⁱreverence ^jher husband.

CHAPTER 6.

(3) The domestic life of Spirit-filled believers as children and servants.

CHILDREN, ^kobey your parents in the Lord; for this is right.

2 ^lHonour thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise;

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 And, ye fathers, ^mprovoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the ⁿnurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 ^o"Servants, be obedient to them that are ^pyour masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ;

6 Not with ^qeyeservice, as men-pleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart;

14 Stand therefore, having ^wyour loins girt about with truth, and having on the ^xbreastplate of righteousness;

(d) The warrior's resource.

18 ^dPraying always with all prayer and supplication in the ^eSpirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;

¹ Verses 30, 31 are quoted from Gen. 2. 23, 24, and exclude the interpretation that the reference is to the church merely as the body of Christ. Eve, taken from Adam's body, was truly "bone of his bones, and flesh of his flesh," but she was also his wife, united to him in a relation which makes of "twain . . . one flesh" (Mt. 19. 5, 6), and so a clear type of the church as bride of Christ (see 2 Cor. 11. 2, 3). The bride types are Eve (Gen. 2. 23, 24); Rebecca (Gen. 24. 1-7, note); Asernath (Gen. 41. 45; note under Gen. 37. 2); Zipporah (Ex. 2. 21). See Hos. 2. 1-23, note.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

1 1]

PHILIPPIANS.

[1 12

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. The date of Philippians cannot be positively fixed. It is one of the prison letters. Whether Paul was twice imprisoned, and if so, whether Philippians was written during the first or second imprisonment, affects in no way the message of the Epistle. A.D. 64 is the commonly received date. The immediate occasion of the Epistle is disclosed in Phil. 4. 10-18.

Theme. The theme of Philippians is Christian experience. Soundness of doctrine is assumed. There is nothing in church order to set right. Philippi is a normal New Testament assembly—"saints in Christ Jesus, with the bishops (elders) and deacons." The circumstances of the apostle are in striking contrast with his Christian experience. As to the former, he was Nero's prisoner. As to the latter, there was the shout of victory, the pæan of joy. Christian experience, he would teach us, is not something which is going on around the believer, but something which is going on within him.

The key-verse is, "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain" (1. 21). Right Christian experience, then, is the outworking, whatever one's circumstances may be, of the life, nature, and mind of Christ living in us (1. 6, 11; 2. 5, 13).

The divisions are indicated by the chapters: I. Christ, the believer's life, rejoicing in suffering, 1. 1-30. II. Christ, the believer's pattern, rejoicing in lowly service, 2. 1-30. III. Christ, the believer's object, rejoicing despite imperfections, 3. 1-21. IV. Christ, the believer's strength, rejoicing over anxiety, 4. 1-23.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Christ, the believer's life, rejoicing in spite of suffering (Phil. 1. 1-30).

(1) Salutation.

PAUL and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to ^aall the saints in Christ Jesus ^bwhich are at Philippi, with the ^bbishops and deacons:

2 Grace ^{be} unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and ^{from} the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I thank my God upon every ^dremembrance of you,

4 Always in every ^prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,

5 For your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now;

6 Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath ^begun a good work in you will perform ^{it} until the ^day of Jesus Christ:

(2) Joy triumphing over suffering.

8 For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

9 And this I ^{pray}, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and ⁱⁿ all judgment;

10 That ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the ^day of Christ;

11 Being filled with the fruits of ^righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel;

¹ Churches (local), Summary: A local church is an assembly of professed believers on the Lord Jesus Christ, living for the most part in one locality, who assemble themselves together in His name for the breaking of bread, worship, praise, prayer, testimony, the ministry of the word, discipline, and the furtherance of the Gospel (Heb. 10. 25; Acts 20. 7; 1 Cor. 14. 26; 1 Cor. 5. 4, 5; Phil. 4. 14-18; 1 Thes. 1. 8; Acts 13. 1-4). Such a church exists where two or three are thus gathered (Mt. 18. 20). Every such local church has Christ in the midst, is a temple of God, and indwelt by the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 3. 16, 17). When perfected in organization a local church consists of "saints, with the bishops [elders] and deacons."

13 So that my bonds ^ain Christ are manifest in all ^bthe palace, ^cand in all other ^dplaces;

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

15 Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will:

16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:

17 But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

18 What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19 For I know that ^dthis shall turn to my ^esalvation through your prayer, and the supply of the ^fSpirit of Jesus Christ,

20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but ^gthat with all ^hboldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether ⁱit be by life, or by death.

21 For to me to live ^jis Christ, and to ^kdie ^lis gain.

22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.

23 For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a ^mdesire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is ⁿfar better:

24 Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

25 And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith;

26 That your rejoicing may be more abundant in ^oJesus Christ for me by my coming to you again.

27 Only let your ^pconversation be as it becometh the ^qgospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may 30 Having the same conflict which ye ^csaw in me, and now hear to ^dbe in me.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. Rejoicing the believer's pattern, rejoicing in lowly service (Phil. 2. 1-30).

(1) Exhortation to unity and meekness.

IF there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the ^eSpirit, if any ^fbowels and mercies,

2 Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, ^gbeing of one accord, of one mind.

3 Let ^hnothing be done through ⁱstrife or ^jvainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.

4 Look not every man on ^khis own things, but every man also on the things of others.

(2) The sevenfold self-humbling of Christ.

5 Let ^lthis mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6 Who, being in the ^mform of God, thought it not ⁿrobbery to be equal with God:

7 But ^omade himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and ^pwas made in the likeness of men:

8 And being found in fashion as a man, ^qhe humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

(3) The exaltation of Jesus.

9 ^rWherefore God also hath high-

1 "Form," etc., Gr. en morphē, "the form by which a person or thing strikes the vision, the external appearance."—Thayer. Cf. John 17. 5: "The glory which I had with Thee before the world was." Nothing in this passage teaches that the Eternal Word (John 1. 1) emptied Himself of either His divine nature, or His attributes, but only of the outward and visible manifestation of the Godhead. "He emptied, stripped Himself of the insignia of Majesty."—Lightfoot. "When occasion demanded He exercised His divine attributes."—Moorehead. Cf. John 1. 1, note; 20. 28, note.

ly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name:

10 That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

11 And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

(4) The outworking of the inwardly worked salvation.

12 Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.

13 For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

14 Do all things without murmurings and disputings:

15 That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world;

16 Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

(5) The apostolic example.

17 Yea, and if I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all.

18 For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.

19 But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I have no man like-minded, who will naturally care for your state.

21 For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.

22 But ye know the proof of him, that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24 But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.

25 Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellowsoldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.

26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.

27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death; but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

29 Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation:

30 Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAPTER 3.

Part III. Christ, object of the believer's faith, desire, and expectation (Phil. 3. 1-21).

(1) Warning against Judaizers.

FINALLY, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

2 Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the concision.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

(2) Warning against trusting in legal righteousness.

4 Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, a Pharisee;

6 Concerning zeal, persecuting the church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.

(3) Christ, object of the believer's faith for righteousness.

7 But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.

8 Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,

9 And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:

(4) Christ, object of the believer's desire for fellowship in resurrection power.

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death;

11 If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.

12 Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I count not myself to have reached that: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before,

14 I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

(5) The appeal for unity in the walk.

15 Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.

16 Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.

(6) But truth is not to be compromised for the sake of unity.

17 Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an ensample.

18 For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ:

19 Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things.)

(7) Christ, object of the believer's expectation.

20 For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

21 Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAPTER 4.

Part IV. Christ, the believer's strength, rejoicing over anxiety (Phil. 4. 1-23).

(1) Exhortation to unity and joy.

THEREFORE, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

2 I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

3 And I intreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellowlabourers, whose names are in the book of life.

4 Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice.

(2) The secret of the peace of God.

5 Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

6 Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

7 And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

(3) The presence of the God of peace.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

9 Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and the God of peace shall be with you.

(4) The victory over anxious care.

10 But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care of me hath flourished again; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

11 Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

12 I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

13 I can do all things ^athrough Christ which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding ye have well done, that ye did communicate with my affliction.

15 Now ye Philippians know also, that in the beginning of the ^bgospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

16 For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my necessity.

17 Not because I desire a gift: but I desire fruit that may abound to your account.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

1 1]

COLOSSIANS.

[1 16

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Colossians was sent by the same messenger who bore Ephesians and Philemon, and was probably written at the same time.

Theme. Epaphras, who laboured in the Word in the assembly at Colosse, was Paul's fellow-prisoner at Rome. Doubtless from him Paul learned the state of that church. As to fundamentals that state was excellent (1. 3-8), but in a subtle way two forms of error were at work: The first was legality in its Alexandrian form of asceticism, "touch not, taste not," with a trace of the Judaic observance of "days"; the object of which was the mortification of the body (cf. Rom. 8. 13). The second form of error was false mysticism, "intruding into those things which he hath not seen"—the result of philosophic speculation. Because these are ever present perils, Colossians was written, not for that day only, but for the warning of the church in all days.

The Epistle is in seven divisions: I. Introduction, 1. 1-8. II. The apostolic prayer, 1. 9-14. III. The exaltation of Christ, Creator, Redeemer, Indweller, 1. 15-29. IV. The Godhead incarnate in Christ, in whom the believer is complete, 2. 1-23. V. The believer's union with Christ in resurrection life and glory, 3. 1-4. VI. Christian living, the fruit of union with Christ, 3. 5-4. 6. VII. Christian fellowship, 4. 7-18.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Introduction: the apostolic greeting (vs. 1-8).

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

2 To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ, which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints,

5 For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel;

6 Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world; and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth:

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellowservant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ;

8 Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

Part II. The apostle's seven-fold prayer (vs. 9-14).

14 In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:

Part III. The exaltation of Christ (vs. 15-29).

(1) The seven superiorities of Christ.

15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of every creature:

16 For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: "all things were created by him, and for him:

17 And ^bhe is before all things, and by him ^call things consist.

18 And he is the ^dhead of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn ^efrom the dead; that in all ^fthings he might have the preeminence.

19 ^fFor it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell;

(2) The reconciling work of Christ.

20 And, having made peace through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you, that were sometime alienated and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now hath he ¹reconciled

22 ¹In the body of his flesh through death, to present you ^hholy and unblameable and unreprieveable ⁱin his sight:

23 If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the ^jgospel, which ye have heard, and which was ^kpreached to every creature which is under heaven; whereof I Paul ^lam made a minister;

(3) The mystery of the indwelling Christ.

24 Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the ^mchurch:

25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to ⁿfulfil the word of God;

26 Even the ^omystery which hath been hid from ^pages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints:

28 Whom we preach, ^{bc}warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man ^{bd}perfect in Christ Jesus:

29 Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER 2.

Part IV. The Godhead incarnate in Christ, in whom the believer is complete (Col. 2. 1-23).

FOR I would that ye knew what ^{ca}great conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;

2 ^{cb}That their hearts might be comforted, being ^{cc}knit together in love, and unto all riches of the ^{cd}full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgement of the ^{ce}mystery of God, ^{cf}and of the Father, and of Christ;

3 ^{cg}In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

(1) The danger from enticing words. (Cf. Rom. 16. 17, 18; 1 Cor. 2. 4; 2 Pet. 2. 3.)

4 And this I say, ^{ch}lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and ^{ci}beholding your order, and the ^{cj}steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him:

7 Rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

(2) The twofold warning against (a) philosophy, (b) legality.

8 Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the ^{ck}world, and not after Christ.

¹ Reconciliation. The Greek word signifies "to change thoroughly from," and occurs, Rom. 5. 10; 11. 15; 1 Cor. 7. 11; 2 Cor. 5. 18, 19, 20. Reconciliation looks toward the effect of the death of Christ upon man, as propitiation (Rom. 3. 25, note) is the Godward aspect, and is that effect of the death of Christ upon the believing sinner which, through divine power, works in him a "thorough change" toward God from enmity and aversion to love and trust. It is never said that God is reconciled. God is propitiated, the sinner reconciled (cf. 2 Cor. 5. 18-21).

² The "mystery of God" is Christ, as incarnating the fulness of the Godhead, and all the divine wisdom and knowledge for the redemption and reconciliation of man.

(3) Nothing can be added to completeness.

9 For in him ^adwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily.

10 And ye are complete in him, which is the ^ahead of all principality and power:

11 In whom also ye are ^ccircumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of ^dthe sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ:

12 ^eBuried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with ^fhim through the faith of the ^goperation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

13 And you, being ^gdead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having ^hforgiven you all trespasses;

(4) Law observances were abolished in Christ. (Cf. Mt. 5. 17.)

14 ⁱBlotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;

15 And having ^jspoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore ^kjudge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an ^lholyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:

17 Which are a ^mshadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.

(5) Warning against false mysticism.

18 Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of ⁿangels, ^ointruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind,

19 And not ^pholding the ^qHead, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

Part V. The believer's union with Christ, now and hereafter (vs. 1-4).

IF ye then be ^drisen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where ^eChrist sitteth on the right hand of God.

2 Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3 ^fFor ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

Part VI. Christian living, the fruit of union with Christ (Col. 3. 5-4. 6).

5 ⁱMortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is ^jidolatry:

6 ^kFor which things' sake the ^lwrath of God cometh on the ^mchildren of disobedience:

8 ^oBut now ye also put off all these; ^panger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.

9 Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the ^qold man with his deeds;

10 And have put on the new man,

¹ The errorists against whom Paul warns the Colossians, and against whom, in principle, the warning has perpetual significance, were called "Gnostics," from gnosis, "knowledge." These Gnostics "came most keenly into conflict with the exalted rank and redeeming work of Christ, to whom they did not leave His full divine dignity, but assigned to Him merely the highest rank in the order of spirits, while they exalted angels as concerned in bringing in the Messianic salvation."—H. A. W. Meyer. Paul's characteristic word in Colossians for the divine revelation is epignosis, i. e. "full-knowledge" (1. 9, 10; 3. 10), as against the pretended "knowledge" of the errorists. The warnings apply to all extra-biblical forms, doctrines, and customs, and to all ascetic practices.

which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that ^acreated him:

11 Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: ^bbut Christ is all, and in all.

12 Put on therefore, as the ^celect of God, ^dholy and beloved, ^ebowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering;

13 Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ ^fforgave you, so also do ye.

14 And ^gabove all these things put on ^hcharity, which is the bond of ⁱperfection.

15 And let the peace of ^jGod ^krule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and ^lbe ye thankful.

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; ^mteaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with ⁿgrace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 And ^owhatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18 Wives, ^psubmit yourselves unto your own husbands, as ^qit is fit in the Lord.

19 Husbands, ^rlove your wives, and be not bitter against them.

20 Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is ^swell pleasing unto the Lord.

21 Fathers, provoke not your children to ^tanger, lest they be discouraged.

22 ^uServants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:

23 And ^vwhatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;

24 Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the ^wreward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ.

25 But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER 4.

MASTERS, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 ^aContinue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving;

3 Withal praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the ^bmystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds:

4 That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5 Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time.

6 Let your speech be always with ^cgrace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

12 ⁱEpaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand ^jperfect and complete in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.

14 ^kLuke, the beloved physician, and ^lDemas, greet you.

Shut up in prison, no longer able to preach, Epaphras was still, equally with all believers, a priest. No prison could keep him from the throne of grace, so he gave himself wholly to the priestly work of intercession.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS.

1 1]

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. The Epistle was written from Corinth, A.D. 54, shortly after Paul's departure from Thessalonica (Acts 16. 17.), and is the earliest of his letters.

Theme. The theme of the Epistle is threefold: (1) To confirm young disciples in the foundational truths already taught them; (2) to exhort them to go on to holiness; (3) to comfort them concerning those who had fallen asleep. The second coming of Christ is prominent throughout. The Epistle is incidentally most interesting as showing the richness in doctrine of the primitive evangelism. During a mission of about one month the apostle had taught all the great doctrines of the Christian faith.

The divisions of the Epistle are sufficiently indicated by the chapters: I. The model church, and the three tenses of the Christian life, 1. 1-10. II. The model servant and his reward, 2. 1-20. III. The model brother, and the believer's sanctification, 3. 1-13. IV. The model walk, and the believer's hope, 4. 1-18. V. The model walk, and the day of Jehovah, 5. 1-28.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The model church, and the three tenses of the Christian life.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians which is in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;

3 Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;

4 Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.

5 For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

6 And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost:

7 So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.

9 For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye were turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God;

10 And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. The model servant, and his reward.

FOR yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

¹ (See Introductory notes). That is: election, 1. 4; Holy Spirit, 1. 5, 6; 4. 8; 5. 19; assurance, 1. 5; Trinity, 1. 1, 5, 6; conversion, 1. 9; second advent of Christ, 1. 10; 2. 19; 3. 13; 4. 14-17; 5. 23; walk, 2. 12; 4. 1; sanctification, 4. 3; 5. 23; day of Jehovah, 5. 1-3; resurrection, 4. 14-18; the tripartite nature of man, 5. 23.

² The tenses of the believer's life here indicated are logical and give the true order. They occur also in v. 3. The "work of faith" is to "turn to God from idols" (cf. John 6. 28, 29); the "labour of love" is to "serve the living and true God"; and the "patience of hope" is to "wait for his Son from heaven" (cf. Mt. 24. 42; 25. 13; Lk. 12. 36-48; Acts 1. 11; Phil. 3. 20, 21). Paul repeats this threefold sequence in Tit. 2. 11-13.

2 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at ^aPhilippi, we were ^bbold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.

3 For our exhortation was not of ^cdeceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4 But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5 For ^dneither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness; God is witness:

6 Nor of men ^esought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.

7 But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth ^fher children:

8 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to ^ghave imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our ^hlabour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the ⁱgospel of God.

10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:

11 As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father ^jdoth his children,

12 That ye would walk ^kworthy of God, ^lwho hath called you into his kingdom and glory.

13 For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received ^mit not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually ⁿworketh also in you that believe.

14 For ye, brethren, became ^ofollowers of the ^pchurches of God which in Judæa are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they ^qhave of the Jews:

15 Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and ^rtheir own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men:

18 Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but ^dSatan hindered us.

19 For what is our hope, or joy, or ^e'crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye ^fin the presence ^gof our Lord Jesus Christ ^hat his coming?

20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAPTER 3.

Part III. The model brother, and the believer's sanctification.

WHEREFORE when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left at Athens alone; 2 And sent ^aTimotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellowlabourer in the ^bgospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:

3 ^cThat no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that ^dwe are appointed thereto.

4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.

5 For this cause, ^ewhen I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, ^flest by some means the tempter have ^gtempted you, and our labour ^hbe in vain.

6 But now when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and ⁱcharity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, ^jdesiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you:

7 Therefore, brethren, we were ^kcomforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye stand ^lfast in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;

10 Night and day ^mpraying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might ⁿperfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God himself and our

Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way unto you.

12 And the Lord make you to increase and abound ⁱⁿ love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:

13 To the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints.

CHAPTER 4.

Part IV. The model walk, and the believer's hope.

FURTHERMORE then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3 For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:

4 That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;

5 Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God:

6 That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter: because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7 For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.

8 He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.

10 And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more;

11 And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;

12 That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.

15 For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16 For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first:

17 Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER 5.

Part V. The model walk, and the day of Jehovah. (Cf. Rev. 19. 11-21, note.)

BUT of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.

2 For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6 Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.

7 For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken are drunken in the night.

8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.

9 For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain ^asalvation by our Lord Jesus Christ.

¹ Not church saints only, but all bodies of the saved, of whatever dispensation, are included in the first resurrection (see 1 Cor. 15. 52, note), as here described, but it is peculiarly the "blessed hope" of the Church (cf. Mt. 24. 42; 25. 13; Lk. 12. 36-48; Acts 1. 11; Phil. 3. 20, 21; Tit. 2. 11-13).

10 Who died for us, that, ^bwhether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11 Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, to know ^cthem which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And ^dbe at peace among yourselves.

14 Now we ^eexhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the ^fweak, be ^gpatient toward all ^hmen.

15 See that none ⁱrender evil for evil unto any ^jman; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all ^kmen.

24 Faithful is ^{aa}he that calleth you, who also will do ^{ab}it.

25 Brethren, pray for us.

26 Greet all the brethren with an ^{ac}holy kiss.

27 I ^{ad}charge you by the Lord that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

28 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ ^{ae}be with you. Amen.

¹ Man a trinity. That the human soul and spirit are not identical is proved by the facts that they are divisible (Heb. 4. 12), and that soul and spirit are sharply distinguished in the burial and resurrection of the body. It is sown a natural body (soma psuchikon = "soul-body"), it is raised a spiritual body (soma pneumatikon), 1 Cor. 15. 44. To assert, therefore, that there is no difference between soul and spirit is to assert that there is no difference between the mortal body and the resurrection body. In Scripture use, the distinction between spirit and soul may be traced. Briefly, that distinction is that the spirit is that part of man which "knows" (1 Cor. 2. 11), his mind; the soul is the seat of the affections, desires, and so of the emotions, and of the active will, the self. "My soul is exceeding sorrowful" (Mt. 26. 38; see also Mt. 11. 29; and John 12. 27). The word translated "soul" in the O.T. (nephesh) is the exact equivalent of the N.T. word for soul (Gr. psyche), and the use of "soul" in the O.T. is identical with the use of that word in the N.T. (see, e.g. Deut. 6. 5; 14. 26; 1 Sam. 18. 1; 20. 4, 17; Job 7. 11, 15; 14. 22; Psa. 42. 6; 84. 2). The N.T. word for spirit (pneuma), like the O.T. ruach, is trans. "air," "breath," "wind," but predominantly "spirit," whether of God (e.g. Gen. 1. 2; Mt. 3. 16) or of man (Gen. 41. 8; 1 Cor. 5. 5). Because man is "spirit" he is capable of God-consciousness, and of communication with God (Job 32. 8; Psa. 18. 28; Prov. 20. 27); because he is "soul" he has self-consciousness (Psa. 13. 2; 42. 5, 6, 11); because he is "body" he has, through his senses, world-consciousness. See Gen. 1. 26, note.

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Second Thessalonians was evidently written very soon after Paul's first letter to that church. The occasion may well have been the return of the bearer of the former Epistle, and his report.

Theme. The theme of Second Thessalonians is, unfortunately, obscured by a mistranslation in the A.V. of 2. 2, where "day of Christ is at hand" (1 Cor. 1. 8, note) should be, "day of the LORD is now present" (Isa. 2. 12, refs.). The Thessalonian converts were "shaken in mind" and "troubled," supposing, perhaps on the authority of a forged letter as from Paul, that the persecutions from which they were suffering were those of the "great and terrible day of the LORD," from which they had been taught to expect deliverance by "the day of Christ, and our gathering together unto him" (2. 1).

The present letter, then, was written to instruct the Thessalonians concerning the day of Christ, "and our gathering together unto him" (1 Thes. 4. 14-17) and the relation of the "day of Christ" to the "day of the LORD." First Thessalonians had more in view the "day of Christ"; the present Epistle the "day of the LORD."

The Epistle is in five divisions: I. Salutation, 1. 1-4. II. Comfort, 1. 5-12. III. Instruction concerning the day of the LORD and the man of sin, 2. 1-12. IV. Exhortations and apostolic commands, 2. 13-3. 15. V. Benediction and authentication, 3. 16-18.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Salutation.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2 Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth;

4 So that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure:

Part II. Comfort in persecution.

5 Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer:

6 Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;

7 And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels,

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power:

12 That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 2.

Part III. The day of the LORD and the man of sin.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him,

2 That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the ^aday of Christ is ^bat hand.

3 Let no man deceive you by any means: ^cfor that day shall not come, except there come ^aa falling away first, and that ^dman of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;

4 Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what ^ewithholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For the ^fmystery of ^giniquity doth already work; only he who now ^hletteth will ⁱlet, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall ^jthat ^kWicked be revealed, ^lwhom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy ^mwith the brightness of his coming:

9 ⁿEven him, whose coming is after the working of ^oSatan with all power and signs and lying wonders,

10 And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not ^pthe love of the truth, that they might be ^qsaved.

11 And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

12 That they all might be ^rdammned who ^sbelieved not the truth, but had pleasure in ^tunrighteousness.

Part IV. Exhortation and instruction (to 3. 15).

13 But we are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning ^uchosen you to ^vsalvation through sanctification of the ^wSpirit and belief of the truth:

14 Whereunto he called you by our ^xgospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the ^atraditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.

16 ^bNow our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope ^cthrough grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER 3.

FINALLY, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:

2 And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith.

3 But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil.

4 And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.

5 And the ^aLord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ.

6 Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

7 For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

8 Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:

9 Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.

10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

¹ The order of events is: (1) The working of the mystery of lawlessness under divine restraint which had already begun in the apostle's time (v. 7); (2) the apostasy of the professing church (v. 3; Lk. 18. 8; 2 Tim. 3. 1-8); (3) the removal of that which restrains the mystery of lawlessness (vs. 6, 7). The restrainer is a person — "he," and since a "mystery" always implies a supernatural element (Mt. 13. 11, note), this Person can be no other than the Holy Spirit in the church, to be "taken out of the way" (v. 7; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17); (4) the manifestation of the lawless one (vs. 8-10; Dan. 7. 8; 9. 27; Mt. 24. 15; Rev. 13. 2-10); (5) the coming of Christ in glory and the destruction of the lawless one (v. 8; Rev. 19. 11-21); (6) the day of Jehovah (vs. 9-12; Isa. 2. 12, refs.).

11 For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are ^abusybodies.

12 Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they ^bwork, and eat their own bread.

13 But ye, brethren, ^cbe not weary in well doing.

14 And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and ^dhave no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO

1 1]

TIMOTHY.

[1 17

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. The date of this Epistle turns upon the question of the two imprisonments of Paul. If there were two (see Acts 28. 30, note), then it is clear that First Timothy was written during the interval. If Paul endured but one Roman imprisonment, the Epistle was written shortly before Paul's last journey to Jerusalem.

Theme. As the churches of Christ increased in number, the questions of church order, of soundness in the faith, and of discipline became important. At first the apostles regulated these things directly, but the approaching end of the apostolic period made it necessary that a clear revelation should be made for the guidance of the churches. Such a revelation is in First Timothy, and in Titus. The keyphrase of this Epistle is, "That thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God." Well had it been with the churches if they had neither added to nor taken from the divine order.

The divisions are five: I. Legality and unsound doctrine rebuked, 1. 1-20. II. Prayer and the divine order of the sexes enjoined, 2. 1-15. III. The qualifications of elders and deacons, 3. 1-16. IV. The walk of the "good minister," 4. 1-16. V. The work of the "good minister," 5. 1-6. 21.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Legalism and unsound teaching rebuked.

4 Neither give ^fheed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do.

5 Now ^gthe end of the commandment is ^hcharity out of a ⁱpure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

6 From which some ^jhaving swerved have turned aside unto vain jangling;

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law; understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that the law is ^kgood, if a man use it lawfully;

9 Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for 11 According to the ^oglorious ^pgospel of the ^qblessed God, which was ^rcommitted to my trust.

12 And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath ^senabled me, for that he counted me ^tfaithful, ^uputting me into the ministry;

13 Who was ^vbefore a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ^wignorantly in unbelief.

14 And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

15 This is a ^xfaithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the ^yworld to ^zsave ^{aa}sinner; of whom I am chief.

16 Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all long-suffering, for a ^{ab}pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to ^{ac}life everlasting.

17 Now unto the King eternal, ^{ad}immortal, ^{ae}invisible, the only wise

God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge I commit unto thee, ^ason Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest war ^ba good warfare;

19 Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck:

20 Of whom is ^{1c}Hymenæus and Alexander; whom I have ^ddelivered unto ^eSatan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. Prayer, and the divine order of the sexes.

IXHORT therefore, that first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men;

2 For ^fkings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and ^ghonesty.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our ^hSaviour;

4 ⁱWho will have all men to be ^jsaved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

5 For ^kthere is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;

6 Who gave himself a ^lransom for all, to be testified in due time.

7 Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not;) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

8 I will therefore that ^mmen pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

9 In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with ⁿbroided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;

10 But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

11 Let the ^owoman learn in ^psilence with all ^qsubjection.

CHAPTER 3.

Part III. The qualifications of elders and deacons.

THIS is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a ^bbishop, he desireth a good work.

2 ^aA ^wbishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, ^xvigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

3 Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but ^ypatient, not a brawler, not covetous;

4 One that ruleth ^zwell his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity;

5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not a novice, lest being ^alifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the ^bdevil.

7 Moreover he must have a good report of ^cthem which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the ^dsnare of the ^edevil.

8 Likewise ^{must} the ^fdeacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

9 Holding the ^gmystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being ^{found} blameless.

11 ^hEven so ^{must} their wives be grave, not slanderous, sober, faithful in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ⁱruling their children and their own houses well.

13 For they that have ^jused the office of a deacon ^kwell purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:

¹ It is significant as bearing upon the seriousness of all false teaching, and particularly as related to resurrection, that Paul calls it blasphemy to teach that "the resurrection is past already" (2 Tim. 2. 17, 18).

15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself ^ain the house of God, which is the ^bchurch of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

16 And without controversy great is the ^amystery of godliness: God was ^amanifest in the flesh, justified in the ^cSpirit, seen of ^aangels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the ^eworld, received up into glory.

CHAPTER 4.

Part IV. The walk of a "good minister of Jesus Christ."

NOW the ^bSpirit ⁱspeaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall ^ddepart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of ^kdevils;

2 Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron;

3 Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.

4 For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is ⁱsanctified by the word of God and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of ^mJesus Christ, nourished up in the words of ⁿfaith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7 But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself ^rrather unto godliness.

8 For bodily exercise profiteth ^olittle: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of ^pthat which is to come.

9 This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation.

10 For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we ^atrust in the living God, who is the ^bSaviour of all men, specially of those that believe.

11 These things command and teach.

12 ^aLet no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in ^ccharity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13 Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 ^aNeglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the ^blaying on of the hands of the presbytery.

15 Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all.

16 Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both ^wsave thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAPTER 5.

Part V. The work of a "good minister of Jesus Christ."

REBUKE not an elder, but ⁱntreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;

2 The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all purity.

3 Honour widows that are ^awidows indeed.

4 But if any widow have children or ^bnephews, let them learn first to shew piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

5 Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, ^ctrusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 But she that liveth in pleasure is ^adead while she liveth.

7 And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8 But if any provide not for his own, and ^bspecially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an ^ainfidel.

¹ Church (visible), Summary: The passages under this head (1 Cor. 10. 32; 1 Tim. 3. 15) refer to that visible body of professed believers called, collectively, "the Church," of which history takes account as such, though it exists under many names and divisions based upon differences in doctrine or in government. Within, for the most part, this historical "Church" has existed the true Church, "which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all" (Eph. 1. 22, 23; Heb. 12. 23, note), like the believing Remnant within Israel (Rom. 11. 5, note). The predicted future of the visible Church is apostasy (Lk. 18. 8; 2 Tim. 3. 1-8); of the true Church, glory (Mt. 13. 36-43; Rom. 8. 18-23; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17).

9 Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man.

10 Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry;

12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13 And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14 I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16 If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

17 Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.

21 I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

23 Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.

24 Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand; and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAPTER 6.

Part V. continued.

LET as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness;

4 He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmising,

5 Perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself.

6 But godliness with contentment is great gain.

7 For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

8 And having food and raiment let us be therewith content.

9 But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10 For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

12 Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession;

14 That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukeable, until ^ethe appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:

15 Which in his times he shall shew, who is ^bthe blessed and only Potentate, the ^cKing of kings, and Lord of lords;

16 Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; ^awhom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in this ^eworld, that they be not high-minded, nor ^ftrust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO

1 1]

TIMOTHY.

[1 15

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. This touching letter was written by Paul to his "dearly beloved son" shortly before his martyrdom (4. 6-8), and contains the last words of the great apostle which inspiration has preserved.

Theme. Second Timothy (in common with Second Peter, Jude, and Second and Third John) has to do with the personal walk and testimony of a true servant of Christ in a day of apostasy and declension. The key-phrases are, "All they which are in Asia be turned away from me" (1. 15); and, "A good soldier of Jesus Christ" (2. 3). The Asian churches had not disbanded, nor ceased to call themselves Christian, but they had turned away from the doctrines of grace distinctively revealed through the Apostle Paul (see Introduction, p. 1189). This was the proof that already the apostasy had set in in its first form, legalism.

The natural divisions are four: I. The Apostle's greeting, 1. 1-18. II. The pathway of an approved servant in a day of apostasy, 2. 1-26. III. Apostasy and the Word, 3. 1-17. IV. A faithful servant and his faithful Lord, 4. 1-22.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The apostolic greeting.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,

2 To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;

5 When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God;

9 Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began,

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:

11 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.

13 Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

14 That good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

¹ The believer's resources in a day of general declension and apostasy are: (1) Faith (1. 5); (2) the Spirit (1. 6, 7); (3) the word of God (1. 13; 3. 1-17; 4. 3, 4); (4) the grace of Christ (2. 1); (5) separation from vessels unto dishonour (2. 4, 20, 21); (6) the Lord's sure reward (4. 7, 8); (7) the Lord's faithfulness and power (2. 13, 19).

16 The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus; ^afor he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my ^bchain:

17 But, when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord ^cin that day: and in how many things he ^dministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. The path of a "good soldier" in the time of apostasy.

THOU therefore, my ^eson, be strong in the ^fgrace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same ^gcommit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

3 Thou therefore ^hendure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

4 No man that ⁱwarreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath ^jchosen him to be a soldier.

5 And if a man also strive for masteries, ^kyet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6 The husbandman ^lthat labour-eth must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say; and ^mthe Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 Remember that ⁿJesus Christ of the seed of David was raised from the dead according to my ^ogospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, even unto ^pbonds; but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I endure all things for the ^qpleat's sakes, that they may also obtain the ^rsalvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

11 It is a faithful saying: For if we ^sbe dead with him, we shall also live with him:

12 If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we ^tdeny him, he also will deny us:

13 If we ^ubelieve not, ^vyet he abideth faithful: he ^wcannot deny himself.

14 Of these things ^xput them in 15 ^vStudy to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, ^wrightly dividing the word of truth.

16 But shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness.

17 And their word will eat as doth a canker: of whom is Hymenæus and Philetus;

18 Who concerning the truth have ^xerred, ^ysaying that the ^zresurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some.

19 Nevertheless the ^afoundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The ^bLord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of ^cChrist depart from iniquity.

20 But in a great house there are not only ^dvessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 If a man therefore ^epurge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and ^fprepared unto every good work.

22 Flee also youthful lusts: but follow ^grighteousness, faith, ^hcharity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

23 But foolish and unlearned ⁱquestions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.

24 And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all ^jmen, apt to teach, ^kpatient,

25 In ^lmeeekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them ^mrepentance to the acknowledging of the truth;

26 And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the ⁿdevil, who are taken captive by him at his will.

CHAPTER 3.

Part III. The apostasy predicted: the believer's resource—the Scriptures.

THIS I know also, ^pthat in the last days perilous times shall come.

¹ Apostasy, Summary: Apostasy, "falling away," is the act of professed Christians who deliberately reject revealed truth (1) as to the deity of Jesus Christ, and (2) redemption through His atoning and redeeming sacrifice (1 John 4. 1-3; Phil.

2 ^aFor men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,

3 Without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 ^bTraitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God;

5 ^cHaving a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away.

6 For of this sort ^dare they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with ^esins, led away with divers lusts,

7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 Now as Jannes and ^fJambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: ^gmen of corrupt minds, ^hreprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifested unto all ⁱmen, as their's also was.

10 But thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, ^jcharity, patience,

11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at ^kAntioch, at ^lIconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but out of ^mthem all the Lord delivered me.

12 Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.

13 But evil men and ⁿseducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned ^othem;

15 And that from a child thou hast known the ^pholy ^qscriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

CHAPTER 4.

Part IV. A faithful servant and his faithful Lord.

I CHARGE thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall ^jjudge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom;

2 Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; ^kreprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine.

3 For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears;

4 ^lAnd they shall turn away ^mtheir ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables.

5 But watch thou in all things, ⁿendure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make ^ofull proof of thy ministry.

6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my ^pdeparture is at hand.

7 I have ^qfought ^ra good fight, I have finished ^smy course, I have kept the faith:

8 Henceforth there is ^tlaid up for me a ^ucrown of ^vrighteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all ^wthem also that love his appearing.

9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:

10 For ^xDemas hath forsaken me, having loved this present ^yworld, and is departed unto Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia.

11 Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

12 And ^zTychicus have I sent to Ephesus.

3. 18; 2 Pet. 2. 1). Apostasy differs therefore from error concerning truth, which may be the result of ignorance (Acts 19. 1-6), or heresy, which may be due to the snare of Satan (2 Tim. 2. 25, 26), both of which may consist with true faith. The apostate is perfectly described in 2 Tim. 4. 3, 4. Apostates depart from the faith, but not from the outward profession of Christianity (3. 5). Apostate teachers are described in 2 Tim. 4. 3; 2 Pet. 2. 1-19; Jude 4, 8, 11-13, 16. Apostasy in the church, as in Israel (Isa. 1. 5, 6; 5. 5-7), is irremediable, and awaits judgment (2 Thes. 2. 10-12; 2 Pet. 2. 17, 21; Jude 11-15; Rev. 3. 14-16).

13 The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.

14 Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the ^aLord reward him according to his works:

15 Of whom be thou ware also; for he hath greatly withstood our words.

16 At my first answer no man stood with me, but ^ball men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.

17 Notwithstanding ^cthe Lord stood with me, and strengthened me: that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was de-

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO TITUS.

1 1]

[1 11

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Practically the same with First Timothy.

Theme. Titus has much in common with First Timothy. Both Epistles are concerned with the due order of the churches. The distinction is that in First Timothy sound doctrine is more prominent (1 Tim. 1. 3-10), in Titus the divine order for the local churches (Tit. 1. 5). The permanent use of these Epistles lies in this twofold application, on the one hand to churches grown careless as to the truth of God, on the other, to churches careless as to the order of God's house. The importance of this order is made solemnly emphatic in that the tests by which true elders and deacons may be known are repeated (1 Tim. 3. 1-7; Tit. 1. 6-9).

There are two divisions: I. The qualifications and functions of elders, 1. 1-16. II. The pastoral work of the true elder, 2. 1-3. 15.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The divine order for the local churches.

PAUL, a ^aservant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's ^belect, and the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness;

2 In hope of ^ceternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the ^dworld began;

3 But hath in ^edue times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of ^fGod our ^gSaviour;

4 To Titus, mine own son ^hafter the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our ⁱSaviour.

Crete, that thou shouldst set in order the things that are ¹wanting, and ordain ²elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

6 If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children not accused of riot or unruly.

7 For a ³bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, ⁴not given to filthy lucre;

8 But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, ⁵holy, temperate;

9 ⁶Holding fast the faithful word as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10 For there are many unruly and vain ⁷talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped,

¹ It is not at all a question of the presence in the assembly of persons having the qualifications of elders, made overseers by the Holy Spirit (Acts 20. 28): that such persons were in the churches of Crete is assumed; the question is altogether one of the appointment of such persons. These assemblies were not destitute of elders; but were "wanting," in that they were not duly appointed. There is a progress of doctrine in respect of the appointing of elders. Cf. v. 5, note.

² Elder (presbuteros) and bishop (episcopos = "overseer") designate the same office (cf. v. 7; Acts 20. 17; cf. v. 28), the former referring to the man, the latter to a function of the office. The eldership in the apostolic local churches was always plural. There is no instance of one elder in a local church. The functions of the elders are: to rule (1 Tim. 3. 4, 5; 5. 17), to guard the body of revealed truth from perversion and error (Tit. 1. 9), to "oversee" the church as a shepherd his flock (Acts 20. 28; John 21. 16; Heb. 13. 17; 1 Pet. 5. 2). Elders are made or "set" in the churches by the Holy Spirit (Acts 20. 28), but great stress is laid upon their due appointment (Acts 14. 23; Tit. 1. 5). At first they were ordained (Gr. cheirotono, "to elect," "to designate with the hand,") by an apostle; e.g. Acts 14. 23, but in Titus and 1 Timothy the qualifications of an elder become part of the Scriptures for the guidance of the churches in such appointment (1 Tim. 3. 1-7). who ^asubvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for ^bfilthy lucre's sake.

12 One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, ^cslow bellies.

13 This witness is true. Wherefore ^drebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith;

14 Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men, that turn from the truth.

15 ^eUnto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16 They ^fprofess that they ^gknow God; but in works they deny ^hhim, being abominable, and ⁱdisobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. The pastoral work of a true minister (Tit. 2. 1-3. 15).

BUT speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in ^jcharity, in patience.

3 The aged women likewise, that ^kthey be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;

4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children,

5 To be discreet, chaste, ^lkeepers at home, good, ^mobedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be sober minded.

7 In all things shewing thyself a ⁿpattern of good works: in doctrine ^oshewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity,

8 ^pSound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9 ^qExhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please ^rthem well in all things; not answering again;

10 Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of ^sGod our Saviour in all things.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO

VER. 1]

PHILEMON.

[VER. 21

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Probably A.D. 64. It is one of the Prison Epistles. See Introductions to Ephesians and Colossians.

Theme. Onesimus ("profitable"), a slave of Philemon, a Christian of Colosse, had robbed his master and fled to Rome. There he became a convert through Paul, who sent him back to Philemon with this letter. It is of priceless value as a teaching (1) in practical righteousness; (2) in Christian brotherhood; (3) in Christian courtesy; (4) in the law of love.

The divisions are four: I. Greeting, 1-3. II. The character of Philemon, 4-7. III. Intercession for Onesimus, 8-21. IV. Salutations and conclusion, 22-25.

Part I. The apostolic greeting.

PAUL, a ^aprisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy ^{our} brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellowlabourer,

2 And to ^{our} beloved Apphia, and ^bArchippus our fellowsoldier, and to the ^cchurch in thy house:

3 ^dGrace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Part II. The character of Philemon.

4 ^eI thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5 Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints;

6 That the communication of thy faith may become ^feffectual by the acknowledging of ^gevery good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

Part III. Intercession for Onesimus.

8 Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee that ^hwhich is ⁱconvenient,

9 Yet for love's sake I rather beseech ^jthee, being such an one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my son ^kOnesimus, whom I have ^lbegotten in my bonds:

13 Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the ^mgospel:

14 But without thy mind would I do nothing; that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15 For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever;

16 Not now as a ⁿservant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If thou count me therefore a ^opartner, receive him as myself.

18 If he hath wronged thee, or oweth ^pthee ought, put that on mine ¹account;

19 I Paul have written ^{it} with mine own hand, I will repay ^{it}: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels ^qin the Lord.

21 Having ^rconfidence in thy obedience I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

¹ Verses 17, 18 perfectly illustrate imputation: "Receive him as myself"—reckon to him my merit; "If he hath wronged thee or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account"—reckon to me his demerit. See "Imputation," Lev. 25. 50; Jas. 2. 23. note.

THE JEWISH-CHRISTIAN EPISTLES.

IN Hebrews, James, First and Second Peter, and Jude we have a group of inspired writings differing in important respects from Paul's Epistles. But this difference is in no sense one of conflict. All present the same Christ, the same salvation, the same morality. The difference is one of extension, of development. The Jewish-Christian writings deal with the elementary and foundational things of the Gospel, while to Paul were given the revelations concerning the church, her place in the counsels of God, and the calling and hope of the believer as vitally united to Christ in the one body.

The other characteristic difference is that while Paul has in view the body of true believers, who are therefore assuredly saved, the Judæo-Christian writers view the church as a professing body in which, during this age, the wheat and tares are mingled (Mt. 13. 24-30). Their writings, therefore, abound in warnings calculated to arouse and alarm the mere professor. A word of caution is, however, needful at this point. The persons warned are neither mere hypocrites, nor mere formalists. So far as it has gone their experiences are perfectly genuine. It is said of the supposed persons in Heb. 6. 4-9 that they had been "enlightened," and the same word is used in Heb. 10. 32, translated "illuminated." They are said, too, to have "tasted" of the heavenly gift, and again a word importing reality is used, for it occurs in Heb. 2. 9 of the death of Christ. The true point of the divine solicitude is expressed in verses 1 and 2. It is that they shall go on. They have made a real beginning, but it is not said of them that they have faith, and it is said (verse 9) that "things that accompany salvation" are "better." This fear lest beginners will "come short" is the theme of Heb. 3. 7-4. 3. The men in Mt. 7. 21-23 are not conscious hypocrites—they are utterly surprised at their exclusion. Characteristic contrasts are, Heb. 6. 4-6 with Rom. 8. 29-39; 2 Pet. 1. 10 with Phil. 1. 6. In this respect these Epistles group with Mt. 13.-23.; Acts 2.-9. The two Epistles of Peter, however, are less Jewish and more truly catholic than the other Jewish-Christian writings. He addresses, in his first Epistle, neither Jews as such, nor even Christian Jews of Jerusalem, or Judæa, but of the dispersion; while Second Peter is not distinctively Jewish at all.

HOW TO USE THE SUBJECT REFERENCES.

THE subject references lead the reader from the first clear mention of a great truth to the last. The first and last references (in parenthesis) are repeated each time, so that wherever a reader comes upon a subject he may recur to the first reference and follow the subject, or turn at once to the Summary at the last reference.

ILLUSTRATION

(at Mark 1. 1.)

b Gospel . vs.1, 14,15; Mk. 8.35. (Gen. 12.1-3; Rev. 14.6.)
--

Here Gospel is the subject; vs. 1, 14, 15 show where it is at that particular place; Mk. 8. 35 is the next reference in the chain, and the references in parenthesis are the first and last.

WRITER. The authorship of Hebrews has been in controversy from the earliest times. The book is anonymous, but the reference in 2 Pet. 3. 15 seems conclusive that Paul was the writer. See also Heb. 13. 23. All agree that, whether by Paul or another, the point of view is Pauline. We undoubtedly have here the method of Paul's synagogue addresses. No book of Scripture more fully authenticates itself as inspired.

Date. From internal evidence it is clear that Hebrews was written before the destruction of the Temple, A.D. 70 (cf. 10. 11).

Theme. The doctrinal passages reveal the purpose of the book. It was written with a twofold intent: (1) To confirm Jewish Christians by showing that Judaism had come to an end through the fulfilment by Christ of the whole purpose of the law; and (2) the hortatory passages show that the writer had in view the danger ever present to Jewish professed believers of either lapsing back into Judaism, or of pausing short of true faith in Jesus Christ. It is clear from the Acts that even the strongest of the believers in Palestine were held to a strange mingling of Judaism and Christianity (e.g. Acts 21. 18-24), and that snare would be especially apt to entangle professed Christians amongst the Jews of the dispersion.

The key-word is "better." Hebrews is a series of contrasts between the good things of Judaism and the better things of Christ. Christ is "better" than angels, than Moses, than Joshua, than Aaron; and the New Covenant than the Mosaic Covenant. Church truth does not appear, the ground of gathering only being stated (13. 13). The whole sphere of Christian profession is before the writer; hence exhortations necessary to warn and alarm a mere professor.

Hebrews is in six divisions, but these include five parenthetic passages of exhortation. I. The great salvation, 1. 1-2. 18 (2. 1-4, parenthetic). II. The rest of God, 3. 1-4. 16 (all parenthetic). III. Our great High Priest, 5. 1-8. 6 (5. 11-6. 12, parenthetic). IV. The new covenant and the heavenly sanctuary, 8. 7-10. 39 (10. 26-39, parenthetic). V. The superiority of the faith-way, 11. 1-40. VI. The worship and walk of the believer-priest, 12. 1-13. 25 (12. 3-17, parenthetic).

4 Being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5 For unto which of the angels

¹ Angel, Summary: Angel, "messenger," is used of God, of men, and of an order of created spiritual beings whose chief attributes are strength and wisdom (2 Sam. 14. 20; Psa. 103. 20; 104. 4). In the O.T. the expression "the angel of the LORD" (sometimes "of God") usually implies the presence of Deity in angelic form (Gen. 16. 1-13; 21. 17-19; 22. 11-16; 31. 11-13; Ex. 3. 2-4; Jud. 2. 1; 6. 12-16; 13. 3-22). See Mal. 3. 1, note. The word angel is used of men in Lk. 7. 24; Jas. 2. 25; Rev. 1. 20; 2. 1, 8, 12, 18; 3. 1, 7, 14. In Rev. 8. 3-5 Christ is evidently meant. Sometimes angel is used of the spirit of man (Mt. 18. 10; Acts 12. 15). Though angels are spirits (Psa. 104. 4; Heb. 1. 14), power is given them to become visible in the semblance of human form (Gen. 19. 1, cf. v. 5; Ex. 3. 2; Num. 22. 22-31; Jud. 2. 1; 6. 11, 22; 13. 3, 6; 1 Chr. 21. 16, 20; Mt. 1. 20; Lk. 1. 26; John 20. 12; Acts 7. 30; 12. 7, 8, etc.). The word is always

THEREFORE we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should ⁿlet them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every ^otransgression and ^pdisobedience received a just recompence of reward;

3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so great ^msalvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him;

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the ^qHoly Ghost, according to his own will?

(3) The earth to be put under the man Christ Jesus.

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the ^qworld to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one in a certain place tesused in the masculine gender, though sex, in the human sense, is never ascribed to angels (Mt. 22. 30; Mk. 12. 25). They are exceedingly numerous (Mt. 26. 53; Heb. 12. 22; Rev. 5. 11; Psa. 68. 17). Their power is inconceivable (2 Ki. 19. 35). Their place is about the throne of God (Rev. 5. 11; 7. 11). Their relation to the believer is that of "ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation," and this ministry has reference largely to the physical safety and well-being of believers (1 Ki. 19. 5; Psa. 34. 7; 91. 11; Dan. 6. 22; Mt. 2. 13, 19; 4. 11; Lk. 22. 43; Acts 5. 19; 12. 7-10). From Heb. 1. 14, with Mt. 18. 10; Psa. 91. 11, it would seem that this care for the heirs of salvation begins in infancy and continues through life. The angels observe us (1 Cor. 4. 9; Eph. 3. 10; Eccl. 5. 6), a fact which should influence conduct. They receive departing saints (Lk. 16. 22). Man is made "a little lower than the angels," and in incarnation Christ took "for a little" (time) this lower place (Psa. 8. 4, 5; Heb. 2. 6, 9) that He might lift the believer into His own sphere above angels (Heb. 2. 9, 10). The angels are to accompany Christ in His second advent (Mt. 25. 31). To them will be committed the preparation of the judgment of the nations (see Mt. 13. 30, 39, 41, 42; 25. 32, note). The kingdom-age is not to be subject to angels, but to Christ and those for whom He was made a little lower than the angels (Heb. 2. 5). An archangel, Michael, is mentioned as having a particular relation to Israel and to the resurrections (Dan. 10. 13, 21; 12. 1, 2; Jude 9; 1 Thes. 4. 16). The only other angel whose name is revealed, Gabriel, was employed in the most distinguished services (Dan. 8. 16; 9. 21; Lk. 1. 19, 26).

Fallen angels. Two classes of these are mentioned: (1) "The angels which kept not their first estate [place], but left their own habitation," are "chained under darkness," awaiting judgment (2 Pet. 2. 4; Jude 6; 1 Cor. 6. 3; John 5. 22). See Gen. 6. 4, note. (2) The angels who have Satan (Gen. 3. 1; Rev. 20. 10, note) as leader. The origin of these is nowhere explicitly revealed. They may be identical with the demons (Mt. 7. 22, note). For Satan and his angels everlasting fire is prepared (Mt. 25. 41; Rev. 20. 10).

tified, saying, ^aWhat is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under all things. But now we see not yet all things put under him.

(4) Jesus, made for a little time lower than the angels, dies for man that he may lift men above angels into the family of God.

9 But we see Jesus, who was made ^aa little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; that he by the ^ggrace of God should taste death for every man.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the ^dcaptain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

11 For both he that ^esanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying, ^fI will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the ^hchurch will I sing praise unto thee.

13 And again, ^hI will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which ⁱGod hath given me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise ^jtook part of the same; that through death he might ^kdestroy him that had the power of death, that is, ^lthe devil;

15 And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.

16 For verily ^mhe took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make ⁿreconciliation for the sins of the people.

18 For in that he himself hath suffered being ^otempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER 3.

Part II. Parenthetic: The rest of God (Heb. 3. 1-4. 16).

(1) Christ the Son better than Moses the Servant.

WHEREFORE, ^qholy brethren, ^qpartakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our ^rprofession, Christ Jesus;

2 Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also ^sMoses was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath ^tbuilt the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God.

5 And ^uMoses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a ^vtestimony of those things which were to be spoken after;

6 But Christ as a son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

(2) Exhortation: the generation that came out of Egypt did not enter the Canaan-rest because of unbelief.

7 Wherefore (as the ^wHoly Ghost saith, ^xTo day if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

9 When your fathers ^ytempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do always err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

11 So I swear in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.)

12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13 But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of ^zsin.

14 For we are made ^qpartakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end;

15 While it is said, ^aTo day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had ^asinned, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

19 So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER 4.

(3) But there is a better rest for the believer, of which God's creation-rest is the type.

LET us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2 For unto us was the ^bgospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with ^cfaith in them that heard it.

3 For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, ^dAs I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the ^eworld.

4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh ^fday on this wise, And ^gGod did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this ^hplace again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom ⁱit was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7 Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To day, after so long a time; as it is ^jsaid, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if ^kJesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

(4) The believer rests in a perfect work of redemption, as God rested from a perfect work of creation.

9 There remaineth therefore a ^lrest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God ^mdid from his.

11 ^kLet us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man ^lfall after the same example of ^munbelief.

12 ⁿFor the word of God is ^oquick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are ^bnaked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

(5) The believer is kept in perfect rest by mercy and grace, through the Son of God.

14 Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is ^apassed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, ^llet us hold fast our ^oprofession.

15 For we have not a high priest which cannot be ^touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points ^utempted like as we are, ^vyet without ^wsin.

16 Let us therefore come boldly unto the ^xthrone of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace ^yto help in time of need.

CHAPTER 5.

Part III. Our great High Priest (Heb. 5. 1-8. 6).

(1) The office of high priest.

FOR every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things ^apertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for ^bsins:

2 Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is ^ccompassed with infirmity.

3 And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for ^dsins.

4 And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was ^eAaron.

(2) Christ a high priest after the order of Melchisedec.

5 So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, ^fThou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, "Thou art a priest for ever after the order of ¹Melchisedec.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up ^bprayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him ^dfrom death, and was heard ^ein that he feared;

8 Though he were a Son, yet learned he ^hobedience by the things which he suffered;

9 And ^bbeing made perfect, he became the author of eternal ^hsalvation unto all them that obey him;

10 ^hCalled of God an high priest after the order of Melchisedec.

(Parenthetic: appeal and warning, to 6. 12.)

11 Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of ^kmilk, and not of strong meat.

13 For every one that useth milk is ^hunskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

3 And this will we do, if God permit.

4 ^fFor it is ²impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made ^hpartakers of the ^hHoly Ghost,

5 And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the ^hworld to come,

6 If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto ^rrepentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put ^hhim to an open shame.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth ^hblessing from God:

8 But that which beareth thorns and briars is rejected, and ^his nigh unto cursing; whose end ^his to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany ^hsalvation, though we thus speak.

10 ^hFor God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister.

11 And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence to the full ^hassurance of hope unto the end:

12 That ye be not slothful, but ^hfollowers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

Part III Resumed. (3) Our High Priest within the veil assures our coming there too.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could

¹ See Gen. 14. 18, note. Melchisedec was a suitable type of Christ as High Priest, because: (1) he was a king-priest (Gen. 14. 18 with Zech. 6. 12, 13); (2) his name means, "my king is righteous" (cf. Isa. 11. 5), and he was king of Salem (i.e. "peace," cf. Isa. 11. 6-9); (3) he had no (recorded) "beginning of days" (cf. John 1. 1), nor "end of life" (cf. Rom. 6. 9; Heb. 7. 23-25); nor (4) was he made a high priest by human appointment (Psa. 110. 4). But the contrast between the high priesthood of Melchisedec and Aaron is only as to person, "order" (or appointment), and duration. In His work Christ follows the Aaronic pattern, the "shadow" of which Christ was the substance (Heb. 8. 1-6; 9. 1-28).

² Heb. 6. 4-8 presents the case of Jewish professed believers who halt short of faith in Christ after advancing to the very threshold of salvation, even "going along with" the Holy Spirit in His work of enlightenment and conviction (John 16. 8-10). It is not said that they had faith. This supposed person is like the spies at Kadesh-barnea (Deut. 1. 19-26) who saw the land and had the very fruit of it in their hands, and yet turned back.

swear by no greater, he sware by himself,

14 Saying ^a Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.

15 And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16 For men verily swear by the greater: and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17 Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto the ^b heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, ^c confirmed it by an oath:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong ^d consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us:

19 Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that ^e within the veil;

20 ^f Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made an high priest for ever after the order of ^g Melchisedec.

CHAPTER 7.

The Melchisedec high priesthood resumed.

(4) The historic Melchisedec a type of Christ.

FOR this Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high ^h God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him;

2 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all; first being by interpretation King of righteousness, and after that also King of Salem, which is, King of peace;

3 Without father, without mother, without ⁱ descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but made like unto the Son of God; abideth a priest continually.

(5) Melchisedec high priesthood greater than the Aaronic.

(a) Because Aaron in Abraham paid Melchisedec tithes.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.

5 And verily they that are of the ^j sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham:

6 But he whose ^k descent is not counted from them ^l received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, of ^m whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

(b) Because the Aaronic priesthood made nothing perfect.

11 ⁿ If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man ^o gave attendance at the altar.

14 For it is ^p evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.

15 And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest.

16 Who is made, not after the law of a ^q carnal commandment, but after the power ^r of an ^s endless life.

17 For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of ^t Melchisedec.

18 For there is verily a ^u disannulling of the commandment going before for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof.

19 ^v For the ^w law made nothing ^x perfect, but the bringing in of a ^y better hope did; by the ^z which we draw nigh unto God.

20 And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest:

21 (For those priests were made without an oath; but this with an oath by him that said unto him, ^a The Lord sware and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec:)

24 But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood.

25 Wherefore he is ^bable also to save them ^dto the ^uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from ^sinners, and made higher than the heavens;

4 For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that there are priests that offer gifts according to the law:

5 Who ^kserve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was ^ladmonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: for, ^mSee, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mou. t.

6 But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better ⁿcovenant, which was established upon better promises.

Part IV. The new covenant better than the old (Heb. 8. 7-10. 39).

7 For if ^othat first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the ^lLord, when I will ^umake a ^lnew ²³covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:

9 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued

1 The New Covenant, Summary: (1) "Better" than the Mosaic Covenant, not morally, but efficaciously (Heb. 7. 19; Rom. 8. 3, 4). (2) Established on "better" (i.e. unconditional) promises. In the Mosaic Covenant God said, "If ye will" (Ex. 19. 5); in the New Covenant He says, "I will" (Heb. 8. 10, 12). (3) Under the Mosaic Covenant obedience sprang from fear (Heb. 2. 2; 12. 25-27); under the New from a willing heart and mind (v. 10). (4) The New Covenant secures the personal revelation of the Lord to every believer (v. 11); (5) the complete oblivion of sins (v. 12; Heb. 10. 17; cf. Heb. 10. 3); (6) rests upon an accomplished redemption (Mt. 26. 27, 28; 1 Cor. 11. 25; Heb. 9. 11, 12, 18-23); (7) and secures the perpetuity, future conversion, and blessing of Israel (Jer. 31. 31-40; see also "Kingdom (O.T.)," and 2 Sam. 7. 8-17). The New Covenant is the eighth, thus speaking of resurrection and of eternal completeness.

2 I. The Eight Covenants, Summary: (1) The Edenic Covenant (Gen. 1. 26-28, note) conditioned the life of man in innocency. (2) The Adamic Covenant (Gen. 3. 14-19, note) conditions the life of fallen man and gives promise of a Redeemer. (3) The Noahic Covenant (Gen. 9. 1, note) establishes the principle of human government. (4) The Abrahamic Covenant (Gen. 15. 18, note) founds the nation of Israel, and confirms, with specific additions, the Adamic promise of redemption. (5) The Mosaic Covenant (Ex. 19. 25, note) condemns all men, "for that all have sinned." (6) The Palestinian Covenant (Deut. 28.-30. 3, note) secures the final restoration and conversion of Israel. (7) The Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7. 8-17, note) establishes the perpetuity of the Davidic family (fulfilled in Christ, Mt. 1. 1; not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts; and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away.

CHAPTER 9.

(1) The ordinances and sanctuary of the old covenant were mere types.

THEN verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.

2 For there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread; which is called the sanctuary.

3 And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all;

4 Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant;

5 And over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercyseat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6 Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

7 But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

8 The Holy Ghost thus signifying, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:

9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience;

10 Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation.

(2) The sanctuary, and sacrifice of the new covenant are realities.

11 But Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;

12 Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

13 For if the blood of bulls and of Lk. 1. 31-33; Rom. 1. 3), and of the Davidic kingdom, over Israel and over the whole earth; to be fulfilled in and by Christ (2 Sam. 7. 8-17; Zech. 12. 8; Lk. 1. 31-33; Acts 15. 14-17; 1 Cor. 15. 24). (8) The New Covenant rests upon the sacrifice of Christ, and secures the eternal blessedness, under the Abrahamic Covenant (Gal. 3. 13-29), of all who believe. It is absolutely unconditional, and, since no responsibility is by it committed to man, it is final and irreversible.

II. The relation of Christ to the eight covenants is as follows: (1) To the Edenic Covenant, Christ, as the "second Man," the "last Adam" (1 Cor. 15. 45-47), takes the place over all things which the first Adam lost (Col. 2. 10; Heb. 2. 7-8). (2) He is the "Seed of the woman" of the Adamic Covenant (Gen. 3. 15; John 12. 31; 1 John 3. 8; Gal. 4. 4; Rev. 20. 10), and fulfilled its conditions of toil (Mk. 6. 3) and obedience. (3) As the greatest son of Shem, in Him was fulfilled supremely the promise to Shem in the Noahic Covenant (Gen. 9. 1, note; Col. 2. 9). (4) He is the "Seed to whom the promises were made" in the Abrahamic Covenant; the son of Abraham obedient unto death (Gen. 22. 18; Gal. 3. 16; Phil. 2. 8). (5) He lived sinlessly under the Mosaic Covenant and bore for us its curse (Gal. 3. 10-13). (6) He lived obediently as a Jew in the land under the Palestinian Covenant, and will yet perform its gracious promises (Deut. 28.-30. 1-9). (7) He is the "Seed," "Heir," and "King" under the Davidic Covenant (Mt. 1. 1; Lk. 1. 31-33). (8) His sacrifice is the foundation of the New Covenant (Mt. 26. 28; 1 Cor. 11. 25).

goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

15 And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

(3) The new covenant is also the last will and testament of Christ, sealed by his blood.

16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator.

17 For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

18 Whereupon neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people,

20 Saying, This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.

21 Moreover he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.

(4) The heavenly sanctuary purged with a better sacrifice (Lev. 16. 33).

that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us:

(5) The one sacrifice of the new covenant is better than the many sacrifices of the old.

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;

26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27 And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment:

28 So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

CHAPTER 10.

FOR the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.

2 For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

¹ Death, physical, Summary: (1) Physical death is a consequence of sin (Gen. 3. 19), and the universality of death proves the universality of sin (Rom. 5. 12-14). (2) Physical death affects the body only, and is neither cessation of life nor of consciousness (Hab. 2. 5, note; Lk. 16. 23, note; Rev. 6. 9, 10). (3) All physical death ends in the resurrection of the body. See "Resurrection" (Job 19. 25; 1 Cor. 15. 52, note). (4) Because physical death is a consequence of sin, it is not inevitable to the redeemed (Gen. 5. 24; 1 Cor. 15. 51, 52; 1 Thes. 4. 15-17). (5) Physical death has for the believer a peculiar qualification. It is called "sleep," because his body may be "awakened" at any moment (Phil. 3. 20, 21; 1 Thes. 4. 14-18). (6) The soul and spirit live, independently of the death of the body, which is described as a "tabernacle" (tent), in which the "I" dwells, and which may be put off (2 Cor. 5. 1-8; cf. 1 Cor. 15. 42-44; 2 Pet. 1. 13-15). (7) At the believer's death he is "clothed upon" with a "house from heaven" pending the resurrection of the "earthly house," and is at once "with the Lord" (2 Cor. 5. 1-8; Phil. 1. 23; Lk. 23. 43). As to the death of Christ, see Mt. 27. 50, note.

4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away ^asins.

5 Wherefore when he cometh into the ^bworld, he saith, 'Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a ^cbody hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt-offerings and sacrifices for ^dsin thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O ^eGod.

8 Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt-offerings and offering for ^fsin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 By the which will ^gwe are ^hsanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away ⁱsins:

12 But this man, after he had offered one ^jsacrifice for sins ^kfor ever, sat down ^lon the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath ^mperfected for ever ⁿthem that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the ^oHoly Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

² Sacrifice, Summary: (1) The first intimation of sacrifice is Gen. 3. 21, the "coats of skins" having obviously come from slain animals. The first clear instance of sacrifice is Gen. 4. 4, explained in Heb. 11. 4. Abel's righteousness was the result of his sacrifice, not of his character. (2) Before the giving of the law the head of the family was the family priest. By the law an order of priests was established who alone could offer sacrifices. Those sacrifices were "shadows," types, expressing variously the guilt and need of the offerer in reference to God, and all pointing to Christ and fulfilled in Him. (3) As foreshadowed by the types and explained by the N.T., the sacrifice of Christ is penal (Gal. 3. 13; 2 Cor. 5. 21); substitutional (Lev. 1. 4; Isa. 53. 5, 6; 2 Cor. 5. 21; 1 Pet. 2. 24); voluntary (Gen. 22. 9; John 10. 18); redemptive (Gal. 3. 13; Eph. 1. 7; 1 Cor. 6. 20); propitiatory (Rom. 3. 25); reconciling (2 Cor. 5. 18, 19; Col. 1. 21, 22); efficacious (John 12. 32, 33; Rom. 5. 9, 10; 2 Cor. 5. 21; Eph. 2. 13; Heb. 9. 11, 12, 26; 10. 10-17; 1 John 1. 7; Rev. 1. 5); and revelatory (John 3. 16; 1 John 4. 9, 10).

died without mercy under two or three witnesses:

29 ^aOf how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, ^bwho hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was ^csanctified, ^dan unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the ^eSpirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the ^fLord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, whilst ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, whilst ye became companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing ^gin yourselves that ye have ^hin heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye have need of patience, that, ⁱafter ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

37 For yet a little while, and he that shall come ^jwill come, and he will not tarry.

38 Now the ^kjust shall live by faith: but if ^lany man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition; but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER 11.

Part V. The superiority of the faith way (Heb. 11. 1-40).

(1) The sphere of faith.

NOW faith is the ^msubstance of things hoped for, the ⁿevidence of things not seen.

2 For by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that the ^oworlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

(2) Instances of faith: Abel.

4 By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent ^asacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was ^brighteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead yet speaketh.

Enoch.

5 By faith ^cEnoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he ^dpleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

Noah.

7 By faith ^eNoah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the ^fsaving of his house; by the which he condemned the ^gworld, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

Abraham and Sara.

8 By faith ^hAbraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as ⁱin a strange country, ^jdwelling in ^ktabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he ^llooked for a city which hath foundations, whose ^mbuilder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also ⁿSara herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

12 Therefore sprang there even of one, and him as good as dead, so ^omany as the ^pstars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 These all died in faith, not having received the ^qpromises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of ^rthem, and embraced ^sthem, and ^tconfessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly, if they had been mindful of ^athat country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to be returned.

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith Abraham, when he was ^btried, offered up Isaac: and he that had received the promises offered up his only begotten son.

18 ^cOf whom it was said, ^dThat in Isaac shall thy seed be called:

19 Accounting that God was able to raise ^ehim up, ^feven from the dead; from whence also he received him ^gin a figure.

Isaac and Jacob.

20 By faith ^hIsaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

21 By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed both the sons of Joseph; and worshipped, ⁱleaning upon the top of his staff.

Joseph.

22 By faith ^jJoseph, when he died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones.

Moses and his parents.

23 By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw ^khe was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the king's ^lcommandment.

24 By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter;

25 Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, ^mthan to enjoy the pleasures of ⁿsin for a season;

26 Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect unto the recompence ^oof the reward.

27 By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible.

28 Through faith he kept the 32 And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me to tell of ^uGedeon, and of ^vBarak, and of ^wSamson, and of ^xJephthae; of David also, and ^ySamuel, and of the prophets:

33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought ^zrighteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 Women ^{aa}received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not ^{ab}accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection:

36 And others had trial of ^{ac}cruel mockings and scourgings, yca. moreover of bonds and imprisonment:

37 They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were ^{ad}tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, ^{ae}tormented;

38 (Of whom the ^{af}world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and ^{ag}in mountains, and ^{ah}in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And these all, having obtained a good report through ^{ai}faith, received not the promise:

¹ The essence of faith consists in receiving what God has revealed, and may be defined as that trust in the God of the Scriptures and in Jesus Christ whom He hath sent, which receives Him as Saviour and Lord, and impels to loving obedience and good works (John 1. 12; Jas. 2. 14-26). The particular uses of faith give rise to its secondary definitions: (1) For salvation, faith is personal trust, apart from meritorious works, in the Lord Jesus Christ, as delivered for our offences and raised again for our justification (Rom. 4. 5, 23-25). (2) As used in prayer, faith is the "confidence that we have in him, that if we ask anything according to his will, he 40 God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made "perfect.

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

(2) The believer-priest does not come to Mount Sinai.

18 For ye are not come unto the ^mmount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which ⁿvoice they that heard intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)

heareth us" (1 John 5. 14, 15). (3) As used in reference to unseen things of which Scripture speaks, faith "gives substance" to them, so that we act upon the conviction of their reality (Heb. 11. 1-3). (4) As a working principle in life, the uses of faith are illustrated in Heb. 11. 1-39.

22 But ye are ^acome unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to ^ban innumerable company of ^cangels,

23 To the general assembly ^dand ^echurch of the firstborn, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made ^fperfect,

24 And to Jesus the ^gmediator of the new covenant, and to ^hthe blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.

(3) Warnings and instructions.

25 ⁱSee that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not ye escape, if ye turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:

26 Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, ^jYet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

28 Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be ^kmoved, let us ^lhave ^mgrace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:

1 Church (true), Summary: The true church, composed of the whole number of regenerate persons from Pentecost to the first resurrection (1 Cor. 15. 52), united together and to Christ by the baptism with the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13), is the body of Christ of which He is the Head (Eph. 1. 22, 23). As such, it is a holy temple for the habitation of God through the Spirit (Eph. 2. 21, 22); is "one flesh" with Christ (Eph. 5. 30, 31); and espoused to Him as a chaste virgin to one husband (2 Cor. 11. 2-4).

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JAMES.

1 1]

WRITER. James (Mt. 4. 21, note), called "the Just," mentioned by Paul with Cephas and John as "pillars" in the church at Jerusalem (Gal. 2. 9). He seems to have been, as a religious man, austere, legal, ceremonial (Acts 21. 18-24).

Date. Tradition fixes the martyrdom of James in the year 62, but his Epistle shows no trace of the larger revelations concerning the church and the distinctive doctrines of grace made through the Apostle Paul, nor even of the discussions concerning the relation of Gentile converts to the law of Moses, which culminated in the first council (Acts 15.), over which James presided. This presumes the very early date of James, which may confidently be set down as "the first Epistle to Christians."—Weston.

Theme. By "the twelve tribes scattered abroad" we are to understand, not Jews, but Christian Jews of the Dispersion. The church began with such (Acts 2. 5-11), and James, who seems not to have left Jerusalem, would feel a particular pastoral responsibility for these scattered sheep. They still resorted to the synagogues, or called their own assemblies by that name (Jas. 2. 2, where "assembly" is "synagogue" in the Gr.). It appears from Jas. 2. 1-8 that they still held the synagogue courts for the trial of causes arising amongst themselves. The Epistle, then, is elementary in the extreme. To suppose that Jas. 2. 14-26 is a polemic against Paul's doctrine of justification is absurd. Neither Galatians nor Romans was yet written.

James' theme, then, is "religion" (Gr. threskeia, "outward religious service") as the expression and proof of faith. He does not exalt works as against faith, but faith as producing works. His style is that of the Wisdom-books of the O.T.

The divisions are five: I. The testing of faith, 1. 1-2. 26. II. The reality of faith tested by the tongue, 3. 1-18. III. The rebuke of worldliness, 4. 1-17. IV. The rich warned, 5. 1-6. V. Hortatory, 5. 7-20.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The testings of faith
(Jas. 1. 1-2. 26).

(1) The purpose of testings.

JAMES, a "servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations;

3 Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5 If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.

6 But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

3.7. (Mt.7.14;

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.

9 Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted:

10 But the rich, ^{kin} in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

(2) Solicitation to do evil is not of God.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God:

for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

14 But every man is ¹tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth ²sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 Every good ³gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no ⁴variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 ⁵Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the ⁶righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and ⁷superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to ⁸save your souls.

(3) The test of obedience.

22 But be ye ⁹doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But whoso ¹⁰looketh into the ¹¹perfect law of liberty, and continueth ¹²therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

(4) The test of true religion.

26 If any man among you seem to be ¹³religious, and bridleth not his ¹⁴tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 ¹⁵Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows

CHAPTER 2.

(5) The test of brotherly love.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, ¹⁸the Lord of glory, ¹⁹with respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

4 ²⁰Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges ²¹of evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, ²²Hath not God chosen the poor of this ²³world ²⁴rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him?

6 But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that ²⁵worthy name by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, ²⁶Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But ²⁷if ye have respect to persons, ye commit ²⁸sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole ²⁹law, and yet ³⁰be offend in one ³¹point, he is guilty of all.

11 For he that said, ³²Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a ³³transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the ³⁴law of liberty.

13 For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed

¹ "Temptation" is used in two senses: (1) Solicitation to evil (e.g. Gen. 3. 1-6; Mt. 4. 1; 1 Cor. 10. 13; 2 Cor. 11. 3, 4; Jas. 1. 14). (2) Testing under trial (e.g. Gen. 22. 1; Lk. 22. 28; cf. Lk. 4. 2). Cf. Mt. 6. 13 (solicitation to evil) and 1 Pet. 1. 6 (testing under trial).

no mercy; and ^amercy ^brejoiceth against judgment.

(6) The test of good works.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can ^afaith ^asave him?

15 If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And ^aone of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?

17 Even so ^ffaith, if it hath not works, is ^ddead, being alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: ^hshew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that ⁱthere is one God; thou doest well: the ^jdevils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that ^kfaith without works is dead?

(7) The illustration of Abraham.
(Cf. Rom. 4. 1-25.)

21 Was not Abraham our father ^ljustified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made ^mperfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed ⁿGod, and it was ^oimputed unto him for ^prighteousness: and he was called the ^qFriend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also was not ^rRahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the ^sbody without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

shall receive the greater condemnation.

2 For in many things ^uwe offend all. If any man offend not in word the same is a ^vperfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, we put ^wbits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so ^wthe tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth!

6 ^xAnd the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity; so is the tongue among our members, that it ^ydefileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of ^zhell.

7 For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of ^aserpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind:

8 But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, ^bfull of deadly poison.

9 Therewith bless we ^cGod, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made ^dafter the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the ^efig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13 Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good ^fconversation his works with meekness of wisdom.

14 But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

¹ Imputation is the act of God whereby He accounts righteousness to the believer in Christ, who has borne the believer's sins in vindication of the law. See Phm. 17, 18, note.

15 ^aThis wisdom descendeth not from above, but ^bis earthly, ^csensual, devilish.

16 For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

17 But the ^awisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and ^dwithout hypocrisy.

18 And the fruit of ^a'righteousness is sown in peace ^bof them that make peace.

CHAPTER 4.

Part III. The rebuke of worldliness.

FROM whence ^acome wars and fightings among you? ^bcome they not hence, ^ceven of your lusts ^dthat war in your members?

2 Ye lust, and have not; ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3 Ye ask, and receive not, ^bbecause ye ask ^a'amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.

4 Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the ^b'friendship of the ^c'world is enmity with God? ^d'whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

5 Do ye think that the scripture ^a'saith in vain, ^b'The ^c'spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy?

6 But he giveth more ^b'grace. Wherefore he saith, ^a'God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7 Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the ^a'devil, and he will flee from you.

8 ^a'Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye ^b'sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and ^ayour joy to heaviness.

10 ^a'Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11 ^a'Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of ^bhis brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

5 Ye have lived ^a'in pleasure on the earth, and ^b'been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

7 ^a'Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.

9 ^a'Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge standeth before the door.

10 Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering ^aaffliction, and of patience.

11 Behold, we count them ^bhappy which endure. Ye have heard of the ^cpatience of Job, and have seen the ^dend of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF

1 1]

PETER.

[1 9

WRITER. The Apostle Peter (1. 1).

Date. Probably A.D. 60. That "Babylon" refers to the former city on the Euphrates, or to Rome, cannot be inferred from 5, 13. The text is obscure.

Theme. While Peter undoubtedly has scattered Jewish believers in mind, his Epistles comprehend Gentile believers also (1 Pet. 2. 10). The present Epistle, written from a church on Gentile ground (5, 13), presents all the foundational truths of the Christian faith, with special emphasis on the atonement. The distinctive note of First Peter is preparation for victory over suffering. The last-named word occurs about fifteen times, and is the key-word of the Epistle.

The Epistle is in three parts: I. Christian suffering and conduct in the light of full salvation, 1. 1-2. 8. II. The believer's life in view of his sevenfold position, and of the vicarious suffering of Christ, 2. 9-4. 19. III. Christian service in the light of the coming of the Chief Shepherd, 5. 1-14.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Christian suffering and conduct in the light of full salvation (1 Pet. 1. 1-2. 8).

PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the ^astrangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, 2 ^bElect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through ^csanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a ^dlively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ ^efrom the dead, not away, reserved in heaven for you,

5 Who are ^kkept by the power of God through ^lfaith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

6 Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need be, ye are in heaviness through manifold ^mtemptations:

7 That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, ⁿmight be found unto praise and honour and glory at the ^oappearing of Jesus Christ:

8 Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see ^phim not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:

9 Receiving the end of your faith, ^qeven the ^rsalvation of your souls.

¹ Election, Summary: In both Testaments the Hebrew and Greek words are rendered "elect," "election," "choose," "chosen." In all cases they mean, simply, "chosen," or "to choose"; and are used of both human and divine choices. (1) In the latter use election is: (a) corporate, as of the nation of Israel, or the church (Isa. 45. 4; Eph. 1. 4); and (b) individual (1 Pet. 1. 2). (2) Election is according to the foreknowledge of God (1 Pet. 1. 2), and wholly of grace, apart from human merit (Rom. 9. 11; 11. 5, 6). (3) Election proceeds from the divine volition (John 15. 16).

Election is, therefore: (1) The sovereign act of God in grace whereby certain are chosen from among mankind for Himself (John 15. 19). (2) The sovereign act of God whereby certain elect persons are chosen for distinctive service for Him (Lk. 6. 13; Acts 9. 15; 1 Cor. 1. 27, 28).

² Suffering, in First Peter, is set in the light of: (1) assured salvation, 1. 2-5; (2) the greater glory at Christ's appearing, 1. 7; (3) Christ's sufferings and coming glories, 1. 11; (4) the believer's association with Him in both, 2. 20, 21; 3. 17, 18; 4. 12, 13; (5) the purifying effect of suffering, 1. 7; 4. 1, 2; 5. 10; (6) that Christ is now glorified in the believer's patient suffering, 4. 16; (7) that suffering is disciplinary, 4. 17-19. (1 Cor. 11. 31, 32; Heb. 12. 5-13.)

10 Of which ^asalvation the prophets have inquired and searched diligently, ^bwho prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11 Searching what, or what manner of time the ^cSpirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with the ^dHoly Ghost sent down from heaven; which things the angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end ^efor the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ;

14 As obedient children, not ^ffashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance:

15 But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16 Because it is written, ^gBe ye ^hholy; for I am holy.

17 And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear:

18 Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not ⁱredeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation ^{received} by tradition from your fathers;

19 But ^jwith the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:

20 Who verily was ^kforeordained before the foundation of the ^lworld, but was manifest in ^mthese last times for you.

21 Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead,

CHAPTER 2.

Part I. continued.

WHEREFORE laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

2 As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3 If so be ye have ^atasted that the Lord is gracious.

5 Ye also, as lively stones, ^dare built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up ^espiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6 Wherefore also it is contained in the ^fscripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

7 Unto you therefore which ^gbelieve ^hhe is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders ⁱdisallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 And a ^jstone of stumbling, and

¹ The divine order is foreknowledge, election, predestination. That foreknowledge determines the election or choice is clear from 1 Pet. 1. 2, and predestination is the bringing to pass of the election. "Election looks back to foreknowledge; predestination forward to the destiny." But Scripture nowhere declares what it is in the divine foreknowledge which determines the divine election and predestination. The foreknown are elected, and the elect are predestinated, and this election is certain to every believer by the mere fact that he believes (1 Thes. 1. 4, 5). See "Predestination," Eph. 1. 11.

² Christ crucified is the Rock: (1) Smitten that the Spirit of life may flow from Him to all who will drink (Ex. 17. 6; 1 Cor. 10. 4; John 4. 13, 14; 7. 37-39). (2) To the church the foundation and chief corner Stone (Eph. 2. 20). (3) To the Jews at His first coming a "stumbling stone" (Rom. 9. 32, 33; 1 Cor. 1. 23). (4) To Israel a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient; whereunto also they were appointed.

Part II. The believer's life in view of his sevenfold position, and of the vicarious suffering of Christ.

9 But ye are a ^achosen generation, a royal ¹priesthood, an ^holy nation, a ^peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the ^dpraises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light:

10 Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of ^God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Dearly beloved, I beseech you as ^strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which ^swar against the soul;

12 Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your ^hgood works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

13 Submit ^yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;

14 Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well.

15 For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

at His second coming the "headstone of the corner" (Zech. 4. 7). (5) To the Gentile world-power the smiting "stone cut out without hands" (Dan. 2. 34). (6) In the divine purpose the Stone which, after the destruction of Gentile world-power, is to grow and fill the earth. (7) To unbelievers the crushing Stone of judgment (Mt. 21. 44).

¹ The New Testament priesthood, Summary: (1) Until the law was given the head of each family was the family priest (Gen. 8. 20; 26. 25; 31. 54). (2) When the law was proposed, the promise to perfect obedience was that Israel should be unto God "a kingdom of priests" (Ex. 19. 6); but Israel violated the law, and God shut up the priestly office to the Aaronic family, appointing the tribe of Levi to minister to them, thus constituting the typical priesthood (Ex. 28. 1). (3) In the dispensation of grace, all believers are unconditionally constituted a "kingdom of priests" (1 Pet. 2. 9; Rev. 1. 6), the distinction which Israel failed to achieve by works. The priesthood of the believer is, therefore, a birthright; just as every descendant of Aaron was born to the priesthood (Heb. 5. 1). (4) The chief privilege of a priest is access to God. Under law the high priest only could enter "the holiest of all," and that but once a year (Heb. 9. 7). But when Christ died, the veil, type of Christ's human body (Heb. 10. 20), was rent, so that now the believer-priests, equally with Christ the High Priest, have access to God in the holiest (Heb. 10. 19-22). The High Priest is corporeally there (4. 14-16; Heb. 9. 24; 10. 19-22). (5) In the exercise of his office the New Testament believer-priest is (1) a sacrificer who offers a threefold sacrifice: (a) his own living body (Rom. 12. 1; Phil. 2. 17; 2 Tim. 4. 6;

CHAPTER 3.

Part II. continued.

LIKEWISE, ye wives, be in ^asubjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the ^bconversation of the wives;

² While they behold your chaste ^bconversation coupled with fear.

³ Whose ^aadorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;

⁴ But let it be the hidden man ^aof the heart, in ^athat which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

⁵ For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who ^ftrusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:

⁶ Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, scalling him lord: whose daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and ^bare not afraid with any amazement.

⁸ Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, ^klove as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:

⁹ Not ^lrendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; ^mknowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.

¹⁰ For ⁿhe that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

¹¹ Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ^oenue sue it.

¹² For the eyes of the ^pLord are over the ^qrighteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the ^rLord is against them that do evil.

¹³ And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

¹⁵ But ^a"sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ^bready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the ^chope that is in you with meekness and fear:

¹⁶ Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

¹⁷ For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.

(The vicarious suffering of Christ, preached by Christ through the Spirit in Noah.)

¹⁸ ^aFor Christ also ^bhath ^conce suffered for ^dsins, the just for the unjust, ^ethat he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the ^f'Spirit:

¹⁹ ^aBy which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison;

²⁰ Which sometime were disobedient, when ^conce the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.

²¹ ^fThe like figure whereunto ^geven ^hbaptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the ⁱflesh, but the ^janswer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

²² Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; ^kangels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAPTER 4.

Part II. continued.

FORASMUCH then as Christ ^khath ^lsuffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from ^msin;

² ⁿThat he no longer should live the rest of ^ohis time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

1 John 3, 16; Jas. 1, 27; (b) praise to God, "the fruit of the lips that make mention of His name" (R.V.), to be offered "continually" (Heb. 13, 15; Ex. 25, 22; "I will commune with thee from above the mercy seat"); (c) his substance (Heb. 13, 16; Rom. 12, 13; Gal. 6, 6; 3 John 5-8; Heb. 13, 2; Gal. 6, 10; Tit. 3, 14). (2) The N.T. priest is also an intercessor (1 Tim. 2, 1; Col. 4, 12).

3 For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4 Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you:

5 Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6 ^aFor for this cause was the gospel preached also to them ^bthat are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the ^cflesh, but ^dlive according to God in the spirit.

7 But the ^eend of all things is ^fat hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

8 And above all things have fervent ^gcharity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of ^hsins.

9 Use hospitality one to another without grudging.

10 As every man hath ⁱreceived the gift, ^jeven so minister the same one to another, as ^kgood stewards of the manifold ^lgrace of God.

11 ^m¶ If any man speak, ⁿlet him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, ^olet him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in ^pall things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:

13 But rejoice, ^qinasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, ^rwhen his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 ^s¶ If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy ^tare ye; for the ^uspirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, ^vbut on your part he is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.

16 Yet if ^wany man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.

CHAPTER 5.

Part III. Christian service in view of the coming again of the Chief Shepherd.

THE ^aelders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a ^bwitness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the ^cglory that shall be revealed:

2 ^dFeed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight ^ethereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;

3 Neither as ^fbeing lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.

4 And when the chief ^gShepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a ^hcrown of glory that fadeth not away.

5 Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, ⁱall of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for ^jGod resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

6 ^kHumble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7 ^l Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.

8 Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the ^mdevil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

9 Whom ⁿresist stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the ^oworld.

10 But the God of ^pall grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, ^qafter that ye have suffered a while, make you ^rperfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you.

11 To him ^sbe glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL OF

1 1]

PETER.

[1 16

WRITER. The Apostle Peter (1. 1).

Date. Probably A.D. 66.

Theme. Second Peter and Second Timothy have much in common. In both, the writers are aware that martyrdom is near (2 Tim. 4. 6; 2 Pet. 1. 14 with John 21. 18, 19); both are singularly sustained and joyful; both foresee the apostasy in which the history of the professing church will end. Paul finds that apostasy in its last stage when the so-called laity (Rev. 2. 6, note) have become infected (2 Tim. 3. 1-5; 4. 3, 4); Peter traces the origin of the apostasy to false teachers (2 Pet. 2. 1-3, 15-19). In Peter the false teachers deny redemption truth (2. 1); we shall find in First John a deeper depth—denial of the truth concerning Christ's person (1 John 4. 1-5). In Jude all phases of the apostasy are seen. But in none of these Epistles is the tone one of dejection or pessimism. God and His promises are still the resource of the believer.

The Epistle is in four divisions: I. The great Christian virtues, 1. 1-14. II. The Scriptures exalted, 1. 15-21. III. Warnings concerning apostate teachers, 2. 1-22. IV. The second coming of Christ and the day of Jehovah, 3. 1-18.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The great Christian virtues.

SIMON Peter, a ^aservant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the ^brighteousness of God and our ^cSaviour Jesus Christ:

2 ^dGrace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto ^elife and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us ^fto glory and virtue:

4 ^gWhereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be ^hpartakers of the divine nature, having ⁱescaped the corruption that is in the ^jworld through lust.

5 And beside this, giving all diligence, ^kadd to your faith virtue; ^land to virtue knowledge;

6 And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness;

7 And to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness ^mcharity.

8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be ⁿbarren nor un-

9 But he that lacketh these things is ^ablind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old ^bsins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: ^cfor if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, ^dto stir you up by putting you in remembrance;

14 Knowing that shortly I must ^eput off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath ^fshewed me.

Part II. The Scriptures exalted.

15 Moreover I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16 For we have not followed cunningly devised ^gfables, when we made known unto you the ^hpower and ⁱcoming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were ^aeyewitnesses of his majesty.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, ^bThis is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the ^choly mount.

19 We have also ^{da} more sure word of prophecy; ²whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a ^ddark place, until the day dawn, and the ²day star arise in your hearts:

20 Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of ^hany private interpretation.

21 For the prophecy came not in ^{old} time by the will of man; but ^hholy men of God ^kspake as they were moved by the ^lHoly Ghost.

CHAPTER 2.

Part III. Warnings concerning apostate teachers.

(1) They will deny redemption by blood: many will follow them.

BUT there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be ^mfalse teachers among you, who privily shall bring in ⁿdamnable heresies, even ^odenying the ^pLord that bought them and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3 And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their ^qdamnation slumbereth not.

^w Jude 10. natural animals without reason.

4 For if God ²spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;

5 And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the ²world of the ungodly;

6 And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7 And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked.

8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds;)

9 The Lord knoweth how ^{to} deliver the godly out of ²temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the ²day of judgment to be punished:

10 But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government. Presumptuous are they, selfwilled, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

11 Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.

12 But these, as ²natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption;

13 And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while they feast with you;

¹ Where the reference is to things, the meaning of "holy" or "sanctified" is, simply, set apart for the use of God, or rendered sacred by the divine presence.

² That is, made more sure by fulfilment in part. Fulfilled prophecy is a proof of inspiration because the Scripture predictions of future events were uttered so long before the events transpired that no merely human sagacity or foresight could have anticipated them, and these predictions are so detailed, minute, and specific, as to exclude the possibility that they were mere fortunate guesses. Hundreds of predictions concerning Israel, the land of Canaan, Babylon, Assyria, Egypt, and numerous personages—so ancient, so singular, so seemingly improbable, as well as so detailed and definite that no mortal could have anticipated them—have been fulfilled by the elements, and by men who were ignorant of them, or who utterly disbelieved them, or who struggled with frantic desperation to avoid their fulfilment. It is certain, therefore, that the Scriptures which contain them are inspired. "Prophecy came not in olden time by the will of man; but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" (2 Pet. 1. 21).

14 Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from ^asin; beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

(2) The marks of the false teachers. (a) They are like Balaam.

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of ^bBalaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity; the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the madness of the prophet.

(b) They are destitute of the Spirit. (Cf. John 4. 14; 7. 37-39; Rom. 8. 9.)

17 These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

(c) Their words are learned and pretentious. (Cf. 1 Cor. 2. 1-5.)

18 ^aFor when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the ^cflesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error.

(d) They affect liberality.

19 While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: ^ffor of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the ^gworld through the knowledge of the Lord and ^hSaviour Jesus Christ, they are ⁱagain entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21 For it had been ^jbetter for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, ^kafter they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

(e) Unsaved professors run after them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true ^lproverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER 3.

Part IV. The return of the Lord and the day of the Lord (Isa. 2. 12, refs.).

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up your ^mpure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That ye may be mindful of the words ⁿwhich were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment ^oof us the apostles of the Lord and ^pSaviour:

3 Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days ^qscoffers, walking after their own lusts,

(1) The return of the Lord to be generally disbelieved.

4 And saying, ^rWhere is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this ^sthey willingly are ignorant of, that ^tby the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:

6 Whereby the ^uworld that then was, being overflowed with water, ^vperished:

7 But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the ^wday of judgment and ^xperdition of ungodly men.

8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and ^ya thousand years as one day.

9 The Lord is not ^zslack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is ^alongsuffering to us-ward, ^bnot willing that any should perish, but that all ^cshould come to ^drepentance.

(2) The day of the Lord (Isa. 2. 12, refs.).

10 But the ^eday of the Lord will come ^fas a thief in the night; in the which the ^gheavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness,

12 Looking for and ^ahasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, ^blook for ^cnew heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth ^drighteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, ^ebe diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

15 And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is ^fsalvation;

17 Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye ^mknow these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own stedfastness.

¹ Grace (imparted). Summary (see "Grace," John 1. 16): Grace is not only dispensationally a method of divine dealing in salvation (John 1. 16, note), but is also the method of God in the believer's life and service. As saved, he is "not under the law, but under grace" (Rom. 6. 14). Having by grace brought the believer into the highest conceivable position (Eph. 1. 6), God ceaselessly works through grace, to impart to, and perfect in him, corresponding graces (John 15. 4, 5; Gal. 5. 22, 23). Grace, therefore, stands connected with service (Rom. 12. 6; 15. 15, 16; 1 Cor. 1. 3-7; 3. 10; 15. 10; 2 Cor. 12. 9, 10; Gal. 2. 9; Eph. 3. 7, 8; 4. 7; Phil. 1. 7; 2 Tim. 2. 1, 2; 1 Pet. 4. 10); with Christian growth (2 Cor. 1. 12; Eph. 4. 29; Col. 3. 16; 4. 6; 2 Thes. 1. 12; Heb. 4. 16; 12. 28, 29; 13. 9; Jas. 4. 6; 1 Pet. 1. 2; 3. 7; 5. 5, 10; 2 Pet. 3. 18; Jude 4); and with giving (2 Cor. 4. 15; 8. 1, 6, 7, 19; 9. 14).

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF

1 1]

JOHN.

[1 8

WRITER. The Apostle John, as unbroken tradition affirms, and as internal evidence and comparison with the Gospel of John prove.

Date. Probably A.D. 90.

Theme. First John is a family letter from the Father to His "little children" who are in the world. With the possible exception of the Song of Solomon, it is the most intimate of the inspired writings. The world is viewed as without. The sin of a believer is treated as a child's offence against his Father, and is dealt with as a family matter (1. 9; 2. 1). The moral government of the universe is not in question. The child's sin as an offence against the law has been met in the Cross, and "Jesus Christ the righteous" is now his "Advocate with the Father." John's Gospel leads across the threshold of the Father's house; his first Epistle makes us at home there. A tender word is used for "children," teknia, "born ones," or "bairns." Paul is occupied with our public position as sons; John with our nearness as born-ones of the Father.

First John is in two principal divisions: I. The family with the Father, 1.1-3. 24. II. The family and the world, 4. 1-5. 21. There is a secondary analysis, in each division of which occurs the phrase, "My little children," as follows: (I.) Introductory, the incarnation, 1. 1, 2. (II.) The little children and fellowship, 1. 3-2. 11. (III.) The little children and the secular and "religious" world, 2. 15-28. (IV.) How the little children may know each other, 2. 29-3. 10. (V.) How the little children must live together, 3. 11-24. (VI.) Parenthetic: How the little children may know false teachers, 4. 1-6. (VII.) The little children assured and warned, 4. 7-5. 21.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The family with the Father: fellowship.

(1) The incarnation makes fellowship possible.

THAT which was ^afrom the beginning, which we have ^bheard, which we have ^cseen with our eyes, which we have ^dlooked upon, and our hands have ^ehandled, of the ^fWord of life;

2 (For the ^glife was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that ^heternal life, which was ⁱwith the Father, and was manifested unto us;)

(2) Fellowship is with the Father and with the Son.

3 That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and truly our fellowship is ^jwith the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4 And these things write we unto you, that ^kyour joy may be full.

(3) The conditions of fellowship.
 (a) The walk in the light.

5 This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that ^lGod is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6 If we ^msay that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and ⁿdo not the truth:

7 But if we walk in the ^olight, as he is in the light, we have fellowship ^pone with another, and ^qthe blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

(b) The fact of indwelling sin admitted. (Cf. 1 Cor. 11. 31, note.)

8 If we say that we have no sin,

¹ What it is to "walk in the light" is explained by vs. 8-10. "All things . . . are made manifest by the light" (Eph. 5. 13). The presence of God brings the consciousness of sin in the nature (v. 8), and sins in the life (vs. 9, 10). The blood of Christ is the divine provision for both. To walk in the light is to live in fellowship with the Father and the Son. Sin interrupts, but confession restores that fellowship. Immediate confession keeps the fellowship unbroken.

we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

(c) Sins confessed, forgiven, and cleansed.

9 If we confess our sins, he is ^afaithful and ^bjust to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, ^cwe make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER 2.

(d) Fellowship maintained by Christ's advocacy.

MY little children, these things write I unto you, that ye ^dsin not. And if any man sin, ^ewe have an ¹advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

2 And he is the ^fpropitiation for our sins: and not for our's only, ^hbut also for the sins of the whole world.

(e) The tests of fellowship: obedience and love.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his ²commandments.

4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But whoso ^kkeepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God ^lperfected: hereby know we that we are in him.

6 He that saith he abideth in him ^mmought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.

7 Brethren, ⁿI write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had ^ofrom the beginning. The ^pold commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8 Again, a ^qnew commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the ^rtrue light now shineth.

and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

10 He that ¹loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and ²walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, little children, because your ³sins are ⁴forgiven you for his name's sake.

13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye have ⁵known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have ⁶overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, ⁷little children, because ye have ⁸known the Father.

14 I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

The children must not love the present world (Rev. 13. 8, note).

15 ^aLove not the ^bworld, neither the things that are in the world. ^cIf any man love the world, ^dthe love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the ^eflesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: ^fbut he that doeth the will of God abideth forever.

The children warned against apostates who deny the true deity of Christ.

18 Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They ³went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would not doubt have continued with us; but they went out, ^athat they might be made manifest that ^bthey were not all of us.

² John uses "commandments" (1) in the general sense of the divine will, however revealed, "his word" (v. 5); and (2) especially of the law of Christ (Gal. 6. 2; 2 John 5). See, also, John 15. 10-12.

³ "Went out from us." that is, doctrinally. Doubtless then, as now, the deniers of the Son (vs. 22, 23) still called themselves Christians. Cf. 2 Tim. 1. 15.

20 But ye have an ^cunction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but ^dbecause ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is ^ea liar but he that denieth that ^fJesus is the Christ? He is ^gAntichrist, that ^hdenieth the Father and the Son.

23 Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but] he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall ⁱcontinue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And this is the ^jpromise that he hath promised us, even ^keternal life.

26 These things have I written unto you concerning them that ^lseduce you.

27 But the ^manointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him.

28 And now, ⁿlittle children, abide in him; that, when ^ohe shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

How the little children may know each other.

29 If ye know that he is ^prighteous, ye know that every one that ^qdoeth righteousness is born of him.

knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, now are we the ^vsons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, ^wwhen he shall appear, ^xwe shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever ^ycommitteth ^zsin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know that he was manifested to ^atake away our sins; and ^bin him is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth ^crighteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

8 He that committeth sin is of the ^ddevil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, ^ethat he might ^fdestroy the works of the devil.

9 Whosoever is ^gborn of God doth not ^hcommit sin; for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever ⁱdoeth not ^jrighteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

How the little children must live together.

11 For this is the ^kmessage that ye heard from the beginning, that ^lwe should love one another.

12 Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvel not, my brethren, if the ^mworld ⁿhate you.

14 We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not ^ohis brother abideth in death.

15 Whosoever hateth his brother

1 "Righteousness" here, and in the passages having marginal references to this, means the righteous life which is the result of salvation through Christ. The righteous man under law became righteous by doing righteously; under grace he does righteously because he has been made righteous (Rom. 3. 22; Rom. 10. 3, note).

is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 Hereby ^bperceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to ^dlay down our lives for the brethren.

17 But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how ^dwell-eth the love of God in him?

18 My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.

20 For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, ^hthen have we confidence toward God.

22 And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 And ^jthis is his commandment, That we should ^kbelieve on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and ⁱlove one another, as he gave us commandment.

24 And he that keepeth his commandments ^ddwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the ^hSpirit which he hath given us.

(b) The world-marks of false teachers.

5 ^wThey are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and ^xthe world heareth them.

6 We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. ^yHereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

The true children are born of God through faith in the propitiation of the Son of God.

7 ^zBeloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that ^zloveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not knoweth not God; for ^bGod is love.

9 In this was ^zmanifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten ^zSon into the ^hworld, that we might live through him.

10 Herein is love, ^jnot that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the ^hpropitiation for our sins.

The love-life is shown by the life of love.

11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 No man hath seen God at any time. ^hIf we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is ^hperfected in us.

13 Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14 And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the ^jSaviour of the ^hworld.

15 Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein ^his our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the ^mday of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made ^aperfect in love.

19 ^bWe love him, because he first loved us.

20 ^cIf a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

21 ^dAnd ^ethis commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAPTER 5.

Faith is the overcoming principle in the world-conflict.

WHOSOEVER ^ebelieveth that ^fJesus is the Christ is ^gborn of God: and ^hevery one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2 ⁱBy this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and ^jkeep his commandments.

3 ^kFor this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments ^lare not grievous.

4 ^mFor whatsoever is born of God overcometh the ⁿworld: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, ^oeven our faith.

5 ^pWho is he that overcometh the world, but he that ^qbelieveth that Jesus is the Son of God?

6 ^rThis is he that came by ^swater and blood, ^teven Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the ^uSpirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7 ^vFor there are three that bear record in heaven, the ^wFather, the ^xWord, and the ^yHoly Ghost: and these three are one.

8 ^zAnd there are three that bear witness ^{aa}in earth, the ^{ab}Spirit, and the ^{ac}water, and the ^{ad}blood: and these three ^{ae}agree in one.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF

VER. 1]

JOHN.

[VER. 13

WRITER. The Apostle John.

Date. Probably A.D. 90.

Theme. Second John gives the essentials of the personal walk of the believer in a day when "many deceivers are entered into the world" (v. 7). The key-phrase is "the truth," by which John means the body of revealed truth, the Scriptures. The Bible, as the only authority for doctrine and life, is the believer's resource in a time of declension and apostasy.

The Epistle is in three divisions: I. The pathway of truth and love, vs. 1-6. II. The peril of unscriptural ways, vs. 7-11. III. Superscription, vs. 12, 13.

Part I. "The truth" and love inseparable in the Christian life.

THE ^aelder unto the ^belect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth;

2 For the truth's sake, ^cwhich dwelleth in us, and ^dshall be with us for ever.

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 I ^erejoiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, ^fthat we love one another.

6 And this is ^glove, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That, as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.

7 For many deceivers are ^hentered into the ⁱworld, who confess not ^jthat Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is ^ka deceiver and ^kan ^lantichrist.

8 Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full ^mreward.

9 Whosoever ⁿtransgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him ^onot into ^oyour house, neither ^pbid him God speed:

11 For he that ^obiddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds.

Part III. Superscription.

12 Having many things to write unto you, I would not ^{write} with paper and ink; but I ^{trust} to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full.

13 The children of thy ^{elect} sister greet thee. Amen.

¹ Law (of Christ), Summary: The new "law of Christ" is the divine love, as wrought into the renewed heart by the Holy Spirit (Rom. 5. 5; Heb. 10. 16), and outflowing in the energy of the Spirit, unforced and spontaneous, toward the objects of the divine love (2 Cor. 5. 14-20; 1 Thes. 2. 7, 8). It is, therefore, "the law of liberty" (Jas. 1. 25; 2. 12), in contrast with the external law of Moses. Moses' law demands love (Lev. 19. 18; Deut. 6. 5; Lk. 10. 27); Christ's law is love (Rom. 5. 5; 1 John 4. 7, 19, 20), and so takes the place of the external law by fulfilling it (Rom. 13. 10; Gal. 5. 14). It is the "law written in the heart" under the New Covenant (Heb. 8. 8, note).

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF

VER. 1]

JOHN.

[VER. 14

WRITER. The Apostle John.

Date. Probably about A.D. 90.

Theme. The aged Apostle had written to a church which allowed one Diotrephes to exercise an authority common enough in later ages, but wholly new in the primitive churches. Diotrephes had rejected the apostolic letters and authority. It appears also that he had refused the ministry of visiting brethren (v. 10), and cast out those who received them. Historically, this letter marks the beginning of that clerical and priestly assumption over the churches in which the primitive church order disappeared. This Epistle reveals, as well, the believer's resource in such a day. No longer writing as an apostle, but as an elder, John addresses this letter, not to the church as such, but to a faithful man in the church for the comfort and encouragement of those who were standing fast in the primitive simplicity. Second John conditions the personal walk of a Christian in a day of apostasy; Third John the personal responsibility in such a day of the believer as a member of the local church. The key-phrase is "the truth" (see 2 John, Introduction).

There are three divisions: I. Personal greetings, vs. 1-4. II. Instructions concerning ministering brethren, vs. 5-8. III. The apostate leader, and the good Demetrius, vs. 9-14.

Part I. Personal greetings.

THE elder unto the wellbeloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth.

2 Beloved, I wish ^babove all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3 For I rejoiced greatly, when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.

4 I have no greater ^djoy than to hear that ^emy children walk in ^ftruth.

Part II. Concerning ministering brethren.

5 Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy ^gcharity before the church: whom if thou bring ^hforward on their journey ⁱafter a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7 Because that for his name's sake they went forth, ^jtaking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to ^kreceive such, that we might be fellow-helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the ^rpreeminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, ^sprating against us with malicious words; and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth ^tthem out of the ^uchurch.

11 Beloved, ^vfollow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

The good Demetrius.

12 Demetrius hath good report of all ^wmen, and of the truth itself: yea, and we ^xalso bear ^yrecord; and ye know that our ^zrecord is true.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF

VER. 1]

JUDE.

[VER. 11

WRITER. Jude, the brother of James (1. 1).

Date. Probably A.D. 66.

Theme. It is not so much Jude who speaks, as the constraining Spirit (v. 3), and the theme is, "Contending for the faith" (Lk. 18. 8, refs.). In this brief letter the apostasy (2 Thes. 2. 3, note) of the professing church is predicted, and the cause and course described. As in Second Timothy and Second Peter the apostasy is treated as having already set in.

The Epistle is in five divisions: I. Introduction, vs. 1, 2. II. Occasion of the Epistle, vs. 3, 4. III. Apostasy is possible, vs. 5-7. IV. Apostate teachers described, vs. 8-19. V. The saints assured and comforted, vs. 20-25.

Part I. Introduction.

2 Mercy unto you, and peace, and love, be multiplied.

Part II. Occasion of the Epistle: the apostasy.

4 For there are certain men crept in unawares, ⁱwho were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying ^jthe only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

Part III. Historical instances of apostasy.

¹ Assurance is the believer's full conviction that, through the work of Christ alone, received by faith, he is in possession of a salvation in which he will be eternally kept. And this assurance rests only upon the Scripture promises to him who believes.

² The judgment of the fallen angels. The "great day" is the day of the Lord (Isa. 2. 9-22, refs.). As the final judgment upon Satan occurs after the thousand years, and preceding the final judgment (Rev. 20. 10), it is congruous to conclude, as to the time, that other fallen angels are judged with him (2 Pet. 2. 4; Rev. 20. 10). Christians are associated with Christ in this judgment (1 Cor. 6. 3). See other judgments, Rev. 20. 12, note.

Part V. True believers assured and comforted: their seven-fold duty.

20 But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most ^mholy faith, praying in the ⁿHoly Ghost, 21 Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto ^oeternal life.

and in "religion," but after his own will, and who rejects redemption by blood. Compelled as a teacher of religion to explain the atonement, the apostate teacher explains it away.

¹ Balaam. The "error" of Balaam must be distinguished from his "way" (2 Pet. 2. 15, note), and his "doctrine" (Rev. 2. 14, note). The "error" of Balaam was that, reasoning from natural morality, and seeing the evil in Israel, he supposed a righteous God must curse them. He was blind to the higher morality of the Cross, through which God maintains and enforces the authority and awful sanctions of His law, so that He can be just and the justifier of a believing sinner. The "reward" of v. 11 may not be money, but popularity, or applause.

² See Num. 16. The sin of Korah was denial of the authority of Moses as God's chosen spokesman, and intrusion into the priest's office.

³ Flesh, Summary: "Flesh," in the ethical sense, is the whole natural or unregenerate man, spirit, soul, and body, as centered upon self, prone to sin, and opposed to God (Rom. 7. 18). The regenerate man is not "in [the sphere of] the flesh, but in [the sphere of] the Spirit" (Rom. 8. 9); but the flesh is still in him, and he may, according to his choice, "walk after the flesh" or "in the Spirit" (1 Cor. 3. 1-4; Gal. 5. 16, 17). In the first case he is a "carnal," in the second a "spiritual," Christian. Victory over the flesh will be the habitual experience of the believer who walks in the Spirit (Rom. 8. 2, 4; Gal. 5. 16, 17).

OF

ST. JOHN THE DIVINE.

WRITER. The Apostle John (1. 1).

Date. A.D. 96.

Theme. The theme of the Revelation is Jesus Christ (1. 1), presented in a threefold way: (1) As to time: "which is, and which was, and which is to come" (1. 4); (2) as to relationships—to the churches (1. 9-3. 22), to the tribulation (4. 1-19. 21), to the kingdom (20. 1-22. 21); (3) in His offices—High Priest (8. 3-6), Bridegroom (19. 7-9), King-Judge (20. 1-15).

But while Christ is thus the central theme of the book, all of the events move toward one consummation, the bringing in of the covenanted kingdom. The key-phrase is the prophetic declaration of the "great voices in heaven" (11. 15), lit. "The world kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ has come." The book is, therefore, a prophecy (1. 3).

The three major divisions of Revelation must be clearly held if the interpretation is to be sane and coherent. John was commanded to "write" concerning three classes of "things" (1. 19): I. Things past, "the things which thou hast seen," i.e. the Patmos vision, 1. 1-20. II. Things present, "the things which are," i.e. things then existing—obviously the churches. The temple had been destroyed, the Jews dispersed: the testimony of God had been committed to the churches (1 Tim. 3. 15). Accordingly we have seven messages to seven representative churches, 2. 1-3. 22. It is noteworthy that the church is not mentioned in chapters 5-18. III. Things future, "things which shall be hereafter," lit. "after these," i.e. after the church period ends, 4. 1-22. 21. The third major division, as Erdman (W. J.) has pointed out, falls into a series of six sevens, with five parenthetical passages, making, with the church division, seven sevens. The six sevens are: 1. The seven seals, 4. 1-8. 1. 2. The seven trumpets, 8. 2-11. 19. 3. The seven personages, 12. 1-14. 20. 4. The seven vials (bowls), 15. 1-16. 21. 5. The seven dooms, 17. 1-20. 15. 6. The seven new things, 21. 1-22. 21.

The parenthetical passages are: (I) The Jewish remnant and the tribulation saints, 7. 1-17. (II) The angel, the little book, the two witnesses, 10. 1-11. 14. (III) The Lamb, the Remnant, and the everlasting Gospel, 14. 1-13. (IV) The gathering of the kings at Armageddon, 16. 13-16. (V) The four alleluias in heaven, 19. 1-6. These passages do not advance the prophetic narrative. Looking backward and forward they sum up results accomplished, and speak of results yet to come as if they had already come. In 14. 1, for example, the Lamb and Remnant are seen prophetically on Mount Zion, though they are not actually there till 20. 4-6.

The end of the church period (2.-3.) is left indeterminate. It will end by the fulfilment of 1 Thes. 4. 14-17. Chapters 4.-19. are believed to synchronize with Daniel's Seventieth Week (Dan. 9. 24, note). The great tribulation begins at the middle of the "week," and continues three and a half years (Rev. 11. 3-19. 21). The tribulation is brought to an end by the appearing of the Lord and the battle of Armageddon (Mt. 24. 29, 30; Rev. 19. 11-21). The kingdom follows (Rev. 20. 4, 5); after this the "little season" (Rev. 20. 7-15), and then eternity.

Interpreters of the Revelation should bear in mind two important passages: 1 Pet. 1. 12; 2 Pet. 1. 20, 21. Doubtless much which is designedly obscure to us will be clear to those for whom it was written as the time approaches.

sent and signified it by his ^bangel unto his servant John:

2 Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

(2) Salutation.

4 JOHN to the seven ^achurches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven ^bSpirits which are before his throne;

5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful ^cwitness, and the ^dfirst begotten of the dead, and the ^eprince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that ^floved us, and ^gwashed us from our ^hsins in his own blood,

6 And hath made us ⁱkings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

7 Behold, he cometh with clouds; and ^jevery eye shall see him, and they ^kalso which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen.

8 I am ^lAlpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the ^mAlmighty.

(3) The Patmos vision.

9 I John, who also am your brother, and companion in ⁿtribulation, and in the kingdom and patience ^oof Jesus Christ, was in the ^pisle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 I ^qwas in the ^rSpirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great ^svoice, as of a trumpet,

11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send ^tit unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden ¹candlesticks;

13 And in the midst of the seven ²candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head and his hairs were ³white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire; 15 And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand ⁴seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp twoedged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last:

18 I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of ⁵hell and of death.

(4) The command to write.

19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be ⁶hereafter;

20 The ⁷mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden ⁸candlesticks. The seven stars are the ⁹angels of the seven ¹⁰churches; and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven ¹¹churches.

¹ From 1. 1 to 1. 20 the Seer is on the earth, looking at the vision of Christ. From 2. 1 to 3. 22 he is on the earth looking forward through the church-age. From 4. 1 to 11. 1 he is "in the Spirit" (4. 2; cf. Ezk. 3. 12-14) observing things in heaven and on earth. From 11. 1 to 11. 12 he is in Jerusalem with the two witnesses. From 11. 13 to the end he is in heaven observing and recording things in heaven and upon the earth.

² The natural explanation of the "messengers" is that they were men sent by the seven churches to ascertain the state of the aged apostle, now an exile in Patmos (cf. Phil. 4. 18); but they figure any who bear God's messages to a church.

³ The messages to the seven churches have a fourfold application: (1) Local, to the churches actually addressed; (2) admonitory, to all churches in all time as tests by which they may discern their true spiritual state in the sight of God; (3) personal, in the exhortations to him "that hath an ear," and in the promises "to him that overcometh"; (4) prophetic, as disclosing seven phases of the spiritual history of the church from, say, A.D. 96 to the end. It is incredible that in a prophecy covering the church period there should be no such foreview. These messages must contain that foreview if it is in the book at all, for the church does not appear after 3. 22. Again, these messages by their very terms go beyond the local assemblies mentioned. Most conclusively of all, these messages do present an exact foreview

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. "The things which are": the seven churches.*(1) The message to Ephesus.
The church at the end of the apostolic age; first love left.

UNTO the ^aangel of the church ^bof Ephesus write; These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden ^dcandlesticks;

2 I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast ^ctried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast not ^ffainted.

4 Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, ^bbecause thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and ^brepent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy ⁱcandlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the ^lNicolaitanes, which I also ^khate.

7 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree ^lof life, which is ^min the midst of the paradise of God.

(3) The message to Pergamos.
The church under imperial favour, settled in the world,
A.D. 316 to the end.

12 And to the ^aangel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;

13 I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where ^bSatan's ^cseat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not ^ddenied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful ^emartyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of ²Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a ^zstumblingblock before the ^{aa}children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the ^{ad}Nicolaitanes, ^{ae}which thing I hate.

16 Repent; or else I will come of the spiritual history of the church, and in this precise order. Ephesus gives the general state at the date of the writing; Smyrna, the period of the great persecutions; Pergamos, the church settled down in the world, "where Satan's throne is," after the conversion of Constantine, say, A.D. 316. Thyatira is the Papacy, developed out of the Pergamos state: Balaamism (worldliness) and Nicolaitanism (priestly assumption) having conquered. As Jezebel brought idolatry into Israel, so Romanism weds Christian doctrine to pagan ceremonies. Sardis is the Protestant Reformation, whose works were not "fulfilled." Philadelphia is whatever bears clear testimony to the Word and the Name in the time of self-satisfied profession represented by Laodicea.

¹ From nikao, "to conquer," and laos, "the people," or "laity." There is no ancient authority for a sect of the Nicolaitanes. If the word is symbolic it refers to the earliest form of the notion of a priestly order, or "clergy," which later divided an equal brotherhood (Mt. 23. 8), into "priests" and "laity." What in Ephesus was "deeds" (2. 6) had become in Pergamos a "doctrine" (Rev. 2. 15).

² The "doctrine" of Balaam (cf. 2 Pet. 2. 15, note; Jude 11, note) was his teaching Balac to corrupt the people who could not be cursed (Num. 31. 15, 16; 22. 5; 23. 8), unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 He that hath an ^aear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the ^bhidden manna, and will give him ^awhite stone, and in the stone ^aa new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that ^creceiveth it.

(4) The message to Thyatira.
A.D. 500-1500: the triumph of Balaamism and Nicolaitanism; a believing remnant (vs. 24-28).

18 And unto the ^aangel of the church in Thyatira write; ^aThese things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet ^aare like fine brass;

19 I know thy works, and ^acharity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy ^aworks; and the last ^ato be more than the first.

20 Notwithstanding I have ^aa few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman ^aJezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of ^atheir deeds.

23 And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which ^asearcheth the reins and hearts; and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, ^aand unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the ^adepths of Satan, as they speak; I will put upon you none other burden.

25 But that which ye have ^aalready hold fast ^atill I come.

26 And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give ^apower over the nations:

27 And he shall rule them with a

CHAPTER 3.

(5) The message to Sardis. The period of the Reformatings; a believing remnant (vs. 4, 5).

AND unto the ^aangel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he that ^ahath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works, that thou hast ^aa name that thou livest, and art dead.

2 Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works ^aperfect before God.

3 ^aRemember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee ^aas a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4 Thou hast ^aa few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and ^athey shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of ^alife, but I will ^aconfess his name before my Father, and before his ^aangels.

6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

(6) The message to Philadelphia. The true church in the professing church.

7 And to the ^aangel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is ^aholy, he that is ^atrue, he that hath ^athe key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth;

8 I ^aknow thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, by tempting them to marry women of Moab, defile their separation, and abandon their pilgrim character. It is that union of the world and the church which is spiritual unchastity (Jas. 4. 4). Pergamos had lost the pilgrim character and was "dwelling" (v. 13) "where Satan's throne is," in the world (John 12. 31; 14. 30; 16. 11).

and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of ^aSatan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and ^bworship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the ^chour of ^dtemptation, which shall come upon all the ^eworld, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11 Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy ^fcrown.

12 Him that ^govercometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall ^hgo no more out: and I will ⁱwrite upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will ^jwrite upon him ^kmy new name.

15 I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, ^pI will spue thee out of my mouth.

17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and ^qknowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked:

AFTER this I looked, and, behold, a ¹door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a ²trumpet talking with me; which said, ³Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be ⁴hereafter.

2 And immediately I ⁵was in the spirit: and, behold, a ⁶throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.

3 And he that sat was to look upon ⁷like a jasper and a sardine stone: and there was a ⁸rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

The enthroned elders.

4 And round about the throne were four and twenty ⁹seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in ¹⁰white raiment; and they had on their heads ¹¹crowns of gold.

5 And out of the throne proceeded lightnings and thunderings and voices: and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the

¹ This passage, in harmony with Lk. 1. 32, 33; Mt. 19. 28; Acts 2. 30, 34, 35; 15. 14-16, is conclusive that Christ is not now seated upon His own throne. The Davidic Covenant, and the promises of God through the prophets and the Angel Gabriel concerning the Messianic kingdom await fulfilment.

The four living creatures.

6 And before the throne there was ^aa sea of glass like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four ^bbeasts full of eyes before and behind.

7 And the first ^cbeast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

8 And the four ^dbeasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes ^ewithin: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord ^fGod Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

The living creatures and elders worship because of creation. (Cf. Rev. 5. 8-10.)

9 And when those ^gbeasts give glory and honour and thanks to him that ^hsat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,

10 The four and twenty ⁱelders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art worthy, ^jO Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast ^kcreated all things, and for ^lthy pleasure they are and were created.

CHAPTER 5.

The seven-sealed book.

AND I saw ^min the right hand of him that sat on the throne a ⁿbook written within and on the backside, sealed with seven seals.

2 And I saw a strong ^omangel proclaiming with a loud voice, ^p"Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?"

3 And ^qno man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

Christ in his kingly character (Isa. 11. 1; Jer. 23. 5; Lk. 1. 32, 33) opens the book.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the ¹Root of David, hath ²prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 And I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four ³beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a ⁴Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven ⁵eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he ⁶came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

The living creatures and elders worship because of redemption. (Cf. Rev. 4. 9-11.)

8 And when he had taken the book, the four ⁷beasts and four ⁸and twenty elders ⁹fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them ¹⁰harps, and golden vials full of ¹¹odours, which are the prayers of saints.

9 And they sung ¹²a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast ¹³redeemed us to God ¹⁴by thy blood cut of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation;

10 And hast made us unto our ¹⁵God kings and priests: and we shall ¹⁶reign ¹⁷on the earth.

¹ The great tribulation is the period of unexampled trouble predicted in the passages cited under that head from Psa. 2. 5 to Rev. 7. 14 and described in Rev. 11.-18. Involving in a measure the whole earth (Rev. 3. 10), it is yet distinctively "the time of Jacob's trouble" (Jer. 30. 7), and its vortex Jerusalem and the Holy Land. It involves the people of God who will have returned to Palestine in unbelief. Its duration is three and a half years, or the last half of the seventieth week of Daniel (Dan. 9. 24-27, note; Rev. 11. 2, 3). The elements of the tribulation are: (1) The cruel reign of the "beast out of the sea" (Rev. 13. 1), who, at the beginning of the three and a half years, will break his covenant with the Jews (by virtue of which they will have re-established the temple worship, Dan. 9. 27), and show himself in the temple, demanding that he be worshipped as God (Mt. 24. 15; 2 Thes. 2. 4). (2) The active interposition of Satan "having great wrath" (Rev. 12. 12), who gives his power to the Beast (Rev. 13. 4, 5). (3) The unprecedented activity of demons (Rev. 9. 2, 11); and (4) the terrible "bowl" judgments of Rev. 16.

The great tribulation will be, however, a period of salvation. An election out of Israel is seen as sealed for God (Rev. 7. 4-8), and, with an innumerable multitude of Gentiles (Rev. 7. 9), are said to have come "out of the great tribulation" (Rev. 7. 14). They are not of the priesthood, the church, to which they seem to stand somewhat in the relation of the Levites to the priests under the Mosaic Covenant. The great tribulation is immediately followed by the return of Christ in glory, and the events associated therewith (Mt. 24. 29, 30). See "Remnant" (Isa. 1. 9; Rom. 11. 5, note); "Beast" (Dan. 7. 8; Rev. 19. 20, note); "Armageddon" (Rev. 16. 14; 19. 17, note).

(Rev. 8. 2-11. 19).

(a) Introduction: Christ as High Priest.

2 And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; and to them were given seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

(b) The trumpet judgments.

(1) The first trumpet.

7 The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

(2) The second trumpet.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea became blood;

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

(3) The third trumpet.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters:

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound!

CHAPTER 9.

(5) The fifth trumpet: the first woe.

AND the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit; and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

4 And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6 And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, and their faces were as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and their ^ateeth were as the teeth of lions.

9 And they had ^bbreastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of ^cchariots of many horses running to battle.

11 And they had ^ea king over them, which is the ^fangel of the ^gbottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is ^hAbaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name ⁱApollyon.

13 And the sixth ^jangel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the ^kgolden altar which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth ^langel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four ^mangels were loosed, which were ⁿprepared for ^oan hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the ^pthird part of men.

16 And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred ^qthousand thousand; and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having ^rbreastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as the ^sheads of lions; and out of their mouths ^tissued fire and smoke and brimstone.

18 By these ^uthree was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 For ^vtheir power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their ^wtails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not ^xworship ^ydevils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can ^zsee, nor hear, nor walk:

CHAPTER 10.

(c) Parentetical (to Rev. 11. 14).

(1) The mighty angel and the "little book."

AND I saw another mighty ^aangel ^bcome down from heaven, ^cclothed with a cloud; and a ^drainbow was upon his head, and his ^eface was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire:

2 And he had in his hand ^fa little book open; and he set his ^gright foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as ^{when} a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven ^hthunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, ⁱSeal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the ^jangel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 And swore by him that liveth for ever and ever, who ^kcreated heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be ^ltime no longer:

7 But in the days of the voice of the seventh ^mangel, when he shall begin to sound, the ⁿmystery of God ^oshould be finished, as he hath declared ^pto his servants the prophets.

(2) The "little book" eaten.

8 And the ^qvoice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the ^rangel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 And I went unto the ^sangel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, ^tTake it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly ^ubitter, but it shall be in thy mouth ^vsweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the ^wangel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey; and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And ^{he}said unto me, Thou must ^aprophesy again ^bbefore many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and ^ckings.

CHAPTER 11.

(3) The "times of the Gentiles" to end in forty-two months.

AND there was given me a ^areed like unto a rod; and ^cthe angel stood, saying, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

² But the ^fcourt which is without the temple leave out, and measure it not; for it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they ^ttread under foot forty and two months.

(4) The two witnesses to prophesy forty-two months.

3 And I will give power unto my two ^hwitnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.

4 ⁱThese are the two olive trees, and the two ^jcandlesticks standing before the ^kGod of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, ^lfire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 These have power to ^mshut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and have power over waters ⁿto turn them to blood, and to ^osmite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the ^pbeast that ascendeth out of the ^qbottomless pit shall make ^rwar against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great ^scity, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also ^tour Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people and kindreds and tongues and nations shall ^usee their dead bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall ^vrejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth.

11 And after three days and an half the ^wspirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood

14 The second woe is past; and, behold, the third woe cometh quickly.

End of the second parenthetical passage.

The trumpet judgments resumed.

(7) The seventh trumpet.

15 And the seventh ^bangel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, ^cThe kingdoms of this ^dworld are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And the four and twenty ^eelders, which sat before God on their ^fseats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God,

17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; ^gbecause thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the ^hdead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldst give ⁱreward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldst destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 ^jAnd the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his ^ktestament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

CHAPTER 12.

The seven personages.

(1) The woman: Israel.

The woman clothed with the sun, and the man-child.

AND there appeared a great ^lwonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child cried, ^btravailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

(2) Satan.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold ^da great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for ^{to} devour her child as soon as it was born.

(3) The Child: Christ.

5 And she brought forth a man child, ^hwho was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there ^{ka} a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

(4) The archangel.

7 And there was ^lwar in heaven: ^mMichael and his ⁿangels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And the great ^pdragon was cast out, ^qthat old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his ^rangels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven. Now is come ^ssalvation, and ^tstrength, and the ^lkingdom of our God, and the ^ppower of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

(6) The Beast out of the sea.

AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a ^{beast} rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten ^mcrowns, and upon his heads the ⁿname of blasphemy.

2 And the beast which I saw was ^{like} unto a leopard, and his feet

¹ The Dispensation of the Kingdom (2 Sam. 7. 16, refs.) begins with the return of Christ to the earth, runs through the "thousand years" of His earth-rule, and ends when He has delivered up the kingdom to the Father (1 Cor. 15. 24, note).

² Daniel's fourth beast (Dan. 7. 26, note). The "ten horns" are explained in Dan. 7. 24, Rev. 17. 12, to be ten kings, and the whole vision is of the last form of Gentile world-power, a confederated ten-kingdom empire covering the sphere of authority of ancient Rome. Rev. 13. 1-3 refers to the ten-kingdom empire; vs. 4-10 to the emperor, who is emphatically "the Beast" (Rev. 19. 20, note).

³ The three animals, leopard, bear, and lion, are found in Dan. 7. 4-6 as symbols of the empires which preceded Rome, and whose characteristics all entered into the qualities of the Roman empire: Macedonian swiftness of conquest, Persian tenacity of purpose, Babylonish voracity.

were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the ^adragon gave him his power, and his ^bseat, and great authority.

3 And I saw ^cone of his heads as it were ¹wounded to death; and his deadly wound was ^dhealed: and all the ^eworld ^fwondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave ^gpower unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and ^hpower was given unto him to continue forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that ⁱdwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him to make ^jwar with the saints, and to overcome them: and ^kpower was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, ^lwhose names are not written ^min the book ⁿof life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the ^o2world.

9 If any man have an ear, let him hear.

AND I looked, and lo, ^aa Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four ¹ Fragments of the ancient Roman empire have never ceased to exist as separate kingdoms. It was the imperial form of government which ceased; the one head wounded to death. What we have prophetically in Rev. 13. 3 is the restoration of the imperial form as such, though over a federated empire of ten kingdoms; the "head" is "healed," i.e. restored; there is an emperor again—the Beast.

² Kosmos, Summary: In the sense of the present world-system, the ethically bad sense of the word, refers to the "order," "arrangement," under which Satan has organized the world of unbelieving mankind upon his cosmic principles of force, greed, selfishness, ambition, and pleasure (Mt. 4. 8, 9; John 12. 31; 14. 30; 18. 36; Eph. 2. 2; 6. 12; 1 John 2. 15-17). This world-system is imposing and powerful with armies and fleets; is often outwardly religious, scientific, cultured, and elegant; but, seething with national and commercial rivalries and ambitions, is upheld in any real crisis only by armed force, and is dominated by Satanic principles.

³ Antichrist the person is to be distinguished from the "many antichrists" (1 John 2. 18), and the "spirit of antichrist" (1 John 4. 3) which characterizes all. The supreme mark of all is the denial of the Christian truth of the incarnation of the Logos, the eternal Son in Jesus as the Christ (John 1. 1, 14; Mt. 1. 16, note). The "many antichrists" precede and prepare the way for the Antichrist, who is "the Beast out of the earth" of Rev. 13. 11-17, and the "false prophet" of Rev. 16. 13; 19. 20; 20. 10. He is the last ecclesiastical head, as the Beast of Rev. 13. 1-8 is the last civil head. For purposes of persecution he is permitted to exercise the autocratic power of the emperor-Beast (Rev. 19. 20, note).

¹ Gospel. This great theme may be summarized as follows:

I. In itself the word Gospel means good news.

II. Four forms of the Gospel are to be distinguished:

(1) The Gospel of the kingdom. This is the good news that God purposes to set up on the earth, in fulfilment of the Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7. 16, and refs.), a kingdom, political, spiritual, Israelitish, universal, over which God's Son, David's heir, shall be King, and which shall be, for one thousand years, the manifestation of the righteousness of God in human affairs. See Mt. 3. 2, note.

Two preachings of this Gospel are mentioned, one past, beginning with the ministry of John the Baptist, continued by our Lord and His disciples, and ending with the Jewish rejection of the King. The other is yet future (Mt. 24. 14), during the great tribulation, and immediately preceding the coming of the King in glory.

(2) The Gospel of the grace of God. This is the good news that Jesus Christ, the rejected King, has died on the cross for the sins of the world, that He was raised from the dead for our justification, and that by Him all that believe are justified from all things. This form of the Gospel is described in many ways. It is the Gospel "of God" (Rom. 1. 1) because it originates in His love; "of Christ" (2 Cor. 10. 14) because it flows from His sacrifice, and because He is the alone Object of Gospel faith; of "the grace of God" (Acts 20. 24) because it saves those whom the law curses; of "the glory" (1 Tim. 1. 11; 2 Cor. 4. 4) because it concerns Him who is in the glory, and who is bringing the many sons to glory (Heb. 2. 10); of "our salvation" (Eph. 1. 13) because it is the "power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth" (Rom. 1. 16); of "the uncircumcision" (Gal. 2. 7) because it saves wholly apart from forms and ordinances; of "peace" (Eph. 6. 15) because through Christ it makes peace between the sinner and God, and imparts inward peace.

(3) The everlasting Gospel (Rev. 14. 6). This is to be preached to the earth-dwellers at the very end of the great tribulation and immediately preceding the judgment of the nations (Mt. 25. 31, refs.). It is neither the Gospel of the kingdom, nor of grace. Though its burden is judgment, not salvation, it is good news to Israel and to those who, during the tribulation, have been saved (Rev. 7. 9-14; Lk. 21. 28; Psa. 96. 11-13; Isa. 35. 4-10).

(4) That which Paul calls, "my Gospel" (Rom. 2. 16, refs.). This is the Gospel of the grace of God in its fullest development, but includes the revelation of the result of that Gospel in the outcalling of the church, her relationships, position, privileges, and responsibility. It is the distinctive truth of Ephesians and Colossians, but interpenetrates all of Paul's writings.

III. There is "another Gospel" (Gal. 1. 6; 2 Cor. 11. 4) "which is not another," but a perversion of the Gospel of the grace of God, against which we are warned. It has had many seductive forms, but the test is one—it invariably denies the sufficiency of grace alone to save, keep, and perfect, and mingles with grace some kind of human merit. In Galatia it was law, in Colosse fanaticism (Col. 2. 18, etc.). In any form its teachers lie under the awful anathema of God.

God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

The fall of Babylon announced.

8 And there followed another ^aangel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, ^bbecause she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

The doom of the Beast-worshipers announced.

9 And the third ^aangel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive ^hhis mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall ^ddrink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be ^dtormented with fire and brimstone in the ^epresence of the holy ^aangels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up ^ffor ever and ever: and they have ^gno rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints: ^hhere are they that keep the ⁱcommandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

The blessedness of the holy dead.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, ^jWrite, ^kBlessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the ^lSpirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow ^mthem.

CHAPTER 15.

The seven vials (to Rev. 16. 21).

(1) Vision of the angels of the seven last plagues: the bowls of the wrath of God.

AND I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven ^aangels having the seven ^vlast plagues; for in them is ^dfilled up the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a ^asea of glass mingled with ^bfire; and them that had gotten the ^cvictory over the beast, and over his image, ^dand over his mark, ^{and} over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the ^eharps of God.

3 And they sing the ^vsong of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the ^vLamb, saying, ^hGreat and marvellous ^{are} thy works, Lord God Almighty; ^{just} and true ^{are} thy ways, thou King of ^vsaints.

4 Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? ^{for} thou only ^{art} ^kholy: for all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy ^vjudgments are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and, behold, the ^mtemple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 And the seven ^aangels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, ^wclothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts ^ggirded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the four ^vbeasts gave unto the seven ^aangels seven golden vials full of the ^wwrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And the temple was ^vfilled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven ^aangels were fulfilled.

CHAPTER 16.

(2) The vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple saying to the seven ^aangels, Go your ways, and pour out the ^bvials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

The first vial.

2 And the ^cfirst went, and poured out his vial upon the earth; and there fell a noisome and grievous ^dsore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and ^eupon them which worshipped his image.

The second vial.

3 And the ^fsecond ^gangel poured out his vial upon the ^hsea; and it became ⁱas the blood of a dead ^jman: and every living soul died in the sea.

The third vial.

4 And the ^kthird ^langel poured out his vial upon the ^mrivers and fountains of waters; and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art ⁿfrighteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6 For they have ^oshed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are ^pworthy.

7 And I heard ^qanother out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments.

The fourth vial.

8 And the ^rfourth ^sangel poured out his vial upon the ^tsun; and ^upower was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, ^vwhich hath power over these plagues: and they repented not to give him glory.

The fifth vial.

10 And the ^wfifth ^xangel poured out his vial upon the ^yseat of the beast; and his kingdom ^zwas full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

16 And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue ^pArmageddon.

The seventh vial.

17 And the seventh ^qangel poured out his vial ^rinto the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, ^sIt is done.

18 ^tAnd there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great ^uearthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, ^vand so great.

19 And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the ^wnations fell: and great ^xBabylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her ^ythe cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

20 And every ^zisland fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, ^aevery stone about the weight of a talent: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

¹ Summary: The Times of the Gentiles is that long period beginning with the Babylonian captivity of Judah, under Nebuchadnezzar, and to be brought to an end by the destruction of Gentile world-power by the "stone cut out without hands" (Dan. 2. 34, 35, 44), i. e. the coming of the Lord in glory (Rev. 19. 11, 21), until which time Jerusalem is politically subject to Gentile rule (Lk. 21. 24).

CHAPTER 17.

The seven dooms: (1) The doom of "Babylon."

The divine view of "Babylon."
(Cf. Rev. 18. 1-8.)

AND there came one of the seven ^aangels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither; I will shew unto thee the judgment of the ^bgreat whore that sitteth upon many waters:

2 With whom the ^ckings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the ^dspirit into the wilderness; and I saw a woman sit upon a ^escarlet coloured beast, full of ^fnames of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4 And the woman was ^garrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a ^hgolden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication:

5 And upon her forehead was a name written, ⁱMYSTERY, ^jBABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw the woman drunken ^kwith the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great ^ladmiration.

7 And the ^mangel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the ⁿmystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

The last form of Gentile world-power.

8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and ^oshall ascend out of the ^pbottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth ^qshall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of ^rlife from the foundation of the ^sworld, when they behold the beast ^tthat was, and is not, and ^uyet is.

9 And there is the mind which hath wisdom. ^aThe seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must ^bcontinue a short space.

11 And the ^cbeast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12 And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive ^dpower as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and ^estrength unto the beast.

14 These shall make ^fwar with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall ^govercome them: for he is ^hLord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and ⁱchosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, The ^jwaters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest ^kupon the beast, these shall ^lhate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and ^mburn her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil ⁿhis will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest is ^othat great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

The last form of apostate Christendom: the warning to God's people.

AND after these things I saw another ^aangel come down from heaven, having great ^bpower; and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, ^cBabylon the ¹ Babylon, "confusion," is repeatedly used by the prophets in a symbolic sense (see Isa. 13. 1, note). Two "Babylons" are to be distinguished in the Revelation: ecclesiastical Babylon, which is apostate Christendom, headed up under the Papacy; and political Babylon, which is the Beast's confederated empire, the last form of Gentile world-dominion. Ecclesiastical Babylon is "the great whore" (Rev. 17. 1), and is destroyed by political Babylon (Rev. 17. 15-18), that the beast may be the alone object of worship (2 Thes. 2. 3, 4; Rev. 13. 15). The power of political Babylon is destroyed by the return of the Lord in glory. (See "Armageddon," Rev. 15.

3 For all nations have ^bdrunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the ^cmerchants of the earth are waxed rich through the ^dabundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard ^eanother voice from heaven, saying, ^fCome out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her ^gsins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

14; 19. 17.) The notion of a literal Babylon to be rebuilt on the site of ancient Babylon is in conflict with Isa. 13. 19-22. But the language of Rev. 18. (e.g. vs. 10, 16, 18) seems beyond question to identify "Babylon," the "city" of luxury and traffic, with "Babylon" the ecclesiastical centre, viz. Rome. The very kings who hate ecclesiastical Babylon deplore the destruction of commercial Babylon.

3 And again they said, hAlleluia. And her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen; Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, mPraise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

9 And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not; I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

The second coming of Christ in glory. (Cf. Mt. 24. 16-30.)

11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself.

13 And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood; and his name is called The Word of God.

14 And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations; and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and ¹ The "Lamb's wife" here is the "bride" (Rev. 21. 9), the Church, identified with the "heavenly Jerusalem" (Heb. 12. 22, 23), and to be distinguished from Israel, the adulterous and repudiated "wife" of Jehovah, yet to be restored (Isa. 54. 1-10; Hos. 2. 1-17), who is identified with the earth (Hos. 2. 23). A forgiven and restored wife could not be called either a virgin (2 Cor. 11. 2, 3), or a bride.

² The garment in Scripture is a symbol of righteousness. In the bad ethical sense it symbolizes self-righteousness (e.g. Isa. 64. 6; see Phil. 3. 6-8, the best that a moral and religious man under law could do). In the good ethical sense the garment symbolizes "the righteousness of God . . . upon all them that believe." See Rom. 3. 21, note.

³ The vision is of the departure from heaven of Christ and the saints and angels preparatory to the catastrophe in which Gentile world-power, headed up in the Beast, is smitten by the "stone cut out without hands" (Dan. 2. 34, 35).

⁴ Armageddon (the ancient hill and valley of Megiddo, west of Jordan in the plain of Jezreel) is the appointed place for the beginning of the great battle in which the Satan bound in the abyss during the kingdom-age.

AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and ^aSatan, and bound him a ^bthousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should ^cdeceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

The first resurrection (1 Cor. 15. 52, note), and the kingdom-age.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them; and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of Lord, at His coming in glory, will deliver the Jewish remnant besieged by the Gentile world-powers under the Beast and False Prophet (Rev. 16. 13-16; Zech. 12. 1-9). Apparently the besieging hosts, whose approach to Jerusalem is described in Isa. 10. 28-32, alarmed by the signs which precede the Lord's coming (Mt. 24. 29, 30), have fallen back to Megiddo, after the events of Zech. 14. 2, where their destruction begins; a destruction consummated in Moab and the plains of Idumea (Isa. 63. 1-6). This battle is the first event in "the day of Jehovah" (Isa. 2. 12, refs.), and is the fulfilment of the smiting-stone prophecy of Dan. 2. 35.

¹ The day of Jehovah (called, also, "that day," and "the great day") is that lengthened period of time beginning with the return of the Lord in glory, and ending with the purgation of the heavens and the earth by fire preparatory to the new heavens and the new earth (Isa. 65. 17-19; 66. 22; 2 Pet. 3. 13; Rev. 21. 1). The order of events appears to be: (1) The return of the Lord in glory (Mt. 24. 29, 30); (2) the destruction of the Beast and his host, "the kings of the earth and their armies," and the false prophet, which is the "great and terrible" aspect of the day (Rev. 19. 11-21); (3) the judgment of the nations (Zech. 14. 1-9; Mt. 25. 31-46); (4) the thousand years, i.e. the kingdom-age (Rev. 20. 4-6); (5) the Satanic revolt and its end (Rev. 20. 7-10); (6) the second resurrection and final judgment (Rev. 20. 11-15); and (7) the "day of God," earth purged by fire (2 Pet. 3. 10-13).

The day of the LORD is preceded by seven signs: (1) The sending of Elijah (Mal. 4. 5; Rev. 11. 3-6); (2) cosmical disturbances (Joel 2. 1-12; Mt. 24. 29; Acts 2. 19, 20; Rev. 6. 12-17); (3) the insensibility of the professing church (1 Thes. 5. 1-3); (4) the apostasy of the professing church, then become "Laodicea" (2 Thes. 2. 3); (5) the rapture of the true church (1 Thes. 4. 17); (6) the manifestation of the "man of sin," the Beast (2 Thes. 2. 1-8); (7) the apocalyptic judgments (Rev. 11.-18.).

² The Beast, Summary: This "Beast" is the "little horn" of Dan. 7. 24-26, and "desolator" of Dan. 9. 27; the "abomination of desolation" of Mt. 24. 15; the "man of sin" of 2 Thes. 2. 4-8; earth's last and most awful tyrant, Satan's fell instrument of wrath and hatred against God and the Jewish saints. He is, perhaps, identical with the rider on the white horse of Rev. 6. 2, who begins by the peaceful conquest of three of the ten kingdoms into which the former Roman empire will then be divided, but who soon establishes the ecclesiastical and governmental tyranny described in Dan. 7. 9., 11.; Rev. 13. To him Satan gives the power which he offered to Christ (Mt. 4. 8, 9; Rev. 13. 4). See "The great tribulation," Psal. 2. 5; Rev. 7. 14, note.

them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not ^bworshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and ^creigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the ^dfirst resurrection.

6 ^eBlessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be ^fpriests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

11 ^{2a}And I saw a ^{3o}great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and ⁴there was found no place for them.

¹ The "resurrection of the just" is mentioned in Lk. 14. 13, 14, and the resurrection of "life" distinguished from the "resurrection unto damnation" in John 5. 29. We here learn for the first time what interval of time separates these two resurrections. See 1 Cor. 15. 52, note.

² Satan, Summary: This fearful being, apparently created one of the cherubim (Ezk. 1. 5, note; 28. 12-14, note) and anointed for a position of great authority, perhaps over the primitive creation (Gen. 1. 2, note 3; Ezk. 28. 11-15), fell through pride (Isa. 14. 12-14). His "I will" (Isa. 14. 13) marks the introduction of sin into the universe. Cast out of heaven (Lk. 10. 18), he makes earth and air the scene of his tireless activity (Eph. 2. 2; 1 Pet. 5. 8). After the creation of man he entered into the serpent (Gen. 3. 1, note), and, beguiling Eve by his subtily, secured the downfall of Adam and through him of the race, and the entrance of sin into the world of men (Rom. 5. 12-14). The Adamic Covenant (Gen. 3. 14-19, note) promised the ultimate destruction of Satan through the "Seed of the woman." Then began his long warfare against the work of God in behalf of humanity, which still continues. The present world-system (Rev. 13. 8), organized upon the principles of force, greed, selfishness, ambition, and sinful pleasure, is his work and was the bribe which he offered to Christ (Mt. 4. 8, 9). Of that world-system he is prince (John 14. 30; 16. 11), and god (2 Cor. 4. 4). As "prince of the power of the air" (Eph. 2. 2) he is at the head of a vast host of demons (Mt. 7. 22, note). To him, under God, was committed upon earth the power of death (Heb. 2. 14). Cast out of heaven as his proper sphere and "first estate," he still has access to God as the "accuser of the brethren" (Rev. 12. 10), and is permitted a certain power of sifting or testing the self-confident and carnal among believers (Job 1. 6-11; Lk. 22. 31, 32; 1 Cor. 5. 5; 1 Tim. 1. 20), but this is a strictly permissive and limited power, and believers so sifted are kept in faith through the advocacy of Christ (Lk. 22. 31, 32; 1 John 2. 1, note). At the beginning of the great tribulation Satan's privilege of access to God as accuser will be withdrawn (Rev. 12. 7-12). At the return of Christ in glory Satan will be bound for one thousand years (Rev. 20. 2); after which he will be "loosed for a little season" (Rev. 20. 3, 7, 8), and will become the head of a final effort to overthrow the kingdom. Defeated in this, he will be finally cast into the lake of fire, his final doom. The notion that he reigns in hell is Miltonic, not biblical. He is prince of this present world-system, but will be tormented in the lake of fire.

³ The expressions, "the judgment," or, "day of judgment," as the passages and their contexts show, refer to the final judgment of Rev. 20. 11-15.

⁴ The "day of destruction" is that aspect of the day of Jehovah (Isa. 2. 12; Rev. 19. 19, Summary) which visits final and eternal judgment upon the wicked. Three

11 Having the glory of God: and such "days" are included in the "day" of Jehovah, and are described in the references beginning with Isa. 34. 1-9. (See Mt. 25. 32, note; Rev. 20. 11, refs.)

¹ The final judgment. The subjects are the "dead." As the redeemed were raised from among the dead one thousand years before (v. 5), and have been in glory with Christ during that period, the "dead" can only be the wicked dead, from the beginning to the setting up of the great white throne in space. As there are degrees in punishment (Lk. 12. 47, 48), the dead are judged according to their works. The book of life is there to answer such as plead their works for justification, e.g. Mt. 7. 22, 23; an awful blank where the name might have been.

The Judgments, Summary: Among the many judgments mentioned in Scripture, seven are invested with especial significance. These are: (1) The judgment of the believers' sins in the cross of Christ (John 12. 31, note); (2) the believers' self-judgment (1 Cor. 11. 31, note); (3) the judgment of the believers' works (2 Cor. 5. 10, note); (4) the judgment of the nations at the return of Christ (Mt. 25. 32, note); (5) the judgment of Israel at the return of Christ (Ezk. 20. 37, note); (6) the judgment of angels after the one thousand years (Jude 6, note); and (7) the judgment of the wicked dead with which the history of the present earth ends.

² Second death, Summary: "The second death" and the "lake of fire" are identical terms (Rev. 20. 14), and are used of the eternal state of the wicked. It is "second" relatively to the preceding physical death of the wicked in unbelief and rejection of God; their eternal state is one of eternal "death" (i.e. separation from God) in sins (John 8. 21, 24). That the second death is not annihilation is shown by a comparison of Rev. 19. 20 with Rev. 20. 10. After one thousand years in the lake of fire the Beast and False Prophet are still there, undestroyed. The words her ^olight was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve ^ffoundations, and in them ^gthe names of the twelve ^hapostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me had a golden ⁱreed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth ^jfour-square, and the length is as large as the breadth; and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand ^kfur-longs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, ^laccording to the measure of a man, that is, of the ^mangel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was ⁿpure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve ^opearls; every several gate was of one pearl: and the ^pstreet of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

(5) The new temple.

22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty ^qand the Lamb are the temple of it.

(6) The new light.

23 And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of ^rGod did lighten it, and the Lamb is the ^slight thereof.

24 And the nations of them which are ^tsaved ^ushall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour ^vinto it.

“forever and forever” (“to the ages of the ages”) are used in Heb. 1. 8 for the duration of the throne of God, eternal in the sense of unending.

unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is ²aholy, let him be holy still.

12 And, behold, I ¹come quickly; and my ¹reward is with me, to give every man ²according as his work shall be.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they that ¹do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in ¹the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.

17 And the ²Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 ^hFor I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away from the ³words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the ¹book of ⁴life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

The last promise and the last prayer of the Bible.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, Surely ¹I come quickly. ²Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

¹ See definitions O.T. righteousness (Lk. 2. 25); N.T. righteousness (Rom. 3. 21, note; 10. 10); righteous living (1 John 3. 7); self-righteousness (Rom. 10. 3).

² Sanctification, holiness, Summary: (1) In both Testaments the same Hebrew and Greek words are rendered by the English words "sanctify" and "holy," in their various grammatical forms. The one uniform meaning is, "to set apart for God." (2) In both Testaments the words are used of things and of persons. (3) When used of things no moral quality is implied; they are sanctified or made holy because set apart for God.

(4) Sanctification when used of persons has a threefold meaning. (a) In position, believers are eternally set apart for God by redemption, "through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once" (Heb. 10. 9, 10). Positionally, therefore, believers are "saints" and "holy" from the moment of believing (Phil. 1. 1; Heb. 3. 1). (b) In experience, the believer is being sanctified by the work of the Holy Spirit through the Scriptures (John 17. 17; 2 Cor. 3. 18; Eph. 5. 25, 26; 1 Thes. 5. 23, 24). (c) In consummation, the believer's complete sanctification awaits the appearing of the Lord (Eph. 5. 27; 1 John 3. 2). See "Salvation," Rom. 1. 16, note.

³ Inspiration: Summary. The testimony of the Bible to itself.

(1) The writers affirm, where they speak of the subject at all, that they speak by direct divine authority. (2) They invariably testify that the words, and not the ideas merely, are inspired. The most important passage is 1 Cor. 2. 7-15, which see. (3) The whole attitude of Jesus Christ toward the Old Testament, as disclosed in His words, both before His death and after His resurrection, confirms its truth and divine origin, and He explicitly ascribes the Pentateuch to Moses. (4) In promising subsequent revelations after the predicted advent of the Spirit (John 16. 12-15), our Lord prepared the way for the New Testament. (5) The writers of the New Testament invariably treat the Old Testament as authoritative and inspired. See 2 Pet. 1. 19, note; 1 Cor. 2. 13, note.

⁴ Eternal life, Summary of the teaching:

(1) The life is called "eternal" because it was from the eternity which is past unto the eternity which is to come—it is the life of God revealed in Jesus Christ, who is God (John 1. 4; 5. 26; 1 John 1. 1, 2). (2) This life of God, which was revealed in Christ, is imparted in a new birth by the Holy Spirit, acting upon the word of God, to every believer on the Lord Jesus Christ (John 3. 3-15). (3) The life thus imparted is not a new life except in the sense of human possession; it is still "that which was from the beginning." But the recipient is a "new creation" (2 Cor. 5. 17; Gal. 6. 15). (4) The life of God which is in the believer is an unsevered part of the life which eternally was, and eternally is, in Christ Jesus—one life, in Him and in the believer—Vine and branches; Head and members (1 Cor. 6. 17; Gal. 2. 20; Col. 1. 27; 3. 3, 4; 1 John 5. 11, 12; John 15. 1-5; 1 Cor. 12. 12-14).

THE USE OF THE INDEX ;
Its Value to the Preacher, Sunday School Teacher, Evangelist, Christian Worker.

THE Index covers all of the editorial matter in the Scofield Reference Bible except the Introductions to the Books and the running Analysis which constitutes the new system of paragraphing, and which has been one of the most acceptable features of this Bible.

In arranging the Index the Editor, who is himself a preacher, has had largely in view the helping of preachers to sermonic material. Experience had taught him the need and the best way to meet the need.

These main features are prominent:—

(1) The suggestion of a theme. The demands upon the time of the modern minister are so various as to leave the mind, often, in some measure of distraction when the time comes for preparing the two inevitable sermons for the Lord's day.

It will be found that simply to go over the Index thoughtfully will afford a wealth of suggestion for topical, expository, and thematic sermons, from which the preacher may choose.

(2) The editorial notation to which the Index gives reference will often be found to suggest at once the logical and biblical outline which a sermon on that theme should follow, while the passages referred to in the note or summary will give both the background and a wealth of biblical illustration.

(3) But perhaps the best service of the Index to the Bible preacher is in the suggestion of series of sermons on the great themes of Scripture.

The experience of the great constructive ministers is conclusive that no other form of teaching so permanently interests congregations. They soon come to feel that they are "getting somewhere."

Take, for example, the central theme of the Bible—Christ. The Index will be found to refer to one hundred and thirty-four distinct lines of truth concerning Christ. From these may be selected series of sermon subjects which will enable the preacher to give connected studies of that supreme Person once a year through many years without repetition. And this is true of the Holy Spirit, as also of all the great words of the Bible.

And not the preacher only, but the Sunday School teacher, or Evangelist—indeed any Christian worker, will find the Index the open door to the mighty riches of the Bible.
